THE WEATHER
Fair today, followed by local rains during tonight or Monday. Colder Monday. Moderate easterly winds, becoming variable Monday.
Sun rises 5:38, sets 6:05.
Moon rises 1:21 a. m.
High tide 4 a. m., 4:15 p. m.
TEMPERATURES YESTERDAY
Maximum 48 at 2 p. m.
Minimum 30 at 5 a. m.
Average 40.

AN AMERICAN PAPER FOR THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

Boston American

Sunday Circulation — The Largest in New England

CITY EDITION.
1—News Section, Part 1 (latest News).
2—News Section, Part 2 (general News, Real Estate and Want Ads).
3—News Section, Part 3 (Automobiles and Sports).
4—Special Spring Fashion Article.
5—Editorial and Society.
6—City Life and Drama.
7—Magazine Features.—Sections.

VOL. 13—No. 6.

Copyright, 1916, by N. E. Newspaper Pub. Co.

BOSTON, SUNDAY, MARCH 26, 1916.

Entered in U. S. Patent Office.

VOL. 13—No. 6.

AMERICANS KILLED ON TORPEDOED SHIP

Wilson Says "No Possibility of Intervention in Mexico"

VILLA BEATEN AND IN FLIGHT

Juarez Reports Bandit's Command Split in Battle at El Oso and Leader Fleeing Down Canyon

Carranzista Chief Declares Outlaw's Capture May Be Made in a Few Hours; Pursuers at Heels

By International News Service.

El Paso, Tex., March 25.—Francisco Villa, defeated at El Oso in the battle with United States troopers under General Pershing, is now in flight down the Santa Clara canyon.

The bandit's forces have been split in twain and the leader with the larger force is closely pursued in his desperate dash by United States and Carranzista cavalry.

Villa, according to the news just received here, is fairly caught between the combined American and Mexican troops. It is the plan of the campaign to drive him down the full length of the Santa Clara canyon and into the open country between Agua Nenva and Encilles where General Gutierrez's troops are waiting to cut down his band and take the brigand.

General Gabriel Gavira, Carranza chief at Juarez, from whom the news was received, explained the situation as follows:

"Villa has split his forces into two bands. We believe he is with the larger band of about 250 men in the Santa Clara canyon. We know his larger band is there.

"There is every probability that Villa will be captured within a few hours. The American cavalry is rushing down the canyon after him. Dodd, I believe, is in command of this column.

"On Dodd's left is a column of our men from Las Cruces, and on his right flank are soldiers from Santa Anna. Villa is in the canyon. He cannot get out. Dodd is on his heels."

RUNNING INTO TRAP.

"Villa must fleet, and the more he runs the closer he comes to the open country near Santa Clara, and here our men are waiting. Behind them are reinforcements at Laguna. Chihuahua is also below on the railroad. But he will never get by Santa Clara. We have enough men there to stop him.

"We have not received any details of the battle at El Oso," continued General Gavira, "but the fact that Villa is fleeing is a sure sign that he was beaten."

"Has there been any trouble between American troops and Carranzista forces?"

"No, everything has worked smoothly," said Gavira, smiling. "The only trouble was that contained in rumors spread by certain people in your own country, some of these interested Americans who are really Villistas. In your report say Gavira greeted you with a handshake and asked you what is the next rumor," he said.

While the race between Villa and Pershing's men is making a thrilling chapter in Mexican and American history, border residents' interest was shifted farther north today.

This was due to the fact that the town of Janos, on the route followed by the American expedition and forty miles northwest of Casas Grandes had been set on fire. The incendiaries are believed to be members of a roving band of Villistas. It is rumored that the town was looted

Continued on Page 4, Column 4.

President Warns Press and People of Border Danger

United States Troops to Return After Purpose for Which They Entered Mexico Is Accomplished.

Washington, March 25.—President Wilson issued a statement tonight denying any possibility of intervention in Mexico.

The statement says that so long as "sane and honorable men are in control of this government" it will not occur.

Warning is given against rumors of a disturbing sort emanating from sources along the border and the press of the country is called upon to assist the administration.

The President's statement follows.

As has already been announced, the expedition into Mexico was ordered under an agreement with the de facto government of Mexico for the single purpose of taking the bandit, Villa, whose forces had actually invaded the territory of the United States, and is in no sense intended as an invasion of that republic or as an infringement of its sovereignty.

I have, therefore, asked the several news services to be good enough to assist the administration in keeping this view of the expedition constantly before the people of this country and the distressed people of Mexico, who are very susceptible indeed to impressions received from the American press, not only but also very ready to believe that those impressions proceed from the views and objects of our government itself.

Such conclusions, it must be said, are not unnatural, because the main, if not the only source of information for the people on both sides of the border is the public press of the United States.

Calls on News Agencies to Aid.

In order to avoid the creation of erroneous and dangerous impressions in this way I have called upon the several news agencies to use the utmost care to give no news stories regarding this expedition the color of war, to withhold stories of troop movements and military preparations which might be given that interpretation, and to refrain from publishing rumors.

I feel that it is most desirable to impress upon both our own people and the people of Mexico the fact that the expedition is simply a necessary punitive measure aimed solely at the elimination of the marauders who raided Columbus and who infest an unprotected district near the border which they use as a base in making attacks upon the lives and property of our citizens within our own territory.

It is the purpose of our commanders to co-operate in every possible way with the forces of General Carranza in removing this cause of irritation to both governments and to retire from Mexican territory so soon as that object is accomplished.

It is my duty to warn the people of the United States that there are persons all along the border who are actively engaged in originating and giving as wide currency as they can to rumors of the most sensational and disturbing sort which are wholly unjustified by the facts.

Object Is Obvious.

The objects of this traffic in falsehood is obvious. It is to create intolerable friction between the government of the United States and the de facto government of Mexico for the purpose of bringing about intervention in the interest of certain American owners of Mexican property.

This object cannot be attained so long as sane and honorable men are in control of this government, but very serious conditions may be created, unnecessary bloodshed may result and the relations between the two republics may be very much embarrassed.

The people of the United States should know the sinister and unscrupulous influences that are afoot and should be on their guard against crediting any story coming from the border; and those who disseminate the news should make it a matter of patriotism to test the source and authenticity of every report they receive from that quarter.

WOODROW WILSON.

Border Patrol Strengthened by Funston's Order

By L. V. B. RUCKER.

San Antonio, Tex., March 25.—Major-General Funston today ordered a general strengthening of the border patrol. This was regarded as necessary owing to the appearance of many bands of Mexican marauders near the frontier. The American commander also took steps to strengthen the lines of communication of the expedition in Mexico.

Two companies of the 24th Infantry, a negro regiment, which had arrived at the border from Fort D. A. Russell, were sent to the New Mexican border. Other forces were sent to the Texas towns of Presidio, Fabens, Marfa and Del Rio.

MAINE MOOSE TO MEET APR. 1

Portland, Me., March 25.—George C. Weber of Auburn has been selected by the Progressive State Committee to act as chairman of the State Convention to be held at Bangor on April 6.

Accuse Cashier of Fish Pier Firm with $3000 Theft

Police Sergeant Dunlap of Station No. 6 yesterday arrested Max Berman, twenty-one, of No. 71 Holworthy street, Roxbury, on the charge of stealing $3,000 from the John Burns Company, No. 8, Fish Pier, where he acted as cashier and bookkeeper.

The alleged irregularities, according to the police, began August 14, 1915, and continued up to March 24, this year.

ORPET DEATH TRIAL BEGINS ON APRIL 10

Waukegan, Ill., March 25.—Will H. Orpet, student of the University of Wisconsin, charged with poisoning his former sweetheart, Marian Frances Lambert in Lake Forest high school girl, entered a plea of not guilty in the Circuit Court, after a motion to quash the indictment had been overruled.

Judge Connelly denied bail and set the trial for April 10.

INVADE CAFES TO TAKE GIRL 'MASHERS'

Harvard Men Get Evidence on Which Young Women Are Arrested Under New Statute

Women mashers were arrested in a new vice crusade in Boston last night. Women flirts were rounded up and locked up for smiling and acting coquettishly with strange men diners in gilded cafes.

It was so new that it startled the "tenderloin" and put a damper on festivities. It put a straingle hold on traditions. Some witnesses could scarcely believe their eyes when they saw the plain clothes squads step up to the tables where the women flirts sat munching or sipping and escorted them to the patrol.

There was no ceremony about it. The women were informed of their breach of the new statute, informed in earnest whispers, and in each case they went along without fuss or argument.

But it hurt their pride and established old habitues and set a new precedent in Boston, if not in the country. Masher raids! And against women exclusively.

WATCH AND WARD MOVE.

Male flirts are often arrested, but women seldom, if ever, and never as the result of a carefully planned war against them.

It was one of the most notable vice crusades ever held in the city. It was engineered by the Watch and Ward Society and the motive power was a statute against solicitations in public places by women.

Students of the Harvard Medical School gathered the evidence. They had been used as mashing decoys to spot the offenders, and their success in the role of flirt victims was shown by the fact that upward of sixty warrants were issued yesterday.

The arrests by police divisions up to midnight were:

Hanover Street station—Bella Cafe, thirty-four, Dedham street; Anna Catz, thirty-one, Union Park street; Anna Hampton, thirty, Hancock street, Charlestown.

Joy Street station—Anna Jordan, twenty-eight, Compton street, bailed; Ada Joyce, twenty-two, Chelsea; Bessie Joyce, twenty-seven, Lynn.

Lagrange Street station—Ada Brooks, twenty-eight, Middlesex street, South End; Anna Coffee, twenty-seven, East Lenox street.

Previously arrested—Ada Kyle, Ada Grant, Catherine Ross, Bessie Grant, Isabel Fox, Winnie Fish and Annie Ross.

MANY WARNED AWAY.

The police and Watch and Ward investigators claimed last night that certain offenders well known to them for whom there were warrants made themselves scarce last night.

Only the most notorious resorts were visited on last night's raids. Some of the more disreputable places will be included in later raids. Squads were on the alert in many places frequented by women who attempted on previous occasions to make friends with the students, but they had evidently been scared away. Otherwise the police net would have been more crowded with women mashers.

The Harvard medical students—began their detective work several weeks ago. Their efforts were supplemented by the assistance of a representative of a large business house, a Y. M. C. A. man, and a clergyman.

These three made a tour of the cafes where the Harvard men were pursuing their investigation, and watched the students at work.

Twenty-nine cafes were visited by the investigators. In the twenty-nine cafes, about forty women mashers were discovered, and thereafter

Continued on Page 8, Column 6.

EXPLOSION KILLED 20 AS SUSSEX WAS HIT

Channel Steamer's Bow Literally Blown Off When Torpedo from Submarine Found Its Mark

By CHARLES F. BERTELLI,
Staff Correspondent of the International News Service.

Paris, March 25.—Little doubt exists at the American embassy tonight that many American lives were lost when the channel steamer Sussex was torpedoed.

Several Americans are known to have been badly injured. Twenty-five of the 250 passengers aboard had been officially registered as Americans.

About twenty persons, it is stated, were killed by the explosion of the torpedo, which literally tore away the bow of the ship where many passengers were gathered. Numerous witnesses agree that an American girl was among those killed by this explosion.

The girl is believed to have been Miss Elizabeth Baldwin, daughter of Professor Mark Baldwin of Baltimore. Her mother, Helen Baldwin, is now in the hospital at Boulogne. Her father was saved.

All accounts agree that the steamship was torpedoed without warning. Affidavits to this effect were received by the American Embassy tonight from Samuel F. Bemis, a Harvard research man; John H. Hearley, a newspaper correspondent at Albany, N. Y., and T. S. Tullerton of Pennsylvania.

The French Ministry of Marine also announced officially tonight that the Sussex was torpedoed. The official announcement failed to state whether she was armed.

PANIC AFTER EXPLOSION.

Despite statements that good discipline was maintained it is evident that panic reigned after the explosion. Many passengers jumped overboard. More than half of those who leaped into the water are believed to have lost their lives.

The Sussex was a mail steamship for the boats. The second boat lowered was overturned. It contained forty persons. Passengers say that fifty half persons in this boat were drowned.

Great difficulty in ascertaining exactly who were saved and who were lost has been caused by the fact that British destroyers which came to the rescue of the passengers took about seventy of them to Dover. About 150 others have been landed at Boulogne. There is therefore no means of knowing who is missing until the various lists of survivors can be put together.

The ship was torpedoed at 2:45 p. m. off Dieppe. The torpedo tore the forepart of the ship away, and it seemed inevitable that she would sink. She was, however, saved by her water-tight compartments, and floated, helpless, for several hours before other ships were encountered.

GIRL SAW TORPEDO.

The explosion wrecked the wireless apparatus, rendering the calling of help impossible. The wireless operator rigged up a temporary contrivance but it failed to work well, and when it did work he gave the wrong signals. He could be rescued.

Miss Gertrude Warren of New York and St. Louis was one of those who saw the torpedo before it hit the Sussex. She said tonight:

"I was sitting quietly on the upper deck reading when a commotion caused me to look seaward. There I saw a ripple on the water showing the track of the oncoming torpedo. I shrieked a warning but simultaneously there was a terrific explosion.

"A column of water rose high above the boat and crashed on the deck. The missile tore at least twenty-five feet of the deck away.

"The captain immediately shouted

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

JESS WILLARD

Outpointed Frank Moran last night at their meeting in Madison Square Garden.

The best stories of the Willard-Moran duel printed today in New England will be found on the first and other pages of the Sunday American's sport section.

TWO SHIPS SUNK IN SEA FIGHT

German Raider and Armed British Vessel Go Down; the London and Berlin Reports Are Conflicting

London, March 25.—The German commerce raider Greif and the British armed merchant ship Alcantara were sent to the bottom in a naval battle in the North Sea.

The British and German Admiralty today officially report the battle, which took place February 29. The reports differ widely in details, the Germans declaring that three English cruisers attacked and sunk, which sank a British cruiser of 15,000 tons, and that the crew of the Greif blew up the vessel to prevent its capture.

The British report does not say how many vessels were engaged, but asserts that the Greif was sunk by gunfire and that five German officers and 115 men, out of a probable 200 on the Greif, were picked up and made prisoners.

The British loss is given as five officers and sixty-nine men.

The Press Association states that during the session of the press of the Greif and Alcantara a British ship sank a German submarine.

The German Admiralty report says:

"Three English cruisers and one destroyer engaged the Greif. The Greif torpedoed and sunk a 15,000 ton British cruiser. The crew of the Greif blew up their ship to prevent its capture."

The British Admiralty's statement follows:

"An engagement occurred February 29 in the North Sea between the armed German raider Greif, disguised as a Norwegian merchantman, and the armed British merchantman Alcantara. The engagement resulted in the loss of both vessels. The German was sunk by gunfire, the Alcantara apparently by a torpedo.

"Five German officers and 116 men were saved and are now prisoners, out of a total believed to be 500.

"The British losses were five officers and sixty-nine men.

"It should be noted that during the whole engagement the enemy flew over Norwegian colors painted on the side of the ship."

EL PASO VOTES TO GUARD ITS NAME

El Paso, Tex., March 25.—An ordinance providing a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $200 for any correspondent who shall send or cause to be sent out of the city matter "calculated to injure the general business reputation of El Paso, and known to be false," was passed today by the City Council.

BAY STATE FOLKS VICTIMS IN NEW U-BOAT DISASTER

Paris Official Report Declares Channel Steamer Was Torpedoed by Submarine Estimate Dead at From 50 to 80 Most of Them Women

Boston and Bay State Men Among Those Lost on Dominion Steamship Englishman, Also Sunk by Submarine; Tension in United States Grows

Washington, March 25.—The State Department received late tonight, an official statement from the French Ministry of Marine that the Channel steamer Sussex was torpedoed with twenty-seven Americans among her passengers on Friday.

One American woman died of injuries received, according to unofficial dispatches. One American man is gravely injured. Thirteen other Americans known to have been on the boat are unaccounted for and missing.

The Sussex made Boulogne in a badly damaged condition. Between fifty and seventy-five of those aboard her are missing and have perished, apparently.

Late advices from Paris last night placed the lives lost at fifty, while some estimates were made that the death list would reach eighty. Most of the dead are French women.

About twenty passengers were killed by the explosion of the torpedo, according to the late Paris cable, which says that the ship's bow was literally torn away. Many of the victims were gathered there when the explosion came.

Another allied steamer, the British liner Englishman, sailing between Portland, Me., and St. Nazaire, France, was torpedoed and sunk with the loss of four American lives, according to official reports.

On the Englishman, three of the killed were Boston men and one lived in Lawrence, while of twenty missing, twelve were Boston men and all came from New England.

On the Sussex, Miss Elizabeth F. Baldwin of Philadelphia died of injuries. George H. Crocker of Fitchburg was struck on the head and lay eight hours unconscious, and other New Englanders included (all saved), Samuel F. Bemis of Clark College and Harvard, Charles F. Crocker of Fitchburg, and Daniel Sargent of Wellesley and Harvard.

The French Ministry of Marine made this official statement on the attack upon the Sussex:

"The British steamer Sussex, carrying 384 passengers, was torpedoed in the channel by an enemy submarine. The captain saw the torpedo 100 metres away and tried to avoid it, but the missile struck the vessel in the bow.

"The shock partly destroyed the wireless apparatus. Help was delayed by the wireless operator sending an inexact location.

"The explosion caused a panic. There were about fifty victims."

There had been some doubt that the Sussex had been torpedoed, her owners saying she probably struck a mine, but Ambassador Sharp reported to the State Department that several Americans had made affidavits she was torpedoed.

The torpedoing of the Englishman was likewise officially reported by Consul Armstrong, at Bristol, England.

Thus each case represents a flat violation of the President's injunction that the lives of Americans shall not be put in jeopardy by submarine warfare. The two catastrophes represent a total of five Americans killed, one gravely injured, thirty-two missing, and about thirty others imperilled.

The loss of life on the Sussex is known to have been heavy, as the fore part of the ship was wrecked by the explosion. It is reported that a "high English personage" was aboard her, and that his presence may have been the motive for the attack.

The case of the Englishman rests upon the following official dispatch from American Consul Armstrong at Bristol, Eng.:

"Dominion line steamer Englishman torpedoed; time and place un-

Continued on Page 2, Column 1.

AMERICANS DECLARE LINER TORPEDOED WITH NO WARNING

Fate of Many Passengers on Board Channel Steamer Is Still in Doubt.

Continued from First Page.

known here. Survivors brought into northern British port. Thirty-three so far. Believed saved number sixty, more reported as possibly rescued, leaving a shortage of eighteen.

"The following were among the Americans on board:

"Peter McDonald, horse foreman, No. 58 Cherry street, Boston.

"George McDonald, trimmer, No. 37 Common street, Lawrence, Mass.

"P. Buckley and M. A. Burke, horsemen, addresses unknown here.

"These names are not included in list of thirty-three so far rescued.

"Englishman was bound for Portland, Me.; left Avonmouth 21st instant. Transported horses to St. Nazaire, France, for Northwestern Trading Company, New York. Was not on government business. No further particulars at present available Bristol.

(Signed) "ARMSTRONG."

4 DEAD, 20 MISSING.

The offices of the shipping company in Portland also gave out a statement, listing four dead and twenty missing.

This and other dispatches dealing with the Englishman make it probable that she was torpedoed at a point well out to sea, since she was apparently three days out of Avonmouth at the time. Avonmouth is on the Bristol Channel.

It is believed there were about forty to forty-five American hostlers and other employes on the boat. The Englishman was a vessel of 5,357 tons. She sailed from Portland February 17.

In the case of the Sussex, which, according to a message to the French Ministry of Marine, was torpedoed without warning off Dieppe, a large number of Americans were in peril.

The Sussex sailed from Folkestone at 1:20 Friday afternoon. She was near Dieppe when she was attacked.

Her wireless was wrecked by the explosion and it was several hours before help reached her. The survivors spent most of the hours of waiting in open boats, returning to the Sussex at dark.

LAND SIXTY SURVIVORS.

More than sixty uninjured survivors were landed at Dover, England, by a torpedo boat destroyer. The explosion blew out a large section of the forepart of the ship, including the sleeping quarters of the crew.

Twelve seamen were killed outright. An overcrowded lifeboat filled with women and children capsized. Many passengers, wild with terror, leaped overboard without any life belts and were drowned.

The explosion, which was extremely violent, destroyed the wireless apparatus of the ship, but the crew rigged up a temporary outfit and "S O S" calls were sent out.

A French trawler which was nearby picked up some of the survivors, but space on the ship was limited and only a few could be cared for. The London, Brighton & South Coast Railway, owners of the liner, said there were twenty-five Americans among the 250 passengers on board.

The body of a Belgian passenger named Plankaert was taken ashore at Dover and is now in the mortuary there.

Among the Americans saved were four members of an American field ambulance corps in France. They were G. H. Crocker and C. T. Crocker of Fitchburg, Mass.; W. G. Penfield of Wisconsin and Daniel Sargent of Harvard. J. H. Crocker was severely injured.

The Brighton Railroad operates the steamer. The ship belongs to the French state railroads, and before the war was the night ferryboat between New Haven and Dieppe.

300 PASSENGERS ABOARD.

She flies the French flag and is commanded by Captain Moutet. It is believed she had about 300 passengers aboard when she was torpedoed.

The attitude of the State department toward these two catastrophes was stated tonight as being that if these vessels were torpedoed without warning, it was in direct violation of the injunction of President Wilson, and would surely be a cause of friction between this country and Germany.

The various cities have reported the administration's promise for disarmament of merchant ships, and so far as the submarine controversy is concerned, the administration now feels free to deal with the Teutonic nations alone.

The attitude of the State Department is expressed in a word: "That American lives cannot be put in jeopardy by submarine attacks."

This alone is apparently violated by both the cases of the Sussex and the Englishman.

The British ship Salybia was also reported sunk today, but with no loss of life.

Huxley Was on Business Trip

New York, March 25.—Officers of the United States Rubber Export Company, which handles the export business of the United States Rubber Company, said today they had received no word from Edward Huxley, president of the Export Company, who was reported from the torpedoing Sussex in the English Channel.

Mr. Huxley left this city in January on a business trip to England and the Continent. Officers of the company said they knew the names of no other Americans on board the Sussex except Francis C. Drake, mentioned in cable dispatches as rescued with Mr. Huxley. Mr. Drake lives in London. Mr. Huxley's home is in Englewood, N. J.

FT. SMITH, ARK., BANK ORDERED CLOSED

Ft. Smith, Ark., March 25.—The American Bank, one of the largest in the State, was closed today by the state bank examiners. The bank has a capital of $200,000, and its deposits, according to the last report totalled $145,000.

FIRE IN CHELSEA DWELLING

Fire which started from an unknown cause in the kitchen of a dwelling owned and occupied by Mrs. Harry Hurovitz of No. 73 Summer street, Chelsea, last night, caused a damage estimated at $100. The fire was discovered by James Brady, who lives next door.

Latest List of Victims and Survivors on Disabled Liners

HERE are revised lists of the American victims and survivors of the Englishman and the Sussex, the British liners that were prey yesterday to mines or torpedoes in the English Channel.

ON THE SUSSEX.

DEAD.

BALDWIN, ELISABETH F., Philadelphia. Died from injuries.

MISSING.

ARMITAGE, JOSHUA D.
BALDWIN, J. N., Philadelphia.
BARNES, GERTRUDE L., New York.
DEER, HENRY, New York.
HARDE, LILLIAN C. S.
HARDE, EDNA S.
HILTON, EDWARD D., New York.
HILTON, EDNA F., New York.
MARSHALL, EDWARD.
Probably the writer.
PARKER, GEORGE H., JR.
RYIE, MISS ALICE W., Colorado.
SENNELL, MRS. PILLIOTE.
TULEDEBON, MINGLEWOOD.

SAVED, BUT GRAVELY INJURED.

CROCKER, GEORGE H., Fitchburg. Gash on skull. Eight hours unconscious.

SAVED, UNINJURED.

BEMIS, SAMUEL F., Clarke College and Harvard. Home in Medford.
CULBERTSON, T. W., Philadelphia.
CROCKER, CHARLES T., Fitchburg.
CLAVEL, ALEXANDER, New York.
DEER, IDA, New York.
DRAKE, FRANCIS M., European manager of the United States Rubber Export Company.
HUXLEY, EDWARD R., president of the United States Rubber Export Company.
HILTON, MRS. DOROTHY F., New York.
HEARLY, JOHN W., Albany, N. Y.
PENFIELD, WALTER C., Wisconsin man, Princeton graduate, Rhodes scholar.
SARGENT, DANIEL, Harvard man.
WARREN, GERTRUDE, New York and St. Louis. Buyer for John Wanamaker.

ON THE ENGLISHMAN.

(According to statement made at line's office in Portland, Me.)

DEAD.

BUCKLEY, BARTH, Boston.
BURKE, M. A., Southampton street, Boston.
McDONALD, PETER, No. 58 Cherry street, Boston.
McDONALD, GEORGE, No. 37 Common street, Lawrence.

MISSING.

AUSTIN, CHARLES, Boston.
BAIRD, J. K., Boston.
BENSFORD, E., Portland.
BRICE, CHARLES, Yarmouth, Me.
CUNNINGHAM, JAMES, Everett.
HASTINGS, ROBERT, Malden.
KINCELLA, JAMES, Boston.
LYNCH, THOMAS, Boston.
LELLIE, W. S., Portland.
LINTON, JAMES, Boston.
MASSEY, FRED, Boston.
McCOFFILD, FRANK, Boston.
McDOUGALL, C. W., Portland.
McKIMM, PETER, Boston.
McKENSIE, JAMES B., Dorchester.
McINTYRE, L., Boston.
MOORE, J., Boston.
ROY, ARTHUR, Lowell.
SMITH, RAYMOND, Portland.
STARKEY, GEORGE, Boston.

Weymouth Boy Tells of British in Verdun Fight

The soldiers at the front at Verdun expect the war to end soon, and say that the Germans are doing a fine job of Spring plowing with their heavy guns, according to a letter received today by Mrs. Garcia Dyer of Weymouth, whose son, Warren, is with the machine gun battery of the King's Royal Irish Fusiliers.

His letter confirms reports that British troops are co-operating in the defence of Verdun.

"I have seen a lot of action, but I expect to be back in the good old U. S. A. soon," his letter reads in part. "I am sure the war will not last more than one or two months more, at the most.

"There is a hot time all along the front in France."

Belgian Relief Fund.

Joseph H. O'Neil of the Federal Trust Company, treasurer of the New England Belgian Relief Fund, announces further subscriptions which bring the total to $108,962.35. The latest contributions totalled $719.27, ranging in amount from $1 to $100.

MANY WOMEN AMONG DEAD ON CHANNEL SHIP

Panic Follows Explosion of Submarine's Torpedo in Latest U-Boat Tragedy.

Continued from First Page.

an order to close the water-tight compartments. Fortunately, the forebulkheads kept the steamer afloat.

SAW MISS BALDWIN DIE.

"Miss Baldwin, who was seated on the forepart of the upper deck, was hit by the full force of the explosion. I saw her mangled body rise high in the air. It fell back into the sea with a sickening thud. She had been killed outright.

"There was an instant rush for the boats by the passengers, who helped themselves, cut the boats clear. Unfortunately, a number of people jumped into the water, mostly women, which accounts for most of the loss of life.

"Many boats passed before mine came, this being due to the fact that the explosion put the wireless out of action. Eventually a trawler took us off. Then a destroyer came along and conveyed other passengers, mostly wounded, to England."

Samuel P. Bemis, in his statement filed at the American Embassy, says:

"I was on deck at the time. The weather was clear and beautiful. I saw a torpedo coming toward the steamer. The wake was clearly and unmistakably visible.

SAW MANY DROWN.

"The moment it reached us there was a terrific explosion. Many persons were blown into the water. I saw some killed before my eyes.

"Rafts and boats were lowered. I climbed upon a raft. Some persons were drowned about me. I was picked up by a lifeboat. Many persons were injured."

Daniel Sargent of Boston, who was on his way to Paris to take up his duties with the American ambulance corps, said:

"The explosion caused several casualties that I saw. George Crocker, Jr., of Fitchburg, had a badly gashed skull and lay in the deck eight hours unconscious, till he was taken off by a British destroyer. With him went his brother, Charles Crocker, who was unhurt.

"An American girl, whose name I am not sure of, was killed outright by the explosion. Samuel P. Bemis had a narrow escape. He was tossed overboard, but was in the water a long time before he was picked up by a boat.

WOMAN HELPED ROW.

"Mrs. Henry S. Beer of New York found herself in a boat with others. She herself took an oar and helped row the boat for several hours till they were picked up."

In view of the depositions by Bemis, Culbertson and Drake, filed with the American Embassy, stating that the ship was torpedoed without warning, the Ambassador has received repeated instructions to the American consul at Southampton to institute a thorough investigation. The International News Service was informed at the embassy that it is not known whether the Sussex was armed.

Ambassador Sharpe was for a time alarmed for the safety of Secretary Robert Woods Bliss and his wife, who were believed to be aboard. Subsequently it was learned that they had changed their minds at the last moment, and had returned to Paris by the way of the Southampton-Havre route.

VERDUN IS REPORTED IN FLAMES

Tornado of German Shells Fires the City; the Battle Develops Into Violent Artillery Exchange

By International News Service.

London, March 25.—The Germans on a seventy-five mile semi-circular front before Verdun, are pouring a fierce artillery fire into the French defences. Incendiary shells from the big guns have set the city of Verdun afire, according to German reports.

No mention of the conflagration is made by the French War Office. The bombardment, which for several days has been confined in its greatest violence to the front north of Verdun, has now spread from the Argonne to far in the Woevre.

The most intense fire is being direct, according to the Paris midnight communique, against the French second line positions from Malancourt to Douaumont. Pepper Mill (Cote du Poivre) and the Douaumont sector east of Meuse, whur during the last few days there has been more or less of a lull, are again being subjected to a rain of heavy calibre shells.

A tremendous drum fire is being brought to bear against the French positions in the Avocourt sector, according to news from the front. It is here that Germans are pressing their flanking attack against the French troops west of the river.

No infantry actions have been fought during the last thirty-six hours. The French batteries are replying vigorously to the German bombardment and are keeping up a continual downpour of steel upon the Crown Prince's positions in the wooded regions near Avocourt and Harcourt.

The French midnight official report says:

"In Belgium we have bombarded the German trenches east of Boesinghe and around Het Sas.

"In the Argonne there were rather violent artillery actions today on the sectors of Le Four de Paris, Courtechaussees and the Haute Chevauchee.

"There was heavy artillery activity west of the Meuse against our second line and east of the Meuse, in the region of the Cote du Poivre (Pepper Hill) and Douaumont and in Woevre on the sectors of the Meuse slope. No infantry action took place during the day.

"Calm prevails on the rest of the front."

The text of the German official report follows:

"West front—There has been no actual change in the situation since that given in the evening report, especially lively cannonading in the Meuse district. Verdun was set on fire by the shells."

Germans Plan Attack on England.

By International News Service.

Copenhagen, March 25.—The newspaper Politken prints an interview obtained by its Christinia correspondent with a high German naval officer who said that Germany is preparing for a great naval attack on England this summer.

A large number of new battleships and cruisers have been built and heavily armed at the new naval harbor of Pillau, near Koenigsberg. New dock yards also have been constructed at Cuxhaven.

ILL FROM WOUND AT FIRE 13 YEARS AGO

Suffering from injuries received at the Lawrence street fire, thirteen years ago, District Fire Chief Joseph Kenney, with quarters at Engine Company No. 12, Dudley street, Roxbury, is at the City Hospital, where, it is said, he will undergo an operation next week. Captain Norton of Engine Company No. 21 will be acting district chief during Chief Kenney's confinement at the institution.

BRITISH GENERAL LEAVES COMMAND

By International News Service.

London, March 25.—An official announcement here, after saying affairs are satisfactory in Egypt, adds:

"A reorganization of the forces in that country has been effected, and General Sir A. Murray has assumed sole command in Egypt. General Sir J. G. Maxwell left for England Friday."

NEED AIRSHIPS, SAYS MRS. M'KEY-BRYANT

"The United States has about 100 aeroplanes and the most of them are junk," declares Mrs. Alys McKey-Bryant, in private life Mrs. Jesse W. Carlew, of Washington, D. C., who is at the Burgess aeroplane plant at Marblehead inspecting a plane in which she expects to make a flight from New York to San Francisco in June. Our expedition into Mexico has shown the deficiency of the United States aeroplane service," she says.

INCORPORATED 1861

THE BOSTON

Penny Savings Bank

1375 Washington St., Boston
(Opposite Cathedral)

Money deposited on or before Monday, April 10, 1916, will draw interest from that date.

RUSSIAN DRIVE IS CHECKED

Berlin Reports the Czar's Forces Thrown Back with Heavy Losses in the Jacobstadt Sector

By International News Service.

London, March 25.—The Russian drive has been checked, according to the official German statement, late today.

Early Russian reports declared that the German line in the Jakobstadt section, between Riga and Dvinsk, had been cut, but Berlin today declares the attacking forces of the Czar have been thrown back with heavy losses.

The German official statement says:

"East front—west of Jakobstadt the Russians opened another attack after strong artillery preparation with fresh Siberian troops.

"The attack failed, the Russians suffering heavy losses.

"Southwest of Jakobstadt and southwest of Dvitsk the Russians made minor attacks which were repulsed.

"All the efforts of the enemy, even those that were repeated far into the night, against our front north of Widay were unsuccessful.

"In the region of Lake Naroca the activity of the Russians on Friday was limited to a bombardment.

"Balkan front — Another enemy aeroplane has been shot down in an aerial battle."

POLICE SEIZE FIVE PAPERS IN DUBLIN

Dublin, March 25.—The military and police have seized copies of five Irish publications, and in some cases dismantled the printing machinery, on the ground of disloyalty.

Of the Workers' Republic office armed citizens, members of the Transport Workers' Union, demanded they show a search warrant. The authorities withdrew.

Bayonets, occupied the hall.

Members of "the citizens' army," in uniform and armed with rifles and

ORIN A. ANDREWS DEAD AT MILTON

Orin A. Andrews, for forty-four years principal of the Belcher School, East Milton, is dead at his home on Washington street, that town, of pneumonia, in his seventy-seventh year. He leaves a wife and son, E. D. Andrews, and daughter, Maud H. Andrews. He was born in Essex and lived in Milton most of his life. He was a tax collector of the town a number of years and was connected with a number of fraternal organizations as well as Masonic bodies.

PENNY GIFTS AID FUND FOR SERBIANS

John F. Moors, treasurer of the Serbian Distress Fund, No. 111 Devonshire street, reports that late contributions ranging from a few cents to $200 have brought the total to $84,206.46. One contribution of four cents was labelled "Street box—March 15—snow storm." There was one for ten cents marked "yarn account."

LOWELL BOXING PROMOTERS HELD

Lowell, March 25.—Cecil F. Dodge, Henry Bousquet, John E. Lovejoy and Thomas J. Boyle, charged with promoting a public boxing and sparring match exhibition, pleaded not guilty in the Police Court and were continued to April 8. They were arrested after the Boyle-Blair bout in Lowell last night.

EVERY WOMAN

should see us first before going elsewhere, because all of our newest smart Spring Suits for Ladies and Misses, which no store can sell for less than from $20 to $25, we offer any suit you choose, at

One Price Only

15.50

Upstairs low rental and manufacturing our own garments enables us to make you this offer.

Coats $5.50 up
Skirts $3.00 up

We are manufacturers—if you find a garment you want in our stock, but desire a different shade of materials of the same style, we will make it up for you to measure, without extra cost.

ALL ALTERATIONS FREE

The Beacon

Room 601 Sixth Floor

59 Temple Place
BLAKE BLDG.

"We Share Our Profits With You."

NEW STYLES LOW PRICES

Mail Orders Filled 10c Extra. No C. O. D.

2,000 Shapes In Fine Hemp

95c & 1.49

We offer you hundreds of Hats in all the smart new shapes. Sailors, pokes, tricornes, turbans, Dressy hats, tailored hats, misses' hats are here for you. Black, sand, brown, bottle, navy, purple, rose.

(Styles Not Marked Are Now 95c)

Trimmings We Suggest

New flowers, wreaths and foliage in dainty colors; smart ribbon bows and making pom-poms are new. Our price are the lowest in the city and our trimmings are new and authentic.

1.49 1.49

Our Free Trimming

For those who buy shapes and trimmings here in a big saving to you.

KORNFELD'S Basement Store

65-69 SUMMER STREET

Our Profit Sharing

Means reduced prices for you on high grade hats, trimmings, and materials.

15 WINTER ST.

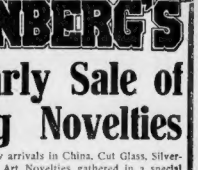
VORENBERG'S

An Early Sale of Spring Novelties

Hundreds of new arrivals in China, Cut Glass, Silverware, Jewelry and Art Novelties gathered in a special sale for one week only at prices which are genuine bargains. Have you seen Our New Display Windows?

Mail orders promptly filled

All Silk Umbrella for Ladies, in light and dark blue, light and dark green, purple and black. Sterling silver trimmed handles, like cut, extra quality taffeta. Well worth $4.50. For one week..... $2.85



Rich Cut Glass Fern Dish, like cut, 8-inch size, popular floral design, first quality of lead blanks. Comes with linings. Worth $3.00. Sale price..... $2.29

Gold lined with the popular thread line border. Stands 7½ inches high. Big value at only $2.59

Mahogany Serving Tray, like cut, 24-inch size, with carved inlaid centers. This tray is fully veneer and guaranteed not to warp. Worth $3.00. Sale Price..... $2.59

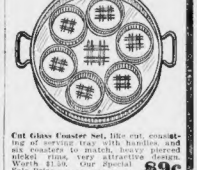
Most Wonderful Sale 10-kt. Gold Pendant and Chain—Like cut, each piece stamped, chain 15-in. soldered link, pendant heavy weight set with ruby, sapphire and amethyst, pearl drop. Worth $2.50. Your choice, complete. $1.14

Sold Separately, Pendant 75c. Chain 39c.

Cut Glass Coaster Set, like cut, consisting of serving tray with handles and six coasters to match, heavy pierced nickel rims, very attractive design. Worth $1.50. Our Special Sale Price..... 89c

Our Special Leader

Fine American Taffeta Umbrella, for ladies and gents, like cut, 26 inch size, with sterling silver trimmed handles, case and tassel..... 99c



THE IDEAL HAIR ORNAMENT

Pretty and Stylish

Demi Shell Casque Comb, like cut, set with white brilliants, and enamel dots, suitable for all shades of hair, variety of patterns to select from. Sale Price..... 49c

VERY SPECIAL SALE BIG VALUE

Sapphire Amethyst Ruby White Brilliant Topaz Emerald

Gold Shell Rings, like cut, in the new high Tiffany setting, stones are very brilliant and full cut, has the appearance and style of a high-priced ring. Value $1.00. Special Sale Price..... 35c

Guaranteed for 5 years.

Mahogany Clock

Stands 11 inches high, with mahogany base, large dial, cathedral gong. Worth $4.00. Sale Price 3.99

Special Sale of Cameo Pendants and Chains, like cuts, each has safety ring clasp, and the cameos are a near approach to the genuine. Your choice for 2 pieces complete, 39c

Cut Glass Sherbets, like cut, in the popular grape design, large size and practical shape, very clear glass. Worth $2. Our Special Sale Price, for set of six pieces..... $1.09

Hand Painted China Cabinet, like cut, with three compartments, can be used for serving nuts, bon bons, dainty floral design in white finish. Actually worth 65c. Our Special Price, 39c

Big Advance in the Price of VACUUM BOTTLES

Regardless of This Fact

This reinforced pint Vacuum Bottle, like cut, is sold practically at cost. Costs you less complete at this sale price than the bottle inside. Don't fail to secure one 85c

$1.25 Bottle this week $1.29
$2.25 Bottle this week $1.59

Unusual Value Cut Glass Marmalade Jar, like cut, with silver plated cover and spoon. A $1.50 value, for 35c

Cut Glass Water Glasses, like cut, 9-oz. size, in the new and popular shape, cane pattern, fine quality of glass. Worth 2.00 doz. Sale Price, for 6 pcs.. 69c

Burnt Bamboo Flower Baskets and Fern Dishes, like cuts, new and artistic shapes, pretty embossed Moriage decoration, all with metal linings, imported to sell for 75c. Our Special Price for each piece, 39c

Silver Teaspoons, like cut, heavily plated in the new Vine pattern. Returned to, per set of six..... 35c

Our Popular Load Blown Initial Tumblers. This glass is the 9-oz. size, including your initial in the Old English design. This is the price of a plain glass tumbler. Vorenberg's special for set of 6 pieces..... 29c

All initials on hand.

FOUR FROM NEW ENGLAND LOST ON SHIP

Of the Reported Missing from the Sussex Twenty Are from Massachusetts and Maine

If early reports, which were somewhat confused last night, are confirmed, the loss of life resulting from the sinking of the steamship Englishman and the damaging of the channel steamer Sussex, will hit Boston and all New England harder than has the destruction of any other steamship, or all combined for that matter, since the submarine warfare began.

Locally yesterday's toll was grave. It sent anxiety and grief into many New England homes. Of the reported dead, three were Boston men and one was from Lawrence. Of the reported missing twenty are listed from Massachusetts and Maine. Four are from the latter State and twelve are Bostonians. Several of the missing New Englanders live in the immediate vicinity of Boston.

The reported dead for the Englishman from Boston are Peter McDonald, No. 53 Cherry street, M. A. Burke, Southampton street, and Barth Buckley, Boston, with no street address specified. The Lawrence man reported drowned was George McDonald, No. 37 Common street.

The Bostonians reported missing are George Starkey, Peter McKinnon, James Kinsella, Charles Austin, Fred Massey, J. Moore, J. H. Baird, Thomas Lynch, Frank McCofield, L. McIntyre, James McKenzie, James Linton. Other New Englanders reported missing are James Cunningham, Everett; Robert Hastings, Malden; Arthur Roy Lowell; Raymond Smith, C. W. McDougall and R. Bradford, all of Portland, Me., and Charles Brice, Yarmouth, Me.

RESCUED FROM SUSSEX

Four Massachusetts men were reported rescued from the Sussex. They are Daniel Sargent, a Harvard graduate, whose parents live at No. 40 Hereford street, Back Bay; Charles T. Crocker and George H. Crocker, jr., cousins, of Prospect street, Fitchburg, and Samuel Bemis of Medford, graduate of Colby College and Clark University.

The four New Englanders reported drowned when the Englishman was sunk, and twenty of the missing, were brothers who had formed part of the crew in a shipment of horses from Portland to England. They are Brainerd Wright, which has been used as a horse transport for the allies, was formerly owned by Dutton & Co.

The parents of Daniel Sargent were much concerned last night about him. They were not fully satisfied with early bulletins. They feared there might have been complication of some, but all bulletins up to midnight placed him among the rescued.

Mr. Sargent is in twenty-sixth years old. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis W. Sargent. He was born in Wareham, August 22, 1889. He prepared for college at Groton. He won honorary scholarships in 1910, 12, and was class poet. He took post-graduate work and taught here.

His a year. He wrote a volume of poems entitled "Glimmering Days," which won commendation. He has shown exceptional talent for music, but all bulletins up to midnight placed him among the rescued.

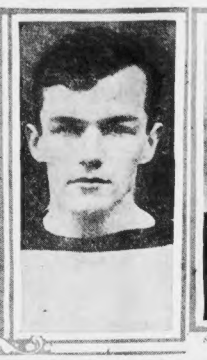
Mr. Sargent is in twenty-sixth years old. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis W. Sargent. He was born in Wareham, August 22, 1889. He prepared for college at Groton. He won honorary scholarships in 1910, 12, and was class poet. He took post-graduate work and taught here.

His a year. He wrote a volume of poems entitled "Glimmering Days," which won commendation. He has shown exceptional talent for music, but all bulletins up to midnight placed him among the rescued.

Mr. Sargent is in twenty-sixth years old. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis W. Sargent. He was born in

NEW ENGLANDERS SAVED FROM SUSSEX

Daniel Sargent, graduate of Harvard in 1913. He was a clever poet and has won commendation for a volume of poems entitled "Glimmering Days."



George H. Crocker, Jr., member of an exclusive Fitchburg family. A junior at Harvard and known as a Gold Coaster.

Samuel F. Bemis of Medford, graduate of Clark College and holding university fellowship from Harvard.

SURVIVORS TELL OF HORROR FOLLOWING THE EXPLOSION

THE following are extracts from the stories of the Sussex disaster told by American survivors:

DANIEL SARGENT of Boston—The explosion caused several casualties. George Crocker of Fitchburg was badly gashed and lay on the deck unconscious eight hours.

MISS GERTRUDE WARREN of New York—I saw a ripple of water showing the track of an oncoming torpedo. I shrieked a warning but simultaneously there was a terrific explosion.

C. T. CROCKER of Fitchburg—The torpedo which struck the Sussex was seen by the captain and the helmsman.

FRANCIS E. DRAKE of London—The behavior of all the women was simply splendid.

EDWARD HUXLEY of New York—The scene on the Sussex after the explosion was horrible in the extreme.

PANIC AMONG PASSENGERS ON THE SUSSEX

Dover, March 25.—Some of the passengers saved from the steamer Sussex, who were landed here today, said panic broke out on the ship after the explosion.

Although owners says the vessel struck a mine, C. T. Crocker of Fitchburg, Mass., one of the American survivors, declared the Sussex was torpedoed. He said:

"The torpedo which struck the Sussex was seen by the captain and the helmsman of the ship.

"The pilot tried to avoid the torpedo and nearly succeeded. I was talking to Miss Baldwin when the explosion came. She was badly wounded and died in a short time.

"The dining saloon of the vessel was smashed by the explosion.

Mrs. Dorothy Hilton of New York said:

"We were about an hour and a half out of Folkstone when there was a terrific explosion, which jarred the ship and threw up a mighty wave of water.

MANY PASSENGERS WOUNDED.

"Many of the passengers were wounded. Panic broke out on board among the passengers, but most of those were women and children.

Francis Drake, another passenger, said an American said:

"The behavior of all the women on board was simply splendid."

Edward Huxley of New York said:

"The scene on the Sussex after the explosion was horrible in the extreme. The starboard part of the vessel was torn off at the captain's bridge, though the remainder of the vessel was so little damaged that even the electric lights continued to burn.

"I cannot estimate the number of killed, but have I any idea how long the ship was struck by a mine or a torpedo."

FAILED TO HEED CALL

A number of the passengers jumped overboard. Grating and pieces of furniture were thrown to them from the decks. More than half of those who leaped into the water are believed to have lost their lives.

The foremasts and wireless apparatus were blown away by the explosion. The wireless operator attempted unsuccessfully to rig a substitute. A sailing vessel appeared on the horizon soon after the explosion, but failed to answer signals of distress. For some time the Sussex drifted about. Her pumps were kept working and little water was left.

The persons who embarked in the boats returned to the Sussex before dark. Rockets were fired during the early part of the night, and at midnight a trawler came to the rescue. It took as many as it could carry to Boulogne. A British destroyer came up soon afterwards and took on the other passengers, conveying them to Dover. Five bodies were left on the Sussex.

4 Bay State Men Reported Dead

Portland, Me., March 25.—The following Boston and Massachusetts men, members of the crew of the Englishman, are known to be dead, according to information at the local office of the Dominion line:

Peter McDonald, No. 53 Cherry street, Boston; George McDonald, No. 37 Common street, Lawrence; Barth Buckley, Boston and M. A. Burke, Southampton street, Boston.

Among the missing are Peter McKimm and George Starkey, Boston; James Cunningham, Everett; James Kinsella, Charles Austin, Fred Massey, J. Moore, J. H. Baird, Thomas Lynch, Frank McCofield and L. McIntyre, all of Boston; Robert Hastings, Malden; James R. McKenzie, Dorchester; Arthur Roy, Lowell, and James Linton, Boston.

Among others missing are Charles Brice, Yarmouth, Maine, and W. S. Leslie, Raymond Smith, C. W. McDougall and E. Bradford, all of whom gave their homes as in Portland, Maine.

FACTORY STOCK

2000 Hemp and Milan Hemp

HATS

Turned over to the A. W. Jones Co. at less than cost of production on account of backwardness of the season.

ON SALE TOMORROW

800 large hats, 1200 small hats—all colors and black—all this season's newest shapes. The biggest Millinery bargain in the history of the business.

All Perfect Goods That Retail for $1.50 and $2.00 Choice

44c

Limit of 6 to a customer, including milliners. No mail orders.

When Trimmings are purchased here we trim FREE.

A. W. JONES CO.

WHOLESALE MILLINERY

20 CHAUNCY ST. (UP ONE FLIGHT). SEE YELLOW SIGN

Glen Shirts & Collars Co.

121 TREMONT ST.—BOSTON'S SHIRT WAIST SHOP

Latest Spring Styles Now Ready. When in Doubt Buy a TREMONT OR MATINEE WAIST

These two brands of Waists are manufactured in our Glens Falls factories, which are considered the last word in sanitary and up-to-date methods of producing ladies' Waists and Blouses. The styles advertised today show a few of the more recent creations which are now prevailing.

LOT 1—This Is a Sweater Coat with sash; it is made of silk and linen; it has been popular at Palm Beach this winter; the body is tan color with a white stripe; it is attractive, cool and at the same time durable $1.95

LOT 2—A Russian Blouse made of tan silk with collar and cuffs trimmed in various colors, white back and white $2.95

LOT 3—A semi-tailored Waist, made of white mercerized poplin with large pearl buttons and buttonholes bound in color $1.95

LOT 4—A new model Kimono, made of serpentine crepe in a variety of most beautiful designs $1.95

INFANTS' DEPARTMENT

Mothers always find it a pleasure to come in our Infants' Department, next door to children from 6 months to 6 years of age. We know of the things you want and very few ever go away without having found what they wanted.

Silk Waists to Close 98c

Tomorrow we throw onto the bargain counter all the odds and ends of Silk Waists which we have left. These Waists are of small sizes—32, 34, 36. Small women will get a bargain. These are small, were large sizes they would all sell in 10 minutes

Lot 1 $1.95

Lot 2—$2.95

Lot 3 98c

Lot 4 $1.95

Try a Pair of Our Easter Gloves — None Better for the Price.

GILCHRIST'S

DOUBLE STAMP WEEK

Remember! In Addition to the Extraordinary Low Prices Quoted Double Legal Stamps All Day and Every Day This Week Will Offer You a Saving of Five Cents on Every Dollar You Spend

$3.00 Chambray Dresses $1.98

In semi-tailored style, blouse and yoke of shirt in novelty pattern, machine embroidery, finished with fancy pearl buttons, blue only; sizes 6 to 46.

Women's 89c and $1.00 Union Suits 55c

Light weight lisle and mercerized cotton, low neck, sleeveless style, with cuff or wide knee, shell finish, splendid value.

Women's $1.39 Glove Silk Vests—White and pink, made low neck, sleeveless style; exceptional value 98c

Women's 50c Swiss Lisle Vests—Dainty lace yoke, made low neck, sleeveless style, at 35c

Women's 19c Cotton Vests—Fancy lace yoked, low neck, sleeveless 12½c

Boys' 50c Union Suits—Bleached cotton, high neck, long sleeves and ankle length, irregular 29c

$2.50 Black Broadcloth $1.59

54 in. wide, imported quality, spot proofed, perfect black, per yd.

$1.50 Black Mohair Sicilian—54 in. wide, English make, shirt quality 89c

$1.50 Sport Coat Corduroy—54 in. wide, in all the season's bright colors, per yard 79c

LININGS

29c Fast Black Satine—36 in. wide, satin finish 20c

29c Canton Silk—36 in. wide, all colors, also white and black 24c

29c Tailor's Linen Canvas—Natural, fully shrunk 20c

Men's $10 Suits $7.50

Men's Trousers—Waist measure to 44, medium weight worsteds in neat patterns and dark stripes; trousers we can recommend for hard service $1.69

STREET FLOOR

Children's White Dresses 98c

Sample lot, made of fine lingerie and sheer nainsook, tucks and fine hemstitching, trimmed with fine Swiss embroidery and lace, also with fine Swiss embroidery and lace yoke, of pin tucks and insertion, neck and sleeves edged with lace, all sizes 1 to 2 years $1.69

Infants' Long Dresses—Of fine nainsook, two styles in dainty hand embroidered yokes, neck and sleeves edged with lace, all sizes to 2 years 49c

Infants' 59c Long Skirts and Gertrudes—All wool flannel 39c

Infants' Kimonos and Pinning Blankets—Of soft white flannelette 19c

Infants' $2.98 Long and Short Dresses—Sample lot of dainty little garments made of fine nainsook, beautifully trimmed with fine Swiss embroidery and lace yokes, of pin tucks and insertion, neck and sleeves edged with lace, all sizes 6 to 2 years $1.29

Dainty Undermuslins

This Wonderful Collection at 38c

High and V necks, long sleeves, regular and outsizes, slipon gowns, with short sleeves; muslin and crepe combinations; muslin envelope chemises; drawers and corset covers, lace embroidery insertions and washable ribbons trimmed, also long white skirts, embroidery flounce.

$2.50 Combinations—Gowns and chemises, dainties trimmed with lace insertions, with ribbon $1.00

$2.00 Berkeley Cotton Gowns—Slipon styles, combinations and chemises, embroidery trimmed $1.29

Fine Nainsook Combinations $1.98

Daintily trimmed with imported laces and insertions, ribbon run.

Extra Size Drawers and Underskirts 59c

Ruffles of fine imported embroideries.

Extra Size Long White Skirts $1.59

With the new flexo fitted top, no opening in back, embroidery flounces.

Boys' $4.00 and $5.00 Extra Trousers Suits $3.59

Sizes 7 to 17 years, in a small lot, all new, wanted mixtures, in tweeds, cassimeres and worsteds, coat sizes 28 to 35, trousers 26 to 32 waist measure; jackets are smartly made, cut full, both pairs lined throughout, seams taped and triple sewn.

79c and $1.00 Pajamas—Good quality outing flannel, pink and blue stripes; madras in figured white, percales in neat stripes; low jackets are trimmed, nicely finished, trousers cut full 55c

$1.00 and $1.50 Worsted Sweaters—For boys 6 to 14 years; a medium weight worsted, fancy knit, with shawl collar, in red and navy, roll collar style with pockets 75c

Women's $1.25 French Kid Gloves 89c

2-Clasp, overseam sewn, Paris point embroidery, in tan, white, grey, brown, black and black with white sewing and colored 89c

Women's Kid Gloves—1-clasp, plain sewn, three-row heavy embroidered backs, in black sewn and embroidered, white $1.50

$1.15 Washable Cape Gloves—1-clasp, P. N. M. sewn, Imperial backs, tan shades 75c

Girls' New Coats $3.98

Worth $5.00

Smart all wool serges and fancy checks, effectively trimmed with fancy silk cord and cuffs set off by handsome buttons, sizes 6 to 14 years.

Girls' $3.98 Spring Coats—New models in smart checks, well tailored and trimmed with silk collar and cuffs, new pocket effects and buttons; sizes 6 to 14 years $2.98

Women's $3 and $3.50 Boots $1.59

Patent leather and gun metal calf, button and lace styles, in narrow and medium widths, good style walking boots for early Spring wear, well sewed soles, medium and wide fitting, sizes 2½ to 7.

We are showing the new popular high boot styles at $4.50, $5.00 & $6.00

Also new styles, in dark brown kid and the new light and neutral gray kid and two-tone boots.

Women's 50c Silk Boot Hose 28c

Pure thread silk, black and white, also black with white and contrasting colored top, extra high spliced heel and toe, fine gauge.

3 Pairs for 75c

Women's $1.50 and $2.25 Silk Stockings—The make of a well known manufacturer, but without name, artificial or name in advertising; medium and heavy weight, pure thread silk in black and white and novelty clock effects 95c

Women's 25c and 35c Sample Stockings—Of fine lisle and silk lisle; black, white and colors, size 9 only 17c

3 for 50c

$3.00 Renaissance Table Covers

Square, very elaborate, with embroidered center, for

$1.69

$1.00 Centerpieces—All linen, 20 inches, lace edged and insertion, very fine quality and effective patterns 49c

$5.00 Gillette Safety Razors $3.39

Silver plated pocket edition, with 12 finest finish blades in metal case.

$1.25 Hot Water Bottles—New metal bottle, full nickel plated, 3 pint size 85c

Women's 25c and 50c Handkerchiefs

Donegal Hand Work

All Pure Linen

Manufacturer's samples, very fine assortment of designs, including one corner embroidered, some in novelty and dainty lace edges, Madeira effects and plain hemstitched.

Women's 12½c Handkerchiefs—All linen, 1-inch hems 7½c

Women's 12½c and 15c Handkerchiefs—One corner embroidered designs, subject to slight imperfections 5c

55c Combination Stationery Offering 37c

Extra finish fabric writing paper, full pound, 75 Remorse pointed flap envelopes, complete.

Smallwares

25c and 30c Dress Shields—Our guaranteed Aleo Brand; odorless, size 3 and 4 ..... 16c

10c and 12½c Hose Supporters—Extra strong elastic, in 4 best sizes, black and white 7c

MAIL AND PHONE ORDERS FILLED

THE STORE OF PROGRESS

GILCHRIST Co.

DOUBLE LEGAL STAMPS EVERY DAY THIS WEEK

WE REDEEM LEGAL STAMP BOOKS

DAYTON SAYS U. S. MUST INTERVENE

Expert Believes This Will Be Ultimate Problem in Mexico, to Maintain Monroe Doctrine

By MAJOR EDWIN W. DAYTON.
American Military Expert, Associate Editor Arms and Navy Journal and Inspector-General New York National Guard.

The immediate problem in northern Mexico is obscure, difficult and illogical. The ultimate problem, whether of tomorrow or a year from tomorrow, will be plain and logical, although still difficult.

The facts briefly are: Since Porfirio Diaz resigned the Presidency of Mexico in May 1911, there have been eight different men nominally ruling the country. They were all Mexicans. Under none of them was the life and property of either Americans or of foreigners safe in Mexico. Therefore, none of those men fulfilled the functions of a ruler over a civilized people.

Either Mexico is unable to find within herself a man capable of restoring order or the people themselves are incapable of maintaining a law-abiding and peaceful status quo.

INTERNATIONAL INTERESTS.

International commercial relations are such that no nation can live apart from the general and related responsibilities among the families of mankind. The interests of most of the great European Powers have suffered severely in Mexico during the past five years.

When the present war in Europe ends, the Mexican question, if allowed to continue, will furnish a certain and deadly animus for European intervention in American affairs.

More than one strong nation will seize the opportunity to ask: "Mr. Monroe, why have you not justified your existence by protecting the lives and investments of our fellow-countrymen?"

Also there will be an increasing number of people who are beginning to think that their own government shall signify its existence by performing one of the primary functions of any government, namely, the protection of its own citizens when they are doing the under their own flag.

DUTY OF UNITED STATES.

Were the United States duly ready to shoulder the designated task of restoring law and order in Mexico, the inevitable will have occurred. Certainly, if there will be no question even of our ability to do it, and no question of minister republic long enough to enable Mexico to do the thing itself—even as Cuba did itself and GOVERN itself.

Every word so far sounds pugilistic, and politics is not a pugilistic business. However, when the time comes for closing in on the job it will be done, that job will be a soldier's job.

Because of that fact it will be necessary to keep in perspective the long-view problems of Mexico.

Our army entered Mexico with one certain, fully outlined purpose—to find Villa. If Villa is to easily be isolated as individual or group, the army's mission might have been accomplished.

VILLA NOT SOLE PROBLEM.

But Villa is a type of a large number of Mexicans. Take away Villa and a swarm ready to combat any crime against the United States would across the southern border. Dealing with him is dealing with them.

It is fully impossible to argue and finish just supposing that thereby the Villa condition has been corrected. The Villa type existing to the lowermost mine is dissipated, but the lawless mine is replaced by another Villa will not restore law and order in Mexico.

The sanguinisms of the South have something their thickening kind of "patriotism" for the past four years.

But an army must be supplied. That is one fact that will not submit to political requirements. It is rather safe to assume that we either have taken or will take the railway line from El Paso and that we will guard it and control it as long as we have troops in Chihuahua. That act will be in the nature of a military necessity.

If it proves to be true that there is a general flocking of Mexicans to the Villa side it becomes evident that our force south of Casas Grandes will be entirely inadequate to deal with the problem which will then arise.

ALTERNATIVE PLANS.

In that event there would seem to be a simple course of action indicated—withdraw the troops while the way is still open, and when they are safely back on the American side wait for the movement at Washington to decide as to what course shall be pursued.

But here I am tempted to ask you to read over again the first few paragraphs. Whatever military action is taken now ought to be considered in its ultimate relation to the events which sooner or later will follow.

The retreat of our Army from Mexico with its mission unfulfilled would only to Villa now and hereafter every malcontent in northern Mexico. It has been a thunder storm before he would be a tornado hereafter.

Villa Forces Near Border.

Things outrages were taken by the border folk as evidence that strong Villa forces are being concentrated near the border and that while the hunt for the bandit's leader is being prosecuted so far to the south another invasion of American territory may be attempted. The anxiety at El Paso despite the fact that American troops are stationed at Fort Bliss is no less keen than at other points. The action of Sheriff Peyton Edwards in asking for Texas militia has increased the fear that the town may be attacked.

The United States authorities are working in full harmony with the city officials as was evidenced by the placing at the disposal of the chief of police of two companies of the Seventh Infantry last night. The night passed without any serious outbreak.

It became known today for the first time that Villa had tried to get to the border and join one of his bands there, but was balked by the well-executed plans of General Pershing.

Villa scoffed at the American cavalry. He believed it too slow to press his own wild horsemen, yet the American troopers rode rim off at Casas Grandes and made a hot pursuit of it southward. Villa was surprised, but his confidence was not shaken.

PERSHING TOO QUICK.

From the neighborhood of Namiquipa he is safe he could carry his riders through the passes. Then Pershing, refusing to wait for the untangling of the diplomatic snarl at Washington, utilized the Mexican Northwestern Railway at Aguascalientes to send his cavalry by rail to head Villa off.

Another American column rushed to reinforce Carranzista troops closed in at Villa's rear.

Another peril threatens Villa: he depended on support of natives. For years his reputation and deeds as an outlaw have kept these people subject to his rule of fear. By brutality he kept them in hand. He could have whatever he needed or whatever his fancy inclined him to take.

But now there has come a change. When the American army entered Mexico, the people feared more of the same. But the waging warfare they had known, only on a larger and more cruel scale. Instead they have seen a determined, business-like army patiently absorbing the hardships of the campaign, and its only object, not one thing—the taking of Pancho Villa.

NATIVES RETURN.

The natives have come back out of the hills. They have talked to the American troopers. They have worked with them. They have found pay for what was taken.

The native mind is beginning to see Villa as a doomed man. Soon the natives will take advantage of their opportunity for revenge on Villa. Instead of helping him they will carry information to the Americans.

Cavalry Leaves Fort Ethan Allen on Its First Jump Toward Mexico

Photographs by Hearst Vitagraph News Pictorial.

Above is shown the first squadron of the Second Cavalry taking train at Fort Ethan Allen, Vermont, for Fort Meyer in Virginia, which the men hope is only their first jump toward Mexico. Below are two of the troopers with mascot dogs which enjoyed the getaway as heartily as did their masters.

By "DICK" SEARS.
Staff Photographer Hearst Vitagraph News Pictorial.

Burlington, Vt., March 25.—There were smiles and tears, good wishes and cheers when the first squadron of the Second Cavalry of regulars left Fort Ethan Allen soon after dawn today for Fort Meyer, Va. In spite of the wives and sweethearts whom officers and troopers left behind on the platform every mother's son was anxious for the trip that carried him nearer to Mexico. The army mules were the only part of the contingent not swayed by patriotic fervor. Even most of the long-eared delegates were not anxious to swagger the snow and braving air of the Green Mountains for the balmy South.

They balked and capered and some of the fifty put in box cars had to be dragged aboard by a dozen laughing troopers. Horses were placed in other cars. The 600 troopers of the first squadron traveled in day coaches and a merry band of warriors they made as they poked arms and heads out of windows and feasted from platforms waving to dear ones. The train was operated in two sections. The long strings of coaches were backed up to the fort reservation six miles from here. All hands were up and packed by breaks of day, and the spirit of the hero made the women folks swarmed the platforms. They hugged and kissed their men as the troopers and filled their packs and pockets with gifts of goodies.

At 8 o'Colonel J. C. Beckham, commander of the fort, who stood among a group of officers, waved his hand, arm and shouted "Forward, boys, and God bless you all."

The locomotives began tooting and the clanging of the bells was drowned by the fort band playing "Auld Lang Syne." The crowd cheered itself hoarse and so did the troopers in the horse cars and then the day laborers had their say. It was a scene, believe me, to remind a fellow of a real war. The troopers were eager to get into Mexico. They kept saying: "We're on our way to the United States," meaning Mexico. It will be their disappointment if they don't get held long at Fort Meyer. They want the border or Mexico. And nothing short of that. They are a strapping band, every one a hardy soldier. Each troop had a dog or two for mascot. The dogs were as excited as the soldiers.

Captain G. A. Hamilton, in command of the departing troops, ought to feel proud of his outfit. They would scare an army of "greasers."

At Randolph the troop trains were delayed by a freight wreck. They figured the trip to Virginia would take thirty odd hours. Field stoves were fitted in sand in coaches to cook on the way. The trains travelled by way of White River Junction to Bellows Falls and to Fort Meyer.

It was some subject for the movies, that getaway, and I was in on the ground floor. But I can't describe it. Better watch Hearst-Vitagraph Weekly Pictorial this week and look for yourself.

VILLA FLEES TO MOUNTAINS FOR SAFETY

Bandit Leader, Defeated in the El Oso Fight, Is Said to Have Made Escape to Sierra Madres

Continued from First Page.

and many persons killed there before the marauders put the torch.

Another band of Villistas is believed responsible for the murder of three Americans—two women and a man, near Gibson's ranch on the New Mexico border.

VILLA FORCES NEAR BORDER.

These outrages were taken by the border folk as evidence that strong Villa forces are being concentrated near the border and that while the hunt for the bandit's leader is being prosecuted so far to the south another invasion of American territory may be attempted. The anxiety at El Paso despite the fact that American troops are stationed at Fort Bliss is no less keen than at other points. The action of Sheriff Peyton Edwards in asking for Texas militia has increased the fear that the town may be attacked.

The United States authorities are working in full harmony with the city officials as was evidenced by the placing at the disposal of the chief of police of two companies of the Seventh Infantry last night. The night passed without any serious outbreak.

It became known today for the first time that Villa had tried to get to the border and join one of his bands there, but was balked by the well-executed plans of General Pershing.

Villa scoffed at the American cavalry. He believed it too slow to press his own wild horsemen, yet the American troopers rode rim off at Casas Grandes and made a hot pursuit of it southward. Villa was surprised, but his confidence was not shaken.

PERSHING TOO QUICK.

From the neighborhood of Namiquipa he is safe he could carry his riders through the passes. Then Pershing, refusing to wait for the untangling of the diplomatic snarl at Washington, utilized the Mexican Northwestern Railway at Aguascalientes to send his cavalry by rail to head Villa off.

Another American column rushed to reinforce Carranzista troops closed in at Villa's rear.

Another peril threatens Villa: he depended on support of natives. For years his reputation and deeds as an outlaw have kept these people subject to his rule of fear. By brutality he kept them in hand. He could have whatever he needed or whatever his fancy inclined him to take.

But now there has come a change. When the American army entered Mexico, the people feared more of the same. But the waging warfare they had known, only on a larger and more cruel scale. Instead they have seen a determined, business-like army patiently absorbing the hardships of the campaign, and its only object, not one thing—the taking of Pancho Villa.

NATIVES RETURN.

The natives have come back out of the hills. They have talked to the American troopers. They have worked with them. They have found pay for what was taken.

The native mind is beginning to see Villa as a doomed man. Soon the natives will take advantage of their opportunity for revenge on Villa. Instead of helping him they will carry information to the Americans.

General Rojas' Men May Enter Texas

By International News Service.

El Paso, March 25.—Word reached here today that Carranza troops were considering sending an expedition into the United States near Presidio, Texas, to capture cattle thieves that were pursued to the border two days ago by General Rojas. Soldiers of the Carranza commander engaged in a running fight with the thieves but thieves reached the boundary.

Rumor-Vendors Are Scored by Lansing

Washington, March 25.—Referring General Herrera to Villa, which was proved to be unfounded, and to other alarming rumors from Mexico, Secretary Lansing said:

I believe a large part of these stories originate in the minds of interested persons who desire intervention. They can have no other purpose than to inflame the minds of the Mexican people.

Lewis' Treason Resolve Waits

Washington, March 25.—Senator Lewis' resolution declaring Americans who aid Villa guilty of treason was laid on the table today for one week at Lewis' own request. Lewis wanted more time to prepare his expose of the influences alleged to be trying to force intervention.

CYCLE MACHINE GUN CARRIERS

Springfield, March 25.—Two models of motorcycle and sidecar carriers for machine guns will shortly be ready for government tests, the United States Cycle Company and a manufacturing company of this city having nearly completed the designs and models of machines at the government's request. Colonel W. S. Pierce, commandant of the Armory, explained today that the machines were designed to combine to the highest degree of mobility and ammunition-carrying capacity.

Colonel Pierce has also originated the idea of reaching the machine gun of the guns made at the Armory to soldiers in the local barracks, for the purpose of preparing the soldiers for duty in ordnance depots.

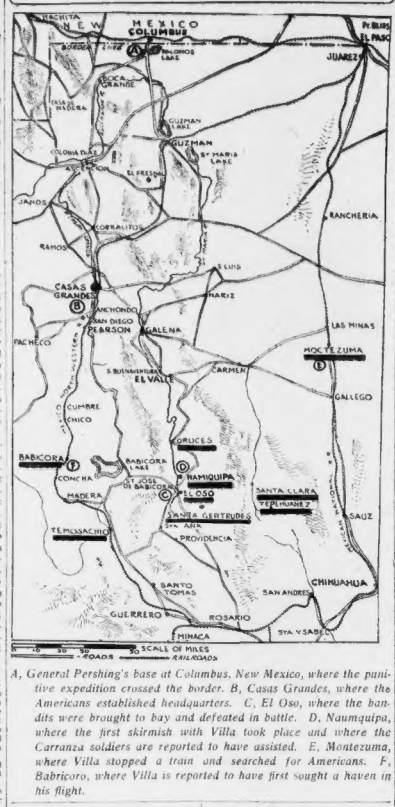
YOUTHFUL HUGGER UNDER OBSERVATION

Elmer MacInnis, the 16 year old Somerville "hugger" who was captured by Miss Beatrice L. Sheridan of West Somerville after a hard battle, has been sent to the Psychopathic Hospital for observation. This became known when his case was called in the juvenile session of Somerville court for disposition. He pleaded guilty at his first hearing, Thursday. His case now awaits a report from the hospital.

MRS. A. L. BAILEY OF NEWTON DEAD

Mrs. Anna Leland Bailey, a prominent Newton clubwoman and wife of Alvin K. Bailey, died yesterday at her home on Richardson street, Newton. She was sixty. Mrs. Bailey was a member of the Massachusetts Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Newton Equal Suffrage Association.

MAP of Mexican operations showing how the United States troops have been reaching out to catch Villa, and indicating the various stages of the great man hunt.



A, General Pershing's base at Columbus, New Mexico, where the punitive expedition crossed the border. B, Casas Grandes, where the Americans established headquarters. C, El Oso, where the bandits were brought to bay and defeated in battle. D, Naumquipa, where the first skirmish with Villa took place and where the Carranza soldiers are reported to have assisted. E, Montezuma, where Villa stopped a train and searched for Americans. F, Babricoro, where Villa is reported to have first sought a haven in his flight.

SEND TRANSPORT TO GALVESTON

Hancock to Be Held in Readiness to Carry Marines to Any Point of Danger.

By International News Service.

Washington, March 25.—The Navy Department today ordered the transport Hancock from Key West, Fla., to Galveston, Tex. No official explanation was given for the movement. Officials indicated, however, that the transport would be held at Galveston for any emergency that may arise along the western coast of Mexico.

Four hundred marines who are held in readiness at New Orleans could be rushed to Galveston by rail on short notice to embark on the Hancock.

The Hancock was ordered from Philadelphia to Pensacola, Fla., last Saturday. It was stated then that 500 marines would be taken on board. Today it was said no marines were taken from Philadelphia. The Hancock was stopped at Key West, on its way to Pensacola.

Funston Scouts Douglas Report

By I. V. B. Rucker, International Staff Correspondent.

San Antonio, Texas, March 25.—The report that there are 2,000 Villista soldiers within half a mile of Douglas, Ariz., supported by ten cannon, was called a wild exaggeration today by Major General Funston. He said ample provisions should be made to protect Douglas even if there were no Villista soldiers in that region. There are 3,000 infantrymen in Douglas, with 20 cavalrymen and a battery of artillery nearby.

Deny Story of Bandits' Slaying

By International News Service.

Douglas, Ariz., March 25.—The story that three Americans were killed by bandits near Columbus recently was denounced as false by United States army officers here today. Censorship is threatened in Douglas, if the publication of such false reports is not stopped.

MEXICO NEWS GIVES ALARM TO REPUBLICANS

Senators Charge Administration with Halfway Measures to Control Situation.

By International News Service.

Washington, March 25.—Telegrams of such an alarming nature from the Mexican border have reached Republican Senators within the past twenty-four hours that Minority Leader Gallinger of New Hampshire today issued a hurried call for a party conference.

Fully half the Republican membership attended. The Mexican question was discussed and an adjournment taken until Monday, pending definite information from Senator Fall, now at El Paso, which may enable the Republicans to adopt some program.

Support of the President's policy of pursuing and capturing Villa was pledged, but it was evident that unless information now reaching Washington is proven untrustworthy, a "serious" demand will be made upon the administration for additional protection of Americans along the border.

CALL ADMINISTRATION "AFRAID."

Chief criticism of the administration made by the Republican Senators was that now, having sent a punitive expedition after Villa, it appeared to be afraid to take other steps to protect Americans, lest such action give offence to the de facto government of Mexico.

Resolutions setting forth the views of Republicans were submitted by Senators Cummins and McCumber, emphasizing the need of further protection for Americans, but supporting the President's present policy so far as it has gone. The Sherman resolution calling for 50,000 volunteers was not considered, owing to absence of authentic information the conference decided not to adopt any resolutions.

WANT REAL INFORMATION.

Criticism was made of the "sterilized" information given out by the War Department. Telegrams were sent to Senator Fall and others along the border urging immediate and correct information that will enable the conference to act Monday.

The discussion disclosed that many Republicans and a number of Democrats of the Senate were convinced that war with Mexico was not far distant.

At the request of Senator Stone, Senator Lewis called up the resolution, introduced yesterday, to go over for a week, without prejudice. This was in harmony with the administration's wish to suppress debate on the Mexican question whenever possible.

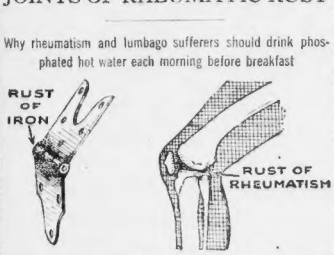
Mormons Furnish Supplies to Troops

By International News Service.

El Paso, March 25.—Bishop Hurst, of the Mormon church, received reports today that 8,000 American troops are now in Mexico. The Mormon colonists at Casas Grandes, grateful for their rescue by the cavalrymen, have turned over all supplies at Colonia Dublan and Colonia Juarez to the troops in Mexico. The Mormons' information confirms the report that Villa and Doradoy have escaped into the mountains.

DRINK HOT WATER AND RID JOINTS OF RHEUMATIC RUST

Why rheumatism and lumbago sufferers should drink phosphated hot water each morning before breakfast



Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken day after day into the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not completely eliminated each day, becomes the fuel for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels. From this mass or leftover waste material various poisons, similar to poisons, called uric acid, are formed and then sucked into the blood, where it continues to circulate, collecting grain by grain in the joints of the body much like rust collects on the hinge as shown above.

Men and women who suffer from lumbago, rheumatism or sore, stiff, aching joints should begin drinking phosphated hot water, not as a means to magic relief from pain, but to prevent more uric acid forming in the system. Before eating breakfast each morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will first neutralize and then wash out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's accumulation of toxins and poisonous fluids, cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal, each morning, before putting more food into the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make any rheumatic or lumbago sufferer an enthusiast on the morning inside bath.

Millions of people keep their joints free from these rheumatic acids by practicing this daily internal sanitation. A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate—drunk before breakfast, is wonderfully invigorating; besides it is an excellent health measure because it cleanses the alimentary organs of all the waste, gases and sour fermentations, making one look and feel clean, sweet and fresh all day.

Those who try this for one week may find themselves free from sick headaches, constipation, bilious attacks, sallowness, nasty breath and stomach acidity.—Advertisement.

NO MAIL ORDERS

98¢

Milan Hems and Lenzie Mats 98c
Retail Value $4.00. Our Remarkable Price 98c

We carry a large assortment of Braids, Ribbons, Flowers, Wings, Cords and everything to make or trim your hats with at prices low as other wholesale houses.

Mail Trimmed Free of Charge by Expert Milliners

Latest Rico Net Frames 17c

New York Wholesale Millinery Co.

110 TREMONT ST.

ELEVATED RLDG., R. T. ONE FLIGHT
Take Elevator

Dependable Groceries Prices Much Lower

Sale Week March 17—April 1

Free Quick, Reliable Delivery ★ Complete Price List Free. Write

BUTTER 36c lb — Finest Quality Creamery. Received Daily.
EGGS "Prize Green" Newly Laid Va. Vol. 27c doz. Also Fresh Western Warranted Eggs, Doz. 25c

60c Value Teas Orange Pekoe Ceylon, Formosa Oolong, English Breakfast, Green and Black Mixed — Our Price Per Lb. 35c

30c Value Blended Coffee "Golden Rose" lb. 20c — Rich Blend Old Coffee
35c Value Blended Coffee "Pride of Aden," Mocha-Java Type lb. 25c

Salmon "Reliance Brand." Rich, Oily, Tender, 15c Value, Doz. 1.65 — Finest Columbia River Sockeye Can 16c

Gold Medal Floor Price Cut For This Week Only bbl. 7.39 bag 93c

Sugar Finest Granulated Limit 10 Lbs. 70c
Rose Milk Cond. Can 10c
Cream of Wheat Pkg. 12c
Fels Naptha Soap 5 Bars 19c
Corn Fine York State Sweet Cond. Can 8c
Peas Sweet Early June Small, Tender Can 8c
Tomatoes Standard Red Ripe Large Solid Fruit Can 11c
Rolled Oats Quaker 5 Lbs. 17c

Shrimp Fancy Wet Pickled Can 10c
Olive Oil Finest Italian Qt. Pt. 37c
Lean Bacon Machine Sliced lb. 25c
Prunes Santa Clara Valley Meaty, 3 Lbs. 43c lb. 9c
Codfish Shredded Pure Boneless Sheets lb. 15c
Peaches "Curfew" Fancy Cutt. Yellow Cling, 2½ Vol. Can 16c
Pineapple Fancy Hawaiian 10c Value Slices Can 13c
Cocoa Golden Rose" Purest Dissolves Quickly Can 29c

Demonstration and Sale "Sunshine" Biscuits
AT GINTER STORES WEEK MARCH 27-APRIL 1 — Samples Free
All 18c "Sunshine" Biscuits Cut to, Lb. . . 13c
SPECIAL! Takhomas The "Sunshine" Soda Cracker That's Different 3 pkgs. 10c

Bottle Goods Department

Wines Pure California Port, Sherry, etc. Bot. 25c
Wines "Santa Teresa" Port, Sherry Bot. 33c
Port Fine Old Tarragona Imp'd Bot. 49c
Sherry "Puerto," Fine Old Spanish Imp'd Bot. 49c
Champagne "Trouville" Qt. bot. 70c Bot. 1.20
Champagne "Great Western" Qt. bot. 90c Bot. 1.50

Duff Gordon Sherry 68c
Schlitz Beer, Bock Doz. 1.10
Sterling Ale Doz. 1.50 Qt. 15c
Stout Guinness' Bottling, Nine 10c Bottles 1.05
Ale Read Bros. or McMullen's Pt. 20c, Qt. 30c
Alcohol Pure Grain Standard Pt. 45c

The Ginter Co — Free Delivery Most Nearby Points — $3 Groceries, $2 Liquors

2 Union Sq., Cor. Elm Somerville — 65 Summer St., South Terminal — 495 Washington St., Temple Pl.
16 Canal St., Opposite — 45 Bromfield St., No. Corner Tremont

The Ginter Co.'s Providence store, 169 Washington St., Adjoins Also the Ginter Co. stores in Boston (as above) — 122 Tremont St.

RICH COLLEGE GIRL MADE THIEF BY MUSIC AND FEAR OF POVERTY

OVERSTUDY LED TO QUEER ACTS OF IRENE VOSE

Miss Irene Vose, Smith College girl, fined $250 for thefts from students. Her friends believe she was driven insane by overstudy and that her condition warranted calling a physician rather than a policeman.

Haunted by a fear that poverty was soon to drive her from the study of music, Miss Irene Vose, the Smith College post graduate student, stole from her classmates and chums. Her fear was false. Her family has plenty of money. Her friends say she had been driven insane from over study.

This in brief is the tragedy of the Westerly, Rhode Island, girl whose arrest startled her college and home friends and relatives. It was the first time in the history of the college that a student and graduate had been arrested for stealing.

A storm of protest has gone up in Northampton, and among relatives of the girl at the action taken in calling in the police on a case which her friends say was one for a physician, not a policeman. There was no danger that all of the stolen property would not have been restored or the losses made good.

The girl pleaded guilty in Northampton Police Court, her fine of $250 was paid, and she has been taken away by her mother to the home of a relative where she is being cared for by a physician and nursed by her mother.

The Sunday AMERICAN today is enabled to tell the life story of the Smith College student.

The Vose family is well-known in Rhode Island, at one time owning the greater part of Westerly. Oscar Vose, father of Irene, is a retired coal dealer, and the younger brother of Horace Vose, who up to the time of his death in 1913 was known as the Turkey King.

He provided turkeys each year for President Grant at Christmas, and from that time on sent each occupant of the Presidential chair one of the famous Rhode Island birds on Christmas and Thanksgiving. His last offering was made to President Wilson on Thanksgiving of 1913.

Irene Vose was born in Westerly twenty-five years ago, and attended the local primary, grammar and high schools. Even when a child she was studious and retiring, having no intimates.

"Irene was a very quiet girl at school," said one of her former schoolmates to the AMERICAN. "She never interfered with anyone and usually walked home alone. She was always reading a book, even when walking."

The girl was a frequent companion of her father, however, and was often seen riding with him through the streets of the city in a light carryall.

Her parents were well-to-do, and the girl never wanted for anything. When she expressed a desire to attend Smith College, it was immediately granted, and Miss Vose graduated from the regular academic course in 1913, receiving a degree of bachelor of arts.

She then returned to the college at Northampton and took a post graduate course in music, of which she is passionately fond. During vacation visits to her home, relatives of Miss Vose noticed that she seemed to be suffering from overstudy.

Miss Ella Wheeler, a cousin, and wife of Representative Richard Wheeler of Stonington, Conn., said:

"The week before Christmas I met Irene at the Westerly station. She told me that she had walked down from her house, which is quite a distance.

"Why did you walk?' I asked her.

"'Oh, I just had to,' she replied. 'The talk did me good. My head feels much better.'

"I knew then that she was studying too much. Shortly before that time a nurse told me that Miss Vose should take a long rest or she would surely go to pieces."

PLACED UNDER ARREST.

Last month students at the college complained to the faculty that their rooms were being entered and various articles stolen. Police Chief George Gilbert was notified, and he detailed Captain M. J. Lyons to the case.

Captain Lyons was working on the case when Chief Gilbert received a telephone message from President Marion Leroy Burton of the college that a laundry bag had been left at the residence of Mrs. John P. Arthur in Green street, where the college laundry work is done.

This bag was left by Miss Vose and because of its peculiar shape Mrs. Arthur investigated its contents. In the bag were half a dozen toilet articles, three small watches and a sealskin coat. These articles were identified as being the property of college students and the police were asked to place the young woman under arrest.

Miss Vose was eating breakfast Monday morning at the boarding house of Mrs. Belle Snow in Green street, where she roomed, when she was placed under arrest.

Accompanied by Mrs. Snow, the student went to the office of the chief of police, and there confessed that she had stolen the articles contained in the laundry bag.

The young woman wept during her arraignment. She was held in $1,000 bonds, and taken to the Northampton County Jail. Mrs. Vose was notified and hurried to her daughter's assistance, without informing her husband, who is ill, of what had happened.

An influential citizen of the town interested himself in securing bail and Miss Vose was released. That night mother and daughter stayed at the home of a friend.

The following day Miss Vose went to the Northampton National Bank and secured $1,000 which had been wired to her by her father. When the money was given her she went to the District Court and paid her fine to Clerk Crouter, thus liberating the cash bail which had been put up for her by Chauncey H. Pierce and Mrs. Snow, her landlady.

ASSAIL COLLEGE ACTION.

Mr. Pierce, who is one of the trustees of Northampton's Municipal Theatre, was interested in the young woman's behalf by the Rev. Wendall P. Keeler, pastor of the First Congregational Church, which Miss Vose attended.

Mrs. Vose denied herself to all callers, and mother and daughter busied themselves in packing for the journey home. The woman would only say that her daughter had left Smith College forever, and that she would not be placed in a sanitarium unless it was found that the experience which she has undergone has rendered this course necessary.

To Judge John B. O'Donnell, who imposed the fine upon the girl, the mother said that she was totally at a loss to account for her daughter's actions, but refused to change the plea of guilty as she desired to have the case settled at once.

"Nothing in my daughter's whole life," said Mrs. Vose, "has given us any reason to suspect this character istic of hers, and I can only think that her passion for the study of music, which brought her back to Smith College, after taking the regular four years' course, has made her mentally irresponsible in this case."

Northampton people were loud in their condemnation of the action of the college authorities, declaring that it was a case for a doctor and not a policeman.

Residents of Westerly also speak in the highest terms of Miss Vose and her father and mother. They declare she was a good girl and cannot account for her acts.

Mrs. Horace Vose, a relative, said: "This is a very unfortunate predicament in which Irene finds herself. It grieves me terribly. I'm positive she did not commit this deed with any criminal intent.

"Irene never wanted for anything. She had a sealskin coat and watch. If she wanted similar articles she could easily get them for the asking. The only reason I can give for her act is that she is affected mentally from overstudy. As a child Irene was always studious.

"She was a great confidants of her father and mother."

Mrs. O. P. Chapman, Jr., another relative, said:

"Irene used to visit our farm when younger. She was not like other girls. She kept to herself a lot and took great delight in reading books. She enjoyed musical books. Of late I noticed that she has been failing in her health. She's been crowding too much knowledge in her head. To my mind her constant studying has affected her mental powers."

Miss Ella Wheler, a cousin of Irene's, said:

"I talked with the president of Smith College over the phone about Miss Vose. I'm very,very sorry for Irene. She is such a good girl."

MALDEN CITY HALL HAS A "BURGLAR"

The Malden police were greatly agitated when they were notified that someone had broken into the City Hall. A squad of officers found that a window had been forced, but so far as could be learned nothing of value was missing.

While the investigation was going on, Ernest Odell, night watchman, arrived with a hammer and nails, explaining that he had come to fix the window which he had forced when he found that he had left his coat, containing all the keys, inside.

ANTI-SUFFRAGISTS PLAN BRIDGE PARTY

Mrs. James M. Codman of Brookline will open her house in Walnut street for a bridge party and cake sale, April 4, at 2:30 o'clock, under the auspices of the Brookline Anti-Suffrage Committee, in aid of the campaign in the West. Mrs. C. F. Hordin is in charge of the arrangements for the bridge party and Mrs. Arthur Williams, assisted by Mrs. Augustus Lamb, and Mrs. Elliott Robbins, has charge of the cake and candy sale.

SUMMONED FOR "DOCKING" HORSES

Leominster, March 25.—A summons to appear in the District Court March 31 for knowingly permitting the "docking" of horses' tails on his stock farm has been issued to Leslie L. Richards, gentleman farmer and widely known horse show exhibitor.

Be Rid of Piles

A Free Trial of Pyramid Pile Treatment Will Amaze You With Its Results.

It is only fair to yourself to Try Pyramid Pile Treatment—the most popular home pile treatment in the world today and one that has stood the test of time.

Mail the coupon NOW or else get a 50c box of Pyramid Pile Treatment from any druggist. Take no substitute.

FREE SAMPLE COUPON

PYRAMID DRUG COMPANY,
135 Pyramid Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

Kindly send me a Free sample of Pyramid Pile Treatment, in plain wrapper.

Name .....

Street .....

City ..... State .....

LADIES

Growing Growing Growing

Our increased floor space, and added facilities for alterations and more efficient service, make us even better equipped than ever before to handle our fast growing business.

Spring Showing of Sample Suits, Coats, Dresses and Skirts

Clever adaptations of the New Spring modes in plain tailored and trimmed models, embracing materials and workmanship of the highest excellence.

Sample Suits of serges and gabardines, shepherd checks, wool velours and basket weaves in extremely clever models, trimmed with ornamental stitchings, braid, buttons and silks; lined with printed crepes and novelty silks.

14.50, 16.50 & 18.50

ALTERATIONS FREE

Sample Suit House

59 TEMPLE PLACE

BLAKE BUILDING

5th Floor Rooms 502-503

Bosse Bldg., Springfield, Mass.

FIND MAN DEAD ON OAK ISLAND FLATS

[illegible] Bitzsime, of No. 256 Liverpool street, Revere, was found dead on Oak Island flats yesterday by Patrolman Antonelli, of No. 21 McKinley street. Death was due to natural causes. It is thought [illegible] overcome by [illegible] wading through the deep snow. A basketful of clams was at his side.

BALL FOR ITALIAN WAR RELIEF FUND

[illegible] the patronage of the Italian [illegible] the New England Italian War Relief Fund, a ball is now [illegible] at Huntington Hall, Boylston [illegible]. The proceeds are to [illegible] the needy of wives and [illegible] Italian [illegible] of Boston [illegible]

HARRIS ESTATE AT QUISSETT IS SOLD

A Summer cottage and Mark Twain [illegible] Hamilton Rice, brought the Henry W. Harris place at Quissett, a part of Falmouth. The estate comprises [illegible] acres in Cornish type [illegible] the Quissett harbor, the land extending to the beach, stable and [illegible] house and garage. Besides [illegible] the transfer are two cottages on Quissett avenue and several acres of land.

BARTLETT, GOLFER, WEDS IN WESTON

Weston, March 25.—Miss Julia H. Bartlett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bartlett of Cincinnati, O., and formerly a resident and prominent golfer of Milton, was married today at 4 o'clock to Dr. Frederick Robbins, The Rev. Hugh Birch Vincent, rector of the Episcopal church, officiated.

MISS GREENWOOD TO WED JUNE 15

The [illegible] of Miss Eleanor [illegible] daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher [illegible] to Hugh Harris [illegible] will take place at Christ [illegible] Arlington [illegible] June [illegible] and [illegible] will follow [illegible] The Rev. Dr. Fiske [illegible] officiate. [illegible] and Mrs. [illegible] Harris [illegible] of the [illegible]

Here Is the First Great Profit-Sharing Furniture Sale EVER HELD IN BOSTON

DRAKE & HERSEY, BIG WHOLESALE AND RETAIL FURNITURE OPERATORS

GIVE YOU BACK 1/3 OF YOUR CASH

On Every Article Purchased in Their Entire Establishment During Their

1/3 REFUND SALE

Whatever the Amount of Your Bill May Be We Will Positively Return to You 1/3 of the Purchase Price

Buy	$75.00	Worth, We Refund		$25.00
"	150.00	" " "		50.00
"	300.00	" " "		100.00

The variety and selection which we offer during this great sale is really wonderful. It includes:

250 Dressing Cases of Different Patterns.
220 Chiffoniers of Different Patterns.
65 Toilet Tables of Different Patterns.
125 Wooden Beds of Different Patterns.
165 Brass or Iron Beds of Different Patterns.
187 Parlor Suits of Different Patterns.
125 Parlor and Library Tables of Different Patterns.
75 Dining Tables of Different Patterns.
125 Buffets of Different Patterns.
50 China Cabinets of Different Patterns.
And hundreds of odd pieces.

Our Special Discount Prices Apply to Every Article Above Mentioned

Read what big furniture manufacturers say about furniture prices. It will give you an idea of what you will have to pay later and at other stores now.

★ Since Jan. 1, 1916, there has been such a decided advance in LABOR and the cost of everything entering into the manufacture of furniture, that we are obliged to advance our prices. This advance will take effect APRIL 1st.
RED LION FURNITURE CO.

★ Gentlemen:—In all the years we have been doing business we have never before withdrawn prices in the middle of a season, but these are unusual times and conditions in the iron and steel market are such that we cannot do otherwise.
MERRIMAC MATTRESS MFG. CO.

READ THIS

Early last fall we were warned of a sharp advance in prices Jan. 1st. We held a big sale—turned our merchandise into cash and bought heavily.

Again we were warned of a second advance. We held another big sale—and then bought to the limit.

We played the furniture market just right—so today we can positively offer a greater selection of merchandise at a lower price than any retail furniture or department store in New England.

Each and every article at our special discount price now becomes a wonderful bargain and even lower in price than many manufacturers may be asking later on. We illustrate a few specimen values.

4-Piece William and Mary Chamber Suite
In mahogany or walnut. Regular price $132.00. We Refund $44.00. SALE PRICE 88.00

5-Piece Quartered Oak Dining Set
Regular price $36.00. We Refund $12.00. SALE PRICE 24.00

3-Piece Fumed Oak Living Room Suite
Upholstered in genuine leather. Regular price $48. We refund $16. SALE PRICE 32.00

4-Piece Colonial Chamber Suite
In mahogany or walnut. Regular price $138.00. We refund $46.00. SALE PRICE 92.00

6-Pce. Colonial Quar. Oak Dining Room Suite
Regular price $63.00. We refund $21.00. SALE PRICE 42.00

3-Piece Mahog. Dull Finish Living Room Set
24-inch frames, upholstered in genuine leather. Regular price $48.00. We Refund $16.00. SALE PRICE 32.00

DRAKE & HERSEY CO.

WE HOLD GOODS FREE

84 CANAL STREET

FOR FUTURE DELIVERY

2 ASSESSORS MAY FAIL TO RETAIN JOBS

Chairman Daily and Philip O'Brien Said to Be Slated to Go, Following Inquiry Report

That Edward B. Daily, chairman of the Board of Assessors for many years, and Assessor Philip O'Brien will fail of reappointment as the result of the investigation of the Assessing Department by a committee of their subordinates, was the prediction made at City Hall yesterday.

The men slated, according to gossip, to replace them, are Joseph G. O'Malley, executive clerk of the department, and Joseph F. Dempsey, a clerk. Both were members of the committee which investigated the methods of their superiors. O'Malley is a particular friend of the Mayor's and a former Ward 17 man. He has been in the department since 1898 and his salary is $2,400 a year. Dempsey is also a friend of Mayor Curley and his salary is $2,200. The salary of the assessors is $4,000.

The terms of Daily and O'Brien expire in April. The term of Fred Bolton expires at the same time, but the prospects are he will be reappointed.

The investigating committee was composed of City Collector John J. Curley, chairman; Joseph G. O'Malley, Edward T. Kelly and Joseph P. Dempsey. All but Curley are "employees of the assessors' office.

For purposes of investigating it had a four days' trip to New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Newark at the expense of the taxpayers. It returned to Boston February 18 and brought in a verdict that there is little for a Boston assessing clerk to learn from the assessing departments of these cities.

COST TAXPAYERS $271.

It cost the taxpayers $271 to ascertain this information, divided as follows:

Railroad fares	$168.23
Autos and car fare	13.25
Phone	.55
Motels	87.50
Meals	1.75
	$271.47

The last paragraph in the report said discipline in the assessing department had been lax. It was suggested that the clerks get in on time, stay the full time and do a little real work in between times. When reported to be a full report of the committee was published in the City Record yesterday but this paragraph was omitted.

ANONYMOUS LETTER.

The committee of clerks returned February 12 but their report was not ready until March 22. But a week or two before it was out, there were rumors as to what would be embodied in the report. On March 13 the assessors issued a notice to employes that they must be in the office at 9 a. m. The notice stated that employes who were absent on account of "illness" must produce physicians' certificates, and give reasons in writing for being absent or late.

Evidently the notice was not taken seriously, especially by the clerks who were the subject of it, for the day before the report came out, another notice was issued.

The week got through the week somehow and nothing happened until last night, when City Collector Curley received an anonymous letter, purporting to be from a clerk in the assessing department.

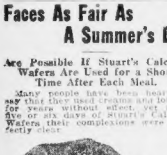
IS MADE ASSISTANT TUFTS PROFESSOR

Ralph B. Wilson, instructor of the department of economics of Tufts College, has been promoted to assistant professor in that department, and will assume his rank at the opening of the collegiate year next fall.

Faces As Fair As A Summer's Day

Are Possible If Stuart's Calcium Wafers Are Used for a Short Time After Each Meal.

Many people have learned to say that they used creams and lotions for years without effect, but after five or six days of Stuart's Calcium Wafers their complexions were perfectly clear.



"I Got Rid of Blackheads in a Jiffy by Using Stuart's Calcium Wafers."

They contain no poisonous drug of any kind, are perfectly safe and can be taken with absolute freedom, and they work almost like magic. Calcium Sulphide, their principal ingredient, is generally recognized and known to science.

No matter how bad your skin may be, Stuart's Calcium Wafers will quickly work wonders with it. So goodby to blackheads, pimples, acne, boils, rash, eczema and a dull, muddy complexion. You can get a box of Stuart's Calcium Wafers at any drug store at 50 cents a box, and you will be positively delighted with their wonderful effect.

Free Trial Coupon

F. A. Stuart Co., 205 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich., send me at once by return mail a free trial package of Stuart's Calcium Wafers.

Name .....

Street .....

City ..... State .....

MRS. ALBERT SCHOFIELD, who was Emma Latimer Fall of Malden. The bride has achieved fame as a lawyer.

MISS FALL, GIRL LAWYER, BRIDE OF NEWTON MAN

Weds Albert Schofield at Ceremony in the Centre M. E. Church at Malden.

In response to the 1,200 invitations issued, Centre Methodist Church of Malden was filled last evening at the wedding of Miss Emma Latimer Fall, daughter of ex-Mayor and Mrs. George Howard Fall, to Albert Schofield, son of Mrs. Lane Schofield of No. 19 Bowers street, Newtonville. The Rev. Lavinia H. Hughes, pastor of the church, officiated.

Miss Fall graduated from Malden High School at the age of sixteen and four years later graduated with honors from Boston University. Two years later she obtained her degree from the Law School, being admitted to the Massachusetts bar the same year. She then took a yearly course at the Sorbonne.

Returning to Boston, Miss Fall started the practice of law, at the same time taking a course in social service work. She was graduated from the Denison House, where she remained a year. Meanwhile she acted as law clerk in Malden. Throughout the State, Boston serving as a member of the Malden School Board and being president of the Malden Equal Suffrage League, the bride made time to be an instructor in civics at Portia Law School of Boston University and in charge of the law and thrift department of the Women's Educational Union in Boston, which department she organized.

Mr. Schofield is a graduate of Dartmouth, '10, and is a wool buyer for a large Boston concern. He recently returned from a South African trip. He brought back with him a collection of Cape rubies and pearls and these were set in brooches and scarf pins for the wedding party members.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her maid of honor was her sister, Miss Dorothea Fall. The bridesmaids were Miss Ethel M. Rich of Malden, Boston University '06; Miss Winifred Hawkridge of Boston, Wellesley '06; Miss Blanche Fenton of New York, Mt. Holyoke, '10, and Miss Eliza Twombley of Winchester, Boston University, '06.

Parker Schofield, Harvard '16, brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Penfield Mower of Boston, Raymond Gorton of Brookline, Alderman Howard Fall of Malden, a brother, and Dartmouth graduates; Charles Cram of Boston, and Ralph Atherton of Newton Atwill, and Jackson Slater of Newton.

At the reception in the church parlors ex-Mayor and Mrs. Fall and Mrs. Schofield and Mrs. Parker of Warren, Pa., assisted in receiving the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Schofield will be at home after June 1 at 0 8 Murray Hill road, Malden.

LINER FREDERICK GIVEN UP AS LOST

Hope for the American steamer Frederick, formerly Merchants & Miners liner, which sailed from New York January 4 for Archangel, has been abandoned. The steamer, which was an old one, developed engine trouble soon after leaving New York and sailed for Portland for repairs. She sailed from Louisburg, Cape Breton, where she called for coal, January 18. Captain Brown of No. 8 Humphrey street, Dorchester, was her second engineer.

JACKSON COLLEGE IN SUFFRAGE LEAGUE

Students of Jackson College met in the chapel of Miner Hall yesterday and organized a Jackson chapter of the National College Equal Suffrage League. Margaret Crandon, Wells, Somerville, Dorothy Pease, of Tufts College and Jane Davis, of Tufts College, were elected as a committee to constitution.

TO TAKE 5,300-TON CARGO OF FLOUR

The Italian steamship Francesco Crispa arrived in port yesterday to load the largest cargo of flour that has ever been shipped on one ship. Her charter calls for 5,300 tons of flour in sacks and it is to be delivered to the Italian government.

YACHTSMEN TO HEAR A LECTURE TONIGHT

Members of the South Boston Yacht Club will hear a Lantern slide talk on "Cruising in Marblehead," by ex-Commodore Shaw, tonight at the clubhouse.

HINTS GAYNOR ASKED BRIBE OF $500,000

Col. Williams, President of Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co., Gives Startling Testimony at Inquiry

New York, March 25.—Colonel Timothy S. Williams, president of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company, was approached in 1911 with a proposal to bribe a member of the New York City Board of Estimate for $500,000, Colonel Williams, testifying before the Thompson investigating committee today, said the man named to accept the money in exchange for his support of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company was now dead.

The only member of the Board of Estimate who has died since 1911, and who had a vote on the proposal of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit, was Mayor William J. Gaynor.

The name of the go-between who made the offer was refused by Colonel Williams. He said this man was dead also. He was questioned at length about the identity of this person. But he steadfastly declined to give particulars.

Scott McReynolds, a lawyer, related that he had told Commissioner Travis H. Whitney a story of the proposed bribe. He testified he had heard the price was $500,000, that the man in question was Mayor Gaynor and the go-between Charles H. Hyde, former city chamberlain and close friend of Mayor Gaynor.

The bribe in question was sought between March 2 and June 5, 1911, said Colonel Williams. This was at the time the Interboro and the Brooklyn Rapid Transit were both seeking to secure the contracts for the subways. The witness said he was "shocked" to hear such a suggestion, and turned it down very flatly.

Charles H. Hyde was in the hearing room during all the testimony. He was greatly disturbed, however, when he broke in on the cross-examination to make a general denial of any connection with the transaction. Colonel Williams absolved Mr. Hyde by reiterating that the man who made the offer of the gigantic bribe was dead.

SOUTH AMERICAN CARGO OF $1,500,000

The Argentine steamship Asellanenda arrived yesterday from South American ports with a cargo of wool and hides valued at $1,500,000. She encountered hurricanes, during one of which the big steamer shipped a sea in her starboard rigging, put out fires and filling the stokehold with five steerage passengers and a number of Cape rubies and pearls and these were set in brooches and scarf pins for the wedding party members.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her maid of honor was her sister, Miss Dorothea Fall. The bridesmaids were Miss Ethel M. Rich of Malden, Boston University '06; Miss Winifred Hawkridge of Boston, Wellesley '06; Miss Blanche Fenton of New York, Mt. Holyoke, '10, and Miss Eliza Twombley of Winchester, Boston University, '06.

Parker Schofield, Harvard '16, brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Penfield Mower of Boston, Raymond Gorton of Brookline, Alderman Howard Fall of Malden, a brother, and Dartmouth graduates; Charles Cram of Boston, and Ralph Atherton of Newton Atwill, and Jackson Slater of Newton.

At the reception in the church parlors ex-Mayor and Mrs. Fall and Mrs. Schofield and Mrs. Parker of Warren, Pa., assisted in receiving the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Schofield will be at home after June 1 at o 8 Murray Hill road, Malden.

WARNS BOSTON OF CHARITY SOLICITORS

Secretary George W. Gillette of the Columbia, O., Chamber of Commerce has written to the Boston Chamber of Commerce that persons were collecting money in New England for the Mothers' and Children's National Aid Society. His letter stated that the society had been investigated by the Ohio State Board of Charities and that there was no permit in force under the Ohio charter of the society revoked. He also asked for co-operation of the Boston Chamber of Commerce in collecting evidence as to the activities of the collectors of funds for this society.

CAMBRIDGE GIRL TO MARRY IN CHINA

Miss Clara Elsie Linn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Linn of Cambridge, will sail for China in July, when she will become the bride of Roy Lamont Creighton of Hankow, China, according to an announcement made by her parents yesterday. Mr. Creighton is a secretary of the International Y. M. C. A.

TEAMSTER'S SKULL FRACTURED IN FALL

Joseph M. Irvin of No. 6 Lexington avenue, East Boston, a teamster for the McQuesten Lumber Company, was removed to the East Boston Relief Hospital last night, where it was found he was suffering from a fractured skull. He fell from a loading lumber on his wagon when he fell to the wharf striking on his head.

DEATHS FOR WEEK SHOW A DECREASE

There were 234 deaths in Boston last week, a decrease of 39 from the corresponding week last year, according to the report of the Board of Health. There were 5 cases of scarlet and 154 cases of measles and one death. There were 20 cases of scarletina and one death, and 15 cases of diphtheria with one death.

UNKNOWN SHOOTS AT MAN IN HAVERHILL

Haverhill, March 25.—Two shots were fired at Olda Gauthier, twenty-seven, by an unknown assailant on Broadway today. After the first shot Gauthier ran, and when a second shot struck a fence near him he sought refuge in a house. The police have been unable to find any trace of his assailant.

Icy Grip of Winter Broken; First Warm Day

For a March day, yesterday was ideal. June could give us little better. Everybody was happy. Chief Jaethe Smith of the Weather Court, on top of the Federal Building, promises a repeater for today. He states that yesterday's highest temperature, 53 degrees, will be reached again today, with a possibility of it going a little higher.

Yesterday, June-like as it was, could not be called a record-breaker, however, excepting that it was the warmest day Boston has had this month, and for many months. While the official figures showed 53 degrees, a number of thermometers that were gazed at daily by thousands showed as high as 57 degrees.

Huge piles of snow in the suburbs, drifts in the back yards, remind us, however, that Winter still lingers. Many of the "big drifts" disappeared like magic yesterday. Gutters, long closed by ice and snow, loosened up and flooded sidewalks, making walking a bit disagreeable, but with the bright sunshine and the warm southwest wind which contributed no much to the ideal conditions there were very few complaints registered.

Forecaster Smith stated last night that the warm days are to be with us for some little time. He has already promised the ladies a bright Easter Sunday.

Lawmakers to Rush Bills at Washington

By International News Service.

Washington, March 25.—Under parliamentary arrangements as drastic as to be unprecedented, the House today began a legislative drive to jam through the administration program.

In response to the insistent demand of the President, all of the regular methods of doing business were set aside, and work was begun on administration measures under forced draft. The measures to be rushed through under the present plan are:

The administration ship purchase bill.

The bill granting independence to the Philippine Islands.

The bill extending citizenship to residents of Porto Rico.

The bill establishing a system of land mortgage banks for rural credits.

The revenue program, including the administration Tariff Commission bill.

The remaining appropriation bills, including the military, naval and fortification bills, embracing a large part of the preparedness program.

The administration bill to develop water power in streams, under Federal jurisdiction.

All these measures, under the drastic plans made by last night's caucus, are to be pushed through the House at high speed in the hope of an adjournment by July, or even earlier.

'Parliament of War' to Be the Topic at Tufts

A two days' conference on the theme "The Parliament of Man and the Federation of the World" will open in Goddard Chapel, Tufts College this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The opening address will be by the Rev. Dr. Walter Rauschenbusch of the Rochester Theological Seminary on "Christianity and the Coming Unity of the Human Race." Dr. Nathaniel Schmidt of Cornell University will follow with an address on "The Hope in the Political Organization of the World."

Tomorrow morning the exercises will open at 10:30 o'clock with services by the Rev. Dr. Hosea Ballou, chaplain of the college. S. K. Ratcliffe of London will address the audience at 11 o'clock on "The organization of the Freedom."

WALSH TAKES SHIP FROM HONOLULU

Ex-Governor David I. Walsh sailed yesterday from Honolulu for Yokohama on the steamship China, according to a cablegram to Boston. Major Thomas L. Walsh, received, it is not expected he will return before June.

IRREGULAR FEATURES CORRECTED

BLEMISHES REMOVED. (ILLUSTRATED BOOK FREE)

HAVE YOU AN UNSHAPELY NOSE?

(Photos) Hump Corrected.

Fractured Nose Corrected.

(Photos) Deep Corrected.

Saddle Nose Corrected.

THE NOSE is the most prominent part of the face and the best indicator of character. After the eyes, the nose is the index to the mental strength and weakness, the peculiarities, temperament or disposition and the possibilities of life; therefore to succeed your nose must be right.

AN IRREGULAR or DEFORMED NOSE, no matter how slight the defect, may cause the type or cause, whether from accident, birth or disease, such as Hump, Depression, Thick, Broad, Fleshy, Large, Pointed, Crooked, Long, Short, Wide, Narrow, Sagging Face and ALL OTHER BLEMISHES.

CORRECTED in a few days without pain, blood, without cutting, immediately and forever, at moderate cost, with no risk or subsequent loss of time. BY THE

GIBSON METHOD of COSMETIC SURGERY

ALSO CORRECTED—Outstanding Ears, Large Ears, Drooping Lids, Receding Chin, Thin Lips, Large Lips, Protruding Mouth, Coarse Features, Sagging Face and ALL OTHER BLEMISHES.

REMOVED—Moles, Warts, Wens, Scars, Pimples, Blackheads, Red Veins, Pittings, Red Nose, Tattoo, Liver Spots, Superfluous Hair and all Facial Skin diseases, Itching Scalp, Dandruff, Falling Hair, Ask about Guaranteed Hair Restorer for Alopecia (Baldness) and Pimples, Blackheads and Oily Skin, Red Nose and Freckles.

TRACES OF AGE REMOVED—As Baggy, Sagging Cheeks, Flabby Neck, Double Chin, Lines and Fine Wrinkles. By a new method of Facial Massage, Electrolysis, Superfluous and all Facial Blemishes removed, giving a smooth, clear, firm face and neck. But two days to two weeks of your time required. Last 10 to 15 years. Investigate. (Consultation free).

Send for Illustrated Book Free. Call or Write.

A. STANLEY GIBSON, M. D. 140 BOYLSTON ST. Phone 1830 Or.

THERE IS BUT ONE GIBSON METHOD—ALLOW NO CLAIMS TO SIMILARITY TO CONFUSE YOU. NEARLY ONE-QUARTER OF A CENTURY EXPERIENCE—19 YEARS ON BOYLSTON ST. CONSULTATION FREE.

JEWS MEET TO PLAN FOR AID ABROAD

Boston Men Active at Philadelphia Conference to Secure Rights for Race in All Lands

By ALEXANDER BRIN.

Philadelphia, March 25.—The Jews of America are centering their interest here where the most significant happening in American Jewish history will take place within the next few days.

Delegates from all parts of the United States have arrived for the first session of a conference at the Hotel Walton. The gathering purposes the launching of a world-wide movement for the amelioration of the condition of Jews, particularly those in the belligerent European countries. Definite steps will be taken for the calling of a representative American Jewish Congress, which is to express and execute the will of the 3,000,000 Jews of America with reference to the status of the Jews the world over.

The Jews of Greater Boston, as well as those throughout Massachusetts and New England, are well represented. The New England delegation met last night and all questions pertaining to the conference were discussed. The Boston delegation is in favor of holding the National American Jewish Congress in Boston.

BOSTON DELEGATES.

The delegates from Boston who will take a prominent part in the conference include Louis E. Kirstein, chairman of the Greater Boston Congress Committee; Mrs. Arthur Berenson, president of the Boston Council of Jewish women, who is representing the various women's organizations of Boston and vicinity; Max Mitchell, president of the Cosmopolitan Trust Company, and treasurer of the Boston committee; Julius Meyer, secretary; Nathan Eltzholz of the Independent Order B'rith Abraham; Mrs. Samuel Goodman, vice-president of the Haddassah; Joseph M. Herman, vice-president of the Federated Jewish Charities of Boston; Jacob R. Morse, president of Temple Israel, Commonwealth avenue; Nathan Pinanski, president of the Adath Jeshurun Synagogue in Roxbury; Samuel Sheinfeln, president of the Brotherhood of Israel; Albert Hurwitz, president of the Associated Young Men's Hebrew Associations of New England, and Joseph Southard, president of the Temple Mishkan Tefila of Roxbury. The Independent Order Sons of Israel is represented by Henry H. Levenson, grand master of the order; Charles H. Strecker, assistant United States Treasurer at Boston, and Robert Silverman, grand secretary of the I. O. S. I. David L. Lourie, is representing the Jews of Chelsea, and Jacob De Haas the Federation of American Zionists.

The Boston delegation will introduce resolutions favoring certain political and national rights for the Jews in countries where they are denied these privileges.

AFFECTS 14,000,000.

The world movement affects 14,000,000 Jews.

The Jews of America are the only body of the race which can hope to make its voice heard when the settlements of peace among the belligerent nations arrives.

In various parts of Europe, also, voices are being heard in favor of the emancipation of the Jews in countries where they do not receive equal civil and political rights. The hope of complete freedom has found an echo among the non-Jews.

Louis D. Brandeis, chairman of the Congress Organization Committee of America, says the fundamental cause of Jewish misery is not the present war.

"The war is but an accident," says Mr. Brandeis, "which has made the long existing misery obvious to the whole world. The war has acted as a magnifying glass, intensifying the suffering in some places far in excess of the ordinary, so that none except the blind can fail to see it. The underlying cause of Jewish misery is not the same. After the war is over Jewish misery will continue under conditions under which more than one-half the Jews of the world live are radically changed.

"What is demanded of the Jewish people now is action. We must put an end to those conditions which, through the centuries and not merely during this war, have brought misery and suffering to the Jews. Each individual Jew ought to make sacrifices at the present time in effort and in money."

Columbia Orchestral Records—a Triumph

THE orchestra itself seems to burst into sound from Columbia orchestral records.

They carry all the brilliance and spirit of the original rendering—they glow with color, pulse with life. Every one is a triumph—in natural, true and clear reproduction; in tone, timbre, tempo and feeling; in all the qualities that make Columbia orchestral records supreme.

A 5788	12-inch $1.00	ALONE AT LAST, introducing "Waltz Entrancing," "Nature Divine," "Thy Heart My Prize," "One in the Game of Love" and "Pretty Edelweiss." (Lehar.) Prince's Orchestra.
		THE BOBOLINK AND THE WREN. Waltz. (Bennett.) Prince's Orchestra.
A 5750	12-inch $1.00	POET AND PEASANT OVERTURE. Part 1 (Von Suppe.) Prince's Orchestra.
		POET AND PEASANT OVERTURE. Part 2 (Von Suppe.) Prince's Orchestra.
A 1677	10-inch 65c	PALOMA, LA. (Yradier.) Prince's Orchestra—(Spanish Song.) "Trailing Arbutus." (Friedman.) Prince's Orchestra.

There is no doubting the actual, great superiority of Columbia orchestral records, or the perfection of the Columbia process of recording, after hearing these records. That pleasure can be yours today at a word to the nearest dealer.

New Columbia Records on sale the 20th of every month. Columbia Records in all Foreign Languages.

Columbia Grafonola 150
Price $150

COLUMBIA

GRAFONOLAS and DOUBLE-DISC

RECORDS

This advertisement was dictated to the Dictaphone.

Columbia Graphophone Co.

174 TREMONT ST., BOSTON. TELEPHONE OXFORD 1893

Complete Stock of Columbia Grafonolas and Records for Sale by

BOSTON DEPARTMENT STORES:
Wm. A. Banks Co.
Gilchrist Co.
Houghton & Dutton Co.
Kennedy Music Company.
R. H. White Co.
The Tremont Store.

BOSTON FURNITURE STORES:
Dana Furniture Co., 164 Washington St.
Frank Ferdinand, 2200 Washington St.
Hanover Furniture Co., 289 Hanover St.
James G. Haynes Estate, 260 Harrison Ave.
Holmes Luce Co., 340 Washington St.
A. MacArthur Co., 111-117 Washington St.
C. F. Osgood Co., 744-756 Washington St.
Summerfield Co., 729 Washington St.

BOSTON GRAFONOLA DEPTS.:
Cambridgeport Co., 45 Central Sq.
Davis Bros., 683 Washington St.
R. A. Dinsmore, 1221 Tremont St.
Hallet & Davis Piano Co., 146 Boylston St.
Kraft, Bates & Spencer, 166 Boylston St.
Liggett's, 329 Summer St.
Liggett's, Avon and Washington Sts.
Chas. S. Norris, 181 Tremont St.
Remick's Song Shop, 168 Tremont St.
Rosen's Talking Machine Shop, 8 School St.
Scott's Boston Graphophone Exchange, 635 Broadway, South Boston.
Vocalion Co., of Boston, 190 Boylston St.

SUBURBAN STORES,
CAMBRIDGE:
H. W. Berry Co., 436 Mass. Av. (Central Square).
Billings & Stover, 1306 Mass. Av. (Harvard Square).
Cambridge Co-operative Society, 814 Mass. Av. (Central Square).
BROOKLINE:
Brookline Talking Machine Shop, 1336 Beacon St. (Coolidge Corner).
CHELSEA:
James Bloomberg, 294 Broadway.
MALDEN:
Shepherd & Bennett, 73 Pleasant St.
QUINCY:
Bahr's Music Studio, 1500 Hancock St.

EASTERN MASSACHUSETTS

ATTLEBORO:
Geo. A. Sweeney, Furniture.
AYER:
Ware Brown, Drugs.
BEVERLY:
Almy Kingdom & Washington Co.
E. S. Brown Co., Department Store.
BROCKTON:
Hallett Sewing Machine Co.
Atherton Furniture Co.
CLINTON:
W. Burke.
FALL RIVER:
Harry E. Sweet.
Geo. R. Monroe.
Sweet Music Co., Department Store.
J. P. Mullen & Co.
FITCHBURG:
Saidler & Davis.
FRAMINGHAM:
Avery Furniture Co.
GLOUCESTER:
F. W. Poland, Music Store.
W. J. Rowe Co., Department Store.
HAVERHILL:
Atherton Hyatt Furniture Co.
F. W. Peabody.
Geo. E. Sawyer.
HUDSON:
Walter L. O'Brien.
LAWRENCE:
J. H. Breckenridge, 194 Broadway.
W. J. Sullivan, Furniture.
LEOMINSTER:
Geo. W. Goodell.
LOWELL:
Boo Marlow Dry Goods Co.
F. E. Nelson Company.
LYNN:
H. M. Curtis.
Barrows & Sanborn, Department Store.
P. Duff & Sons.
G. W. Loyd Company.
H. B. H. Powers.
MANSFIELD:
W. C. Fuller Co.
MARLBORO:
Avery Furniture Co.
Wheeler & Stephenson.
MIDDLEBORO:
H. R. Wentworth.
MILFORD:
H. F. Hayes Furniture Co.
MILTON:
F. A. Cahill.
NATICK:
Sylvanus A. Soper.
NEW BEDFORD:
A. D. Harris.
C. F. Wing Company.
ROCKLAND:
Wm. H. Gibbs.
ROCKPORT:
J. Sidney Poole.
SALEM:
Hollis Music Store.
W. J. Lefavour.
STONEHAM:
William J. Sano Co.
TAUNTON:
Geo. H. Lincoln Piano Co.
Dean Furniture Co.
WALTHAM:
W. E. Lamson.
WORCESTER:
Atherton Furniture Co.
Barnard, Sumner & Putnam, Department Store.
C. T. Sherer Co.
Worcester Phonograph Co.

Advertise Your Wants in the Boston American

Ousted Teacher Wins Fight for Hearing

Charges Aged Janitor Hugged Girl Pupils

Mrs. Clapp, Formerly of Boston, Accused of Insubordination by the Franklin, N. H., Board

MRS. FLORENCE G. CLAPP, who has won first point in fight for reinstatement in Franklin (N. H.) schools.

After Repeated Attempts She Forces Committee to Act in Situation That Stirs Town

Franklin, N. H., March 25.—Mrs. Florence G. Clapp, the former Boston teacher who was dismissed from her position as principal of the Falls School here, has won the first battle in her fight for reinstatement.

At the result of her repeated demands, the Board of Education has decided to hold a public meeting at the High School Building on Monday, at 4 p. m., to hear such evidence as Mrs. Clapp or other witnesses may present against Janitor Charles M. Sanborn.

The former principal was discharged for alleged inefficiency and insubordination, after charging that the janitor, who is over sixty years old, made a practice of hugging and kissing girl students. It was said that the janitor was so fervent in his caresses that many girls were afraid to go downstairs, and that one slapped his face upon the advice of her parents.

The janitor explained that he is extremely fond of children and has a grandchild in the same school. He is a neighbor of Harry Burleigh, a member of the Board of Education.

DEMANDED HEARING.

Mrs. Clapp, whose son is a high school pupil and who has been a teacher in the local schools for more than a year, refused to accept her dismissal and demanded a public hearing. Pupils signed a petition protesting against the action of the board and parents asked Mayor Alexander A. Beaton, who is manifesting a deep interest in the case, to interfere.

For some time Mrs. Clapp carried on a wordy war through the medium of correspondence with the Board of Education, and eventually they were forced to grant her demand.

The board has just written Mrs. Clapp as follows:

My Dear Mrs. Clapp:

A meeting of the Board of Education will be held at the office of the Superintendent of Schools at the High School Building on Monday, March 27, at four o'clock for the purpose of hearing such evidence as you may present in person or by witnesses relative to your complaints against Charles M. Sanborn, janitor. Mr. Sanborn will be notified to be present at this meeting. Whether you desire to employ counsel is optional with you. A hearing in regard to your dismissal will be appointed at a later date.

Very truly yours,

ELLEN E. WEBSTER, Clerk.

Franklin, N. H., March 22, 1916.

Mrs. Clapp maintains that she can prove the charges preferred by the actions of the janitor. She said:

"Mrs. Webster of the Board of Education has told me that I must be misinformed, but I know what I have seen in that school building for the past six months with my own eyes. I am a mother and I know how the mothers of Franklin feel when their children are subjected to indignities.

INSISTS ON CHARGES.

"I will produce mothers whose children have complained, and I am prepared to tell things I have seen the janitor doing which would disgrace any school system. Fathers of several of the school girls who have been insulted have told me that they will back me up in my stand. If the janitor had been dismissed when I was, the situation would not have been so serious."

The Board of Education has appointed Mrs. Ada L. Smith of this city to take the place of Mrs. Clapp. Mrs. Smith, who was formerly on the local teaching staff, will supply until a permanent teacher can be found.

Mrs. Clapp was a graduate of the Malden, Mass., high school. She formerly taught in Chelsea, East Weymouth and Stoughton, Mass.

Last month, Mrs. Clapp says, she saw the janitor caressing one of the girls in the corridor of the school. She protested to the school board and declared she had received a similar complaint on two previous occasions.

COMMUNITY STIRRED.

News of the complaints quickly spread throughout the city and the community has been in a ferment since.

Three of the most prominent Franklin citizens, Harry W. Burleigh, Mrs. Ellen E. Webster and Dr. Charles W. Adams, compose the school board. They told Mrs. Clapp they removed her upon the recommendation of the State superintendent of public instruction, Henry C. Morrison of Concord.

Mayor Beaton is following every move in the controversy. He said:

"I am strictly neutral, but I shall insist upon fair play. I should also like to see the fighting and will peek over the fence once in a while to see how they get along. In my opinion the trouble would have been adjusted if it had not been for the interference of State Superintendent Morrison.

"Morrison is a czar, and he lacks even diplomacy. He is the cause of a political ring, and although the last Legislature failed to oust him when it tried, I hope the next one will succeed in doing so. I defy him to prove he had any right to interfere in this case."

The Mayor has been at odds with the school board, and at one time refused to sign orders upon the treasury for the school department because, he alleged, vouchers showing the purpose of the expenditures were lacking.

WOMEN BACK TEACHER.

A petition from the wives of several leading citizens, urging the reinstatement of Mrs. Clapp and an investigation of her charges, is awaiting formal presentation to the Mayor. He believes, however, that the validity of Mrs. Clapp's contract is a question for the courts to decide, ahead of the government to decide. Mrs. Clapp desires that Senator Nathaniel E. Martin of Concord, probably the State's most noted attorney, shall look after her interests.

The aged janitor, who is alleged to have caressed the school girls, is ill at his home, and is said to be in a serious condition. He is under the care of Dr. Seth Jones.

He has always borne an excellent reputation and is a long-time resident of the city. Sentiment among teachers and parents is divided in his case.

"I am very sorry for him," Mayor Beaton stated. "I have known him for years and have had the highest regard for him. I never before heard him criticised, and I would be loth to believe any of the charges. By the dismissal of Mrs. Clapp the case has become a public one, and if her charges against this man are without foundation the facts in the controversy shall be made known. If the janitor is falsely accused, he is entitled to vindication."

When a hearing in public was refused, Mrs. Clapp threw down the gauntlet, declaring in a letter to the committee: "My reputation on account of my dismissal has become a public matter and I intend to defend it with the same degree of publicity as you desire privacy."

SALARY WAS RAISED.

Two visits have been made by Mrs. Clapp to the office of State Superintendent Morrison at Concord. She says he told her she was a trouble-maker and would lose her contention if she took it through all the courts up to the highest in the United States.

Mrs. Clapp has been a member of the Franklin teaching force for the past thirteen months. At first she was in charge of the sixth grade, but was promoted to be the seventh grade teacher, being known as the principal of the Franklin Falls school. A few weeks ago the school board raised her salary, which her friends assert is a fact giving evidence of her capability.

Mrs. Clapp says she has been a teacher for thirty years. Her son, Royal, lives with her and is a high school pupil. They occupy an apartment in the home of John Childs, No. 74 Pine street.

A fondness for motoring is one of Mrs. Clapp's most conspicuous characteristics, and on occasions she has chartered a car at a local garage, of which she is a regular patron, for a 140-mile drive to Boston. The Board of Education asked her who paid for those rides, and she answered the members that she footed the bills herself.

Spring vacation started a week ago. Mrs. Clapp's letter of dismissal said her services would not be required after March 31, which will be the final day of vacation.

Here is Miss Clapp's letter in reply to the School Committee:

DEMANDS PUBLIC HEARING.

Franklin, March 22.

Dear Madam:

Your second communication of today received. It seems to me almost unnecessary to have to supplement my request for a hearing with this letter. Your board have already passed their verdict and my letter was not intended to ask for a recommendation, but for an impartial hearing. Do you expect people on a board, who have already rendered a decision, to give the person affected by that decision an impartial hearing? If so, I would be the first case in history.

As I am financially involved in this matter and the validity of my contract is at stake, I ask for a hearing in which I may be represented in any form I choose, and your board has the same privilege of representation. But your charges against me must be sustained by a different tribunal than your board, and I wish to be represented by counsel who will protect my interests in this matter. You certainly have the privilege of proving your charges before an unbiased judge or judges, and these judges must be persons other than your board or any member thereof.

This hearing must be in some public place where all people and witnesses interested may have the privilege of attending, rather than in a private office, for I am willing to take this chance, why not your board?

Your note contains the following sentence: "No one is to be present but the board and yourself." Do you mean this to be a star chamber session? If so, you may count on my not being present for the foregoing reasons.

My reputation on account of dismissal has become a public matter and I intend to defend it with the same degree of publicity as you desire privacy. In order to do this, I must have witnesses summoned to this hearing to sustain my charges against the janitor of the High School Building, which charges in my opinion have been the cause of all the trouble between your board and myself.

If I am obliged to appear before your board without such witnesses to support my charges, I feel from the present action of your board that I should be treated in the same manner as I have been in the past. And when your board can give me a hearing to confirm to my ideas of an impartial hearing as set forth in this letter I am completely at your service. I shall expect a definite answer to this within the next twenty-four hours. Respectfully,

FLORENCE G. CLAPP.

REVERE JUNK CASES DROPPED

District Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier has not pressed the cases against five former members of the Revere City Council, indicted by the Grand Jury for accepting bribes for the issuance of junk licenses.

The men, one of whom was said to have confessed, were Frank J. Sullivan, Benjamin P. Silas, John L. Dalzell, Jacob Mendosa and William W. Gordon. The case against Jacob Romberg, indicted as a "go-between," was also nol-prossed.

In explaining his action, the District Attorney said:

"These defendants I will not further prosecute. The evidence is not such as to justify the expectation that a jury would bring in a verdict. It comes from one man only. The defendants are all men of good reputations, with no previous record, and the testimony of one man without interest could hardly be expected to convince a jury."

OPEN COOK OFFICE AT "FORBIDDEN CITY"

Peking, the capital of China, was the "Forbidden City" a year or so ago. How rapidly events are moving now for China is shown by the fact that Thos. Cook & Son have this month opened a tourist office at Pekin for the accommodation of travelers. The offices at Hong Kong and Shanghai have long been a convenience to the many Americans visiting China for business or pleasure, and this one at Peking will no doubt be found as serviceable.

BABY FALLS INTO HOT BATH AND DIES

Falling backward into a hot bath which her mother was preparing, four-year-old Flora Lavinsky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lavinsky of No. 916 Main street, Woburn, was so badly scalded that she died at the Choate Memorial Hospital.

WANT BEACON HILL FOR SCHOOL CENTRE

The School Committee has requested the School House Commission to take by right of eminent domain the houses at No. 6-7 and 8 Mt. Vernon place, as a site for the proposed school administration building, which is to cost approximately $270,000.

'PEACE SOCIETIES ARE TOO SLEEPY'

Woman Ford Delegate Declares They Have No Reason to Criticise Detroit Man.

"Peace societies are too sleepy during war times," remarked Mrs. Alice Park, a member of the Ford Peace Party, before the Twentieth Century Club.

"It looks to me as if the Carnegie million dollar peace endowment fund had gone to sleep. There is so much drowsiness about peace societies as to provoke comment.

"The continued sleep of its agitators in many respects puts them in no position to criticise the Ford Peace Party.

Miss Clara L. Wear told of Theodore Botrel, the French peasant poet, who sings to the French soldiers in the trenches and hospitals.

Rangeley Ice Is Too Thick to Cut and Gets Thicker

Rangeley, Me., March 25.—The ice in the lakes of this region is thirty inches thick and still freezing—too thick to cut for domestic use.

There are five feet of snow in the woods and there are signs of more coming. Last year at this time the trails teams were on wheels, travel across the lake was looked on as foolhardy and the sap season was nearly over. This year nobody has yet thought of tapping a tree and travel across the lake is at its best.

A month ago the ice went out of the Carrabassett river. The new ice is now twenty inches thick.

Coast Guard Captain Dies.

New Bedford, March 25.—Captain Worth G. Ross, many years commander officer of the United States coast guard service, is dead. He was sixty-one.

MARBLEHEAD SHY ON PREPAREDNESS

That Is, the New Naval Militia Company of 65 Young Men Lack a Drill Shed.

Sixty-five young men of Marblehead, who recently were patriotic enough to organize a company known as the "Sheik division" for the Massachusetts naval militia, complain that the town officials have not shown enough interest to provide them with quarters to drill and meet.

They constitute the first military body organized in Marblehead since 1861. They have been duly sworn and provided with uniforms and equipment by the militia, but they have no military rendezvous. The Industrial Aid Committee has built them, they say.

Lieutenant Percy A. Graves, commanding officer of the infantry, who lives in Marblehead, was delighted to hear that a local naval company had been formed.

Daniel A. Davis Wills Son Bulk of His Estate

The appraised estate of Daniel A. Davis, retired Malden banker, at 30 Barnstable, is bequeathed to his son, Frank Hamilton Davis, in the will filed in New York.

The real estate has been appraised at $1,04,771. The widow, Mrs. Ellen Davis, gets a life interest in a trust fund of $150,000, and the rest of the residuary at New 12 West Fifty-seventh street, New York.

Frank Hamilton Davis gets this from Malden, residential property valued at about $15,000, and the residuary estate of about $40,000 as well as a life interest in a $50,000 trust fund.

Brothers, nephews, nieces and grandchildren also benefit under the will.

Press Club Has Own Paper.

The Press Club Reporter, which makes its initial appearance today, is official paper of the Boston Press Club. Many well-known Boston newspaper men are contributors. Louis Bayerdt is editor-in-chief.

NEEDHAM MAN IS GUILTY AS SLAYER

South Paris, Me., March 25.—Patrick J. Harrington of Needham, Mass., was convicted here today of the murder of Thomas Fitzgerald of Boston, on the night of November 7, 1914.

His attorneys filed exceptions, which will be argued later. The trial had been in progress for two days.

In September, 1914, rioting started on a Lewiston horse among Maine Central Railroad employees, when he was to be shipped. Harrington joined him for the last part of that drive. In November, as he neared South Paris, a blinding snowstorm came up. Fitzgerald was shot and killed.

Harrington took the money and clothes and went to Boston, returning to here last week. He was in a bunker camp, when he was recognized and arrested.

He claimed that Fitzgerald was killed by the accidental discharge of his own gun, and that fear of being accused of the murder led him to take money and clothing and flee.

Advertisement

POWDER IN SHOES AS WELL AS GUNS

Foot-Ease to Be Added to Equipment of Hospital Corps at Fort Wayne.

Under the above heading the Detroit Free Press, among other things says: "The sorry is that soldiers whose feet are in good condition can walk further and faster than soldiers who have corns and bunions incased in leather pride.

The Government's foot powder order is regarded as the last word in the scientific outfitting of the defenders of the flag."

The English, French and Allied Troops constantly make use of Allen's Foot-Ease. It takes the friction from the shoe and rests the feet. This foot powder, shaken into the shoes of soldiers, has long been in use in the British army, and Uncle Sam's adoption of this form of treating and easing the feet, emphasizes the testimony of the millions of people the world over, who are shaking Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic powder, into their shoes, and using it in the foot bath, as the only practical and lasting treatment for easing and absolutely preventing sore feet. Sold by Drug and Department stores everywhere. 25c. Sample sent FREE. Address, Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y., U. S. A.

GET OUR CASH FOR YOUR Old False Teeth

In any condition, full or broken sets All transactions made promptly Call or mail them to us. Never before were such prices paid for old teeth

CARNEY TOOTH CO.
Room 614, Carney Building
43 TREMONT ST.
BOSTON, MASS.

TODAY'S AID TO BEAUTY

An especially fine shampoo for this weather can be easily made at trifling expense by simply dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a cup of hot water. Pour slowly on scalp and follow with a vigorous massage briskly. This creates a soothing, cooling lather that dissolves and removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt. Rinsing leaves the scalp spotlessly clean, soft and pliant, while the hair takes on a glossy richness of natural color, also a fluffiness which makes it seem very much heavier than it is. After canthrox shampoo arranging the hair is a pleasure.—Advertisement.

C. E. Osgood Co.

When In Doubt Buy Of OSGOOD
New England's Greatest Furniture Store
744-756 WASHINGTON ST. BOSTON
Just a Few Steps from the Boylston and Essex Tunnel Stations

Open Saturday Evenings

Annual Spring Opening and Exhibition of New House Furnishings

THE House of Osgood enters upon a new season with every promise of making the coming month the biggest and best it has ever had—matchless furniture values will guarantee all that.

TO accomplish new triumphs in furniture selling we have promised ourselves to show better values and extend better service than any other furniture house in New England can possibly achieve.

For the coming opening week of our Spring season we are displaying Furniture Bargains that should arouse everybody's interest—We know our values cannot be excelled anywhere

A Few Economy Items in Furniture Made to Last

China Cabinets
Exactly like cut; mahogany, 3 shelves, colonial pattern. Regular price $52. Spring Opening Week 24.75

Buffets
Exactly like cut; mahogany, colonial pattern, deep drawers, commodious locker room. Regular price $46.00. Spring Opening Week 34.75

We Urge You to Read the Bargain Values Listed in This Announcement

154	Parlor Suite, 3 pcs., mahogany, loose seat, spring back	24.75
159	Parlor Suite, 3 pcs., mahogany, loose cushions	59.75
160	Parlor Suite, 3 pcs., mahogany, upholstered seat	69.50
174	Parlor Suite, 3 pcs., leather or tapestry upholstered, imitation mahogany	59.75
176	Parlor Suite, 5 pcs., panne plush, imitation mahogany	99.00
169	Parlor Suite, 3 pcs., imitation mahogany, panne plush	54.75
163	Brass Bed, velvet finish, full size	49.75
166	Brass Bed, velvet finish, full size	49.75
168	Brass Bed, velvet finish, full size	29.75
174.50	Brass Bed, bright finish, 4 ft.	18.65
174	Brass Bed, bright finish, 4 ft.	17.65
124	Oak Dresser	19.85
122	Oak Chiffonier	17.85
123	Mahogany Dresser	29.75
126	Mahogany Chiffonier	19.85
129	Mahogany Inlaid Chiffonier	47.45
134	Mahogany Chiffonier	54.65
134	Mahogany Chiffonier	54.85
134	Mahogany Chiffonier	54.85
114	Oak Dresser	19.75
118	Oak Chiffonier	19.75
178	Fumed Oak Buffet	63.85
120	Fumed Oak Dining Table, 45-in. top	31.85
121	Fumed Oak Serving Table	21.85
211	Fumed Oak Library Set, 4 pcs., divan, rocker, chair, table	34.75
210	Fumed Oak Chair, leather upholstered, slide back	22.50
125	Fumed Oak Chair, leather upholstered	18.95
124	Fumed Oak Set, 2 pcs., moleskin upholstered	26.65

Parlor Rockers
Exactly like cut; mahogany; tapestry seat, cane back panel. Regular price $14.00. Spring Opening Week 12.50

Brass Beds
Exactly like cut; all sizes, velvet finish with bright finish trimmings; 2-inch posts. Regular price $34.00. Spring Opening Week 23.75

Special Values in Rugs, Lace Curtains and Portieres

Dining Tables
Exactly like cut; mahogany, pedestal base, colonial pattern. Regular price $39.00. Spring Opening Week 29.75

Serving Tables
Exactly like cut; mahogany colonial pattern, large drawer. Price, $22. Spring Opening Week 16.75

Guarantee to Customers
Following our usual custom of protecting our credit customers against possible loss and hardship, we remind them that we give a receipted bill in full on balances due on credit accounts up to $500 in case of a customer's death, as per our printed agreement on lease.

Parlor Rockers
Exactly like cut; broad arms, upholstered in tapestry; one of the best values we have seen. Regular price $19.00. Spring Opening Week 12.95

Pullman Runabout
Like cut; reed body, in brown, gray or ecru; all steel running gear; rubber tired wheels; rubber tired wheels. Regular price $19.00. Spring Opening Week 15.75

Reed Rockers
Exactly like cut; chair to match; upholstered in cretonne. Regular price $9.00. Spring Opening Week 6.45

Victrola, No. 6
OAK
25.00
$2.00 Down, $1.00 Weekly

Join Our Victrola Club
Victor, Columbia and Edison machines and records at Lowest Terms of Payment.

Victrola, No. 9
OAK OR MAHOGANY
50.00
$5.00 Down, $1.00 Weekly

Mission Suites
Exactly like cut; four pieces; fumed oak; imitation leather seats. Regular price $30.00. Spring Opening Week 14.75

Your Credit Is Always Good at Osgood's

C. E. Osgood Co.

RAIDERS ON U. S. SIMPLY MEXICANS, SAYS DR. HALE

Wilson's Former Envoy Calls Villa a Symptom and Anarchy in the Southern Republic a Disease.

By WILLIAM BAYARD HALE
Who Was President Wilson's Special Agent in Mexico.

When we send troops across the border into Mexico we are definitely undertook a man's job. There was no misunderstanding of that fact at the time, and there should be no misunderstanding now. We undertook it with the determination first of all to get Francisco Villa and visit upon him the punishment of death for his crimes, and to deal with his followers and abettors in accordance with their deserts. If we should withdraw without having fully accomplished these first necessary things, we should richly deserve the contempt in which the Mexican people would hold us.

In my judgment we should not ask, nor should we allow, Carranza to undertake the actual execution of Villa. In the first place he would not trust to our doing it, and in the second place, the punishment, to Mexican eyes, would altogether lose its lesson if it were not administered by the strong and just arm of the government of that nation which Villa has outraged.

It should never for a moment be forgotten that in dealing with Mexicans we are dealing with grown children, who can be impressed, if at all, only through striking object lessons.

The history of the last four years has, in every case, tended to give the Mexican an exaggerated idea of the fear in which the Gringo holds him. Nineteen-twentieths of the population of Mexico are Indians, illiterate, superstitious and credulous beyond description. It is their general belief that a Mexican army could march unmolested to Washington any time it saw fit.

It is an absolute necessity for the sake of the future security of the border, that this belief be thoroughly and effectually forgotten, and the United States is going to have to do with a people united against us in hatred and in determination for revenge.

If Villa dies, as he should die, and as we are resolved he shall die, as a consequence of his raid into American territory, he will live for many months and years in which not only his old-time followers, but thousands of new ones drawn to the standard of revenge, will hover upon our border ready and eager to take up the table that thorough cleaning-up of the situation which we ought to undertake now.

Either we should have let Villa and his hordes get back without a thought of following, or we should have made up our minds to clean up the whole Mexican situation. The latter is what the people of the United States had made clear to them was the necessary thing to do. This is what they were prepared to do.

It was in the belief that this was the necessary thing to do that I was commissioned from President Wilson to go to Mexico City. I went there at once, and unanimous applause from both sides greeted the dispatch of American troops into the land of Mexico.

It is a little disconcerting to see the administration at Washington spending its time dickering with Carranza over the question of the use of the railway by them for the transportation of supplies and, if necessary, reinforcements to our troops.

Mr. Carranza, if he can be located in his shifting capital somewhere in southern Mexico, has been courteously informed that railroad lines in Chihuahua would be employed in the necessary transport of our columns in the Sierra Madre, but it is preposterous to dream of using for the maintenance of General Pershing's line of communication with his base to depend upon the vagaries of any gentleman somewhere down in Querétaro, nine hundred miles away.

MOTOR TRUCKS AN ABSURDITY.

To talk of motor-trucks as a means of supply between our border and the troops in the field is absurd. Across the deserts hundreds of miles south is of course absurd. The first duty of the President is to support the boys whom he has sent on their dangerous errand in to support them fully and beyond all question, and to set up such protocols and agreements with a pompous and bombastic person, who calls himself Citizen First Chief of Mexico.

Especially is it imperative that we should control the rail line of communication from the border to the south in view of the astonishing news sent by the Associated Press, that Carranza intends to bring more troops from Casas Grandes and other points in the northwest where they could be used against Villa, and are being concentrated at posts between Juarez and Ningolo—that is to say, in General Pershing's rear.

It must not be supposed that the Mexicans who invaded United States territory and shot down Americans are especially described when they are called "Villistas." They were simply Mexicans. They happened to be following Francisco Villa. Probably most of them knew that.

Most Mexicans do not know the name of their immediate chief, though few of them have any idea of the cause for which they are fighting.

Villa himself is just a typical Mexican. The raids, the murders, the outrages that have thrilled us, are not the work exclusively of Villa. They are the work of Mexicans.

While the particular affront was the massacre of the Americans, the actual offence is the lawlessness and barbarism that has overtaken Mexico since the revolution began to drive out Diaz, and converted it into a breeding-ground of bandits. Villa is a symptom; Mexican anarchy is the disease. It is no good offering the symptom to be temporarily necessary to deal with the disease.

Seventeen Americans died at Columbus. At least three hundred Americans, and probably twice as many Mexicans, perished in Mexico within the last three years. Villa has slain dozens; other "generals" hundreds and scores.

No one chief or faction is responsible for more than three hundred murders. They have taken place not alone on the border, but in practically every state of the Mexican Union.

Blaming down a list of murdered Americans in my possession, I notice that since March 9, 1913, fellow-countrymen of mine have been killed in Sinaloa, Tamaulipas, Oaxaca, District Federal, San Luis Potosi, Hidalgo, Chihuas, Guerrero, Durango, Sonora, Chihuahua, Guadalajara, Tepic, Michoacan, Pajaca, California, Vera Cruz, Nueva Leon, Jalisco and Campeche.

A more careful inspection of the dwelling places of victims would probably make the list a complete map of the Mexican States.

ALL FACTIONS ARE SLAYERS.

The murderers included Federalists, Constitutionalists, followers of Huerta, followers of Zapata, followers of Carranza, followers of Villa, followers of half a dozen other forgotten chieftains.

There is only one happiness that surpasses the joy that thrills the breast of a Mexican when he can stand a fellow-countryman before execution up against a wall and shoot him, and that is the bliss that thrills him the day he can exterminate with a ruffian of the other faction in torturing and killing American. Pontius Pilate and Herod offered the death of the Saviour, "the same day were made friends together."

The murderers of Americans in Mexico are rarely brought to book, described by any such name as Federalists or Constitutionalists or Zapatistas, but are just Mexicans.

Whether the indictment of slaying the American was the slaughter whether death is preceded by cutting off the fingers or stripping the skin from the forehead of the forelock, the victims are instructed to escape and are shot in the back while running in a tunnel, or crucified; whether their bodies are burnt or merely stripped and dragged out, the cheerful executioners are just Mexicans.

The police of a town, the mayor or the whole commander the assassins. But if those are entirely respectful of the American people but we have never contemplated a watchful waiting sufficient to stretch into the far seons of geologic time.

The period for watchful waiting has ended. The time for action came, and action was taken. The people understood it with full understanding that it was serious and determined action directed to the accomplishment of a practical purpose. They will insist also now that that purpose be achieved.

The first necessity is the inexorable, and, if possible, swift, punishment of Pancho Villa. But that alone will not be enough. When that outlaw has paid the penalty of his misdeeds we must look about and ask what guarantees exist that peace and order shall be restored and maintained, and the rights of life and property respected in Mexico.

We should run a risk of retiring until we have inquired, and received a thoroughly satisfactory affirmative reply to the inquiry, "Is there a reasonable prospect for peace and order under a responsible and permanent Mexican government."

Carranza, according to the reports which reach me from Mexico even from sources naturally favorable to his claims, has made little or no positive progress.

CARRANZA NO STATESMAN.

I can hear of no statesmanlike measures which he has taken for the reorganization and upbuilding of his country, either politically, financially or industrially. Himself a dull man, he seems to have failed to find ministers of any particular ability or promise, or to have secured from any source advice of special value.

Social and financial conditions in Central Mexico under Carranza's immediate influence, according to the best information which reaches me, are chaotic. No one pretends there is a statesman or a genius in Carranza's train.

Now, nothing short of real statesmanship, if not genuine, can save Mexico today.

If the United States government desires to make Venustiano Carranza the titular head of a permanent Mexican government, there may be no reason why it should not do so. The First Chief is a good hater of Americans, fairly ignorant of the outside world, slow of comprehension, unready of action, generally suspicious and surly and as unmanageable as a mule. Otherwise he is a perfect gentleman.

If the Washington administration determines to back him, it will have to provide him with a constructive policy, with a staff of practical administrators, and with a police force. There will be need for aid to Mexico until there is at the head of its affairs four or five honest and practical men, assisted by a loyal people and supported by an incorruptible constabulary.

ARREST MAN AFTER FIGHT ON COMMON

A man giving the name of Iatane Cugiano, and claiming a residence on North street, Brighton, was arrested last night, after a struggle with Robert McDonald, seventy, of Massachusetts avenue, Arlington, which patrolled a crowd of several hundred persons.

The affair happened on Boston Common near the Beacon street entrance. McDonald was severely bruised, but was able to go to his home.

The pair were still struggling when Patrolman Gleason pushed his way into the crowd. Inglese drew a long Trenton street and down Winter, following by a number of men, who stopped before he got out of Winter street.

Inglese was taken to the Court-square station, where the police said they may bring a charge of attempted larceny against him.

SITE CHOSEN FOR TAUNTON ARMORY

Taunton, March 24—Deeds were passed today giving the Commonwealth possession of the Galligan and Dooley estates on Weir street, and a parcel of land on Washington street. This will be the site for a new State Armory. Work on the structure will start in a short time.

TUFTS GRADUATE TO WED ROXBURY GIRL

Miss Dorothy Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Foster of Dale street, Roxbury, is to wed William Gouch Brooks, Tufts '15, according to the announcement made by her parents yesterday. Mr. Brooks is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Brooks of No. 7 Waldorf street.

Original 'Uncle Sam' of Woburn, Calls for U. S. Preparedness

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, "UNCLE SAM!" Here is George Buchanan, now in his ninety-third year, and the famous "Uncle Sam" cartoon, as drawn by Winsor McCay. Mr. Buchanan's costume in a parade in Amesbury in 1851 inspired the "Uncle Sam" idea as we have it today.

George Buchanan of Woburn, the original "Uncle Sam," who has just observed his ninety-second birthday, is deeply interested in the great international problems with which Uncle Sam is now confronted.

Of keen intellect, despite his advanced years, he follows closely the daily development of the Mexican situation, the European conflict and the controversy over submarine warfare.

He is a firm believer in national preparedness, and maintains that it is the duty of Uncle Sam to so equip and train himself as to be ready for any national emergency that the present critical situation of world affairs may develop.

The picturesque garb of the popular caricature representing Uncle Sam has always been close to be so typically American that few people have ever interested themselves in its origin.

It came about in this way. George Buchanan in 1851 resided in Amesbury at a time when a celebration was held to dedicate Washington Hall. In a parade in which all the townspeople participated Mr. Buchanan appeared in a large beaver hat about the band of which he pasted a number of gilt stars. He sewed large white buttons on a long, blue coat and completed the costume by adding striped trousers. He also wore a long goatee, which he wears today.

ALWAYS A POPULAR FIGURE.

Of course, Uncle Sam was a popular figure even in 1851, but he represented as "Brother Jonathan," with a black slouch hat and trousers and half tucked in great cowhide boots. Mr. Buchanan stuffed the "Brother Jonathan" Sunday-go-to-meetin' clothes."

A representative of Leslie's illustrated New York News, who also represented the Waverly Magazine, was present at the celebration, and in the subsequent issue of the paper and the magazine containing an account of the event, Mr. Buchanan in his unique costume figured prominently under the caption, "Uncle Sam," when the latter's name first appeared in depicting comic Sam. Thus the costume originated by Mr. Buchanan remains essentially the same and has become one of the best known costumes in the world.

The original of Uncle Sam was born in Lanarkshire, Scotland, March 26, 1823, son of John Buchanan and Jean (Begg) Buchanan.

ELVITA PILLS

For Weak and Nervous People

If you are debilitated, tire easily, have little strength or ambition, are nervous and depressed, you should take the fashionable Pill—the great nerve tonic that will put strength into nervous, weak people, make dependent people.

Thousands praise them for general debility, nervous prostration, mental depression and worry, and for ills caused by over-indulgence in alcohol, tobacco or excesses of any kind.

Remember come, and remedies go, but ELVITA PILLS go on forever, bringing back the flush of youth to the pallid cheek, making the eye bright and the step elastic. Try ELVITA PILLS for a week, worn-out and nervous people, make the gain of twenty pounds and more in vigor and vitality.

$1.00 Per Box at Druggists.
SOLD BY
Hiker-Jaynes and other reliable druggists.
—Advertisement.

HARVARD IS DEFENDED BY GALLIVAN

Praises Irish Immigrant in Sharp Congress Debate Over Burnett Bill Literacy Test

Washington, March 25.—Harvard College and the Irish immigrant figured prominently in the superheated debate in Congress this afternoon when a motion to strike from the Burnett immigration bill the literacy test was made by Representative Sabbath of Illinois.

Representative Foss of Ohio expressed amazement that there should be such strong opposition on the part of the Massachusetts members of Congress to the immigration bill because of this test, and took a fling at Harvard University, of which several of the Congressmen from the Bay State are graduates.

He was replied to in vigorous terms by Representative Gallivan of Boston, who was evidently uneasy over a reference to the Irish immigrant early in the debate, which he challenged in forceful language.

Recognized, Gallivan said:

GALLIVAN REPLIES.

"My good friend from Ohio (Mr. Foss), for whom I have the most profound respect, hurried away from his reference to Harvard University in fact seemed to pay a tribute to Brown University. As a fellow president of a college in this country he knows that the president emeritus of the foremost educational institution of America, President Eliot of Harvard is absolutely opposed to the literacy test in this bill.

"I am glad he had told you all that Harvard stands for in our community. As a graduate of that institution, I am here to defend it. As the son of a father who was unable to read and write when he came to this country, but who sent four boys to Harvard, three of them coming out of that university with a degree of A. B. and one with the degrees of A. B., A. M. and Ph. D., and who sent his four daughters through a Catholic academy in his adopted state, I say he might have told you that by this literacy test you would have deprived that splendid man of the opportunity of making the contribution which he tried to make to the progress of this republic.

POINTS TO IRELAND.

No use on that side has said a single word as to the reason why the Irish immigrant has been given the privilege of an opportunity to get an education in the land of his birth.

"By the iron hand of a cruel government the priests of Ireland were driven to a sort of death. I recall the language of Cardinal Newman in the grave of his friend Wilberforce: 'They had made fools of themselves for Christ's sake.' That is their story, but you do not affect the Irish immigrant by this bill and it is not for his cause that I speak this day.

"Thank God, the day has passed when the Irish immigrant who seeks to come within our borders will be stopped by any literacy test. When he comes to Ellis Island, or to the port of Boston, he comes now almost ready to take his examination for the bachelor of arts."

The bill will be voted on Tuesday.

GROCER HELD FOR INCENDIARY FIRE

William Sharf, grocer, of No. 94 Malden street, Everett, charged with setting fire to the double three-story tenement house, No. 86-88 Central avenue, Chelsea, on January 13, has pleaded not guilty and has been held in $2,000 bail. Sharf owns the Central-avenue houses and conducts a grocery store on the street floor. The fire caused a damage estimated at $1,500, and two tenants were carried out overcome by smoke. On February 18, Sharpe was fined $20 for keeping matches in his store loose instead of in a proper receptacle.

CARDINAL GIVES $100 FOR WAR FUND

Cardinal O'Connell has contributed $100 to the Lithuanian National Fund, according to information given to the public by the local treasurer yesterday. Rev. V. Tumas Zilinskas gave $1.00.

The relief committee is to meet at 7:30 this evening in the Lithuanian Church, Fifth street, South Boston. The committee is to set apart April 15 as "Flag Day" to collect funds for war sufferers in Lithuania.

SPRING-CLEANING

This is the season when ordinarily prudent and truthful husbands find some excuse to keep them out until midnight in order to avoid the upset and confusion it their usually calm and peaceful domiciles.

Spring is also the season when all creeping and crawling things begin to emerge and take on a new lease of life.

The rodent becomes more active, the cockroach more restless, the bed bug more pugnacious and the flea more agile.

Every household pest is the bane of a good housekeeper's life. They have waged a relentless warfare against them in vain in many cases. Despite their utmost efforts, these imps of Satan seem to flourish. The dilemma then is how to get rid of them out of their homes for good and all. There are many ways to do this, but the most effective is to use "Martin's Pest Exterminator" freely.

Martin's Exterminators consist of eleven different powders—one for each pest. They are odorless and easily applied.

They are always sold in air-tight tins, never in bulk. They have a consistent record of clearing pests from thousands of homes throughout the land.

Your pest troubles will be over if you use "Martin's."

When you start your spring cleaning lay in a supply at your nearest drug or department store. Prices 35c and $1.00; $2 and $4.10 by mail. Be sure to mention the pest it is to be used for.

"Martin's Pest Exterminators" are the last word in preparedness against household pests.

WALTHAM CHEMICAL CO.
Waltham, Mass.

GIRL FLIRTS ARRESTED IN CITY CAFES

Courts Issue 60 Warrants in Watch and Ward Crusade; Harvard Men Help Get Evidence

Continued from First Page.

their methods were carefully watched and studied.

When the evidence was complete, preparations for arrests were made.

Friday night, the crusaders visited a number of North End cafes, where the Harvard men pointed out the women to be arrested.

About a dozen Harvard men have co-operated in the investigation, it is stated.

The arrests were made Friday night without any disturbance, the women yielding quietly when placed under arrest.

Secretary Chase of the Watch and Ward Society said that there was something behind the investigation, which would be a surprise when the cases came to trial. He declined to name the Harvard men who have assisted in the investigations. He said:

"I hope this is the beginning of the end of the cafe evil. Many complaints of illegal solicitation in cafes in Boston have been made to the society covering a long period.

PROMISES SURPRISE.

"Mothers have asked us to save their girls from evil associations. In the bad company they meet through this medium, and complaints have come of married people who have gone astray, and from persons interested in the welfare of the young men in the colleges.

"In order that the best sort of testimony could be obtained the society enlisted the services of Harvard men, accepting these from the medical school in preference because of their age and maturity.

"There is, however, another feature of this episode. What this phase is I cannot say at the present time. When the cases come for trial it may be made known. That is all I can say at the present time."

PUT HANDS ON CLOCK IN TOWER THIS WEEK

The hands of the Custom House clock will be put in place this week. The new hands weigh about 200 pounds each. The minute hand is fourteen and a half feet long and the hour hand about eleven feet. The hands will be illuminated at night.

Ice Floes in Merrimack, Fear Flood on Banks

Lawrence, March 25.—Ice broke up in the Merrimac River today from far above Lawrence down to Haverhill and the sea. With thirteen feet of snow in the New Hampshire hills, more than since 1887, when a record-breaking freshet did damage of a million, authorities in Nashua, Manchester, Lowell, Haverhill and this city fear a flood if warm weather continues.

At Haverhill today Harbormaster John Gilmartin took steps to anticipate a flood. Owners of shoe factories and stores on the north bank of the river, flooded in 1887, began moving.

The Merrimac carries the largest number of mill spindles in the world and provides work for over 100,000 people. Heavy floes of ice since morning have been rushing over the dam and down the river.

Dripping Water Start 2-Alarm Fire in Chelsea

Dripping water from the roof of the one-story wooden building used as a storehouse for 250 barrels of pitch at No. 19 Vale street, Chelsea, caused a two-alarm fire last night with a damage estimated by the police of $1,200 to the pitch and $200 to the building. Three horses in an adjoining stable were released by employes of the Eagle Lighterman Company, owners of the stable and pitch.

The smoke was blinding and caused the five fighters fits of sneezing, so Chief David Hudson was forced to work the men in relays. Two alarms were sounded.

GIRL BREAKS HER TROTH; IS MISSING

Relatives of Miss Alma Charlotte Johnson of Quincy have requested the United States Consul at Buenos Aires to locate the girl, who left New York on a steamer July 16, to meet her sweetheart, to whom she was to be married in the Argentine city.

Soon after arriving in Buenos Aires Miss Johnson wrote her aunt, Mrs. Josephine Cox of No. 7 Church street, Quincy, that she had decided not to marry and would return to Quincy on the last that has been heard from her.

A friend leaving for Buenos Aires was requested to assist in the search for Miss Johnson. She visited the man to whom Miss Johnson had been engaged, and learned she had started for her home city.

NEW COLLAPSE DESTROYS 'ELL' AT BOYS' SCHOOL

Trouble Caused by Frozen Cement, Declared O'Hearn of the First Trouble.

The remaining portion of the "ell" on the Boston Industrial School for Boys, on Parker street, Roxbury, collapsed last night.

The night before, a section of the "ell" about 67 by 60 feet fell in. The section that fell last night was about 67 by 40 feet, and in carrying everything down from the roof to the first floor.

The cost of the "ell" has been estimated at $100,000, and the collapse makes it practically a complete loss.

"The collapse of the Industrial School was an accident caused by removing the supports of the top floor and roof before the cement had set," said Building Commissioner Patrick O'Hearn yesterday, speaking of the crash of Friday night.

"In cold weather it is sometimes impossible to tell when cement is properly set or only frozen. The construction plans of the building are all right. It was a case where an employe of the contractor took down the supports before they should be, and the contractor was warned to begin Monday morning repairing the damage, without expense to the city.

As soon as he learned of the collapse Mr. O'Hearn called the matter to the attention of the Fall River House Commission, of which he is a member.

The commission called before it Frank Conroy, building inspector, Jane Jowett, a supervisor for the Public Works Department, J. R. Worcester, engineer who approved the plans, and representatives of the Whiton & Haynes Company, which is building the school. Samples were taken of the cement and it was later announced that the cement proved to be up to requirements.

The Boston Industrial School is being erected at an estimated cost of $275,000. The architect is James E. McLaughlin.

Ladies' Tailor-Made Suits From $10 Up

Suits remodeled, repaired and cleaned at very moderate prices. One trial will convince you.

S. LEVIN,
78 Pearl St., Cambridge, Mass.
Viaduct Cars Pass the Door.
1 Minute from Central Sq.

For the Little Ones

To Keep Their Digestion Perfect, Nothing Is Quite So Safe and Pleasant as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

FREE TRIAL MAILED ON REQUEST

Thousands of men and women have found Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets the safest and most reliable remedy for any form of indigestion or stomach trouble. Children and people who are not sick, but are well and wish to keep well, take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after meals. They promote perfect digestion and avoid trouble. These Tablets are just the most wholesome for little folks as for their elders. Little children who are thin and have no appetite or do not grow or thrive, should give the Tablets after eating and will derive great benefit from them.

Keep Them Well,

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists for 50 cents a box and no parent should neglect the use of them for the safety for all stomach and bowel troubles if the child is troubled with indigestion, constipation or worms. Send coupon below for free trial.

Free Trial Coupon

F. A. Stuart Co., 201 Stuart Building, Marshall, Mich., send me a free trial package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Name.....

Street.....

City..... State.....

TODAY'S BEAUTY HINT

It is not necessary to shampoo quite so frequently if your hair is properly cleansed each time by use of a really good shampoo. The easiest to use and quickest drying shampoo that we can recommend to our readers may be prepared very cheaply by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox, obtained from your druggist, in a cup of hot water. This rubbed into the scalp creates a thick lather, soothing and cooling in its action, as well as very beneficial to scalp and hair. After rinsing, the scalp is fresh and clean, while the hair dries quickly and evenly, developing a bright luster and a soft fluffiness that makes it seem very heavy.—Advertisement.

Theatres Showing the

Hearst-Vitagraph NEWS PICTORIAL

"The World's News in Pictures"

BOSTON BRANCH

Vitagraph-Lubin-Selig-Essenay, Inc., 67 Church Street, Boston, Mass.

Week Ending April 9th

Monday, April 3
Fenway Theatre, Boston, Mass.
Belfast Opera House, Belfast, Me.
Strand, Gardiner, Me.
Cumberland Theatre, Brunswick, Me.
Premier Theatre, Norwood, Mass.
Keith's Theatre, Boston, Mass.
Bijou Theatre, Boston, Mass.
Princess Theatre, Wakefield, Mass.
Emery Theatre, Providence, R. I.
Park, Bangor, Me.
Larcom, Beverly, Mass.
Hillcrest Theatre, Taftville, Ct.
Bates Opera House, Attleboro, Mass.
Masonic Hall, North Conway, N. H.
City Opera House, Biddeford, Me.
Orpheum, Haverhill, Mass.
Opera House, Turners Falls, Mass.
Franklin Park Theatre, Dorchester, Mass.

Tuesday, April 4
Fenway Theatre, Boston, Mass.
Cumberland Theatre, Brunswick, Me.
Premier Theatre, Norwood, Mass.
Dreamland Theatre, Nantucket, Mass.
Keith's Theatre, Boston, Mass.
Bijou Theatre, Boston, Mass.
Princess Theatre, Wakefield, Mass.
Emery Theatre, Providence, R. I.
Strand Theatre, Peabody, Mass.
Bates Opera House, Attleboro, Mass.
Town Hall, Orange, Mass.
Starkey's, North Attleboro, Mass.
Franklin Park Theatre, Dorchester, Mass.
Park, Bangor, Me.
Strand, Gardiner, Me.
Larcom, Beverly, Mass.
Orpheum, Haverhill, Mass.

Wednesday, April 5
Fenway Theatre, Boston, Mass.
Belfast Opera House, Belfast, Me.
Mystic Theatre, Malden, Mass.
Blanchard's Theatre, Southbridge, Mass.
Star Theatre, Dover, N. H.
Keith's Theatre, Boston, Mass.
Bijou Theatre, Boston, Mass.
Emery Theatre, Providence, R. I.
Park, Bangor, Me.
Hillcrest Theatre, Taftville, Ct.
Franklin Park Theatre, Dorchester, Mass.

Thursday, April 6
Mystic Theatre, Malden, Mass.
Dreamland Theatre, Nantucket, Mass.
Keith's Theatre, Boston, Mass.
Bijou Theatre, Boston, Mass.
Pleasant St. Theatre, Worcester, Mass.
Princess Theatre, Wakefield, Mass.
Emery Theatre, Providence, R. I.
People's Theatre, Moosup, Ct.
Franklin Park Theatre, Dorchester, Mass.

Friday, April 7
Union Hall, Brookline, Mass.
Star Theatre, Dover, N. H.
Premier Theatre, Norwood, Mass.
Keith's Theatre, Boston, Mass.
Bijou Theatre, Boston, Mass.
Pleasant St. Theatre, Worcester, Mass.
Princess Theatre, Wakefield, Mass.
Emery Theatre, Providence, R. I.
Springfield High School, Springfield, Mass.
City Opera House, Biddeford, Me.
Franklin Park Theatre, Dorchester, Mass.

Saturday, April 8
Premier Theatre, Norwood, Mass.
Keith's Theatre, Boston, Mass.
Bijou Theatre, Boston, Mass.
People's Theatre, Moosup, Ct.
Pleasant St. Theatre, Worcester, Mass.
Emery Theatre, Providence, R. I.
Midget Theatre, Brookfield, Mass.
Town Hall, Orange, Mass.
Quality Theatre, Wilmington, Vt.
Masonic, North Conway, N. H.
Franklin Park Theatre, Dorchester, Mass.

Sunday, April 9
Music Hall, Webster, Mass.
Plaza, Northampton, Mass.
Broadway Theatre, Springfield, Mass.
Plaza Theatre, Springfield, Mass.

American's Great Baby Contest Is Now On! National and Local Honors Open to All!

51 PRIZES FOR CANDIDATES IN GREATER CITY

The Better Babies Contest is on! Greater Boston mothers have begun enrolling their babies in the contest, and in New York, Chicago, Atlanta and other cities the Hearst newspapers are conducting similar contests.

The contest is to find the best baby in the United States. The winner of each contest in the different cities will be eligible for the big prize and the honor of being the best baby in the United States.

The Boston AMERICAN today announces the following fifty-one prizes for the Greater Boston contest:

First prize—$100 Sterling silver cup, properly etched to denote the Baby Championship.

Second prize—Ten solid gold medals.

Third prize—Fifteen sterling silver medals.

Fourth prize — Twenty-five bronze medals.

The object of this first nation-wide baby contest is to interest mothers in the work nurses and physicians are doing everywhere to teach mothers how to make their babies strong and healthy.

The AMERICAN has been fortunate in obtaining for its committee of judges six eminent physicians who are well known authorities on babies. The committee is as follows:

EXPERTS AS JUDGES.

Chairman, Dr. Francis X. Maloney—Head of the Boston Board of Health; vitally interested in the work of "Better Babies" movement and long an authority on Baby Hygiene.

Dr. Edith Hale Swift—Of the New England Hospital for Women and Children. Dr. Swift stands high as a baby authority.

Dr. H. L. Bowditch—Known to mothers of Boston who have visited the Boston Floating Hospital.

Dr. Herbert Young—Director of the Milk and Baby Hygiene Association. Dr. Young, who heads one of the most complete organizations for baby saving, has had experience in studying all kinds of babies.

Dr. Clarice Hunter Dunn—Of the Infants' Hospital, a recognized authority on infants and their care.

Dr. E. P. Ruggles—Of the orthopedic department of the Homeopathic Hospital.

During the contest, which closes May 6, the AMERICAN will throw open its columns to questions from mothers on the care of babies. This department will be conducted by Dr. Mary Moore, who has charge of the post-natal clinic at the Homeopathic Hospital.

Send in your questions to the Better Babies Contest Editor, Boston AMERICAN, and Dr. Moore will be glad to answer them through the columns of the AMERICAN.

The contest is now on. Mothers, send in your letters or clip blanks from the AMERICAN, and fill out and send to the Better Babies Contest Editor. Tell the editor all about your baby and send photograph if possible.

Remember: The contest is open to babies from six to twenty months old living in Greater Boston. This means thirteen miles from the State House. Here are the cities and towns inside this radius:

Arlington	Norwood
Belmont	Salem
Brighton	Needham
Brookline	Quincy
Chelsea	Revere
Cambridge	Saugus
Canton	Swampscott
Concord	Stoneham
Dedham	Somerville
Dover	Waltham
Everett	Wellesley
Hingham	Wakefield
Hull	Weymouth
Lynn	Winchester
Lexington	Woburn
Malden	Watertown
Medford	Winthrop
Melrose	Weston
Milton	Westwood
Newton	BOSTON

BEST BABY IN THE UNITED STATES

The Hearst Newspapers Announce a Contest to Determine This Baby—The BOSTON AMERICAN Undertakes to Find the Best Baby in Greater Boston as Candidate for the Honor—51 Prizes for Greater Boston Babies.

THE BOSTON AMERICAN, in co-operation with the New York American and other Hearst newspapers, is conducting a contest to discover the BEST BABY IN THE UNITED STATES.

The BOSTON AMERICAN, as a part of this contest, has started a contest to find the BEST BABY IN GREATER BOSTON. The winner of the Greater Boston baby prize will be eligible to the final contest to determine the BEST BABY IN THE UNITED STATES.

For the best babe in Greater Boston a $100 sterling silver cup will be awarded.

For the next best ten babies a gold medal will be awarded to each, ten medals in all.

For the next best fifteen babies a silver medal will be awarded to each, fifteen medals in all.

For the next best twenty-five babies a bronze medal will be awarded to each, twenty-five in all.

Greater Boston includes all the cities and towns within 13 miles of the State House.

Mothers are requested to register their babies in this contest. Send measurements and information to Best Babies Contest Editor, BOSTON AMERICAN.

The contest closes May 6.

Registration Blank in Boston American "Better Babies" Contest.

Name of applicant.....

Father's name.....

Mother's name.....

Address.....
(Give city or town and street number.)

Sex of applicant.....

Date of birth.....

Condition at birth.....

Breastfed..... How many months.....

What foods..... Kinds of food at present.....

MEASUREMENTS:

Weight..... Height.....

Circumference of head..... Circumference of chest.....

Circumference of abdomen.....

THE public preference for Goodyear Tires affects alike all parts of America, as shown by our recent tire census in 71 centers.

The grand average of Goodyears was 21 per cent—and this with close to 200 brands of tires on the market.

This Goodyear preference is built upon the bed-rock of public satisfaction—the individual experience of the average man, who has found that Goodyear Tires go farther, last longer, and so cost him less in the end.

GOODYEAR AKRON TIRES

Easy to get from Goodyear Service Station Dealers Everywhere

Goodyear No-Hook Tires are fortified against:

Rim-cutting—By our No-Rim-Cut feature.

Blow-outs—By our On-Air Cure.

Loose Treads—By our Rubber Rivets.

Insecurity—By our Multiple Braided Piano Wire Base.

Punctures and Skidding—By our Double-Thick All-Weather Tread.

DR. MOORE TO ANSWER MOTHERS' QUESTIONS

Dr. Mary F. Moore, in charge of the post-natal clinic at the Boston Homeopathic Hospital, has consented to act as advisory physician for the AMERICAN during the "Best Baby" Contest.

Dr. Moore will, through the newspaper columns, give such advice and such answers to questions as should help mothers in their efforts toward making their infants sound, healthy and robust, which is the object of the contest.

Parents who are puzzled to know how to bathe, feed, clothe and care for their babies may send their questions to the AMERICAN in an envelope addressed to Dr. Moore, who will give each inquiry here careful attention, and answer later in the week through the question and answer column.

As Dr. Moore is very busy with her practice, her hospital work and as a public school physician, mothers wishing her advice are requested to avoid questions which could be answered at home with a little thought and common sense. Every legitimate query will receive her attention and be answered as well as she can without knowing the baby personally.

Before beginning the column Dr. Moore has agreed to write a little advice to such parents as are considering entering the prize contest.

By DR. MARY F. MOORE.

My purpose in accepting the invitation given me by the AMERICAN to become consulting physician for the Baby Contest is that I may have the opportunity to give to a large audience the same kind of advice which I give to mothers in the clinic every morning.

Especially shall I lay emphasis on prevention; such care of babies as will keep them well and growing normally. A light sickness may so drag a baby down as to put it out of the running; therefore health is the first essential. Under no circumstances must you allow—I am speaking to mothers—your baby to take a contagious disease, catch cold, suffer from prolonged indigestion, grow thin from the lack of proper kind of food, or in any way retard natural, normal, healthy growth. Such troubles might not keep your child from a medal, but in all probability they would, and therefore should be avoided.

The score which I shall be able to give must necessarily be of a general nature, valuable for all mothers. If a child has caught a severe cold, or is found to have a fever, or skin trouble, or is refusing its food, or any one of dozens of maladies, I shall advise a visit from the family physician, or a call upon the baby nurse at the nearest clinic. I should have no right to prescribe medicine or specific treatment without seeing and examining the baby.

But I shall be prepared to take up all questions of general health and healthy growth. If your baby is not gaining as you think it should, perhaps a little advice about fresh air, breast feeding, proper bathing, sleeping, etc., may set it right.

BEGIN NOW FOR CONTEST

In every town and city mentioned as eligible for the contest there are hospitals and clinics where mothers can go if need be, and local physicians should take special interest in the babies that have entered the prize contest.

It would bring no small honor to a town or to a physician as well to parents to be able to produce the best baby in Greater Boston.

I notice the AMERICAN has asked on its score card for the weight of the baby at birth. This is a proper question, also is that of the question about breast feeding.

It might be possible for the bottle fed baby to obtain a medal but the others have the better chance.

If mothers of Boston are anxious to make a fine showing, which will rank above any baby contests in other parts of the country, they should begin now and regard every rule for health known to them.

Instead of ten babies, or fifteen with high scores, let us have a thousand so fine and sound that the judges will be compelled to give them all, if not medals, then certificates of excellence.

Finally, let me ask you, mothers, not to be impatient for your answers; if they are simple I can return my advice at once. If what you ask involves study and thought, it may take several days, and even then I may keep on the safe side and quote authorities.

I shall do my best for you and your babies, and we must all cooperate to make the contest a success from every point of view.

ALL WORK FOR SUCCESS.

The final result should be an aroused interest in baby raising all over New England and a decreased death rate.

New England should gain a reputation for fine, perfect babies, just as it now has a reputation for skilled workmen, flourishing industries and cultured citizens.

Dr. Moore is a graduate of Tufts Medical School, where she obtained a cum laude. She is a member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, the American Medical Society, the Massachusetts Homeopathic and the Boston Homeopathic. She is a public school physician for the city of Boston and in charge of the post-natal clinic for the Homeopathic Hospital. Also she has a private practice with an office on Boylston street.

METAPHYSICAL CLUB BANQUET

The Metaphysical Club of Boston will celebrate its twenty-first anniversary Tuesday evening, with a reception to members and friends and a banquet at the Hotel Brunswick. The reception will begin at 6 o'clock and the banquet at 8.30. Mrs. Mary E. Chapin, president of the club, will preside, and the speakers will include Dr. Frederic Keeler, Horatio Dresser, Mrs. Annetta Dresser and Rev. Dr. Paul Revere Frothingham.

GLOVES CLEANED 4c Pr.

Specials: LADIES' SUITS, $1.49 FRENCH DRY SKIRT WAISTS, 19c CLEANSED SKIRTS 70c MEN'S SUITS OR TOPCOATS 90c

TAYLOR THE CLEANSER FINE DYEING 43 WINTER ST.

HOUGHTON & DUTTON Co.

We Give New England Profit-Sharing Stamps—"The Stamp That Has Always Borne the Union Label."

DOUBLE STAMPS EVERY DAY THIS WEEK

Nothing in Stamp-Giving History to Compare With the Magnitude and Generosity of This Great FREE Distribution of New England Profit-Sharing Stamps

OFFER NO. 1

Ten Stamps FREE

In every visitor at this store we will give a special JUBILEE WEEK SHOPPING CARD containing TEN STAMPS. We make this complimentary stamp gift for the purpose of more extensively advertising the advantages of the "Shopping Card," which is one of the most popular features of New England Profit-Sharing Stamps.

These cards, when filled with one hundred stamps, can be redeemed for $1 in merchandise.

The special JUBILEE SHOPPING CARDS, containing TEN STAMPS FREE, must be redeemed for merchandise on or before Saturday, April 15th.

See Offer No. 2

30 Profit-Sharing STAMPS FREE!!

OFFER NO. 2

Twenty Stamps FREE

In every customer redeeming a SHOPPING CARD for merchandise during our Jubilee Double Stamps Week we will give a new "JUBILEE CARD," containing TWENTY FREE STAMPS. These Twenty Stamps are in addition to the Ten Stamps referred to in Number One.

These cards, when filled with one hundred stamps, can be redeemed for $1 in merchandise.

The special JUBILEE SHOPPING CARDS, containing TWENTY STAMPS FREE, must be redeemed for merchandise on or before Saturday, April 15th.

See Offer No. 1

A Whole Solid Week of Value-Giving

Let Us Prove to You That in Newness, Novelty, Originality, Practicability, Becomingness, Variety and Value

Our Spring Millinery Lines Are Unequalled

Hundreds of Hats Go On Display Tomorrow Morning That Nobody But the Milliners and the Writer Have Had the Pleasure of Seeing

We will show many decidedly novel ideas—new styles, new materials and new trimming effects. Many exclusive novelties not to be found elsewhere, in prettily trimmed and ready-to-wear hats, chic and becoming. Shapes that are the last word in up-to-dateness. Every "fad" is here. Prices throughout the department are surprisingly low. Do not make a selection of your new spring hat until you have seen our wonderful assortments.

Come Here For the Style You Want in Trimmed Hats

From 1.98 to 12.98

All our ready-to-wear hats are made on the very latest shapes—they are marvels in attractiveness and style. The popular Milans, Lisere Milan Hemps and Hemps.

See Our Special Display of Trimmed Hats at 4.98

We doubt very much if there is anything in Boston equal to our variety at an equally low price.

Ample Selection From Our Untrimmed Hats, at Prices Ranging

From 79c to 3.98

These are Trimmings of Quills, Wings, Ornaments, Gauze, Flowers, Ribbons and many, many novelties. All at our popular low prices.

Take Advantage of Our Free Trimming Service

These Great Specials for Jubilee Week

$21.50 Dining Room Suite 15.50

four genuine leather slip seat dining chairs to match. Complete at $15.50

$6.50 Combination Matresses 3.98

Pure felt top and bottom, with fine excelsior and rattan centre, covered in extra good grade of ticking, all sizes.

$15.50 Bed Outfits 9.98

Very heavy continuous post white iron bed, with heavy fillers and heavy brass rail to head and foot, with large knob ornaments in centre, complete, white cotton top mattress and all-iron National spring.

$10.00 Couch Outfits 6.98

All-iron frame, the kind that vibrates and makes separate beds. Complete with combination mattresses and pillows.

$22.50 Dressers or Chiffonieres 14.98

$18.50 LEATHER ROCKERS 13.50

Large, comfort able Rockers, as shown in picture, in genuine leather. We guarantee this to be the best value we have offered for $13.50.

$14.50 Library Table 9.49

One hundred of these beautiful tables, all solid oak, with 20x32-inch top, large deep drawer and under shelf and double book rack on either end.

$4.50 MISSION ROCKERS OR CHAIRS

All solid oak, large roomy seat and high slatted back; your choice while they last, 2.98

Full small front, large 42-inch base and French bevel plate mirror, finished mahogany, golden oak and walnut

$6.00 COUCH COTS—All iron frame, 48 inches long, 24 inches wide, with link fabric spring top, complete with a cotton top mattress 3.98

Framed Pictures

Special Prices

$3 Framed Classics . . $1.98
Such as the "Forum," "Castle St. Angelo," etc., in wide hand polished mahogany finished frames, glass size 14x28.

$3 Imported Carbons . $1.79
In Flemish oak frames.

79c Framed Mirrors 59c
Plate glass, white enamel frames, glass size 8x12.

$7 Framed Mirrors . . . $4.98
Burnished antique gilt frames, French pictures in top.

$1.25 Etchings and Colored Landscapes 79c
In neat gilt frames, burnished corners, glass size 16x20.

$4 Oil Paintings $2.50
Also Landscapes in neat gilt frames, size 14x18.

$3 Harvest Moon . . . $1.98
Slatted in neat gilt frame, ornamented corners.

$3.75 Colored Landscapes $2.50
Also Religious Pictures, neat gilt and gold burnished ornamented frames.

FELTOLEUM

Fifty-Cent Grade 25c

Selling this popular floor covering at such a ridiculously low price at this time is positive proof that we are asking you to share in our Jubilee Celebration. Sold as "seconds," though imperfections are almost impossible to detect. Wood effects, two yards wide. At 25c per square yard.

$1.25 Velvet Carpets 1.00
A good line of patterns, for hall or stairs.

Axminster Rugs . . . 15.95
Seamless, in a large assortment of patterns, suitable for parlor, dining room or bedroom, size 9x12, usually $17.95, at $14.95.

55c Linoleums 39c
In many effects, a yards wide, in. for common use.

$12.50 Tap. Rugs . . 9.75
Inserted, woven in new floral designs, with border to match, for dining room or parlor, size 9x12.

$25 Velvet Rugs . . 18.75
Seamless and floral patterns, in dining room or bedroom, size 9x12.

$1.00 Rubber Mats . . 58c
Just in the list, diamond pattern, with border edge, close 17x28.

DID YOU EVER SEE SUCH GOOD VALUES?

$3, $3.50 & $4 Irish Point Curtains 1.89

This is Boston's Banner Curtain Sale. We do not hesitate to say that we have stretched a long point in securing these curtains to sell at this remarkable price. It is an extraordinary purchase. There are twenty-five patterns at the price, all made of fine grade Swiss net. With the Housekeeping season on, it behooves housekeepers to take advantage of these attractive bargains.

65c Sofa Pillows 29c

This is the Manufacturer's Clearing Time and We Have Purchased Several Hundreds of Pairs of Close-Outs of

Scotch Lace Curtains

To Be Sold at Just One-Half Price

$2.00 Values at 95c
$2.50 Values at $1.25
$3.00 Values at $1.45
$4.00 Values at $1.95

40c Marquisettes 19c yd.

DEFENDS R. R. MEN'S DEMAND FOR 8 HOURS

M. N. Doyle, General Chairman for Brotherhood of Trainmen, Declares Cause Is "Fair, Humane and Economic Justice"—Reviews Conditions

M. N. Doyle of Worcester, general chairman for the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, issued a statement last night in support of the brotherhood's claim that an eight-hour day for railroad trainmen is "fair, humane and an economic justice." The statement follows:

Notwithstanding adverse and artificially written articles to the contrary, which are prepared by high-priced publicity men whose duty is to befog the minds of the public, to make the public believe that the men are now overpaid and that the men's conditions are ideal.

These articles go to show (or, if the demand of the men for an eight-hour day, time and one-half for overtime is granted, means ruin for the railroads. This kind of an argument has been handed out by the employers, every time that employes of any organization ever asked for an increase in pay.

In railroad service the wail of poverty and ruin has been heard ever since the men had the audacity to organize, and to ask for a living wage and better living conditions. When the men protested the "Indian Rubber Day," which meant starvation and death for many, regardless of time consumed, and for one day's pay, and demanded a twelve-hour day and later the present ten-hour day, this same cry of poverty, ruin and receivership for the railroads was in evidence as it is today, and it is needless to say has always been disproven.

Ruin and receiverships have come to some railroads, but it was not the high wages paid employes that put them there, for if the officials who handle the finances of the railroads were as efficient and honest in their duties, as the operating officials are in the running of the road all would be well.

Figures published on the cost to the railroads of granting the eight-hour day must be closely scanned, and analyzed. In order to make the demands appear terribly extravagant it is shown that the payroll is to be nearly $1,000,000,000, and that it is divided among 1,800,000 men.

These are big figures to a big business, but a careful analysis of them will show that the individuals' share is not so large, but is of just about the same number of dollars to the men who get the dollars, that is $1,000,000 to the dollar.

You find the average is the munificent sum of $833.33 per annum. This is supposed to be paid to for "Aristocrats of Labor," for the men having the responsibility of handling on railroad, and is better than the standard of living of the men who are on the typical family of three or four human beings.

The statement is made that the men do not work eight hours, and that the men would bitterly oppose any effort to shorten the hours to eight hours, or eight hours, or more and no less. Now, if the men's hours are reduced, it will not be them alone who are to suffer, but the wages with the reduction of the ten hour rate, and this monopoly will automatically clamp every industry in the land and the railroads will be reimbursed through increased freight rates. Think about it, for the shorter work day, as it is now proven by official reports that the shorter work day makes for greater efficiency and does not mean a decrease in output.

The eight-hour day is not an impossible, impracticable dream. It is in effect on hundreds of miles of lines in this country today, for 3 per cent. of all railroads in the Western territory and 37 per cent., more than half, of the roads in the Southeastern territory are run on an eight-hour basis. The men do not get time and a half for overtime, but they do work an eight-hour day, and that is primarily what is wanted by the men in this movement. With one or two exceptions these roads are the best roads in the country, and maybe their prosperity is made because the men have a short work day.

In one of the recent arbitration proceedings between the railroads and their employees and women, elaborate figures were prepared by the managers which showed that 78 per cent. of all irregular through freight service, which is the slowest freight service on all roads in the Mississippi River, in October, 1913, between terminals 112 miles apart was eight hours and twenty-four minutes. The men, therefore, on almost four-fifths of the service, which made about three-fifths of all freight train mileage, produced their 100 miles, the standard mileage for a day's pay, within seven hours and thirty minutes. It therefore would seem that under any operating change that might be made, with an eight-hour day in effect, the increase in the pay rolls of those roads would be very small.

The time-and-one-half demand for overtime is based on positive necessity and is a rate as high for overtime that the men believe the railroads will rearrange their schedules, and practically avoid the payment of overtime, thereby doing away with long hours, which are unreasonable.

That the men have been in effect a long time and that the demand for "positive overtime" is not an extravagant demand, I will quote from the findings of the Federal Arbitration Board during recent arbitration proceedings between the Eastern railroads and their conductors and trainmen:

"The board is in sympathy with the expressed desire of the men to avoid overtime as much as possible, and of recognizing the principle of time and one-half time for overtime in a well established custom in the railroading trades, and possibly some other trades. It is quite evident that in many cases neither the management nor the trainmen can prevent overtime, but it also clearly appears to this board that punitive overtime is an important principle, when applied to running trains.

"The board believes that some other method can be devised for reducing overtime than by the payment of extra pay, that the hours demanded is slow freight and construction service is unreasonably long, and that no other remedy can be found than the punitive overtime which has been tried."

This finding was made in 1913. The hours are still of the same unreasonable length, and the "punitive overtime" is not in effect to any shorter degree. Now, if these 1,800,000 men making these demands that they do, they demand is fair, as all other leading industries of the country have recognized the economic justice of a eight-hour day, and that is the only way by which the railroads with no labor disturbance than accompanied its addition in other employments.

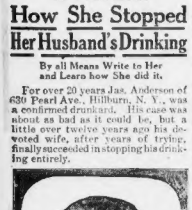
M. N. DOYLE,
General Chairman, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Advertisement

This Wife and Mother Wishes To Tell You FREE How She Stopped Her Husband's Drinking

By all Means Write to Her and Learn how She did it.

For over 20 years Jas. Anderson of 630 Pearl Ave., Hillburn, N. Y., was a confirmed drunkard. His case was about as bad as it could be, but a little over twelve years ago his devoted wife, after years of trying, finally succeeded in stopping his drinking entirely.



Write to this woman if you have a relative or friend who drinks

Not only did she save Mr. Anderson but she stopped the drinking of her father and several of her neighbors as well. All this she accomplished in a simple but truthful way that she now desires every man and woman who has a relative addicted to drink, to know all about, for she feels that others can do just as she did.

The treatment can be given secretly if desired, and without cost she will gladly and willingly tell what it is. Therefore every reader of this notice who is interested in curing a dear one of drinking should write to Mrs. Anderson at once. Her reply will come by return mail in a sealed envelope. She does this gladly in hopes that others will be benefited as she was. One thing she feels is sure and that is that you do not send money for she has nothing to sell. Simply write her your letter with all confidence, to Mrs. Margaret Anderson at the address given above and she will reply by return mail in a sealed envelope.

We earnestly advise every reader who wishes to stop a dear one's drinking to write to this lady today. Her offer is sincere. You can either use the coupon below or write her a letter just as you prefer.

MRS. MARGARET ANDERSON
63 Pearl Ave., Hillburn, N. Y.

Dear Madam: Please tell me how you stopped your husband from drinking. I am personally interested in one who drinks.

Name .....

Street Address .....

City and State .....

Bazaar for French Wounded Society Girls in War Ballet

H. E. MARSHALL HALL and MELBA LEONE PROCTOR, who will have leading parts in the war ballet of the French Wounded Bazaar. Below is a single pose of Miss Proctor.

Four Days of Varied Entertainment Planned for Benefit of the Fund.

One of the chief features of the charity bazaar which will be given in Horticultural Hall, April 12 to 15 inclusive, for the benefit of the American Fund for French Wounded will be a striking and sensational ballet. "The Spirit of War," originated and presented by H. E. Marshall Hall.

The cast for the production will be large and will be made up of many well-known Boston society dancers. It has been arranged to give ample opportunity for solo work, and the part of "Devastation," to be interpreted by Mr. Hall, is exceptionally difficult. Miss Melba Proctor of Brookline will assist Mr. Hall.

Every effort is being made to assure success and it is hoped to make it the biggest society charity event of the season.

On the opening evening there will be a ball, preceded by addresses by Governor McCall and Professor William Howard Taft of Yale University.

Tea dances will be given each afternoon of the bazaar from 4 until 8 o'clock, and a musical entertainment is under the direction of George Longy of the Symphony Orchestra, and a permanent orchestra will play every afternoon and evening.

PHOTOGRAPHS BY WHITE, BOSTON.

MEXICO HELPS PLATTSBURG ENROLLMENT

The expedition of United States army forces into Mexico has given impetus to enrollment for the business men's military camp at Plattsburg, next summer, according to a report issued yesterday by Military Training camp officials, No. 42 Water street.

The statement cited that many of the Boston men enlisting for training at Plattsburg feel that they may be soon called upon to give service in Mexico. They say that they are eager to go in the front in defense of the flag.

"In the event of 500,000 men being called by the War College," added the statement, "the men trained at Plattsburg will be in demand as commissioned officers for a reserve army.

Last year's muster has already been eclipsed. With 600 already enrolled the local recruiting bureau is busy on enlistments for Plattsburg from New England states. College men and prosperous business men are taking hold enthusiastically. Forty-six men were enrolled in Boston yesterday. They are:

Armstrong, Thomas R., Cambridge.
Bennett, Edward H., Boston.
Bodger, Walter Irving, Jr., Cambridge.
Brine, James Lincoln, Cambridge.
Conners, N. Douglas, Boston.
Cosgriff, Joseph R., 3d, Boston.
Devine, Maurice F., Cambridge.
Dow, Eben J., Jr., Cambridge.
Clarkson, Alfred D., Williamstown.
Clarkson, Alfred D., Allingford.
Derby, Walter Samuel, South Boston.
Emery, Marcus A., Williamstown.
Emery, Marcus Albert, Boston.
Fiske, Harold Bradley, Cambridge.
Frothingham, Langdon, Boston.
Frothingham, Randolph, Boston.
Gale, Charles D. K., Brookline.
Gatch, Lorin L., Cambridge.
Hobson, Richard P., Salem.
Holden, William P., Boston.
Haight, Conrad D., Williamstown.
Kendall, Alexander, Boston.
Lemaire, Marie, Boston.
Irwin, Richard, Cambridge.
Lennan, John W., Cambridge.
Lester, Ralph W., Williamstown.
Mack, Donald S., Williamstown.
Morse, Lewis R., Williamstown.
Mosher, Leonard B., Williamstown.
Osgood, Roger W., Williamstown.
Parker, Harold Lacy, Jr., Williamstown.
Row, Alfred L., Dedham.
Sedgley, James U., Williamstown.
Smart, William A., Revere.
Shaw, John Sergeant, Cambridge.
Smith, William H., Dorchester.
Smart, Paul, Cambridge.
Short, John S., Cambridge.
Stebbins, John, Williamstown.
Stebbins, John, Williamstown.
Whittemore, Charles L., Williamstown.
Wood, Osborne Cutler, Groton.
Williams, Jay R., Boston.
Weyburn, Lyon, Boston.

MARLBORO TEACHER BRIDE IN CONCORD

Miss Gladys Baird Carrigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron T. Carrigan of Concord, and William A. Davis, instructor of agriculture in the Marlboro High School, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Davis of Northfield, were married yesterday afternoon in the home of the bride's parents on Sudbury road, Concord, by the Rev. Loren E. Macdonald, pastor of the First Parish (Unitarian) Church, Concord.

CLERGYMEN OF HYDE PARK FIGHT LICENSE

Declare Excise Board Has No Right to Disregard Will of Majority of the District.

To disregard the wishes of the majority of residents of Hyde Park and grant liquor licenses for that district would be an act of wanton arbitrariness, the same in spirit as that tyrannous despotism from which our fathers revolted, according to Rev. Phillip S. Thacher, pastor of the Hyde Park Unitarian Church.

Rev. Mr. Thacher, in a public statement, bitterly arraigns the Excise Board for its decision to grant two licenses in Hyde Park, and declares that the placing of saloons in that district will have the same effect as though the commissioners picked the pockets of the residents.

Rev. George W. Owen, pastor of the First Congregational Church, and Rev. William Reid, pastor of the Baptist Church, refused to discuss the matter other than to say they did not believe that liquor licenses were to be granted in Hyde Park.

Representative Robert B. Martin the Excise Board has decided to grant two saloon licenses, despite the fact that a majority of the residents are opposed and wish to keep the four licenses.

REV. MR. THACHER OPPOSED.

"The Excise Board has decided to grant two saloon licenses for Hyde Park," said Rev. Mr. Thacher, "because a large amount of liquor is consumed here, and the presence of two saloons would not increase the consumption, but would add to the revenue. This is what we get from Representative Martin, who says the board informed him to that effect.

"This assumption is doubtless supported by facts. High Rents has done more to regulate saloons than any other method, but this does not decide the matter, because there is something more important involved. Two-thirds of the citizens of Hyde Park do not want saloons, and, in the interests of common honesty and the decency of the city, they should not be disfranchised by having their reasonable desires ignored by the Licensing Board. The members of the board would not knowingly do a dishonorable act, but if they grant licenses in defiance of the wishes of a large majority of the citizens, they will be guilty of a dishonorable act, because this is a government of the people and for the people, not for the interests of a special class.

"The commissioners would not pick the pockets of their neighbors, but if they put saloons in our district, which would depreciate the value of adjacent property, and increase the burden of taxation, they would therefore diminish the income of people, and this would have the same effect as picking their pockets.

AGAINST MAJORITY'S WILL.

"Our citizens are taxed for the support of lunatics and paupers and yet the Licensing Board proposes to present them from arresting the sources of pauperism and lunacy! Why make them pay for remedial agencies that thereby nothing? Saloons endanger the freedom, health, wealth and morality of the whole community, and our fellow citizens seek to minimize the mischief by keeping saloons out of this ward.

"Saloons are the rein of public morality, and, if unchecked, will be the ruin of this republic. No greater evil can be conceived of for our fellow men than this giant foe. Is it nothing to bring this enemy from our midst? From homes desolate and poverty stricken, from wives whose cheeks are broken from drunken husbands, from innocent children who have to walk the streets now with more feet come the cry, 'Keep out the saloons.'"

SINGLE TAX MEN WILL SPEAK HERE

Earl Barnes of Philadelphia and Frank Nelson of England will be tendered a dinner at the Women's City Club, Tuesday evening. The subject of discussion will be "Single Tax." Mr. Barnes will speak on "Single Tax Owns the Earth" and Mr. Nelson will present "The Single Tax Problem in England."

SMITH COLLEGE ALUMNAE LUNCH

The annual luncheon of the Boston members of the Smith College Club was took place yesterday afternoon at the Hotel Somerset. More than 400 members attended. Presentation plans of the college discussed now plans for the faculty.

STOVER TO SPEAK ON PREPAREDNESS

Colonel Willis W. Stover of the Eighth Regiment, M. V. M., will talk on "Military Preparedness" at the annual banquet of the Somerville Fourth of July Association at Union Square Hotel tomorrow night.

TWO SENTENCED ON CHARGE OF ROBBERY

In the Municipal Court Walter Milesky and Joseph Ochren were each sentenced to eight months in the House of Correction on a charge of robbing Joseph Rosiecky in Cross street, North End. They appealed.

REPEAT "PASSION PLAY" AT COLLEGE

The demand for tickets for the "Passion Play," as presented by the students of Boston College, is so great that it has been decided to give four performances this week. There will be evening performances on Monday and Thursday, and matinees on Friday and Saturday. The Friday matinee will be given entirely for the students of Boston College High School only. The other performances will be public.

COLLEGE SOLDIERS AS FIRE-FIGHTERS

Preparedness—which is the keynote in the life of the officers of the army, navy and militia—has a champion in Lieutenant L. S. Sutherland, U. S. A., detailed as military instructor to New Hampshire State College, by the War Department.

Lieutenant Sutherland, who drills the collegians and instructs them in military science and engineering, has now formed a soldier fire department.

The college has more than a battalion of men in the drill, and as there are no fire stations in the Durham, where the college is located, Lieutenant Sutherland decided that the college boy soldiers would make good fire fighters.

Yesterday, the officer detailed the different companies, under the valet commanders, to various duties in case of fire, and in the college or in the town. One company mans hose lines, another secures all the water it can, another makes police fire lines, one is a salvage squad and another mans the apparatus and auxiliary hose lines. Now all Lieutenant Sutherland is waiting for is a fire, to see how efficient the student soldiers can be as fire fighters.

FIND MAN'S BODY HANGING TO TREE

Milford, Ct., March 25.—The body of a well-dressed young man, about twenty-three years old, was found hanging to a limb of a tree by a piece of his shirt, in the woods between Pond Point and Wodmont this morning, apparently a suicide.

GABRIEL REID TO TELL OF CANNIBALS

Rev. Gabriel Reid, C. R. (S. S. will give his lecture "Among the Cannibals of the Upper Congo" at the South Baptist Church, Fourth and E streets, South Boston, Wednesday evening.

PEACE MEETING TODAY.

The Massachusetts Peace Society will hold the first meeting of a series in Ford Hall this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Herbert S. Houston of New York will speak on "World Commerce as a Force for World Peace."

RISKS LIFE TO RESCUE GIRL IN JAMAICA POND

George Manson of Telephone Company Dives Twice to Save Ex-Hospital Patient.

At the risk of his life, George K. Manson, chief engineer of the New England Telegraph & Telephone Company, saved Miss Lillian English of No. 43 Jamaica street, Jamaica Plain, from drowning in Jamaica Pond, yesterday afternoon. She had disappeared under the ice. Manson dived twice before he located Miss English.

A crowd had gathered on shore when Manson appeared with his burden, and several men waded out to give him assistance. Miss English, unconscious, was taken to the Free Hospital for Women in Brookline, where she was revived and kept last night.

FRIGHTENED BY FIRE.

Today she will be returned to the Psychopathic Hospital, from which she had been recently discharged as a voluntary patient. About a fortnight ago she was sent home apparently cured of a severe nervous trouble. A week ago her dress caught fire and the fright is thought to have caused a recurrence of her illness.

Passersby say that Miss English was seen to wade, as if distracted, into the pond. Suddenly she toppled over and disappeared. She screamed when her head went under water.

Mr. Manson and his wife were driving past in their automobile. Manson snatched some straps from under the seat of his car, made a rope of them, handed them to a man as he ran, and throwing off his overcoat plunged into the pond.

CHEER FOR RESCUE.

The crowd stood breathless as he arose ,took a long breath and plunged again. They cheered when they saw that he had a limp figure the second time he appeared. It was a rescue that thrilled those who witnessed it.

TWO SMART FIRES IN ROXBURY DISTRICT

Roxbury firemen responded to two alarms in that district last night for fires starting from unknown origins and causing damage estimated at $2,000. The first fire was on the second floor of a three-family brick building at No. 135 Crawford street, spreading from the apartment of Abraham S. Lewis to the front-floor apartment of Alexander Aronofsky. The damage was set at $1,000.

The building at No. 147 Stanwood street, owned and occupied by Jamie Morgan, was damaged to a similar extent by a fire in the front hallway.

14 ARTICLES FOR ARLINGTON MEETING

Out of the record number of fifty-seven articles, but fourteen remain to be acted upon at the second adjournment of the annual town meeting, in the Robbins Memorial Town Hall, Arlington, tomorrow evening, at 7:30 o'clock. The matter that will probably cause the most debate is the question of granting the employes of the highway, sewer, water and health departments a Saturday half-holiday throughout the city, for six months, beginning May 1 and ending October 31.

SIX EXAMINED FOR ANNAPOLIS

Six young men were examined yesterday in the William E. Russell School, Dorchester, for appointment as midshipmen in the United States Naval Academy. The examination was ordered by Congressman James A. Gallivan of the Twelfth District, and those who are alleged are two alternates. A week ago twenty candidates were examined as to their bodily health, and the six who underwent the mental test yesterday were qualified from that number.

CHARGED WITH STARTING A FIRE

North Attleboro, March 25.—Zacar Zacharian was held in $5,500 for the Grand Jury in the District Court, charged with setting the fire that caused the $59,000 Kendall Block, March 12.

In court he declared he was in Boston when the blaze was discovered and that he was at a rooms of a Boston lodging house up to an early hour on the morning of the fire. Chauncey Avery testified, however, that Zacharian told him that he had been accused of setting the fire in the Kendall Block, and promised him $10 to keep secret an early visit to the factory.

ACCUSES HUSBAND IN REALTY DEAL

Julia E. Barrell has brought a bill in equity in the Superior Court for a conveyances to her of real estate in Lynn, from Charles F. Barrell, husband. Charles S. Barrell, wrongfully secured title to the property in 1912, she says, she gave him $5,500 to buy the property as her agent. She claims he is trying to hold the property as his own. She wants the court to decree that he holds it only in trust for her.

LAWRENCE WINDERS GO OUT ON STRIKE

Lawrence, March 25.—Fifty winders employed in the Lower Pacific mills went on strike today when their request for 20 cents an hour was refused. They say they now receive 17½ cents per hour. Those who left their work say officials wanted to pay them by piecework, but they refused.

FITZGERALD TO TALK BEFORE K. C.

Former Mayor Fitzgerald will be the principal guest at a public meeting, under the auspices of Pere Marquette Council, Knights of Columbus, at No. 201 East Broadway, Monday evening. The invited guests include Rev. Henry M. Lyons and District Chief Francis J. Jordan.

CLERGYMEN OF HYDE PARK FIGHT LICENSE

Declare Excise Board Has No Right to Disregard Will of Majority of the District.

To disregard the wishes of the majority of residents of Hyde Park and grant liquor licenses for that district would be an act of wanton arbitrariness, the same in spirit as that tyrannous despotism from which our fathers revolted, according to Rev. Phillip S. Thacher, pastor of the Hyde Park Unitarian Church.

Rev. Mr. Thacher, in a public statement, bitterly arraigns the Excise Board for its decision to grant two licenses in Hyde Park, and declares that the placing of saloons in that district will have the same effect as though the commissioners picked the pockets of the residents.

Rev. George W. Owen, pastor of the First Congregational Church, and Rev. William Reid, pastor of the Baptist Church, refused to discuss the matter other than to say they did not believe that liquor licenses were to be granted in Hyde Park.

Representative Robert B. Martin the Excise Board has decided to grant two saloon licenses, despite the fact that a majority of the residents are opposed and wish to keep the four licenses.

REV. MR. THACHER OPPOSED.

"The Excise Board has decided to grant two saloon licenses for Hyde Park," said Rev. Mr. Thacher, "because a large amount of liquor is consumed here, and the presence of two saloons would not increase the consumption, but would add to the revenue. This is what we get from Representative Martin, who says the board informed him to that effect.

"This assumption is doubtless supported by facts. High Rents has done more to regulate saloons than any other method, but this does not decide the matter, because there is something more important involved. Two-thirds of the citizens of Hyde Park do not want saloons, and, in the interests of common honesty and the decency of the city, they should not be disfranchised by having their reasonable desires ignored by the Licensing Board. The members of the board would not knowingly do a dishonorable act, but if they grant licenses in defiance of the wishes of a large majority of the citizens, they will be guilty of a dishonorable act, because this is a government of the people and for the people, not for the interests of a special class.

"The commissioners would not pick the pockets of their neighbors, but if they put saloons in our district, which would depreciate the value of adjacent property, and increase the burden of taxation, they would therefore diminish the income of people, and this would have the same effect as picking their pockets.

AGAINST MAJORITY'S WILL.

"Our citizens are taxed for the support of lunatics and paupers and yet the Licensing Board proposes to prevent them from arresting the sources of pauperism and lunacy! Why make them pay for remedial agencies that thereby nothing? Saloons endanger the freedom, health, wealth and morality of the whole community, and our fellow citizens seek to minimize the mischief by keeping saloons out of this ward.

"Saloons are the rein of public morality, and, if unchecked, will be the ruin of this republic. No greater evil can be conceived of for our fellow men than this giant foe. Is it nothing to bring this enemy from our midst? From homes desolate and poverty stricken, from wives whose cheeks are broken from drunken husbands, from innocent children who have to walk the streets now with more feet come the cry, 'Keep out the saloons.'"

SINGLE TAX MEN WILL SPEAK HERE

Earl Barnes of Philadelphia and Frank Nelson of England will be tendered a dinner at the Women's City Club, Tuesday evening. The subject of discussion will be "Single Tax." Mr. Barnes will speak on "Single Tax Owns the Earth" and Mr. Nelson will present "The Single Tax Problem in England."

SMITH COLLEGE ALUMNAE LUNCH

The annual luncheon of the Boston members of the Smith College Club was took place yesterday afternoon at the Hotel Somerset. More than 400 members attended. Presentation plans of the college discussed now plans for the faculty.

STOVER TO SPEAK ON PREPAREDNESS

Colonel Willis W. Stover of the Eighth Regiment, M. V. M., will talk on "Military Preparedness" at the annual banquet of the Somerville Fourth of July Association at Union Square Hotel tomorrow night.

TWO SENTENCED ON CHARGE OF ROBBERY

In the Municipal Court Walter Milesky and Joseph Ochren were each sentenced to eight months in the House of Correction on a charge of robbing Joseph Rosiecky in Cross street, North End. They appealed.

REPEAT "PASSION PLAY" AT COLLEGE

The demand for tickets for the "Passion Play," as presented by the students of Boston College, is so great that it has been decided to give four performances this week. There will be evening performances on Monday and Thursday, and matinees on Friday and Saturday. The Friday matinee will be given entirely for the students of Boston College High School only. The other performances will be public.

SINGLE TAX MEN WILL SPEAK HERE

Earl Barnes of Philadelphia and Frank Nelson of England will be tendered a dinner at the Women's City Club, Tuesday evening. The subject of discussion will be "Single Tax." Mr. Barnes will speak on "Single Tax Owns the Earth" and Mr. Nelson will present "The Single Tax Problem in England."

SMITH COLLEGE ALUMNAE LUNCH

The annual luncheon of the Boston members of the Smith College Club was took place yesterday afternoon at the Hotel Somerset. More than 400 members attended. Presentation plans of the college discussed now plans for the faculty.

STOVER TO SPEAK ON PREPAREDNESS

Colonel Willis W. Stover of the Eighth Regiment, M. V. M., will talk on "Military Preparedness" at the annual banquet of the Somerville Fourth of July Association at Union Square Hotel tomorrow night.

TWO SENTENCED ON CHARGE OF ROBBERY

In the Municipal Court Walter Milesky and Joseph Ochren were each sentenced to eight months in the House of Correction on a charge of robbing Joseph Rosiecky in Cross street, North End. They appealed.

Colonel Graves Asks Full Ranks for the Militia

At a meeting of the officers of the Eighth Regiment in the Cambridge armory Colonel Frank A. Graves, commanding officer, and Captain Ralph McCoy, U. S. A., inspector-instructor, urged the field and line officers to recruit their companies and to establish waiting lists of recruits. Colonel Graves said:

"The non-commissioned officers, and also the line officers, who have grown old in the service, and who are 'lying down,' must go. The militia needs recruits. With the great war in Europe and our own trouble in Mexico, citizens of Massachusetts must wake up to the fact that they must stand behind the militia, send their young men to the armories to drill and help in every way toward preparedness."

The different company commanders reported practically full companies.

FRED JONES, Rice School pupil, in whose behalf a warrant for his teacher, Miss Connelly, charging assault, is sought.

WARRANT ASKED FOR A TEACHER

Head Master of Rice School Defends Miss Connelly, Accused of Assaulting Pupil.

Headmaster Lincoln Owen of the Rice School, yesterday came to the defence of Miss Helen M. Connelly, one of his teachers, for whom a warrant has been asked, charging her with assaulting Fred Jones, twelve, of No. 1361 Washington street, South End.

Principal Owen said:

"I am glad that no warrant was issued against Miss Connelly. She is one of our most careful teachers. I shall defend her until I have more evidence against her than I have at present.

"The mother of the Jones boy came to see me and asked for Miss Connelly's address. I asked her why she didn't come and talk the matter over with me carefully. It is always our custom to have heart-to-heart talks with the parents and in most circumstances we get to some understanding. Mrs. Jones would not grant this conference. I cannot understand why."

Attorney H. B. Ross alleges that Miss Connelly struck Fred Jones and his brother John, nine, who is named in the application for a warrant, with a rattan on their legs. He claims that the skin was broken on Fred, while black and blue marks were left on John.

Judge Burke refused to grant a warrant at once, but said he would give the parties a hearing Tuesday, when Miss Connelly will be given an opportunity to tell her story about the alleged assault. Judge Burke did not believe a warrant should be granted without giving the teacher a chance to be heard.

Mr. Ross' story of the trouble on which he bases the assault complaint follows:

"Fred Jones and his brother John are in Miss Connelly's class in the Rice Grammar School, South End. Lincoln Owen is principal of the school.

"I charge that Fred Jones was assaulted by Miss Connelly. As I understand the matter, he laughed in the schoolroom and was singled out by Miss Connelly to be rattaned. Miss Brady, who is also a teacher in the Rice School, was called into the room to witness the punishment.

"Fred called to his brother John to assist him and the result was that both boys were beaten about the legs by a rattan. Fred was beaten so severely that the skin on his shins was broken, while John's shins were covered with black and blue marks. I have had both boys examined by Dr. Fred of Huntington avenue.

"The Jones family lives at No. 1361 Washington street, South End. The father of the family is ill and the mother is forced to work for a living."

TRAVELERS' GUIDE.

CALIFORNIA

Tours de luxe with wide range of routes. Itineraries include Grand Canyon, Apache Trail, Roosevelt Dam, Southern California, Coast Resorts, etc. Best hotels, sightseeing features and select parties. Departures April 1, 2 and later.

THE GREAT WEST ALASKA, ETC.

Our Spring and Summer Tours include Yellowstone and Yosemite National Parks, Colorado and Canadian Rockies, Alaska to the Arctic Circle—the "American Land of the Midnight Sun," and All Western Resorts. Attractive Itineraries. Moderate rates. Stopover privileges.

BERMUDA

The Ocean Paradise. Frequent sailings from New York by Quebec S. S. Co.'s steamships "Bermudian" and "Trinidadian." Round trip $75 and up. All-expense tours. Hotel accommodations secured in advance.

SPRING CRUISES

By great White Fleet steamships. Sailings New York April 8, 22, for complete 24-day Cruise, visiting Panama, Panama and Canal Zone, Costa Rica and Jamaica. Rates $200 up, included.

EASTER TOURS

A series of attractive short tours for the Easter Holidays, including Washington, Atlantic City, Asbury Park, Lakewood, Niagara Falls, Old Point and Virginia Resorts, Bermuda, Savannah, Florida, etc.

WASHINGTON

Pleasant Seven-day, all-expense Tours, with escort, leave every Friday. $28 up.

Travel-Service Absolutely the Best. Send for Program Desired.

Tours and Tickets to All Resorts.

THOS. COOK & SON

336 Washington St., Boston

Reduced Rates

CALIFORNIA, OREGON, WASHINGTON and BRITISH COLUMBIA, one way from March 22nd to April 11th, $32.50 to $36.50. Choice of Direct Routes and Stopover Privileges. Also to MONTANA and CANADIAN NORTHWEST points daily March and April. Write or call.

Colpitts Ticket Agency

333 Washington St. and 146 Canal St. Estab. 1835 Boston, Mass.

GET POSTED ON OUR RATES

TICKETS to EUROPE EVERYWHERE LOWEST RATES BEST SERVICE

BEEKMAN TOURIST CO. 249 WASHINGTON ST. BOSTON, MASS.

New York Hotels.

HOTEL VAN CORTLANDT, 142 to 146 WEST 49TH ST., NEW YORK. 100 Rooms with use of bath, $1.50 up. 100 Rooms with private bath, $2.00 up. Parlor bedroom and bath, $3.00 up. Suites of 3 light rooms and bath, $4.00 up. Restaurant and shopping district—one block from 42nd street subway and Elevated station. All rooms large, airy and handsomely furnished. Hotel Van Cortlandt Map of ... sailed on request. Send for ...

When Answering Advertisements Mention the Boston American

"CONGRESS IN SESSION"

WASHINGTON

TOURS UNDER ESCORT EVERY FRIDAY

From Boston at inclusive rates from $76. Extensions to Old Point Comfort, Richmond, Natural Bridge, Luray Caverns, Washington. Stopover privileges.

ATLANTIC CITY

Tours daily at inclusive rates. With Easter Sunday in Philadelphia and New York. Special Easter Tour under escort April 7. $25.

BERMUDA

By steamers "Bermudian" and "Evangeline" sailing from New York Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. A short ocean trip to an Island Paradise. All-expense tours at reasonable rates.

Tours to CALIFORNIA and FLORIDA. Cruises to BERMUDA, WEST INDIES and PANAMA CANAL.

Itineraries of the above and other tours in "TRAVEL" 32-page book of FREE

GEO. E. MARSTERS, Inc.

248 WASHINGTON ST.

CUNARD

Established 1840

EUROPE FROM LIVERPOOL

TUSCANIA ..... Apr. 15 | SAT., APR. 1, 10 A. M.
SCANDINAVIA ..... SAT., APR. 8, 10 A. M.
CAMERONIA ..... SAT., APR. 22, 10 A. M.
ANDANIA ..... SAT., APR. 29, 10 A. M.

NEW YORK TO GLASGOW. LONDON

ANDANIA ..... THURS., APR. 6, 10 A. M.
PANNONIA ..... SAT., MAY 6, 10 A. M.

Calling at Halifax.

ROUND THE WORLD TOURS. Through bookings to all principal ports

COMPANY'S OFFICE, 21 STATE ST., OR 126 STATE ST., BOSTON

NEW STAR LINE

N. Y.—Azores—Gibraltar—Italy

Cretic ..... Apr. 15 | Canopic ..... Apr. 29

New York—Liverpool

Lapland ..... Apr. 12 | Baltic ..... Apr. 19

AMERICAN LINE

American Steamers Under American Flag

New York—Liverpool

St. Louis ..... Apr. 15 | New York ..... Apr. 8

COMPANY'S OFFICE, 9 State St., Boston

NEW YORK $2.65

Via Rail and Boat
Daily and Sunday
Service with independent line operating between New England and New York

COLONIAL LINE 332 Wash. St., Boston Phone F. N. 2788

BAY STATE LINE NEW YORK $2.55

Via Rail & Boat

STATEROOMS $1.00

Fare includes meals and stateroom. Daily service between Boston and New York via Providence. Tickets Office 214 Washington St., Boston.

INVESTIGATE LIFE OF SLAIN MANICURIST

Wife Visits Olmstead in Jail Cell and Makes Plans for His Defence in Death Case

Mrs. Violet Moores, the Winter street manicurist who was killed by Irving E. Olmstead of Newtonville several weeks ago, took out papers for an insurance policy of $1,000 several days before her death, it became known yesterday. That amount was to be made payable to her sister.

Final papers, it was learned, had not been passed to make possible the passing over to her of the policy. She was to get the papers, it was said, the day following the shooting.

Yes it is true Mrs Moores had entered into negotiations for the taking out of an insurance policy of $1,000 with the Prudential Life Insurance Co. by Violet Lackey of [illegible]

Mrs Moores took out the preliminary papers two days before her death. [illegible] was to be made payable to her sister. [illegible] Miss Lackey, however.

WIFE VISITS OLMSTEAD.

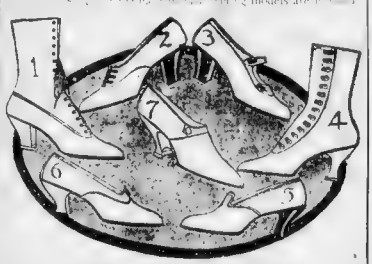
Irving E. Olmstead, Mrs Moores' [illegible] Winter street jail where he is held without bail on the charge of murder. [illegible] Mrs. Olmstead [illegible] Mrs. Olmstead [illegible] Mrs. Olmstead

THE SHEPARD STORES.

SHEPARD NORWELL COMPANY — TREMONT ST., WINTER ST., TEMPLE PL.

THOUGH Stylish Shoes and Crippled Feet are generally at cross purposes, almost any woman can comfortably wear the new styles in

Dorothy Dodd SHOES for SPRING



No. 1—$5.00—Black shoe soap kid, lace boot, with Cuban Louis heels of leather, white stitching, 8-inch top, plain toe.
No. 2—$4.00—"Meadowbrook" pump of gun metal, light welt sole, Cuban heels.
No. 3—$4.25—"Aristo" pump of gun metal, Cuban heels, light welt soles, criss lifting.
No. 4—$6.00—High boot of gray kid, plain toe, leather Cuban Louis heels—same in black kid, button or lace, $5.00.
No. 5—$4.50—"Colonial" pump of mat kid, leather Louis heels, light welt soles.
No. 6—$5.00—"Gotham" pump of mat kid, Cuban Louis heels of leather, welt soles.
No. 7—$4.00—"Chin Chin" pump of gun metal, high waist model, Cuban heels and welt soles. (Temple Place—First Floor)

Luncheon or Dinner—in the Colonial Restaurant

No Tips.

GIRLS' $5.00 DRESSES $2.95

Illustrated—Norfolk waist; full plaited skirt; striped trimmings to match. Sizes 8 to 14.

$1.50 DRESS 95c

Illustrated—White linene. Sizes 6 to 14.

$1.00 MIDDIES 79c

Illustrated—Made of heavy white jean. Sizes 8 to 20.

$5.00 SKIRTS 3.75

—Sport skirts of fancy plaids and serges with full circular bottom. Patch pocket and belt trimmed. Sizes 14, 15, 17.

$6 DRESSES 3.95

—Sheer white voiles and linens with the new crumbler valence skirt and bishop sleeve. All lace trimmings. Sizes 6 to 14.

(Winter Street—Second Floor)

$2.25 Universal Bread Mixer

$1.89

—Cleanest, easiest, best method of making bread at home.

This Universal is a four-loaf size.

$1.25 Universal Food Chopper 98c

—Universal again—no better made. This is a family size, with four different cutters.

Androck Ovens.. 47c

—Save 25% on the gas bills. Bakers, roasters, cookers and heaters, all in one.

(Housewares—Winter Street—Fourth Floor)

Before trying on New Clothes It will profit you greatly to

HAVE YOUR CORSET FITTED

A Corps of Trained Corsetieres at Your Service

Every Corset made is intended for a particular figure and certain lines. To buy a Corset without having it fitted to your particular figure is just as bad, or worse, than if you were to buy Shoes without regarding size in length or width.

There are lines in every figure to be overcome or brought out by correct corseting—a service which we are prepared to give YOU and are giving thousands of women.

Every figure is carefully studied—corset wearing talks its hygienic purpose, as well as contributing to grace and beauty.

Come to the Corset Section and ask for the corsetiere, or make an appointment by mail, or telephone to suit your convenience in the matter of time or place.

—Pictured is the Nemo self-reducing corset that insures style, comfort and durability, and meets every requirement of modern dress.

$3.00—and fitted by graduate corsetieres of the Nemo Hygienic Institute.

(Tremont Street—Third Floor)

Shepard Economy Dresses

PIQUE DRESSES $2.75

Women's fine corded white pique dresses, high or low neck, fitted belt and ¾ sleeves. Unusual value at $2.75. Illustrated

PARTY DRESSES $9.50

Women's and misses' taffeta and crepe de chine party frocks with round necks, short sleeves and tiered waist.

BATH ROBES $1.25

Women's terry cloth robes with long sleeves, sailor collars and cuffs. Illustrated

UP TO 75c SACQUES 39c

Women's flannelette dressing sacques in blue and pink. Sizes 36 to 44.

(Winter Street—Second Floor)

A Grouping of Women's New

$1.50 GOWNS AT $1.19

—Hemstitched gowns, high neck, with long sleeve.

—Pink batiste, cambric or muslin gowns, low neck style.

Crepe gowns, full embroidered. Lawn gowns. All sizes 15 to 17. Choice $1.19

(Tremont Street—Third Floor)

DON'T LET THE OLD MACHINE MAKE YOU OLD, TOO!

The "New Era" Sewing Machine Club

Makes It Oh-So-Easy to Own One

TABLE OF WEEKLY PAYMENTS
$0.05	.55	1.05	3.55
.10	.60	1.10	4.00
.15	.65	1.15	4.65
.20	.70	1.20	4.70
.25	.75	1.25	4.75
.30	.80	1.70	4.80
.35	.85	1.15	4.85
.40	.90	1.40	4.90
.45	.95	1.45	4.95
.50	1.00	1.50

5¢ "Save as you Sew" SECURES IMMEDIATE DELIVERY OF A 1916 "Standard Rotary" Sit-Straight Sewing Machine

THIS PAYMENT PLAN is the simplest, easiest and best ever devised. The first week you pay 5c, then each week thereafter you pay 5c more than the previous week—continuing until the machine is paid for.

THIS CLUB IS LIMITED TO 750 MEMBERS. ALL DESIRED MACHINES OF CHOICE OF SIX STYLES

This Club is positively limited to 750 members. All desirous will soon be enrolled. Don't miss it. It never got one of these bargains. JOIN NOW.

For further information—Write or call at Sewing Machine store. All questions answered—club agreements and machines shown and explained.

(Temple Place—Third Floor)

SHEPARD NORWELL COMPANY

OPEN FIGHT ON ILLICIT DRUG TRADE

Hearing on Three Bills at State House Tomorrow; Clergymen Approve Hearst Papers' Policy

The legislative Committee on Public Health will tomorrow hear three important bills drawn with the intention of securing uniform legislation on food and drugs.

This hearing was postponed last week at the request of Dr. Francis X. Maroney of the Boston Board of Health. Much interest is manifested in these bills, which are aimed at the illicit drug traffic, and a large attendance is expected.

In the meantime letters commending Mr. Hearst for refusing to accept [illegible] AMERICAN on the Farming crops contest is to be received.

Rev. Clarence W. Denham, pastor of the Phillips Congregational Church, No. 49 M street, South Boston, writes: Editor Boston AMERICAN:

Permit me to congratulate you and the AMERICAN on the stand taken in eliminating whiskey and ardent liquor advertising matter from the AMERICAN. I wish every paper would do such. Success to you in this line of endeavor. Sincerely,

C. W. DENHAM

REV. H. CLINTON HAY.

Rev. H. Clinton Hay, associate pastor of the Church of the New Jerusalem, Bowdoin street, Boston, writes Editor Boston AMERICAN:

[illegible] good for you. Keep it up. [illegible] a copy of Mr. Hearst's [illegible] would be advertising, free of the [illegible] Boston AMERICAN.

[illegible] Rev. H. CLINTON HAY.

DANIEL A. POLING.

Another letter was received from Daniel A. Poling, associate [illegible] of the United Society of Christian Endeavor. This letter reads:

Editor Boston AMERICAN:

[illegible] AMERICAN'S [illegible] ments and also all advertisements of medicines containing alcohol or opium in Sabbath [illegible] and [illegible] all [illegible] and [illegible] pleasure by men, is most gratifying to our organization. We commend the step without stint.

We agree with Mr. Hearst that it is the duty of newspapers to follow their best light as guardians of the public health. Our organization, with its more than four million young men and young women also believes that the proposition of the sale of alcohol is falling into the classes named in [illegible]

[illegible] DANIEL A. POLING, Associate Secretary.

REV. EDWARD M. NOYES.

Writing from Newton Centre, Rev. Edward MacArthur Noyes, pastor of the First Church in Newton, says:

Editor Boston AMERICAN:

[illegible] are taking a public stand in advertising the advertising of intoxicants, and I agree with Mr. Hearst that it [illegible]

[illegible] EDWARD M. NOYES

Thousands to Join in Night Parade to City's Novel Celebration.

Mayor Newhall in his "Dress Up Week" [illegible]

Everybody Joins in Campaign. Merchants to Contend for Show Windows Honor.

[illegible] clothes aside for the [illegible] the business [illegible]

Wednesday the retailers will [illegible] to out-do each other in dressing their show windows.

For [illegible] women entering the [illegible] press next on Thursday there will [illegible] a prize for [illegible] Most Fashionable [illegible] and on Friday, [illegible] will be [illegible] by Mayor Newhall, for the best dressed [illegible] in town as decided by a committee [illegible]

[illegible] the school children [illegible] day [illegible] will be released [illegible] Mayor will present cash prizes [illegible] ed by the Chamber of Commerce [illegible] the Essex street [illegible] Up Week [illegible] the names of the [illegible] patronize [illegible]

[illegible] prize [illegible] Chamber of Commerce [illegible] Washington [illegible] Essex [illegible] Washington [illegible] Dress Up Week [illegible] [illegible] Washington [illegible] [illegible] Washington [illegible] [illegible] Washington

Main Sheet—Part II
INCLUDING WANT ADS.
SUNDAY, MARCH 26, 1916.

Boston American

Sunday Circulation — Largest in New England

Main Sheet—Part II
SUNDAY, MARCH 26, 1916.

SENATORS FEASTED DEATH OF TAX BILL

Legislative Counsel Innes Insists Cafe Gathering Was Purely Accidental; at the Theatre, Too

Motion to Reconsider to Come Up Tomorrow; McCall Says Moral Promise to People Is Broken

On the night of the day the bill taxation amendment was killed by the Senate, several members of that body, and of the House, and with dinner in Louis Cafe with Charles H Innes of Ward 10, a well known legislative Counsel. They later went to the theatre with Mr Innes.

The gossip of the State House is that this was in honor of a bill more important amendment this.

The name of Senator Calder, Peabody, appeared on the taxation reform bill should be killed.

Mr. Innes is legislative counsel matters in which interested.

It is said that another proposition is to defeat of the bill, but Mr Innes says this action is "utterly absurd." More than that he said it is "utterly foolish."

But the fact remains that was a meeting of the committee.

SENATORS SOMBRE ALL.

And the Senate, dead, temperance records of the Legislature. They assembled who voted year after year ed said.

The Senate and Mr Innes to attend "You gave a members of the night, Mr Innes.

"I did not," Mr Innes replied.

"You were the same Mr Innes.

"I did not," Mr Innes replied.

"What are you taxation amendment, Mr Innes?"

"I have Mr Innes.

"Thank you, Mr Innes.

"Say what you Innes in a be an anxious

"UTTERLY ABSURD."

"Reports of the State House have it that you were responsible for killing the taxation amendment. You gave a dinner to the night and some of the members voted against the amendment."

"It is absurd. It is utterly ridiculous.

"What is the reason you killed the taxation amendment?"

"I have no reason to give. I voted against it on the merits of the bill. I voted against it because I thought it was unfair. I voted against it because I thought it was unjust. I voted against it because I thought it was unsound. I voted against it because I thought it was unwise. I voted against it because I thought it was unconstitutional. I voted against it because I thought it was unfair to the people of the State. I voted against it because I thought it was unfair to the taxpayers of the State. I voted against it because I thought it was unfair to the business men of the State. I voted against it because I thought it was unfair to the farmers of the State. I voted against it because I thought it was unfair to the laborers of the State. I voted against it because I thought it was unfair to the poor people of the State. I voted against it because I thought it was unfair to the rich people of the State. I voted against it because I thought it was unfair to the middle class people of the State. I voted against it because I thought it was unfair to the upper class people of the State. I voted against it because I thought it was unfair to the lower class people of the State. I voted against it because I thought it was unfair to the people of the State. I voted against it because I thought it was unfair to the people of the State. I voted against it because I thought it was unfair to the

REALTY MEN DIVIDED AS TO WISDOM OF PERMITTING BUILDING HEIGHTS TO GO UP TO 125 FEET THROUGHOUT CITY

REAL ESTATE CONDITIONS UNCHANGED

Suburban and Farm Property Patiently Waiting Spring to Open

BY H. R. SAUTELL,
Real Estate Editor.

Expert Advice Free on All Real Estate Matters

If you want to buy, sell or exchange real estate, rent a house or store, or have any question regarding real estate matters, write to the AMERICAN, enclosing a stamped envelope, and the information you desire will be furnished you free of charge.

1—Write out the question clearly on postal or letter paper.

2—Sign your name and address and state whether you desire the answer by mail or in the AMERICAN.

3—Forward the question addressed to the Real Estate Information Bureau, Boston AMERICAN, Boston, Mass.

4—Then watch for the answer in this section every Sunday.

ANSWERS TO REAL ESTATE INQUIRIES

Send Your Difficulty Concerning Real Estate Matters to Us

Address all questions to the Real Estate Information Bureau, Boston AMERICAN. Questions should be plainly written on one side of the paper. Full name and address of the inquirer must accompany the questions, will be discarded. Replies to inquiries by letter cannot be made. Look for a reply. While personal replies cannot be given, the AMERICAN does not guarantee nor will it be held responsible for the nature of the replies. Where in the opinion of the Style is involved or merits may be subjected to delay of one or two weeks.

N. T. H.—You should be able to

GENERAL TIMES HIGHLY SELL

BACK BAY

BEACON HILL

CAMBRIDGE

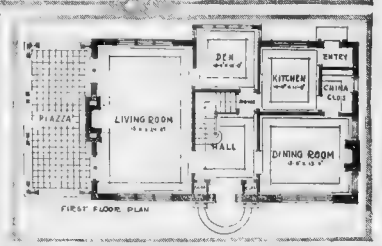
CHARLESTOWN

DORCHESTER

REALTY SPLIT ON HEIGHTS OF BUILDINGS

Leading Among Realty Interests Favoring Increased Building Heights

Building Activity at Larchwood To Build Seven New Structures



Sketch by Architect Charles R. Greenough, showing floor plan of colonial house under construction at Tech Land Purchase, Larchwood, Cambridge.

BUILDERS! HERE'S A CHANCE FOR YOU

Hingham Reader Writes of a Fine Chance to Put Up a Dozen Houses in That Town.

Renewal of Building Activity at Larchwood With Approach of Spring.

Boston May Have Big Building for Real Estate Men

Facts About Mortgages Owners Should Know

Pertinent Points to Guide Lender and Borrower on Real Estate

This is the tenth of a series of articles—each complete in itself—prepared expressly for the home-builder or investor who is inexperienced in real estate matters. The articles deal with every phase of the purchase and construction of a home. The next article in the series will appear next Sunday. Questions concerning these articles should be addressed to the Real Estate Editor, Boston American.

The mortgage is the medium through which most land is financed. The farmer, the merchant and the manufacturer of every line of industry is dependent upon it. It imparts fluidity to the realty market.

Without the mortgage real estate would still be bought and sold. But its purchase and sale would be so restricted that the real estate broker would starve.

This is easy to understand. Nine out of every ten pieces of urban real estate are subject to mortgages. Here is the purchaser buys only the equity. The amount of cash which changes hands represents the difference between the total value of the property and the amount of the mortgage.

If every man who wanted to own a home had saved enough to buy it outright few would own their own. If every buyer of real estate would wait until he had the money to pay for it in full, only a few of the necessary improvements in the development properties would ever be made.

The relation between the mortgage and the real estate market is so close that the one cannot be understood without the other. When money is tight, real estate is dull. When money is plentiful, real estate is active. Whether the mortgage is a blessing or a curse depends entirely upon the point of view.

If every man who wanted to own a home had saved enough to buy it outright few would own their own. If every buyer of real estate would wait until he had the money to pay for it in full, only a few of the necessary improvements in the development properties would ever be made.

The relation between the mortgage and the real estate market is so close that the one cannot be understood without the other. When money is tight, real estate is dull. When money is plentiful, real estate is active. Whether the mortgage is a blessing or a curse depends entirely upon the point of view.

MORTGAGE SHOULD HAVE TITLE TO PARCEL EXAMINED.

WHEN LOAN IS REPAID TRANSFER BECOMES VOID

CARE MORTGAGES ARE DANGEROUS FOR MORTGAGOR.

NEWTON HOUSE SOLD.

BLY LOTS ON WELD ESTATE.

EDISON CO. BUYS DORCHESTER TRACT

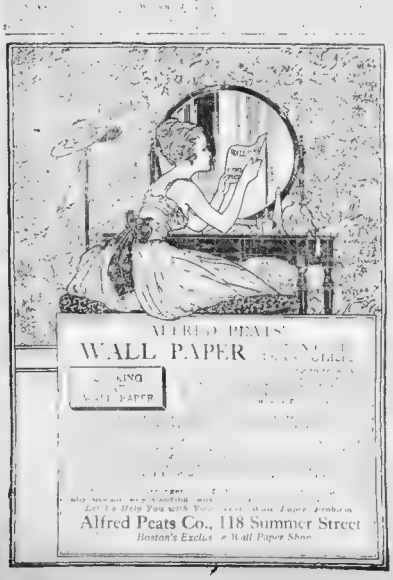
BUYS CHELSEA LAND FOR FACTORY SITE

BUY JAMAICA PLAIN HOUSE.

SALE IN DORCHESTER.

Colonial House in West Roxbury

Above is shown the structure recently built for James G. Anderson at No. 140 Theodore Parker road, corner Shirmer road, West Roxbury. The house is of the Colonial architecture. It is built of stucco, with a slate hip roof. The architects were Simons, McNaughton & Robinson. The house contains eight rooms and bath.



Let Us Help You with Your ... Wall Paper Problem

Alfred Peats Co., 118 Summer Street

Boston's Exclusive Wall Paper Shop

THE SHORT CUT TO A HOME OF YOUR OWN IS THROUGH AMERICAN'S REAL ESTATE ADS

ONCE AGAIN I SAY TO YOU

AVOID [illegible]

NO MATTER WHAT KIND OF PROPERTY

HENRY H. SENDERS

1888 Massachusetts Av., Harvard Sq., Cambridge

For Sale—Miscellaneous

Strout's New Spring Catalogue

"MONEY MAKING FARMS" just out; describes in detail a large assortment of money making farms with stock and tools included. Terms, [illegible] of all the land a d free map and [illegible]

3d Acres, $1,250
Bordering Salt Wa[illegible]

FOR [illegible]
[illegible]

140 Acres, $2800
Stock and Tools Included

NEAR [illegible]

Southern New Hampshire

[illegible]

Fine 12-Acre Farm

[illegible]

12 Acres, $1,100
Between Boston and Providence

[illegible]

TIMBERLANDS

[illegible]

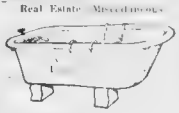
FOR SALE—A twelve acre Heller mower, one grass for single or [illegible] Engine, [illegible] fountain in good condition. C. A. PYPE, 10 Prescott st., Malden, Mass.

A COMPLETE [illegible]
All [illegible]
only th[illegible]
the [illegible]

EDISON [illegible]

THE EDISON ELECTRIC ILLUMINA[illegible] OF BOSTON

Real Estate Miscellaneous



Real Estate Miscellaneous

COMPLETE plans of this pretty 6-room bungalow, $1[illegible], can be built for $2,500 complete. Send 10c for [illegible] of Bungalows and 2-family houses. Sketch and plans prepared only $5 [illegible] Architect, 16 Tremont st., Boston, Mass.

QUESTION?
Get Busy on Your Fence Quest
GET PRICES

[illegible]

Security Fence Erecting Co

[illegible]

ACRE OCEAN FRONT
$200, $5 Down, $5 Month

[illegible]

Stock and Tools Included

[illegible]

FOR SALE [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

WHAT HAVE [illegible]

[illegible] W. SAVAGE, Inc., 120

FOR SALE

[illegible] SOUTH OF BOSTON

Fine 12-Acre Farm

AT WRENTHAM [illegible]

90,000 ROLLS
WALL PAPER

FARM OF 20 ACRES

WOULD YOU PICK UP $10 [illegible]

G. [illegible] MAHAKIAN

TIMBERLANDS

CAPE COD SHORE FRONTAGE

[illegible]

Real Estate Agents

Real Estate Agents

Real Estate Agents

Real Estate Bo[illegible]

Real Estate—Belmont

FOR SALE—[illegible] Ware by owner; [illegible] Jack "NELSON," Waverley sq. Tel. 600 Belmont.

For $908 Complete

DOG TO HESTER

VILLAGE [illegible]
CANTON

LAND AT [illegible]

MAP
[illegible]

HOUGHTS NE[illegible]
[illegible]

PAINT $1 A GAL

Paroy Paint Works

BACK BAY [illegible]

WINDSOR [illegible]

Wood [illegible]

Woo[illegible]
AT [illegible]

Real Estate Wanted

Properties [illegible]

Real Estate Wanted

Real Estate Wanted

Real Estate Wanted

Real Estate Wanted

Real Estate Wanted

HARRIS, 849 Main st.

SOMERVILLE HOME BUILDING ASSOCIATION

LARGEST BUILDERS
Modern Homes in New England
[illegible] HOUSES SOLD LAST YEAR
15 SOLD IN ONE MONTH
20 HOUSES FOR SALE NOW

TO REAL ESTATE OWNERS

[illegible] MONTAGUE

NEW STORES

[illegible] MENTS

City of Boston

[illegible]

PUBLIC AUCTION

New Store

[illegible] JOHNSON [illegible] Co.

MONEY TO LOAN

[illegible] MERCHANTS
COMMERCIAL BANKS

TO LET OR SELL

[illegible] PROPERTY
AND WATER [illegible]

[illegible] MONEY

[illegible]

Real Estate Wanted

Real Estate Somerville

Real Estate Wanted

WOLLASTON PARK

[illegible]

[illegible]

Real Estate Wanted

[illegible]

Real Estate Wanted

[illegible]

Real Estate Wanted

[illegible]

Real Estate Wanted

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

WELL KEPT FURNISHED ROOMS IN ALL PARTS OF BOSTON ARE ADVERTISED HERE TODAY

Continued From Preceding Page

Apartments—Boston.

THE LIN...
...ITIES
...perfect...
...room...
...Bath...
...JANI...
...Boston...

Apartments—Newton.

BRIGHT, CHEERFUL
5-ROOM SUITES
Just Complet... R...

Apartments—Ev...

HILL
IN OUR ...
and houses ...
Parker ...
We have ...
...ROOMS $7 ...
...ROOMS $8 ...
...ROOMS $9 ...
...ROOMS $10 ...
...ROOMS $11 ...
...ROOMS $12 ...
...ROOMS $13 ...
...ROOMS $14 ...
...ROOMS $15 ...
...ROOMS $16 ...
...ROOMS $17 ...
...ROOMS $18 ...
...ROOMS $19 ...
...ROOMS $20 ...
...ROOMS $21 ...
...ROOMS $22 ...
...ROOMS $23 ...
...ROOMS $24 ...
...ROOMS $25 ...
...ROOMS $26 ...
...ROOMS $27 ...
...ROOMS $28 ...
...ROOMS $29 ...
...ROOMS $30 ...
...ROOMS $31 ...
...ROOMS $32 ...
...ROOMS $33 ...
...ROOMS $34 ...
...ROOMS $35 ...
...ROOMS $36 ...
...ROOMS $37 ...
...ROOMS $38 ...
...ROOMS $39 ...
...ROOMS $40 ...
...ROOMS $41 ...
...ROOMS $42 ...
...ROOMS $43 ...
...ROOMS $44 ...
...ROOMS $45 ...
...ROOMS $46 ...
...ROOMS $47 ...
...ROOMS $48 ...
...ROOMS $49 ...
...ROOMS $50 ...
...ROOMS $51 ...
...ROOMS $52 ...
...ROOMS $53 ...
...ROOMS $54 ...
...ROOMS $55 ...
...ROOMS $56 ...
...ROOMS $57 ...
...ROOMS $58 ...
...ROOMS $59 ...
...ROOMS $60 ...
...ROOMS $61 ...
...ROOMS $62 ...
...ROOMS $63 ...
...ROOMS $64 ...
...ROOMS $65 ...
...ROOMS $66 ...
...ROOMS $67 ...
...ROOMS $68 ...
...ROOMS $69 ...
...ROOMS $70 ...
...ROOMS $71 ...
...ROOMS $72 ...
...ROOMS $73 ...
...ROOMS $74 ...
...ROOMS $75 ...
...ROOMS $76 ...
...ROOMS $77 ...
...ROOMS $78 ...
...ROOMS $79 ...
...ROOMS $80 ...
...ROOMS $81 ...
...ROOMS $82 ...
...ROOMS $83 ...
...ROOMS $84 ...
...ROOMS $85 ...
...ROOMS $86 ...
...ROOMS $87 ...
...ROOMS $88 ...
...ROOMS $89 ...
...ROOMS $90 ...
...ROOMS $91 ...
...ROOMS $92 ...
...ROOMS $93 ...
...ROOMS $94 ...
...ROOMS $95 ...
...ROOMS $96 ...
...ROOMS $97 ...
...ROOMS $98 ...
...ROOMS $99 ...
...ROOMS $100 ...

Apartments—Orient Heights.

NEW ... Bath, 5 rooms ... all ... Narrow ...

Apartments—Revere.

...Beach ...

Apartments—Roslindale.

...
...
...

BUSINESS MEN AND HOUSEWIVES GET BEST HELP THROUGH AMERICAN HELP WANTED AD

Male Help Wanted

A CHAUFFEUR'S LICENSE FOR THE ASKING

Will [illegible] the paper written on [illegible] to keep your car [illegible] Automobile

[illegible]

BOSTON Y. M. C. A. AUTOMOBILE SCHOOL

316 HUNTINGTON AVE., BOSTON, MASS.

WEAVERS

WANTED—[illegible] woolens [illegible] Apply to SAXONVILLE MILLS, Portsmouth, N. H.

Male Help Wanted.

WANTED

SCRAPERS and ASSEMBLERS

ALSO ENGINE LATHE OPERATORS

[illegible] one of the [illegible] shops in [illegible] town, where best of sanitary and living conditions prevail. Apply

PUTNAM MACHINE CO.

Fitchburg, Mass.

25 PAINTERS WANTED

AT ONCE

FORE RIVER SHIPBUILDING CORP.

QUINCY, MASS.

Floor Moulders

WANTED—Steady work. Apply KEITH FOUNDRY & MACHINE CO., [illegible], Mass.

MEN WANTED AT ONCE!

To [illegible] [illegible] Apply at once to [illegible] Mass.

1000 MORE MEN WANTED

[illegible] Men [illegible] wages [illegible] board for [illegible] of Cooperative Contracts [illegible] Mass. Learning locomotive designing, now [illegible] Station of Boston. ALMY SMITH BLDG.

LEARN WIRELESS.

[illegible] Chauffeurs' School of [illegible]

MOULDERS WANTED.

[illegible] Apply [illegible] Mass. Address [illegible]

AUTO INSTRUCTION

$30—PLUS, SHOP and road [illegible] both [illegible] to [illegible] [illegible] Boston [illegible] and [illegible] Dudley Motor [illegible]

GAS ENGINE POWER CO.

CHARLES T. [illegible]

Morris Heights [illegible]

MILLING MACHINE HANDS

[illegible]

AUTO LESSONS, $5.

[illegible] 74 West [illegible]

Job, 2 NICE [illegible]

[illegible] Mass.

PLUMBERS WANTED

[illegible] RAYMOND AGENCY, Washington St., Boston.

PLUMBERS AND MILLS

[illegible] RAYMOND AGENCY, 294 Washington St., Boston.

FLOOR LAYER wanted, [illegible] WALTER A. SMITH & CO., 247 State St., Lewiston, Me.

[illegible] [illegible] 50c hour. ROOM 200, 24 [illegible]

LADIES, POSITIONS [illegible] 74 West [illegible]

APARTMENT POSITIONS [illegible] Mass.

MEN AND BOYS wanted for [illegible] Apply [illegible] Mass.

MACHINE [illegible] Mass.

MEN AND BOYS wanted for [illegible] Mass.

WANTED [illegible] Mass.

SALESMEN Wanted to [illegible] Mass.

ENGINEERING SCHOOL [illegible] Huntington av.

WORKINGMEN

Take Notice

Working clothing of all kinds is going up in price in leaps and bounds almost every day. We have a big stock at the old price. Buy now what you need in that line for Spring wear and make a big saving from what you will have to pay later on.

LARGEST WORKINGMAN'S STORE IN NEW ENGLAND

UNION HAT CO.

139 to 147 Hanover St.

ONE STORE THAT SAVES YOU MONEY.

Male Help Wanted.

WANTED AT ONCE—First-class toolmakers, experienced on gauges and jigs. PRECISION TOOL CO., Canton, Mass.

WANTED—FIRST CLASS GRINDER HANDS familiar with Norton and [illegible]

[illegible]

Raincoat Makers Wanted

[illegible]

Radio Telegraphy

[illegible]

Boston School of Telegraphy

18 BOYLSTON ST., Boston, Mass.

WANTED

WOOLEN WEAVERS

KNOWLES loom, one loom work.

ADVOCATE WOOLEN CO., Taunton, Mass.

Wanted—Two Expert MACHINISTS

Steady work.

GEO. [illegible] COMPANY, Quincy, Mass.

ITALIAN MEN

WANTED [illegible]

[illegible]

BOOKKEEPER

[illegible]

BOY [illegible]

[illegible]

BOY WANTED

[illegible]

BOY WANTED

To learn [illegible] trade. Apply JOHN WOLF [illegible]

Male Help Wanted

WANTED IRON BED MAKERS

[illegible]

SILK AND DRESS GOODS SALESMEN

[illegible]

Messenger Boys

SPARE TIME WORK

[illegible]

12 AUTO LESSONS, $10

[illegible]

BOYS WANTED.

[illegible]

BOY WANTED

[illegible]

Acids and Chemicals

Assistant Buyer

[illegible]

McDOWELL'S SCHOOL of [illegible] Dressmaking and [illegible]

[illegible] Copley Place, Boston

WANTED

EXPERIENCED MILLINERY SHOPGIRLS

[illegible]

WANTED

[illegible]

SALESWOMEN

[illegible]

Sept. 1st [illegible]

8:30 a.m.

R. H. WHITE CO.

GIRLS

OPERATORS

[illegible]

WANTED

OPERATORS

[illegible]

LAUNDRY HELP

[illegible]

OPERATORS

[illegible]

PAPER [illegible]

[illegible]

EXPERIENCED GIRLS WANTED

[illegible]

LAUNDRY HELP

[illegible]

WAISTMAKER

[illegible]

Plain [illegible]

Female Help [illegible]

[illegible]

Trading Stamps and Coupons

ALL KINDS GREEN STAMPS

[illegible]

GREEN, GOLD STAMPS

[illegible]

SUCCESSFUL POULTRY RAISERS READ BOSTON AMERICAN POULTRY NEWS AND ADS

The Park & Pollard Co.

"BABY BUSTER CHICK FEED

LAY OR BUST FEEDS

TRADE MARK

Be sure to get Park & Pollard BABY BUSTER CHICK FEED. ... find that contains fish ... then she won't ... She says she ... this feed."

Attention. Fellow Poultrymen:

PREPARED FOR ...

... ALL ...

... FEED ...

COPYRIGHT 1910 BY THE PARK & POLLARD CO

"EVERY CHICKEN WORTH A DOLLAR"

... THE PARK & POLLARD Co. Boston

CHICKENS NEED SUNSHINE AND AIR

EGGS FOR HATCHING EQUAL TO ANY

ANIMAL FOOD IN ALL GRAIN RATION

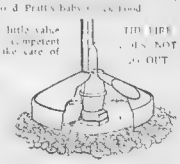
FISH IN FEEDS COMPLETE RESULTS

GIVE YOUR CHICKENS PLENTY OF ROOM

Headquarters in Boston

... Baby Buster Chick Feed and ... Pratt's Baby Chick Feed

"BUILT" ... of little value ... competent ... to take care of ...



THE HEN THAT DOES NOT LAY OUT

... soldiers and ... Brooder of the same type costing ... more

SOLD UNDER A POSITIVE MONEY BACK GUARANTEE

Buffalo and Buckeye Standard Incubators

BABY $15.00 per 100 CHICKENS, in Barred or White Rocks and R. I. Reds. One week old White Leghorns $14.00 per 100.

THE CARLETON-CLARK CO.

The Park & Pollard Old Stand,

46 Canal St., Boston. Phone Haymarket 4370

And don't you forget this

The Park & Pollard Co.

46 Canal St., Boston, Mass.

Poultry and Supplies

EVERETT, MASS.

J. H. SMALL & CO.

... POULTRY SUPPLIES OF ALL KINDS; PARK ... AND GRAIN

... CARTER STREET

Peirce & Winn Co.

Agents for

Park & Pollard's

"BABY BUSTER" CHICK FEEDS

... Street, Arlington, Mass.

BUST FEED CHEAPEST IN END

A. C. BROWN,

90 Union Street, Lynn

DISTRIBUTORS OF

"Baby Buster Chick Feed"

WE CARRY A COMPLETE LINE OF

Poultry Feeds and Supplies

NO LINE SOLD BE... COMPLETE WITHOUT

PARK & POLLARD'S

C. W. BOWKER & CO., Inc.

... 124 CENTRAL STREET WORCESTER ... MASS.

Poultry and Supplies

Hillpot's Quality Chicks

THE GREATEST VALUE FOR THE PRICE

THEY ARE HATCHED RIGHT!

WHITE ...

R. I. RED CHICKS

Utility chicks, 15c each; pure Tom ... kins str... from hea... W... created ... ing qu... will ... SKEN... Mas...

BABY CHICKS

... Poultry W...

EGGS FOR HATCHING ...

CHICKS AND EGGS

Custom Hatching

DAY OLD CHICKS

Telephone Your Want Ads

BOSTON AMERICAN MAIN 5180

THEY WILL APPEAR IN NEXT EDITION

WHITE ... ROCKS

BUFF ROCKS

The CHITTY POULTRY HOUSE and YARD

S. C. White Leghorns

HOMESTEAD ... CAMPINI

WE PAY MORE!

Indian Hill Farm, Inc.

... Trapnested Pedigreed ...

FEED CHART

YOUNG'S Portable Poultry Houses

The Anthon Poult... Co.

COMMERCIAL ...

... Holstead P...

EGGS FOR HATCHING

WE BUILD YOUR OWN POULTRY HOUSES

Best Pullets SCRATCH FEEDS

"ROSSMERE" WHITE PLYMOUTH ROCKS

TANCAZER

Bellston Hill Poultry Farm

Home-Made Bro...

CHICKS

... EGGS

S. C. BLACK MI...

POULTRY KEEPERS

Holbrook, Mass.

... Road P. O. NASH, 1212 Beech ... Dedham

Poultry and Supplies

BROOKS DRY MASH

... by the State Chemist at the Massa... Agricultural Experimental Station at Amherst, ... 5, and the others from Massachusetts ... No. 51 October 15th, 1915

	Fat	Fiber
Brooks Dry Mash....	22.42%	5.79%	8.09%

... protein and fat than any other ... State Chemist of Massachusetts. Mail orders ... promptly. Made and sold ONLY, by

Stanley Grain Company

$2.25 per hundred ... Lawrence, Mass. Tel. 214

PRICES CUT!

HATCHING EGGS BY MAIL

Manse Farm Poultry Yards

... Land Poultry Farm ... WHITE ... for ...

An Automobile Is Not a Luxury

... a luxury. It is a pleasure—a very ... But few ... uses it for pleasure only. He ... a wonderful time saver and ... like their motorcars pay for them- ... just a ... sum of money. Nowadays a ... moderate sum. There are some dand... ... today's

Boston American Want Ads

Two Want Ad Offices

... ST. ... 264 WASHINGTON ST.

(2 Doors North of Water st.)

USED CARS

A used car that has been overhauled and put in good condition will prove a satisfactory purchase to the man who is seeking real efficiency at a low price.

The automobiles advertised below are worthy bargains — if you contemplate the purchase of a car, it will do you well to investigate the various offerings.

Springtime Message

Langham Motor Car Co.
162 Columbus Ave., Boston
Telephone Oxford 156. Near Berkeley Street.

FOR TWELVE YEARS we have conducted an annual Spring sale of ... have been very successful. For the coming ... we have ... DURING ... we will demonstrate ... at ... ST. GUARANTEED ... demonstrate ... at ... invited to ... a partial list ...

1914 Chandler, 5-Pass., $650.
PERFECT shape. Call 162 Columbus av.

1916 Overland "83" Touring Car.
Like new. Call 162 Columbus av.

1914 Hupmobile Roadster $350.
MOTOR overhauled. Call 162 Columbus av.

$550—1915 Overland "90."
PERFECT shape. Call LANGHAM.

$625—Hupmobile Roadster $225
PERFECT shape. Call 162 Columbus av.

1915 Buick "6-55" 7-Pass. $875
Like new. Call 162 Columbus av.

1916 Brisco "4" Motor Boat.
ROADSTER ... Call ... LANGHAM.

1916 Chevrolet Touring.
LIKE NEW. Call 162 Columbus av.

$400—Chevrolet "Baby Grand."
TOURING CAR; see this car. Call 162 Columbus av.

$285—Ford Touring Car—$285
1915, FULLY equipped. Call LANGHAM.

$165—Metz Roadster.
1914. CALL at once. LANGHAM, 162 Columbus av.

$340—Stearns Chassis.
MAKE 2-ton truck. Call 162 Columbus av.

1912 Hupmobile, 5-Pass.
ONLY $85. ... Columbus av.

Must Be Sold by April 1st

J. W. BOWMAN CO.,
93 MASS. AVE.

J. W. Bowman Co., 93 Mass. Ave., sells all Velie Pleasure Cars at retail in Boston. We are giving up the space formerly devoted to retail business.

TOURING CARS AND ROADSTERS
1912—1914—1915—1916
Light Delivery
1-Ton, 2½-Ton, 4-Ton Trucks

Make Us an Offer. Terms or Cash.

Velie Motor Vehicle Co.
Tel. 5654 16 Amherst St.
Cambridge, Mass.
New England Distributors

STUTZ

SPRING SALE OF Touring, Roadsters, Bear Cat

USED CARS GOOD CARS VARIETY BARGAINS

To make sure of the best choice call early. New bar- ... phone, call or write for Demonstration

Becker-Stutz Automobile Co.
... Boylston St., Boston. Phone Back Bay 8083

TIRES! TIRES! TIRES!

... the weather we have twice as many tires on ... season of the year. Carloads arriving ... for new goods. Notice these wonderful ... GRADE SECOND TIRES. REMEMBER ... we will make good ... only concern that ...

...	...	$16.20	...
...	...	17.90	...
...	...	12.70	...
...	36x4½	17.90	...
...	37x5	20.70	...
...	...	Special Low prices

Cords shipped C. O. D. Subject to Examination.
State whether Straight Side, Quick Detachable or Clincher.
S-SKID 10% HIGHER.

GEORGE GROW TIRE CO.
21-323 Columbus Av., Boston
Tel. Back Bay 7020.

PROMPT CASH BUYERS ... WATHAM.

Chevrolet Roadster
1914 Model
... condition, motor ... equipped, ... WITH SUITZ ... Boston. Tel. ...

SAVES ... GASOLINE ... SAVER WITH CAR ... SAVER CO., ...

Automobile Repairs of Storage
418-424 WEST BROOKLINE ST.

AUTO TOPS

Tops RECOVERED dust and allow covers, all kinds of ... ALSO ... tops, ... Columbus av., Boston, tel. ...

FOR SALE

... Motor Cycle ... Demonstrator, ... condition. Extra ... for one year. ... Motor Cycle ... Call ... A. F. ... Eliot ... Tel. ...

2-Ton Lauth Juergens
... for sale, $850 ... terms. A. F. ... Eliot ... Tel. ...

BUTLER portable oil ... garage; fire and ... proof, window, ... shelf ... in price, strong, ... Send for ... MFG. ... Butler bldg., Kansas City.

1916 FORD RUNABOUT, in fine running ... Has ... and in good condition; ... very reasonable; tel. owners, ...

Priggen Steel Garage

Fireproof and Portable

Perfectly ... erected. Always ... clear and ... choice ... for erecting ... in any part of ... Boston.

Send for descriptive circular or Phone Lafayette 2164 or ...

PRIGGEN STEEL GARAGE CO.,
421 Atlantic Ave., Boston.

WANTED FOR CASH
... OLD OIL BURNER ... make, ... pay, ... sale. ... LOVELL, ... Tel. ...

ALL KINDS of parts, Packard car, whole or in parts; 6-cyl. Pathfinder Roadster, all or in parts; freeland rear ends, large and small stars, Packard wheels or in spokes, ... Peerless, Marmon ... Reo ... Stoddard Dayton ... Run rubber, Auto ... Main St. Exch., Pic. St. Exch., model 10 Buick 4-cyl. ... Hours, Maxwell, Mighty ... Cambridge, Mass. ... BAY VIEW AUTO PARTS CO., 150 H St., So. Boston ... P.

... PARTS ... 101 ... POINTS some ... 301 ... Main ... Cambridge ...

Make OFFER on a 4-pass. 1912 Firestone-Columbus, 4 new ... good ... for touring, seating $700 or a ... left 5-pass. Chalmers, also in splendid condition, asking $250, cash or terms. 196 Elm st., North Cambridge, Mass., tel. Somerville 5062.

WANTED—To buy or sell steam or gasoline cars for cash; don't make any difference how old, buy 'em anyway; we pay 50% better than other dealers; try us. BAY VIEW AUTO PARTS CO., 150 H St., So. Boston; tel. Fitzg. ...

George Grow Automobile Co.

324-326 Columbus Ave., Boston

1914 Cadillac ... $710
1913 Cadillac Touring ...
1912 Cadillac Touring... 350
1912 Cadillac Phaeton... 325
EVERY ONE of these popular high grade cars is in excellent condition and is a real opportunity. ... GROW.

1916 Hupmobile Touring, $850
... GROW.

1915 Reo "Six" Touring, $750
FAN TOUR ... like new and is in ... Must be sold ... equipped, electric ... and lights, ... starting, self-cranking ... GROW.

1913 Winton Roadster, $350
DUAL ... wheels and ... self-starting and ... lights; all ... GROW.

1915 Studebaker Touring, $550
... Boss and runs like a brand ... GROW.

1914 Buick Runabout, $550
IN extra fine mechanical condition, and ... GROW.

1913 Hudson "37" Touring, $400
EQUIPPED with Delco electric system and ... in fine mechanical condition, shows ... etc. Excellent. Thoroughly demonstrated and ... GROW.

1911 Peerless, 7-Pass., $300
BEEN OVERHAULED and repainted, and is a ... touring car, fine ... GROW.

1913 Oakland Runabout, $225
... GROW.

1913 Studebaker, 5-Pass., $325
... GROW.

1915 Ford Tourist Car, $300
1915 Ford Bus Body, $285
1914 Ford Touring, $250
1914 Ford Runabout, $235
10 TO SELECT FROM.
CALL at ... GROW.

TAKE OFF THE KIDS AND LEAVE THEM SPIRIT IN $12.50 $12.50 $12.50 $12.50
BOSTON STARTERS
10-DAY TRIAL
188 Columbus Ave

FORDS, touring cars, runabouts, trucks ... cash or terms. Autos to rent. Telephone Cambridge 2369. J. M. BARRY, 20 Green st., Cambridge, Mass.

10 H. P. 2-CYL. engine, 3-bubler carburetor, oil, propeller shaft, $75; will take smaller engine as part payment. A. W. STRONG, 609 Perry st., Everett.

CAR OWNERS ATTENTION

... car ... Wanted ... Ford ... Ford ... o'clock sharp. We don't print any price lists. We would be ashamed to ask the prices that some of the dealers ask. Call, write or telephone Back Bay ...

Boston Auto Ex. Exchange
364 Columbus Ave.

... Ford ... mileage, ... new or ... shape, all like new, $400. Phone Quincy 1567-M.

FORD ROADSTER $75. 1909 7-pass. landaulet body $125. 903 Washington st., Norwood.

Machinery and Tools.

SECOND-HAND
Machine Tools
Lathes, Shapers, Drills, Milling Machines, Turret Lathes, Planers, Speed Lathes, Grinders, etc. All ... represented.
Factory & Mill Supply Co.
137 OLIVER ST., BOSTON

FOR SALE, Mercer boiler, 15 sections, ... capacity, 11 engine, 7 years in ... modern plant. MR. WHITE ...

WANTED, Second hand large size 14"x ... lathe by Fisher & Norris or A. B. HALL'S SON, Charlestown, Mass.

Yachts, Boats and Engines.

... marine hardware for launches ... Boston.

Dogs, Pets, etc.

... Terrier ... Black ... 1 year old ... Mr. ...

... puppies, 1 year old ... Palmer ...

At Stud, Persian Cats

Horses and Carriages.

... at the BELLE ISLE STABLES on account of ... pair Vermont Pony ... weight, sound and kind ... Must be sold, good ... carts and ponies, used to farm ... pride, near ... Jersey cow ... 2 years old, ... Jersey cow ... 2 years old, ... Jersey cow ... 2 years old,

Jess Willard Says "Take Nuxated Iron

If you want plenty of 'stay there' Strength and Endurance and Health and Muscles like mine."

A hitherto [illegible] of his Great [illegible]

Ordinary nuxated iron will often increase the strength and endurance of delicate, nervous folks 200 per cent. in two weeks time.

I consider that plenty of iron in my blood is the secret of my great strength, power and endurance

Jess Willard

New Facts Tighten Net About Dr. Waite as Plotter After the Millions of Peck Family.

Mrs. Margaret Horton, revealed as the woman of mystery for whom Dr. Waite rented hotel apartment. It is believed he planned to add her to poison victims

WIFE SUSPECTED AND FLED FROM DR. WAITE

By International News Service

[illegible] Waite [illegible] Judge [illegible] Dr. Waite [illegible] Miller [illegible] Waite [illegible] Waite [illegible] Waite

Part III
Autos & Sports

Boston American
Leader of the New England

AUTOMOBILE SECTION

Part III
Autos & Sports

BOSTON, SUNDAY, MARCH 26, 1916

WILLARD WINNER FROM MORAN

CHAMPION'S OWN STORY OF FIGHT; BROKE HIS HAND

"I Would Have Knocked Him Out But for Fact That I Broke My Right Hand; I Had Him Nearly Taking the Count Under a Shower of Left Hooks in Seventh Round; He Deserves Credit"

By JESS WILLARD

Madison Square Garden, New York, March 25—I fought Frank Moran tonight and I beat him. That, I hope, proves to the people of New York I'm not so bad. In the first place, Moran deserves great credit, for he put up one of the gamest battles I know of. I hit him hard and often. Many times I staggered him, but he was always coming in for more.

My whole regret is that I broke my right hand. Only for that mishap I would surely have knocked Moran out. This is one of the fortunes of the ghlit world, so I'm not saying this for an alibi. All the newspaper boys came in after the battle and I saw that my hand was totally disabled.

Even under this terrible disadvantage I think I punished Moran enough to convince every spectator that I am his master. There was no part of the fight when I even felt loggy. Then the only good blow that Moran hit me was in the seventh, a right swing, but the effect was over in an instant.

It's a terrible handicap for a man to fight under a broken hand, but I did the best I could. In fact, I didn't tell my seconds about it until the fifth round. They found it when they noticed I wasn't driving my right with its usual force.

MORAN NEARLY TOOK COUNT UNDER SHOWER OF LEFT HOOKS.

The accident saved Moran from taking the count even with a broken hand. Moran came very nearly taking the count in the seventh, when I plastered him with a shower of left hooks. He was so weak that a real Willard right uppercut would have ended him right then and there.

If Frank Moran is the best of my rivals I won't do any worrying for some time. For his sake I am glad he lasted the distance. It will do him good, and there isn't anybody that wouldn't wish Moran luck, for he's a good, clean living, game man. The battle probably appeared rather slow, but when two big men clash they don't hop around like lightweights.

Every blow struck in this fight carried some power behind it. Many of the Moran blows would have hurt if I had let them land. I hope the thousands who gathered in this big arena will give me credit for knowing something about boxing and also about hitting.

Moran's battered countenance and his half-closed left eye is evidence that my right hand was good while it lasted. I said in this morning's paper that I figured on knocking Moran out with a right uppercut, but I never dreamed it would fail me, after it was going along swimmingly.

It was a pleasant reality for me to enter the ring tonight before such a representative audience. What made it very interesting was that in my last fight here I was advised and called "dirty" and other harsh names.

MORAN DESERVES CREDIT; WAS HARD, CLEAN STRUGGLE.

The contrast between that evening and tonight was startling, but very delightful. Now that this fight is over I will hasten back home to rejoin my little family. After about a month's recreation I will join the circus. That will keep me busy for many months. When that contract expires I will be ready to defend my title again. I am willing to meet the best man that can be selected.

This may have been my last fight in New York. If so, I can say "Good-bye" and carry away kind thoughts, for everybody here made it pleasant for me during the past four weeks.

As for Frank Moran, I only say he deserves all the credit in the world. It will take a good man to beat him.

JESS WILLARD and Frank Moran in their favorite ring pose. It will be noticed that both shape up about the same and depend upon straight fighting and stiff punching to win their battles.

"HURRAH! HURRAH!" EXCLAIMED MRS. WILLARD ON LEARNING NEWS OF HUSBAND'S VICTORY

CHICAGO, March 25.—"Hurrah! Hurrah!" exclaimed Mrs. Jess Willard when informed tonight that her husband had outpointed Frank Moran in New York. "I knew he would win. The only surprise to me is that he didn't knock Moran out. Nevertheless, I am happy, and will be a great deal happier Monday morning when Jess returns home."

The Fight by Rounds

New York, March 25.—The following is a round-by-round story of the Willard-Moran title bout, blow by blow:

ROUND ONE.

Moran [illegible] to the head. Willard landed a jab and followed with a right to the body.

[illegible] Willard [illegible] terrific right to the [illegible]. Moran [illegible] with [illegible] to [illegible] Moran's head.

ROUND TWO.

Willard jabbed to the head and they clinched. Moran missed a right to [illegible] Willard's ear. The blow maddened the champion and he rushed Moran furiously.

Moran ducked several jabs for the head and they clinched. Willard shot a terrific jab to Moran's jaw and drove the challenger to the ropes. When Frank came out Willard landed another right, but Moran's shoulder [illegible]

The men stood in the centre of the [illegible] and then [illegible] a terrific right to the body. He followed it with a one-two to the head and [illegible] the ropes with the head.

[illegible] Willard landed two uppercuts before they separated. Then, as Willard held back his right, Moran shot an awful left into Willard's stomach. Willard sent a right to Moran's [illegible] a push.

ROUND FIVE.

Willard opened with a terrific rush and forced Moran to the ropes. Moran landed a left to the stomach and Willard came back with a right smash that widened the cut over Moran's eye.

ROUND SIX.

They fell into a clinch as they came from their corners.

Moran but failed to hurt him. The [illegible]

ROUND SEVEN.

Willard opened with a terrific rush and forced Moran to the ropes. Moran [illegible] Willard's body, while he rushed with [illegible]

ROUND EIGHT.

Willard [illegible] Moran's face and [illegible] Willard's head.

ROUND NINE.

Willard opened with a right to the face and [illegible]

Continued on Page 2, Column 6.

WILLARD COMES WITHIN ACE OF STOPPING MORAN

Champion Weeps Into Glove [illegible] Tears Terrific Right Uppercuts at Hostile Challenger's Jaw; Only Moran's Pluck, Determination and Courage Saves Him from Knockout Punch

By W. S. FARNSWORTH

[illegible]

It was just 9 o'clock when Willard climbed into the ring. A flock of photographers followed him, as the crowd cheered the champion.

Moran appeared two minutes later. The crowd went into a frenzy. Willard walked over to Moran and they shook hands. Then they posed for photographers.

Willard was attended by Tom Jones, his manager, Walter Monahan, Jack Hemple and Ray Archer, Jess' secretary. Moran was handled by his chief trainer, Willie Lewis; Frank Kendall, Bill McKinnon and [illegible].

Moran was very serious after he sat in his corner, while the champion kidded all the boys in the press [illegible].

Humphries introduced Jim Corbett as the cleverest man that ever [illegible] the heavyweight title. Jim jumped into the ring and shook [illegible].

JOHN L. SULLIVAN GIVEN A TREMENDOUS OVATION.

[illegible] The crowd [illegible] ebook [illegible] at the [illegible] for [illegible] were [illegible] was [illegible] The [illegible] for [illegible]

TEX RICKARD LOST IN CRUSH; JOHN L. GETS BIG OVATION

Madison Square Garden, New York, March 25.—The largest [illegible] New York State [illegible] Long [illegible] its way into this historic arena tonight to watch Jess Willard [illegible] Frank Moran in their [illegible] battle.

[illegible] crowd was handled by [illegible] each [illegible] 7:30, the gates were kept [illegible] over 10,000 persons jammed their way into the Madison Square district. A squad of 250 police tried to handle the immense throng, but shortly before 7:30 it became [illegible].

The doors were thrown open at last. A rush followed. Free-for-all fights took place in several places. Clothes were torn and hats smashed. Once inside, however, it was an easy matter to handle the spectators. There was an army of ushers inside, and they did their work ably.

The excuse given for the delay in opening the gates was that the carpenter work had not been finished.

The opening preliminary was scheduled to go on at 7:30, but it was after 8 o'clock before the battlers appeared. It was made it seem fairly late that the big bout would not go on until 11 p.m., instead of 9 as billed, unless one of the preliminaries was canceled.

JOHN L. CALLS MORAN CHAMP, CORBETT PICKS JESS

WILLARD BREAKS RIGHT HAND IN THIRD ROUND

Continued from First Page.

RICKARD LOST IN CRUSH.

With the admittance of the first few thousand there loomed up Tex George B. Rickard, the famous ringmaster. As soon as the doctor got inside he found it to be full broken. He nearly collapsed. There was a scene for the next few minutes—a wild dentist looking for a decent bell.

A second later in came Tex Rickard. The promoter himself in the shuffle, and from his scowl it looked as if he wouldn't listen to his wild pleas. It was newspaper men who finally re-admitted him and induced one of Sam Langford's finest to permit him to pass within the precious portal.

Dave Lewins, who went to Chicago to sign up the champion, paraded around the arena about fifteen minutes, carrying a couple of cream pasteboard boxes which covered $40,000 in bills.

About 8 o'clock the electrician turned on the massive lights that threw [illegible] for the benefit of the cameramen that took the moving pictures of the [illegible].

Joe Humphries, the noted timer announcer, jumped into the ring and yelled:

"Gentlemen, by the order of the fire department I request there be no smoking."

Out of respect to [illegible] no puff on [illegible].

[illegible] press boxes and [illegible] Happy New Year. Everybody [illegible] dressed [illegible] seemed that [illegible] thousand [illegible] and would flatten Moran.

Among the [illegible] by Dave Lewins. Will Gray, Phil Virgil, Jack [illegible], Maxwell [illegible], Then came Jack Hurley, Eddie Kane, Jim Carson, Warren [illegible], Parsons, Artie McCabe, [illegible] S. Vanderbeck [illegible].

Everybody stood up as [illegible] Irish tune was [illegible] in, but as it was said that Jess could play a base fiddle, as compared by eight well-sharpened pencils.

Following Cobb came Eddie Ryan [illegible] New Orleans, Adolph Zuger, [illegible] Kaufman, Beach Ford, Rupert Hughes, [illegible] Donald Ogden, Owen Moore, Jeffries, Gus Dorizas, Al Kaufman, Abe Attell, Jack [illegible], Maurice Maxie Kaiser, H. A. Hyde, Wilson, Sam Fox, Alana Hare, Pat Woulfe and Hal Williams.

JOHN THE BARBER" THERE.

Bobby Bell and party reported a few seconds later. In his round were John L. Sullivan, Tex Rickard, Jack Curley, Marshall Blossom, Jimmy [illegible], Ike Anderson and Ted Lewis. Part 4 in full dress, scenery. John the barber [illegible].

Tex Rickard before the fight announced the receipts: approximately $175,000.

"That figure is beyond the [illegible] some one said.

"Yes, but I am given [illegible] fact," said Rickard.

"At 8 o'clock the receipts were [illegible] $75,000, respectively, as far as I was able to figure both with [illegible] go beyond $110,000. That means Moran-Cracken and I will clear between [illegible] $70,000 on the fight.

The box seat crowd was slow in arriving. [illegible] women and [illegible] fashionable crowd that ever attended a prize fight in America.

JOHN L. AT RINGSIDE

Men from every walk of life were present, [illegible] lawyers, bankers, [illegible] actors, [illegible] fighting men [illegible] the ringside. [illegible] was John L. Sullivan, [illegible] Lewis, Boston [illegible] Jack Curley, Tex Rickard, [illegible] Jack Kane, Abe Attell, Jack [illegible], Jack Welch, Bill Lang, Jack [illegible], Phil Virgil, Jack [illegible], Jack Hurley, Eddie Kane, Jim Carson, Warren [illegible], Parsons, Artie McCabe, [illegible] Vanderbeck, Adolph Zuger, [illegible] Kaufman, Beach Ford, Rupert Hughes, [illegible] Donald Ogden, Owen Moore, [illegible] Gus Dorizas, Al Kaufman, Abe Attell, Jack [illegible], Maurice Maxie Kaiser, H. A. Hyde, Wilson, Sam Fox, Alana Hare, Pat Woulfe and Hal Williams.

JOHN THE BARBER" THERE.

Bobby Bell and party reported a few seconds later. In his round were John L. Sullivan, Tex Rickard, Jack Curley, Marshall Blossom, Jimmy [illegible], Ike Anderson and Ted Lewis. Part 4 in full dress, scenery. John the barber [illegible].

Tex Rickard before the fight announced the receipts: approximately $175,000.

"That figure is beyond the [illegible] some one said.

"Yes, but I am given [illegible] fact," said Rickard.

"At 8 o'clock the receipts were [illegible] $75,000, respectively, as far as I was able to figure both with [illegible] go beyond $110,000. That means Moran-Cracken and I will clear between [illegible] $70,000 on the fight.

The box seat crowd was slow in arriving. [illegible] women and [illegible] fashionable crowd that ever attended a prize fight in America.

JOHN L. AT RINGSIDE

Men from every walk of life were present, [illegible] lawyers, bankers, [illegible] actors, [illegible] fighting men [illegible] the ringside. [illegible] was John L. Sullivan, [illegible] Lewis, Boston [illegible] Jack Curley, Tex Rickard, [illegible] Jack Kane, Abe Attell, Jack [illegible], Jack Welch, Bill Lang, Jack [illegible], Phil Virgil, Jack [illegible], Jack Hurley, Eddie Kane, Jim Carson, Warren [illegible], Parsons, Artie McCabe, [illegible] Vanderbeck, Adolph Zuger, [illegible] Kaufman, Beach Ford, Rupert Hughes, [illegible] Donald Ogden, Owen Moore, [illegible] Gus Dorizas, Al Kaufman, Abe Attell, Jack [illegible], Maurice Maxie Kaiser, H. A. Hyde, Wilson, Sam Fox, Alana Hare, Pat Woulfe and Hal Williams.

JACKSON WINS PRELIM.

The first preliminary went on at 8 o'clock. It was a four-round affair between Nate Jackson, 118 pounds, of Oklahoma City, and Peter Slaight, 116 pounds, of New York.

It was a fast, exciting bout, with plenty of free hitting. Jackson's cleverness and cleaner hitting gave him a decisive victory. Both boys were blood-smeared when the final gong sounded.

The second preliminary was another four-rounder, Ashley Sarjeant, 118 pounds, of New York, and Vito Marx, 118, of Newark.

Clarence Doherty, who refereed the first bout, also officiated in this battle, which was fast and exciting, but the crowd refused to get enthused. Marx had a shade the worst of it, according to the final round.

Jimmie Morgan, of New York, and Charlie Freyhall, of Chicago, mixed it in the third four-round preliminary. Both weighed 118 pounds.

MURRAY SCORES KAYO.

Murray had the fight all his own way in the third round when he [illegible] it [illegible] for the Chicagoan.

The fourth preliminary was called off as soon as Young Moran and Willard [illegible] the ring as near 8:30 as possible.

The semi-final was put at 8:30 and was for six rounds, with Battling Levinsky, opposing Jim Savage.

The crowd [illegible] came out of its apathy and [illegible] heard by its whistling and moving around in the [illegible] now. The Friars Club came down in a body.

CORAN USHERS IN PARTY

George M. Cohan ushered the following into their chairs.

Savage got a scattering of cheers.

Willard Praises Rival Moran Sure He Won Bout

By JESS WILLARD.

[illegible]

By FRANK MORAN.

I think I won the fight. I carried the fight to the champion all the way.

After W[illegible] done. He didn't have a bit of strength or science left. He could not have knocked me down in a million rounds.

Johnson hit me harder than Willard did. I would like to take [illegible] championship route and if I [illegible]

Easily Willard's Fight All the Way, Says Jim Corbett

By JAMES J. CORBETT.

Former World's Champion.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, March 25.—Easily Willard's fight all the way.

It was [illegible] round. There was no question that Moran put up a game fight, but [illegible] skill to offset Willard's [illegible] for seven rounds. Willard [illegible] the fight [illegible] the ninth round.

Now, while Moran was needing from cuts on his head he was not badly hurt and was still strong on [illegible]

Moran told me [illegible] enter the ring before a big [illegible] and I decided [illegible] it to fight.

Willard was the [illegible] I first saw, and, despite [illegible] ease, was wonderfully [illegible] trained body and legs. That he was not worrying about the outcome of the battle was indicated by the way he reclined and the utter absence of nervousness in his laugh.

MORAN SWUNG LIKE GATE.

In the first round there was little doing, as Moran seemed to be sizing each other up. Moran's swings [illegible] but his punches were not effective and Willard also [illegible] him at will. Willard, who seemed hard to assess, woke up after Moran landed one of his swings. In the mixup which followed the champion [illegible] of the best of it and had Moran [illegible].

Moran came out for the [illegible] Herb and [illegible] Willard [illegible] Moran [illegible] Willard [illegible] up after missing a swing. Finally Willard found [illegible] round.

In the third round Willard sent a hard right to Moran's head which soon [illegible] fight [illegible] and [illegible] Moran's [illegible] Willard laughed at Moran's wild swings and both men were strong at the finish of the round.

Willard showed for the first time how well he could fight if he wished to, and used his left and right at will on Moran's face and body. It was all Willard's round.

Moran's gameness aroused [illegible] admiration of the spectators as his defence was [illegible] Moran kept trying, but it was a slow round.

WILLARD FORCED FIGHTING

In the sixth round Willard slowed Moran up with body punches, but did not follow [illegible] advantage. Willard forced the fighting in the seventh round, [illegible] while Moran tried to rough it, he was badly cut over his left eye and covered with blood before the round was half over.

Moran's gameness aroused an admiration while he was outsized and outfought, but kept trying and trying to land his right hand swing on Willard's head. But he could not connect.

There is little that can be said [illegible] last three rounds, except that Willard simply had the fight [illegible] and appreciate whatever and wherever he pleased.

Moran even had to [illegible] self at time [illegible] swings and the manner in which Willard would land two or three jabs in return before the Pittsburgher could recover.

It was a mighty good fight all the way through and both men deserve great credit. While there was [illegible] Willard [illegible] from start to finish.

Immense Crowd Packs Garden to Witness Battle

[illegible] March 25.

Willard Moran [illegible] the biggest [illegible] ever witnessed a contest in this city, was [illegible] from the typical Gotham crowd [illegible] refrained from saying anything about it at the [illegible].

The only decorations which broke the monotony of the cold steel rafters and girders were long streamers [illegible] of the stripes of [illegible] the ring. With three ex-heavyweight champions [illegible] the scene of the big fight, there was no dearth of experts to give opinions on which [illegible] decided.

"Honest John" Kelly was the most prominent face as the arbiter, and he [illegible] at the end of the fight brought thousands of dollars to fortunate [illegible].

[illegible] Willard [illegible] the [illegible] Moran [illegible] Willard [illegible] Moran [illegible] Willard [illegible] Moran [illegible] Willard

CARRIGAN PUT SPEAKER SALARY QUESTION UP TO LANNIN

Sox Manager Willing to Act as Go-Between, But Will Go No Further---Carnegie Sees Braves Troun' Athletics

ENGLISH WINS BIG SCHOOL MEET BY NARROW MARGIN

High School of Commerce Closely Pressed Winners and Were Defeated by a Margin of Less Than Two Points—Over 700 Athletes Competed

T[illegible] annual field and track champion[illegible] Track League, held [illegible] Boston Latin [illegible] athletes of the Hub [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

JIM RILEY, 70, CHALLENGES FORMER SCULL CHAMPIONS

Evans Warns Golfers Against Playing with Warped Clubs---Schoolboy Is After Quarter Mile World's Record

STRAIGHT SHAFTS BEST

Evans Warns Golfer Against Playing at Clubs That Warp. Crime About Twice a Year.

By CHICK EVANS

I [illegible] friends, for most golfers love to look at them, feel them and swing them now and then. In other words, they like to have their most precious possessions near them.

[illegible] the object that attracted my attention [illegible]

[illegible] now [illegible] shaft [illegible]

[illegible] It is [illegible] Mr. [illegible] Jim [illegible] Bradley.

[illegible] to row [illegible] reports. [illegible] Jim Riley [illegible] professional [illegible] will be [illegible] year with [illegible] Jim Riley, seventy.

Fred Plaisted, sixty-six, in charge of the tennis boathouse of Columbia and assistant coach to Jim Rice.

Jim Ten Eyck, sixty-six, coach of the Syracuse crews.

Charles L. Courtney, sixty-six, coach of the Cornell crews.

George Faulkner, sixty-eight, former coach of winning Harvard crews.

John Kennedy, sixty-nine, former coach of winning Yale crews.

Mike Kennedy, sixty-seven, former Yale coach.

Bob Barry or Baron a

Pat Luther of Pittsburgh

[illegible]

PLAISTED IN TRAINING.

[illegible]

SIMON-PURES AT MEDFORD THURSDAY

[illegible] Association will run [illegible] boxing tour[illegible] at Putnam Hall, Hall street, Medford. The Medford [illegible] has been running [illegible] Wednesday and Thursday [illegible] promises to [illegible] classes are on the [illegible] pour [illegible] Monday, March 27, with [illegible] closes on March [illegible]

MIDSHIPMEN ROUT RIVALS ON DIAMOND

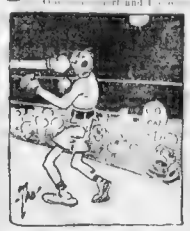
[illegible] March 25.—The [illegible] team in the [illegible] here today [illegible] twelve, held [illegible] and struck [illegible]

[illegible]

JAY GOULD WINS TENNIS HONORS

[illegible] March 25.—Jay Gould [illegible] Central [illegible] champion [illegible] Racquet Club here [illegible] W. E. T. Munn, [illegible] With Hahn as his partner, the couple then defeated W. H. Forbush and W. J. Linhahan, 6—3, 6—4, 7—5 for the doubles championship.

JUST AHEAD OF THE BULL



[illegible] Bennett [illegible] a [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Stocks Weak in New York and Irregular in Boston

PEACE RUMORS CHECKED AN UPWARD MOVEMENT IN STOCKS

Markets Closed Lower or Irregular After a Dull Session and a Week of Doubt.

By W. H. ROSS, Financial Editor.

Stocks were weak at the close yesterday, after an irregular and dull opening. They held firmer in Boston than in New York, but both markets were quiet, and in the latter the activity was on the decline. The big market was professional to a degree and reflected the uncertainty prevailing in trading circles. The session ended a week of doubt.

Issues of corporations which have war [illegible] were in favor. This was due to rumors that the war [illegible] last much longer and that it has entered upon its last stage.

The effect of peace upon American industries is of utmost importance. Present prosperity is largely due to war orders, and if they are to cease there should follow a period of readjustment which will affect stocks even before it does trade.

Banking information, as expressed, is that nothing [illegible] which would indicate a speedy cessation of hostilities. [illegible] of industry are planning plant enlargements with which to [illegible] business in the future, regardless of peace or war, than ever has been done.

From information at hand the idea that the war is not going to last many months longer seems to be psychological. But it has had a very practical influence upon the stock market. It checked what [illegible] had a bull movement, and one which came at the best time of the year.

[illegible] returned from Eu-[illegible] hope that were put his arrival was [illegible] the most decided market [illegible] shown this year. War [illegible] defined the most. All that [illegible] is saying as to the [illegible] made and war prospects [illegible] was optimistic. [illegible] into his [illegible] It was took [illegible] upon it was [illegible] would [illegible] governments [illegible] war [illegible] appened as [illegible]

WAR STOCKS THE WEAKEST.

[illegible] weak. Last [illegible] Wall [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

MARVELS AT SIZE OF WILLYS-OVERLAND PLANT

New Englanders Visit the Overland Home at Toledo, Greatly Impressed With Magnitude.

Last Rites for a Serbian Hero

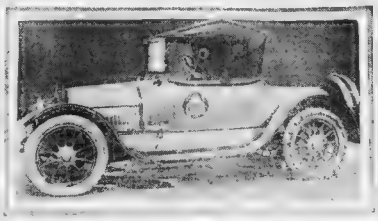
NEW BUILDING BEING PREPARED FOR SPLITDORF

New Factory at Newark to Cost $200,000 and Have 30,000 Square Feet of Windows

LUXURY OF MOTOR TOURING SETS NEW MARK

Anticipations That Coming Season Will Be in Abundance of Pleasure Motoring.

GOLDEN ROADSTER



WOMAN DRIVERS MOST CAPABLE

Simplicity of Motors Has Done Much Towards Increasing Number of Women Operators.

OAKLAND SERVICE WELL DEVELOPED

MOTOR TRUCKS OF AMERICA

Page Overcomes Difficulties of Freight Embargo

Mistaken for a Member of the Secret Service

TELLS WHY PRICE IS INCREASED

Horsemen Protect Great Motor Plant

Car Reflects Owner's Taste

STEARNS-KNIGHT ADVANCE IN PRICE

OLDFIELD SMASHES ONE MILE RECORD

FOR REAL EFFICIENCY KEEP ENGINE WARM

Salesmen No Longer Depend Upon Railroads

NEW FOREST HILLS GARAGE TO OPEN

DISPLAYED AT TWO MOTOR SHOWS

FACTORY REACHES HIGH WATER MARK

Design, Material and Workmanship All Important

EXTRA

A MOTOR DRIVEN KLAXON FOR $6

UNDERHOOD Klaxet

Regular Klaxon finish—all black. May be installed either outside or under the hood.

Klaxon Note—Klaxon Quality
Klaxon Permanent Guarantee

Distributors:
Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co.
155 Washington St. and Cornhill

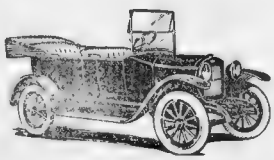
Overland

PHONE
B. B. 6314

Connell & McKone
AUTOMOBILES
167 Massachusetts Ave.

Willys Knight
Sleeve-Valve Motor

The Surprise Car of 1916



Fostoria Light Car $675

COMPLETELY EQUIPPED

A full size, powerful, standardized car, completely equipped; equal in appearance to cars selling for $1000 and up; having advanced features found in only the highest-priced cars.

The "Fostoria" asks no odds of any car in size or price, in mechanical construction or equipment. You will be easily convinced that from every point the "Fostoria" offers excellent values.

4-cyl., 3x4½ motor, full 26 h. p.
108-in. wheelbase. Cantilever rear springs. Stewart Vacuum feed. One-man mohair top.
Full electric lighting and starting equipment.
Weight 1910 pounds. Neville "more-room" wheel.
30x3½ tires and demountable rims. Willard Battery.

DEALERS
The best proposition of the year.
Some territory in N. E. now open.

FOSTORIA SALES CO.
OF MASSACHUSETTS
182-184 Columbus Ave., Boston.
G. F. Lombard, Mgr.

CHEVROLET CO. IN 41-2 MONTHS EARN $1,653,686

W. C. Durant's Reorganized Company Makes Fine Showing in Its Financial Statement.

During the first four and one-half months of its existence the present Chevrolet Motor Co. New York city, showed a net income of $1,653,686. This [illegible] to the consolidated [illegible] of the company for the period [illegible] August 14, 1915, to December [illegible] carried as surplus [illegible] balance sheet an [illegible] that issued to the [illegible] be remembered [illegible] last summer by W. [illegible] ton authorized [illegible] 000 authorized [illegible] stock, of which $23,500,000 [illegible] issued and was [illegible] outstanding on March 1, the date that the report [illegible] bears. The [illegible] stated that since the [illegible] productive [illegible] over [illegible] per cent over [illegible] the report [illegible] constituent company [illegible] prearranged [illegible] The balancing [illegible] liabilities in the [illegible] of which [illegible] received in plant [illegible] good-will and [illegible] in cash and [illegible] balance sheet is as follows:

Assets

Invested capital [illegible]
Buildings, machinery [illegible]
Land [illegible]
Patterns [illegible]
Drawings [illegible]
Leases [illegible]
Franchises [illegible]
Trade [illegible] $18,813,500.00
Current assets [illegible]
Inventories [illegible]
Cash [illegible]
Notes receivable [illegible]
Accounts receivable [illegible]
Miscellaneous [illegible]
Deferred charges [illegible]
Charges to future operations [illegible] 9,443,089.09
Total [illegible] 30,852.67
$53,394,041.96

Liabilities

Capital stock
Authorized [illegible]
Issued [illegible]
Less in treasury [illegible]
Mortgages payable [illegible] $10,733,500.00
Current liabilities [illegible] 85,000.00
Accounts payable [illegible]
Customers' deposits [illegible] $1,202,812.81
Accruals [illegible] 184,208.21
Reserves for depreciation [illegible] 108,598.14
Reserves for [illegible] 1,444,526.16
Total reserves [illegible] $47,851.13
Depreciation—Equipment [illegible]
Depreciation—Buildings [illegible] 106,826.96
Reserve for [illegible] 20,000.00
Contingencies [illegible] 44,850.52
Surplus [illegible] 9,463,068.54
$53,394,041.96

Coupled with the increases in production that is being made during the current year has come a reduction in costs, due to the thinner distribution of overhead expenses. An actual reduction in costs has been made in spite of the increased cost of materials.

Due to the abnormal conditions in the steel markets the company is carrying no inventories in large quantities, limiting itself to the execution of contracts and orders representing a value of over $25,000,000, now upon the books for delivery within the next five months.

Gives the Best Driving Light and conforms to law, both in letter and spirit. Having proved these points, we offer for the approval and use of Massachusetts motorists the

LEGALITE

100% Efficient

Auto HeadlightLens

Just as the Mass. Highway Commission relies on the intelligence of the motoring public to judge whether their headlights give adequate light without dazzling, we also are confident of their ability to select the most satisfactory device.

Prices, Per Pair

Sizes 7½ to 8¼....$2.50
Sizes 8¼ to 10½...$3.00
Sizes 10½ to 11¼....$4.00

Dealers should write or phone at once to

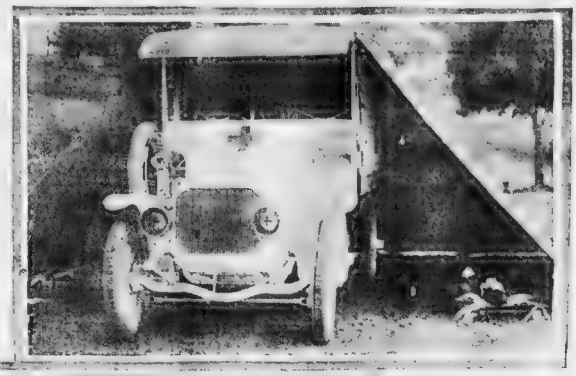
DISTRIBUTORS

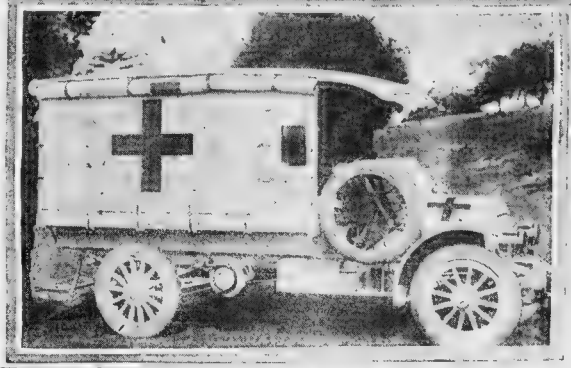
Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co.

Washington St. and Cornhill

Novel Garford Ambulance for Use in Egypt

Unique Form of Utility Truck Called a "Brother of Mercy" by Soldiers.





Scenes of Mercy are common on the battlefields of the world, but it has remained for the present great catacysm of world war to evolve the "Brother of Mercy." This is what a wounded soldier, slowly bleeding to death called the motor truck ambulance driver who reached him in time to save his life. A "Brother of Mercy." An apt appellation.

Herewith we present some rare photograph's sent in by the R. H. Tucker Corporation, Garford distributors of the Ford motor trucks. They show how their three quarter ton utility truck has been turned into a modern agent in the relief of the suffering brother of man. Some of these trucks are now in the fighting ranks of Egypt, and will put a new quickly the strain to be laid up at the mines can be let down to form a gracious life of ease in that dear land long ago those marbles were sent to Australia the Garford Motor Truck Company for use in this service there. But when the call to arms came and people of Australasia under British rule had to go to the front, these utility motor trucks built by the Garford factory for peaceful work were at once requisitioned for use on the battlefield, and were taken by transports to the seats of war.

One of the [illegible] from Egypt is now at the [illegible] and it was [illegible] many of these [illegible] trucks were [illegible] to his friends in the [illegible] experience. He writes that they were giving [illegible] they did at first—[illegible] faction. All the Australian ambulances are now [illegible] Red drivers wear [illegible] on the trucks [illegible]

The other one [illegible] of [illegible] in Australia [illegible] the first Australian [illegible] [illegible] Garford as [illegible] to start and drive [illegible] makes over here [illegible] but [illegible] others all pull up [illegible] of the desert sand." That one of the [illegible] is Stanley Lyons [illegible] that he is a practical motor truck mechanician and was [illegible] job. He has seen the motor trucks under real war conditions and knows that the Garford can stand the test. The truck [illegible] had in fifteen months [illegible] knows, how many [illegible] one. The [illegible] to stand [illegible] Egypt but [illegible]

INCREASING SALES ORGANIZATIONS

Ford Company Doubling the Number of Its Salesmen at Its Fifty-One Branches

[illegible] the Ford Motor [illegible] the fifty-one [illegible] of [illegible] of [illegible]

IMPROVEMENTS IN MOTOR CAR TIRES

INTER-STATE HAS DRIVE-AWAY DAY

FIRESTONE MEN LEARN METHODS AT MEETINGS

Service Men From All Over the Country Gather at the Akron Plant

Owen J. Vincent Head of the Local Inter-State Agency

LOMBARD GETS FOSTORIA CAR

[illegible]

Late Quotations of Leading Motor and Rubber Stocks

THIN SECTION, BUT HIGH GRADE STEEL

WITHSTANDS MOST RIGOROUS TEST

TEXANS OFFER USE OF CARS TO ARMY

[illegible] Texas [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

BROCKTON'S REFORM WAVE SWEEPS CITY

Active and Secure Convictions

MAYOR DIRECTS CRUSADE

STEAMSHIP LINE INCORPORATED

A certificate of incorporation has been issued to the Boston steamship company by the State Commissioner of Corporations. Incorporators are Arthur S. Webster, [illegible] M. Hill and Arthur S. Webster.

FLEEING TO COVER.

The swindlers and "fixers" who have enjoyed protection for years are now in constant peril and know not what minute the ax will fall.

On command of Chief Marshal Layng [illegible] T. Morgan, [illegible] of the Intelligent Lim[illegible] are the Mayor [illegible] is license. Labor [illegible] are few [illegible] far [illegible] a man and [illegible] of a Montello [illegible] sentenced to nine months [illegible] correction, in [illegible] location.

[illegible] busy ridding the [illegible] will report [illegible] special workers [illegible] able to [illegible] thousands of homeless girls [illegible] city.

The arrest [illegible] this week [illegible] Rev. Alexander [illegible] Hilton, pastor of St. Margaret [illegible] Catholic church in the Dorchester district [illegible] 1214 street [illegible] interested to [illegible] home for worthless girls [illegible] gladdened the hearts of the [illegible]

[illegible] Young Women's Christian Association has also been selected, and they've never looked brighter for Brockton's lonely [illegible] girls.

When you want a light lunch visit our Lunch Room in Bedford Street Basement. We buy only the best of everything, and our prices are very reasonable. TRY IT!

MAIL ORDERS FILLED

R. H. WHITE Co

A BIG SALE OF WILTON RUGS MONDAY

Our Spring Clearance Sale of Furniture Begins Monday, March 27

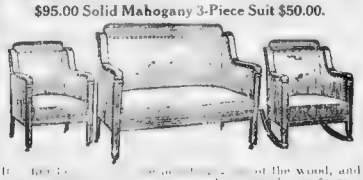
Regardless of the continual advance in the cost of manufacturing furniture, we guarantee that our prices during this sale are as low and, in many cases, lower than in previous clearance sales.

Furniture that we contracted for in 1915 for this Spring and Summer business, is now being shipped to us. We must clear our warehouse of all "February left-overs" and surplus stock. This stock was purchased from manufacturers when prices were very low.

BARGAINS NOW OFFERED CANNOT BE DUPLICATED

There are not many pieces of a kind, but there are hundreds of bargains such as these:

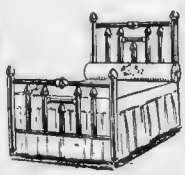
$95.00 Solid Mahogany 3-Piece Suit $50.00.



It has [illegible] of the wood, and [illegible] heavy frames [illegible] Sale Price

$50.00

$42.00 Brass Bed Outfit, $25.00



Consists of a $25.00 Brass Bed, [illegible] $12.00 [illegible] Mattress, [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] 2-inch posts, heavy mounts, [illegible] Bed complete

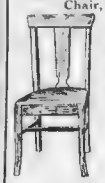
$25.00

A Brass Bed Bargain

$35.00 Brass Bed $21.85—Has 2-in continuous posts and panel head and foot. Special Clearance Sale Price.....

$21.85

$2.50 Golden Oak Dining Chair, $1.85



Solid oak, genuine slip seat with box frame. Clearance Sale Price,

$1.85

$15.00 Genuine Oak Extension Table, $9.85

[illegible] top and [illegible] Price

$9.85

$9 Mahogany Rocker $4.95

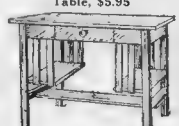
$4.95

$18.00 Sun-Cleansed Silk Floss Mattress, $12.95

[illegible] has been [illegible] with [illegible] Special Price

$12.95

$10.00 Fumed Oak Library Table, $5.95



[illegible] drawer and two book-[illegible] Clearance Sale Price .....

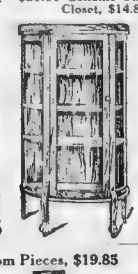
$5.95

$29.00 Golden Oak Buffet, $19.85

Full quartered oak, 45-inch heavy top, large mirror, 2 small drawers, large drawer and 2 cupboards. Clearance Sale Price .....

$19.85

$20.00 Genuine Oak China Closet, $14.85



Well made, with bent glass ends. A beautiful piece of furniture. Clearance Sale Price,

$14.85

R. H. White (Special) Sofa Bed, $24.85

This is a better bed than some we have previously sold as high as $40.00. Handsomely [illegible] shown, from which you may make a selection at other bargain prices.

$15 Simplicity Rocker $9.85

Extra high back, well upholstered rocker, covered in brown imitation leather of very good quality. Clearance Sale Price .....

$9.85

$13.00 Bed Outfit, $9.85

A strong white enamel bed, a warranted National spring and a good [illegible] white cotton top and bottom [illegible] Clearance Sale Price .....

$9.85

$32.00 Bedroom Pieces, $19.85

Your choice of Bureau, Chiffonier, Princess Dresser or Toilet Table Plate [illegible] Table in genuine [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] oak [illegible] [illegible] finish. All have [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the dresser is 42 inches wide with 22x28-in [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] are in proportion. Will [illegible] to match [illegible] [illegible] Clearance Sale Price .....

$19.85

$12.00 "Kennard" Felt Mattress

$7.95

This mattress is built of a [illegible] of long staple felt. It cannot become lumpy. It is recommended for wear and comfort. It is a bargain. Clearance Sale Price .....

$7.95

$10.00 Sliding Couch Complete, $6.98

When separated it [illegible] 2 [illegible] beds. Clearance Sale Price .....

$6.98

$6 National Spring $4.95

Extra Heavy High Riser Spring. Clearance Sale Price .....

$4.95

Annual Spring Sale of Linen and White Goods

South Annex Third Floor

Opportunity's ripe for you now to replenish your supply of Linens and White Goods and make savings of from 30 to 50 per cent. while doing it. The prices we quote are all "sold" prices, and with the upward tendency everywhere apparent it is certain their like won't soon be seen again. Economical people will take advantage of these old low prices and buy enough to anticipate their needs for a long time to come.

Pure Flax Table Cloths

Size.	Price.
2x2½ yards	$2.69
2x3 yards	2.98
2x3½ yards	2.95
2x4 yards	3.45
2x4½ yards	4.00
2x5 yards	4.25
2x2½ yards	5.25

Size.	Price
20x20 inches, per dozen	$1.67
19½x19½ inches, per doz.	2.25
21½x21½ inches, per doz.	2.49
22x22 inches, per dozen	3.00
22x22 inches, per dozen	3.50
24x24 inches, per dozen	4.00
34x24 inches, per dozen	6.00

Pure Flax Table Napkins

Read Every Item Here

35c Hemstitched Tray Cloths	25c	12½c Bleached Pillow Cases	7½c
$1.50 Luncheon Cloths	98c	20c Bleached Pillow Cases	15c
$1.00 Mercerized Table Cloths	69c	75c Full Size Bleached Sheets	55c
75c Bleached Table Damask	49c	80c Single Size Bleached Sheets	59c
$1.00 Linen Table Damask	79c	85c Three-quarter Bleached Sheets	65c
$1.75 Linen Table Damask	$1.00	90c Full Size Bleached Sheets	69c
$3.50 Scalloped Table Cloths	$2.49	$1.00 White Longcloth	79c
$3.50 Hemstitched Table Cloths	$1.98	75c Hemmed Diaper, 20x20	49c
12½c Huck Towelling	7½c	25c Fancy White Crepe	12½c
$1.00 Mercerized Napkins	69c	25c White Ratine Suiting	12½c
$1.35 Linen Napkins	98c	75c Imported White Corduroy	59c

Five Specials for Monday Only

Because Quantities Are Limited

$2.00, $3.00 & $4.00 Fine Crib Size Comfortables, some with dainty Florentine silk coverings and lambs' wool filling	$1.50 to $2.50 White Crochet and Satin Bed Spreads, hemmed, and scalloped edge,	$2.00 to $5.00 Heavy Warm Blankets, white, gray and plaids; some slightly soiled,	12½c to 25c Huck and Turkish Bath Towels, some have slight mill imperfections,	10c to 18c Crash Towelling Remnants, one entire accumulation of short pieces, per yard,
$1.49	98c to $1.59	$1.19 to $3.79	7½c to 19c	6½c to 12½c

A Lot of Table Cutlery at Great Savings!

A fortunate deal! Until Friday we hadn't any idea of holding a sale like this we couldn't. But as we got the goods, it is important for us to call your attention to this fact, at these money-saving prices.

It will pay to buy even for future use. We can't buy such good cutlery ourselves now to sell at these prices.

$1.50 Stag Handle Steak Carvers, 69c Set.
$1.75 Stag Handle Carving Set, 2 pieces, $1.19 Set.
$2.50 Stag Handle Carving Set, 2 pieces, $1.98 Set.
$3.00 Stag Handle Carving Sets, 3 pieces, $1.98.
$3.00 Ivoroy Carving Sets, 3 pieces, $1.98.
$3.50 Carving Sets, stag handles, 3 pieces, $2.50.
$4.50 Carving Sets, stag handles, sterling ferrules, $3.00.
$5.00 Carving Sets, stag handles, sterling ferrules, $3.98.
$3.50 Steel Knives, white ivoroy handles, dozen $2.49.
$2.50 Cold Meat Forks, pearl handles, $1.69.
$2.50 Pie Servers, pearl handles, $1.69.
$3.00 Berry Spoons, pearl handles, $1.98.
$10.75 Doz. Fruit Knives, pearl handles, $7.50.
$10.75 Doz. Butter Spreaders, pearl handles, $7.50.
$15.00 Doz. Medium and Dessert Knives, pearl handles, $12 Doz.

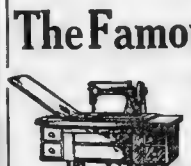
A Big Day Monday for Linoleums at Cut Prices

Some are slightly imperfect. The imperfections are not important except that they make necessary a big cut in the price. Hundreds of people wait for these so-called "seconds," because they are such great values. And—there will be big values in perfect goods, as follows:

Inlaid Linoleum—2 yards wide, "as is," square yard, at..... 69c	New Process Linoleum—2 yards wide, perfect goods, square yard, at 49c
Heavy Cork Linoleum—2 yards wide, "as is," square yard, at..... 55c	New Process Linoleum—2 yards wide, perfect goods, square yard, at 36c

Our Greatest Sale of The Famous "Domestic" Sit-Rite Sewing Machines

At Radical Reductions



Thirty-seven machines in all, floor samples, but many of them are new, having recently been uncrated; others are slightly scratched, otherwise in perfect working condition.

$35.00 Domestic Sit-Rite, at	$28.50
White, Drophead Machine, at	$23.75
Grant Auto Lift, at	$19.98

$30.00 Davis Make, $21.00—$45.00 Singer, now $26.75

Forty-two others—the machine of your choice is here, but you will have to come early. Many [illegible] make styles are limited in number.

$1.00 Cash and $1.00 A Week

Sewing Machine Needles

Standard Rotary, White, Howe, Improved Singer, Wheeler & Wilson, Davis, Tree, New Home, Wilcox & Gibbs, Household, Domestic, Goodrich and Eldridge.

15c Stainless Oil, 9c
20c Belts, long lengths, 14c

Regular 25c Needles 1c Each All Sizes Or 10c A Doz.

Special Attractions in

New Wall Papers

It will be greatly to your advantage not to let this opportunity slip by, as we are now showing a complete stock of New Spring Wall Papers, in all the latest designs and creations, at comparatively low prices.

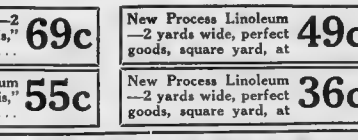
Kitchen, Back Hall and Chamber Papers—With match border to match. Paper per roll, sold only with borders..... 6c

Living Room, Dining Room and Hall Papers—Extra value, per roll 18c

Chamber Papers—In all the new colorings and effects, with cut-out borders to match, per roll, sold only with borders..... 9c

Parlor, Reception Hall and Library Papers—Per roll 33c

Victrola X $75



Ten 75c Victor Records (20 Selections of Your Own Choice)

This Victrola Outfit COMPLETE Only..... $82.50

This popular Outfit includes a Victor Victrola X in Mission, Fumed Oak or Mahogany..... $75.00
20 Victor Selections (10 double-faced 75c Records) 7.50
Complete Outfit $82.50

The tremendous selling of this greatly desired Victrola X has caused a shortage.

We have obtained a limited number for those who come early this week. Terms $1.50 Weekly, after small first payment. Mail Orders—Send $5 and this outfit will be sent anywhere in New England.

Spring Fashion Number of the BOSTON SUNDAY AMERICAN

March 26, 1916

PHOTOGRAPHED BY FASHION CAMERA STUDIOS

AN evening frock of orchid taffeta and tulle. The bodice is an attractive combination of orchid tulle and violet velvet. The unusual hip drapery and the pointed tunic give the bouffant effect so popular in the Spring gowns. A garland of roses in two shades outlines hip length yoke.

A DISTINCTIVE Suit developed in black gros de londres. The skirt and coat are full at bottom. Wide black velvet ribbon is effectively used. The quaint full sleeves and snug basque of flowered brocade, topped by the ostrich trimmed velvet collar, are new and smart.

STRIPES reign supreme for sportwear. This attractive coat from Chanel is developed in black and white wool jersey, and is without fastening save the one large button that holds the belt in place. A fetching little cape falls in plaits from the turnover collar in the back in a most alluring way.

Diversity of Styles Adopted by Famous Paris Designers

Drawn especially for The Sunday American from Harper's Bazar.

F[illegible]

By EMILIE DE JONCAIRL.

[illegible]

Shortened

[illegible] Hemmer creations is the [illegible] plaid parasol edged [illegible] new blue velvet ribbon [illegible] garland of bright [illegible]

[illegible] Down by Beer are [illegible] one no longer [illegible] are all full [illegible] harmonic [illegible] skirt. All [illegible] sleeves. The [illegible] trimmed with [illegible] are mostly on [illegible] them resemb[illegible] any extent. If there [illegible] the past; one [illegible] f the second [illegible] Waterfalls [illegible] [illegible] are [illegible] the skirt, [illegible] of the [illegible] an attrac[illegible] a com[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [

What It Is That Makes the Fashions---By Lady Duff-Gordon

A Street Walking Dress, another of the season's distinctive notes.

Dresses Made for Women, Not Women for Dresses

BY LADY DUFF-GORDON
THE FAMOUS "LUCILE"

I HAVE [illegible] will be the fashions for the Summer. [illegible] to Spain's influence, and they will be [illegible] were so much in evidence dur- [illegible] ... the smart tailor- [illegible]

[illegible] ... the thing that must [illegible] ... Dresses made for [illegible] ... something that we [illegible] ... for than to quote what I have [illegible] ... said in Harper's Bazar [illegible] ... about this. I see that we are [illegible] ... deluged with articles on the art [illegible] ... of Spain in general, and on [illegible] ... color and line in partic- [illegible] ... that one would need a book that [illegible] ... eyes [illegible] ... ras," a [illegible] ... opera, [illegible] ... fashion [illegible] ... over.

Lady Duff-Gordon's latest Summer dress and [illegible] bear the newest marks of fashion.

It [illegible] ... and [illegible] ... that [illegible] ... power [illegible] ... Spain [illegible] ... them, [illegible] ... Spain's [illegible] ... wonderful glowing colors a century and more ago, and many times I have received inspiration from this Aragonese painter, who began his career as a bull-fighter. His portrait of the lovely Duchess of Alva shows his mastery of color at its best, and [illegible] ... dress [illegible] ... the [illegible] ... women [illegible] ... the [illegible] ... her [illegible] ... Spain [illegible] ... the [illegible] ... people [illegible] ... the Spanish [illegible] ... to [illegible] ... dress [illegible] ... opera [illegible] ... perfect [illegible] ... and [illegible] ... island [illegible] ... Spain [illegible] ... and [illegible] ... You [illegible] ... the [illegible] ... Carmen [illegible] ... could be overcome [illegible] ... But [illegible] ... is invariably [illegible] ... and may be very beautiful and becoming, suggesting always the lady; the latter suggests always to me---well, just Carmen.

Of these styles that makes the appeal so strongly to me, lady of Spain was and stra ultra-feminine in dress, manner and mode of living. The mod ern lady, like her ancestress, fond of brilliant col rings and [illegible] ... [illegible] ... [illegible] ...

Spring Costumes Will Be Quaint and Real Feminine

Redfern's interpretation of Oriental drapery in the fashionable manner of the hour. The tunic is trimmed with a tiny fringe of the same and the pockets are cut in the form of a typical Redfern vest.

The short coat is featured in this model and is trimmed with bands of heavy faille ribbon. The sleeves are cut from the hand and finished with a turn-back cuff.

A tailleur of blue serge has a vest of black and white striped ottoman silk. The coat and skirt are trimmed with fine tucks and the pockets braided with white soutache. The skirt is rather short and jaunty.

The hoop skirt is featured in this period frock of white indestructible voile by Martial et Armond. The balloon sleeves and very snug waist line, and beaded extension over the hips are features.

In a three-piece costume made of gros de Londres, Redfern has laced the jacket down the front and weighted its four points with heavy tassels. When the coat is removed a bodice of net trimmed with silk is shown.

...30 Frock ... Gown.

NEW MODEL IX.

W

...deal of pride in owning a gown that

(Continued on Next Page.)

Distinctive Sport Suits

...with coats gathered at the

E. T. Slattery Co.

154-155-156-158 Tremont Street
OPPOSITE BOSTON COMMON

Suits for Mourning Wear

Our Annual Advance Sale of the Newest Spring Suits

The Important Event of the Month, Offering Slattery's Individualized Fashions for Spring at Extremely Attractive Prices.

...style feature of the season ...those touches of the unusual that ...between Slattery's and ordinary styles.

The New Tailleur—the New Shoulder Cape—the New Fit-and-Flare Coat—the New Ripple Type—New Features in Collars, Sleeves, Skirts and Trimmings.

...while woolens and dyes of ... growing more and more scarce, it is ... that materials and colors used in Slattery's ... best—and the best only.

New Model Suits at $25.00

...of cabardine has the flare ... and full ripple skirt. ... collar and flare ... pointed tabs ... with a deep yoke ... and ... other styles.

Stunning Silk Suits, $55.00

...silk have coat ... at the sides ... collar ... by cords of taffe ...

...have an assortment of specially designed ... and materials, at $25.00 to $39.50

Smart New Suits at $35.00

At this unusually attractive price we are showing ... tailleur ... trimmed with ... pipings ... the ... with ... and ... trimmed with ... pipings, ... and ... other styles.

Clever Tailored Suits, $50.00

Especially Use

...developments in Spring Suits ... the Tailleur ... and novelty accents of the suits ... pointed tails and Sagittarius ... Their graceful ... are extremely smart.

...Dressy Suits, exclusive reproductions of the handsomest ... modes by Jenny, Callot, Bernard, etc., at $75.00 upward

Misses' Suits

...11 to 18 Years ... all Women.

At $25.00

...

At $29.50

...

At $35.00

...Tailored Suits in a ... new skirts ... Value $45.00

Remarkable Spring Suits At $45.00

Tailleur ... mannish serge and gabardine ... ing the ultra smart button flare, the new roll collars, vests in contrasting colors. Belted models with mannish notch collars and pointed cuff sleeves; ripple coats en... braid ... etc.

A fancy ... production with ... coat finished with ... extending full ruffles.

Dressy taffeta silk model with clever side-pointed coat and full ripple skirt, another taffeta model with soft belted coat, ripple peplum and extremely full skirt. Sport suits in English tweed in semi-Norfolk style of wool jersey, showing the double cape coats; fibre silk sport suits in loose-belted coat styles, and many other distinctive styles at $45.00. All exceptional values.

Misses' Suits

Sizes for Misses of 11 to 18 Years, Also for Small Women

At $45.00

Taffeta and Serge ... all ... gabardine, Poret ... check ... shepherd ... ... and ... new ... throughout ... vantages, collars, cuffs ... and ... ripple effects. Value ...

At $50.00

... Suits for the ... all ... of ... check ... with deep cape collar, pointed side ... and skirt shirred full ... one side. Show ... open and broad. Value ...

At $55.00

Delightful Misses' Suits of silk ... Poret twill show the popular short flare coats with ripple effect, skirt with full flare shirred at the waist line. Value $65.00, at $55.00.

Other models from $45.00 to $95.00

E. T. SLATTERY CO.

Special Designs in Dainty Frocks for the Girl in Her Teens

ONE new touch in this distinctly youthful model of rose-colored taffeta is the winged pocket effect over the hips. The sleeves and collar are most attractive features

AN attractive frock of blue [illegible] trasse [illegible] taffeta with trimmings of [illegible] de tarlett. The [illegible] a clever arrangement of [illegible] lace

A [illegible]

A [illegible]

Continued from Page Four

In the [illegible] the [illegible] when [illegible] and [illegible] with [illegible] a [illegible] The [illegible] and [illegible] The [illegible] and [illegible] fabrics [illegible] The [illegible] are [illegible] and [illegible] The [illegible] are [illegible] and [illegible] The [illegible] are [illegible] and

Capes, Frills, Embroidery and Ruffles for the Dress-Up Waist

Georgette and Crepe-de-Chine Summer Lingerie

[illegible]

FRILLS AND RUFFLES.

[illegible]

SMART WAISTS

[illegible]

[illegible]

HARMING STYLES

[illegible]

RUSSIAN BLOUSE

[illegible]

Georgette ground with a broad black satin stripe is the material used in one stunning Russian blouse. A broad band of black satin finishes the edge of the shirt, and the cuffs, collar and sash are also of the satin.

Stripes are good this spring, and garments which have any leaning upon sports. Whether they will antique good remains to be seen. Anything early in the season is very liable [illegible]

[illegible]

The Young Maid's Fancy Lightly Turns to Veils

In the Spring the young maid's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of veils. [illegible] when all the veils of heaven are mixed to spare for unprotected curl.

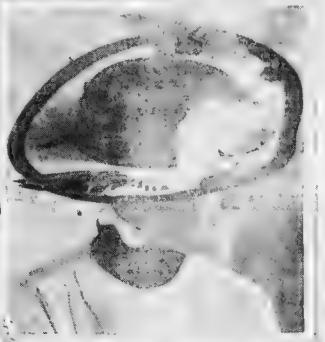
[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

Her Spring Bonnet May Be Tall or Flat, B[illegible] or Narrow

Maria Gay[illegible] field it with[illegible] Lucia, Duse [illegible] shapely, [illegible]



Shading from white to [illegible] posed [illegible]

[illegible]using to serious attitudes, this chapeau by Lewis is developed in white hemp, bordered with black velvet, with violets of white and purple at side.

© INTERNATIONAL FILM SERVICE

[illegible]r sports wear. Of white Panama with black and white straw braid and a vermilion feather.

© INTERNATIONAL FILM SERVICE

Chic chapeaux of rose colored [illegible]. Plaited edge of rose crepe outlining the [illegible] crown and a beaded ornament thrust through the side.

A smart little hat [illegible]th bands of beading trimming the crown. The veil is one of the Spring novelties in the fashionable "burned bread" shade.

CHARMING [illegible]

[illegible] Spring and Summer hat. No [illegible] need. Make [illegible] for the [illegible]

OSTRICH [illegible]

For the [illegible] hat, th[illegible] brim in [illegible] feeling of [illegible] it that is [illegible] Calaphan[illegible] glistens [illegible] while Mlle. [illegible] tin and the [illegible] the popular[illegible]

Mme. Caroline

...Exclusive... Millinery

180 BOYLSTON ST., BOSTON
Block of Brunswick Hotel

Mlle. Caroline [illegible] never [illegible] outness abroad [illegible] lect her [illegible] Hats. Realizing [illegible] for the expensive hats, [illegible] bonnets in addition to her ELEGANT IMPORTATIONS. She presents [illegible] large assortment of trimmed millinery at

5.00 Dollars 6.60

NO TWO ALIKE IN STYLE, FORM OR COLOR.

[illegible]

Jackson's

Exhibiting

Spring Hats and Coats

Jackson & Co.

[illegible] Street Near Keith's Theatre

A Sale of Unusual Interest

Copies and Adaptations of Paris Model Hats

For chic, distinctiveness and excellence of style, workmanship and materials these hats compare favorably with those shown at many stores at $8 to $10. Dress, semi-dress and tailored hats, effectively trimmed with flowers, wings, imitation Gouras and ribbon, including Sailors, new Poke[illegible] urbans and the new Watteau hats.

Maurice

Next to A. Stowell. 16-18 WINTER ST.

Majority of Women Insist on Comfortable Corset Models

An attractive combination of crepe de chine and lace. The knickerbockers are confined at the knee with elastic run ribbon, and wide bands of ribbon serve as shoulder straps and ornament in front.

PHOTOGRAPH COPYRIGHT INTERNATIONAL FILM SERVICE.

A boudoir costume which because of the trousers is known as the "Harem." Flesh-colored crepe meteor is the material used, with lace and fringe.

A corset showing the trend of fashion this Spring. The bust is slightly higher, the curve at the sides more pronounced and the skirt shorter and more comfortable

This charming negligee is developed in flesh crepe meteor and exquisite shadow lace. The foundation is of meteor, and the elaborate coat of lace falls from the shoulder in rich folds to below the knees.

New Silhouette of the Season Is Forgotten

THE [illegible] of many fashionable [illegible] part [illegible] styles [illegible] season [illegible] for the [illegible] figure [illegible] the [illegible] Paris [illegible] of the corset [illegible]

We [illegible] to tell [illegible] wrong [illegible] Paris [illegible] in the [illegible] was correct [illegible] that [illegible] time to be off with [illegible] new [illegible] and [illegible] figures are [illegible] important [illegible] women [illegible] shou[illegible] [illegible] they [illegible] [illegible] also [illegible]

What [illegible] however [illegible] that [illegible] result [illegible] effect [illegible] first [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Varied Apparel Designed for the Springtime Out-of-Doors

PHOTOGRAPHS BY UNDERWOOD AND UNDERWOOD, N.Y.

PHOTOGRAPH BY PANNON CONNECT STUDIOS.

The clever adaptation of red and white plaid, combined with white pique, lends a distinctive note to this fascinating frock. The jacket, apron and narrow bindings are of plaid. The collar is held by black velvet bows.

Embroidery is carried on many sport hats. Here is a green straw with lighter facing, embroidered in red and white thread. A shiny polished straw, with popular soft crown and narrow brim which [illegible]

A snappy ride habit of black and white checked wool, wearing [illegible] riding [illegible] Hat is a Panne [illegible]

Jersey Cloth Most in Vogue for the "Sport" Suit

THOSE fussy artists who spend the golden mornings and nights in fashioning attractive raiment for Miss Modern to wear have been busy, for it's true the past season seems to be one long thrill to the sports costume idea.

The material most in vogue for the sports costume idea for 1916 has been the jersey cloth. The latest fascinating little frocks, coats and trotteurs are developed in this material and each has a decided air. Serge, of course, should not be overlooked, for there will be no doubt of its continued popularity. It possesses all the requisites of the sweater, but is dressier. In fact some of the models now shown for sport wear would be appropriate for the ballroom. Lightness of texture, smallness of pattern and soft, yet firm, quality between the colors is all very much in the interest of the wearer. The shops in strolling Tremont street, Jackson street and Washington street, [illegible] are showing the loveliest styles.

The well [illegible] very [illegible] arrangement [illegible] without [illegible] and [illegible] the color [illegible] spring and summer.

A very stunning suit for the links or the [illegible] over country roads is of brown wool jersey with trimmings of green. That's the way to use two of the season's most fashionable colors.

One jaunty feature of the model was the double [illegible] of green. Whether the [illegible] revived there is some doubt about. Its being good for any length of time. This year the manufacturers have considered this point. The capes on the smart [illegible] are made with [illegible] tired of it, it can be removed without spoiling the general make up of the coat.

FROM AMERICAN LOOMS.

Another popular [illegible] for the sports costume [illegible] is used to [illegible] skirts, coats and frocks [illegible] for [illegible] golfing, yachting or any of the hurdles [illegible] one things that the Summer maid finds time to do in the course of a day.

Most of the [illegible] girls one sees in the sports costume [illegible] of the smart finish [illegible] all because of this they [illegible] most comfortable things to wear [illegible] are for golf. Suede finished fabrics, soft woven cashmeres, and various woolen [illegible] terials are ideal for this type of wrap. The happy part about it is that many of the loveliest of these materials are made right on our American looms. In fact so well known [illegible] are [illegible] Mills [illegible] and [illegible] Mills [illegible] Mills [illegible] Mills

Milady's Shoes Dainty and Artistic

...th is extremely smart. The slipper the young lady is admiring. An attractive trot-about boot, with white buckskin top ...long the vee of the quarter. Two interesting looking pumps. ...and tan vamp outlined with small perforations

The Motor Coat Has Become a Necessity

TO the woman of New England the motor coat is practically indispensable. Most of her leisure time in the Spring and Summer is spent in the car. In no other section of the country is this pastime indulged in to the extent that it is here. The long stretch of wonderful roads from Long Island to the Canadian line and westward through the Berkshires are too tempting to be resisted, and since one expects it is necessary to be comfortably appareled.

The first requisites of every motor coat are that it be roomy and warm. It is usually worn over the tailor suit so that comfort does not end with the shoulders or sleeve.

Many of the motor coats of Spring follow the general trend of fashion in other garments. Pitching the capes are used, and those are always desirable in case the scarf ties of them. The collars of the reversible type buttoned high or rolled down as one desires. Deep yoke, notable the drop shoulder line, Eglon sleeves or cuffs set to suit the natural arm ... are all used, and each has its ... advantages.

The materials most in evidence ... the soft finished fabrics. These possess the double virtues of being warm without being heavy. Vicuna ... coat, or lamb and some of the softer mixtures are used. The colors are the regular colors of the season, blue, gray, tan, brown and green probably being the most ... so.

Most of the models are belted and buttons are used frequently as trimming. Combinations of material are seen a great deal, the coat of one material with touches of a contrasting material and shade on the collar or cuffs. A very fine coat that would do for general pastime wear is of blue velour de laine, belted at the waistline, and with a triple collar which forms a smart cape. The deep cuff is buttoned trimmed and buttons are also used down the entire front as a fastening. Coats made entirely of ... kin, or suede are among the novelties for spring wear, and the ... other trimmed motor coat is still very popular.

When Milady Goes Motoring

©PHOTOGRAPH BY INTERNATIONAL FILM SERVICE

Stockings to Match Shoes

SINCE the shoes have become such luxurious things, it is quite necessary that the stockings to be worn with them should partake of some of this gayety, so the designers have given us a collection this Spring that is wonderful to behold.

Stripes, checks, plaids, clockings and drop stitch, in colors that would put to shame the average Italian sunsets, greet us on every hand, and there is no denying the fact that they are extremely good looking. Silk, of course. No one ... wears cotton stockings any more it seems, though the merchants tell us that they buy them and in turn are able to sell them.

For sports wear there are some stunning stockings shown this season. In fact, everything that pertains to sport comes in for a great share of attention. One sees noble pair are of knitted wool. Stockings of the kind formerly ... from Germany, but since the war the Germans buy other "knitting to attend to" ... stock ...

A dressy walking boot with perforated design ornamenting the front

... important part are being sold, and are said to wear as well, if not better, than leather.

... best chance, and they are disposed of to advantage.

CONSERVATIVE LINES.

The designers of these novelties ... kind and plant life are the inspiration of these marvellous ...

Many of these shoes are ... intrusted with semi-precious jewels. They are not distinctive in the ... consistency is a serious one, where leather is concerned. All colors are obtainable, and it is difficult to match the various shades.

A ... interested in such things ...

GLEAMING NOVELTIES.

... the ... one to ... There ... cost of ... made ... an alarming extent that ... pense of shoes ... and soon ... if the war continues much longer. Either this ... all sorts of substitutes will have to be employed to take the place of leather. Fibre soles and various preparations in which rubber plays ... and kid skins. This country raises practically no goats. All the calf and goat skins we produce in one year would not keep the factories of the country going ...

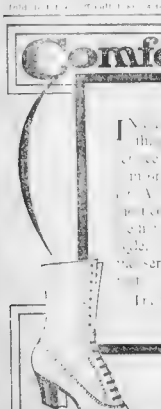
... final and plant life are the inspiration of these marvellous ...

Many of these shoes are ... intrusted with semi-precious jewels. They are not distinctive in the ...

Boots are still high, necessarily so, since the skirts remain short.

Comfort First

... the shoes there will be ... that look too—in width, ... and style. Remember, ... first. In making ... A Reed Cushion Shoe, the ... comfort-el, shape, ... width, ... heel, ... inch. The shoe ... with ... service, ... and ... ankles ... to them and ...



Dr. A. Reed Cushion Shoes

Sold Only at

42 WEST STREET, Boston, Mass.

This Brougham Masterpiece

Pierce-Arrow

Is a perfect example of the harmonious combination of power, comfort and beauty which is associated in every mind with the name Pierce-Arrow.

We prefer to invest in higher quality, rather than in lower costs. We prefer to be able to say

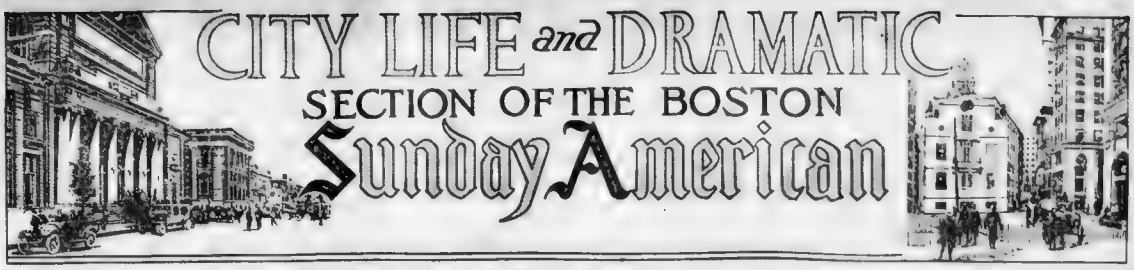
"Here is a better car" instead of "Here is a cheaper car, which is just as good."

J. W. Maguire Company

745 Boylston Street

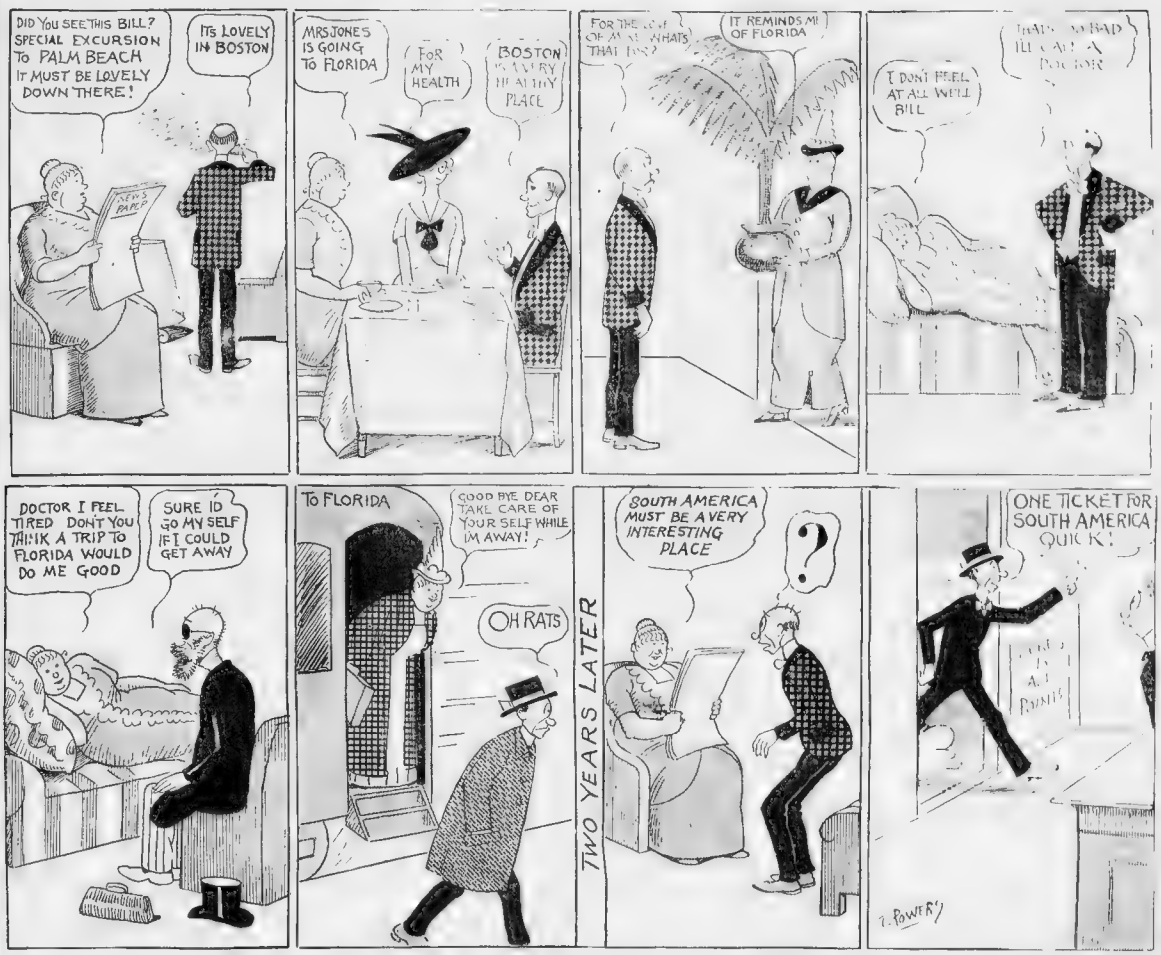
If You Haven't Time to Read ALL the Good Stories and Articles in the Sunday American on Sunday, Why Not

SAVE THE UNREAD SECTIONS to Read Later in the Week



Concerning a Man Who Learned His Lesson

By T. E. Powers, the Famous Cartoonist



Flashes on the Screen

By S. E. KISER

The Faded Flower

"THEN years ago [illegible] of
[illegible] and
[illegible] case
[illegible] of
[illegible] and
[illegible] was
[illegible] of
[illegible] was
[illegible] of
[illegible] was
[illegible] of

More Truth Than Poetry

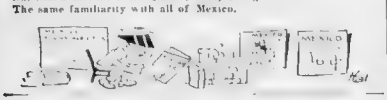
By JAMES J. MONTAGUE

The Wail of a Copy Reader

I've learned to locate Sdolbunov; when stories mention Sziza,
I do not need to hunt a map; I know right where it is.
Cettinje doesn't puzzle me, I'm wise to Medvinik
And all those weird localities where consonants are thick.
But that can't help me any now; today I've got to settle
Disputes about Tlacatalpian and Popocatapetl

DVINSK and Minsk and Turtychinsk are places I know well,
The Russian map bears scarce a name I haven't learned to spell.
Chanak Kalessi, Artiki, Kilkitch and Akbunar,
And other Turkish towns to me devoid of terrors are.
But that does not assist me now; today I've got to know
If Bacabuzirachic is south or west of Chihuampo.

PRZEMYSL was an easy one when once I'd learned to read
The name without the consonants I found I didn't need.
Mahhalades and Kalabak, Prilip and Velvendos
Were just as soft as any names I ever came across.
But that avails me nothing now; today I've got to show
The same familiarity with all of Mexico.



Unpopular Songs

By W. F. Kirk

"I Dare Not Sing That Mother Song"

I.

THE lights were shining brightly in the city;
A bride and groom were sitting in their home
The husband, who was very bright and witty
Was rubbing hair restorer on his dome.
"Please let your hair alone," the young bride pleaded,
"And sing a song to pass the time away.
I've coaxed you all along to sing that Mother song!"
And these here words her husband then did say:

Chorus:

"I dare not sing that Mother song,
Because your Ma would hear,
And quickly she would come along
To camp on us a year
It was a year, her last trip here.
Before she left our flat
I dare not sing that Mother song—
Ask anything but that!"

II.

The fair, young bride of two short happy Summers
Recoiled to hear them words so harsh and mean
She said, "I wish I'd wed one of them drummers
That I wed me when I lived back in Racine.
I used to think your love was true and tender.
But now I find my mother old and gray
I'll pack my trunk in scorn, and leave you in the morn—
You bet me when them cold words you did say

Chorus.

Shakespeare Gets a Shock!

THE "O. G." FILLUM COMPANY
—PRESENTS—
"HAMLET"

A Laughable Romantic Tragedy in Seven Thrilling Side-Splitting Reels.

Produced by W. G. BOTTS.
Directed by H. McHUSTLER.
Scenario by I. KRIBBUM.
Photographed by C. RANKE.

Adapted from W. Shakespeare's [illegible]

"THERE," exclaimed Botts, as he finished writing the above, "that will knock 'em!"

It sure will, and we've only about twenty more scenes to do," agreed McHustler

It wasn't a bad plot at all, after I worked it over and put some [illegible] and a lot of pep in it," declared Kribbum, with becoming modesty "By the way, who's the guy that did this here Hamlet? A bum mohnacker, I [illegible] Why didn't he use Delancey or Courtenay, or some st[illegible] Fatty Fern?

[illegible] informed Botts, "a queer guy. Says he's the [illegible] of Avon.

Lord of Avon, I remember," interrupted McHustler [illegible] stop, and let's see you come around and watch us do the [illegible] and the graveyard stunt"——

"You did?" yelled McHustler, "well, you poor fish, I like that, not. If there's anything I hate it's the author of a book or play buttin' in. Why, sometimes I [illegible] hoobs act just as though they knew more about the plot than we do"——

If he gets [illegible] with me and tries to cut out them laughs I added, I'll [illegible]

Good morrow, and well met, gentlemen," said a quiet voice.

The bunch looked up and stared

"Hey, you, dressin' room's out in th' studio buildin'. Watcher doin' in this private office?" exclaimed McHustler

"Dressing room?" queried the intruder, quietly, "you speak in riddles that I wot not of

"Looks like a what not," grinned Kribbum.

"This is—er—Mr. Oh, yes, Shakespeare, gentlemen," said Botts.

"Shake what?" inquired McHustler.

"The author of the Hamlet thing"——

"Nix, I wrote it," insisted Kribbum.

I mean the play th[illegible] took it from," explained Botts

"Oh, is that all? Well, what's th' big idea?" inquired McHustler

"Friends, it doth please me well to have the question put in so blunt an manner The big idea is love and hate, avarice, which graspeth all [illegible] for the soul, and, methinks you [illegible]

[illegible] big idea of them puff sleeves." "They went out of date during Harrison's administration, sir [illegible]

[illegible] habiliments are"

"Talk [illegible]

Cut the comedy; this is the way Mr. Shakespeare dresses. He's [illegible] out to watch us do the balcony scene."

They went down into the studio. "This," explained Botts, "will be [illegible] my scene, and a corker, too"——

"You just strah," said Shakespeare, "I full well you know there is no [illegible] scene in 'Hamlet.' Perchance confusion reigns in your mind and you have confounded 'Romeo and Juliet'"——

"Up forward with th' chatter, Shake-what's your name," interrupted Kribbum, "I just lifted th' balcony outer that Rummyeo thing for this, it's [illegible] a corking love scene situation."

"All set!" yelled McHustler to the actors

"[illegible] ready, and the director yelled "Camera," whereupon the [illegible] began turning the crank.

"Hist sirs, what would you?" shouted Shakespeare as he gazed in [illegible] "for a certainty my eyes deceived me You have Horatio making love to Ophelia in a balcony nay, not so in the script"

"You butcher life it's in th' script, Old Top, and I can prove it," [illegible] Kribbum, flashing the scenario.

"Camera," yelled McHustler, and Horatio proceeded to play a French horn serenade to Ophelia in the balcony, when Ophelia's father came to a window and poured water down the horn, causing Horatio to splutter

"Odds bodkins and sandwiches are even zounds!" yelled Shakespeare, "enough with this buffoonery. I must soon away and would see this thing through first or [illegible] Read with care my Immortal Hamlet and learn"

"To th' trenches with you [illegible] era!" shouted McHustler, and he went on, with the scene

"All set for the graveyard?" he asked, and was informed that all was ready in another corner of the studio, so they moved over

"I beseech you, friends, enough"

"Please don't bother us, Mr. Shakespeare," pleaded Botts

"And is that Hamlet, he with the bow legs and hideous countenance?" gasped Shakespeare

"Sure [illegible] sure," heartily agreed Kribbum, "I see I had to make him a [illegible] he's th' comedy, bein' a nut

"Nut?" asked Shakespeare

"Yep, nut, rodents in his attic, weery in th' dome, you get me"——

"Get you?"

"Aw'r go on, go on," yelled McHustler. "Throw up that skull there, Pete, make believe you're diggin'. You act as though th' spade was red hot. Come on, Jones, pick up th' skull and do that silly kwize stunt; Look as though you was peeved because you found th' skull."

Jones, as Hamlet, picked up the skull gingerly.

"Don't be afraid, you simp, that dome ain't bit anything fr fifty years, [illegible]"

"Nothing in the can," murmured Jones, trying to appear as though [illegible] The grave diggers let out a roar at this

"Marry, sirs, but this is too, too much, I am undone"——began the [illegible] Shakespeare

"Hey, Liz," yelled McHustler, "got a safety pin? This guy here says he's comin' apart

"In all seriousness, gentlemen, will my 'Hamlet' appear in your attated—er—movable pictures like this?"

"You guessed it," said Kribbum, "I ain't bossin' none, but believe me I took your 'Hamlet,' added some love stuff and about fifty new laughs and it's goin' to be fine. Stick around until you see Hamlet chased eight miles by the ghost, and when he gets all snarled up in a backyard clothesline and yells for a horse and says he'd give his kingdom for a horse, or even a Flivver, it's a howl, a perfect howl."

Poor Shakespeare looked at them all keenly for a moment. They were in earnest He shook his head and shrugged his padded shoulders.

"It behooves me to suggest, my artistic friends, that you have omitted the stabbing scene of 'Caesar,' also the sleep-walking scene from 'Macbeth' and the trial scene from the 'Merchant of Venice'"——

'I tried to work 'em all in," apologized Kribbum, "but this is only seven reels. Cheer up, Shake, old dear, I'm working out a peach of a new scenario, to be called 'Th' Merry Wives of A Midsummer-night's Dream,' and I m usin' all them scenes you mentioned in it, together with a tank

"Marry, Sirs, but This Is Too Much, I Am Undone"—Began the Dazed Shakespeare.

act and a mermaid scene from 'Th' Tempest.' It'll knock 'em, dead, believe me"——

"You forget 'As You Like It,'" murmured Mr. Shakespeare

His fine sarcasm was lost on Kribbum

"Never, I'm doin' this just as I like it and"——

"Camera" Hey! Ophelia comes on now and does a Salome dance with th' skull on th' grave, doin' a fall into it for th' finish," yelled Director McHustler

Shakespeare groaned and turned to go.

"Don't hurry, Mr. Shakespeare," said Botts, politely, "where are you going?"

'Avaunt, the time is out of joint. I need must hurry back to the beyond and see if I can get Bacon to admit he wrote all my stuff."

"Now," yelled McHustler, as Mr. Shakespeare departed, "we can go on without being bothered by a fool author. Hey, Smith, come on now in that Claudius costume—no, no, not like that, put your crown on crooked and come on with a decanter in one hand; you're supposed to be soused!

"My good gosh," he added, turning to the others, "I just can t seem to beat into their heads this here Shakespearian atmosphere!"

INKLINGS AND THINKLINGS

By WEX JONES.

[illegible] there are four famous [illegible]

Ho[illegible] Virginia Corse Payson.

Life's mysteries... Fight dope.

REVELATIONS OF AN INTERNATIONAL SPY.

[illegible] I am to find the hiding place of that [illegible] it is necessary that I prepare to act as a [illegible]

[illegible] All those calling [illegible]

[illegible] persons. If they [illegible]

[illegible] in imaginary Steve Senator to an imaginary [illegible]

While I desire this potato salad, I do not feel as though I should have to pay five cents for it. Neither do I want to introduce legislation which would compel you to supply without additional cost one plate of potato salad at least to every purchaser of a dill pickle.

[illegible] There were only two kinds of men in [illegible] railroad tickets in their pockets and those who [illegible] attitude. Today a third kind comes along. He [illegible]

A Visit from the Insurance Man

HE [illegible] on the doorstep with a large leather trunk, like an elephant, and a fierce [illegible]

"I should like to bring to your notice——" he said.

"Sure!" I answered. "Come in- [illegible] draught."

He [illegible] inside with a fierce look and the trunk

I should like to call your attention——" he began

Right-o!" I agreed. "Take a chair, or a sofa, or something Have a cocktail

He took one [illegible] a long breath

"I desire to give you——" he started once more

"Now, don't you [illegible] I said "You're the [illegible] wanting indoors for. If it's cigars I like those with the [illegible] round them. Not too many. I've been expecting you for a long time. Take another chair or two, will you? Have some more of the sofa."

He smiled a benevolent sort of smile, a little bit wobbly at the corners, and opening his trunk dived into it head first. It appeared to be full of tracts

"I'm sorry you misunderstood me," said a muffled voice from the depths, "but what I really called for was to draw your attention"——here he came out of the portable library and took breath "to draw your attention to our New Fourteen Horse power System of Graduated Get-your-money-back Gratuitous Interment Benefits on the Accumulative Endowment A-scrunch Scale with Profits

"Let me look another breath

Oh, thanks," I said "Did anybody see you come in?"

He opened one of his little tracts, and wagging a forefinger at me spoke thuswise, without any comma or stops

Supposing you are thirty five next birthday this your mean expectation of life is forty three years and therefore if you invest in one of our get-your money-back policies with profits on the major scale by the time you are fifty-five you will be entitled to one-tenth of the money you have paid in premiums plus one-tenth of the money or moneys which you might have paid if you had joined the society at the conclusion of your twenty-ninth year without profits but paid on the third-rate bi-nominal theorem of the transmogrification of logarithms three tots a week in lieu of beer if your chest measurement is less than the square root of your age last birthday divided by the sum of your income-tax and its accumulated benefits under the Act of 1863, provided you make the bell ring"

I stirred slightly in my sleep

"Did you speak?" I asked him.

"I'm afraid I didn't quite catch that, D'you mind saying it again"

He picked up the shovel; I picked up the tongs.

"Supposing you are thirty five next birthday," he began, but I butted in once more.

"I'm not nearly that said, "and I find it exceeding difficult to presuppose something which I am not nearly."

"Well, said the agent, "take another case. You are desirous of insuring that your children, if and when, wait and see, shall have in due course a decent and proper education, as befits [illegible] offspring of a man in your station of life"

I bowed, and laid down the tongs but as he stooped with the shovel I picked them up [illegible]

"Assuming that you are next birthday is more than a number of the house you have [illegible] them by investing in one of our [illegible] Bull and push pedestrianism, [illegible] bicycle returns [illegible] cubicles, jewelled in nine holes, with little oil you will insure an annual income of ten dollars a month every week plus interest on Scale C and profits as per margin 9x47. Sufficient to send your son to Yale for three years."

"Granted," I replied. "But, then, supposing I don't or he doesn't or they refuse? Supposing he wants to go to Harvard, or to join the Boy Sprouts? Supposing I haven't got ten dollars or a sou? How about if Yale is burnt down? What about it?"

"In that case," said the canvasser, diving into the trunk again, "in that case you will receive on your eighty fifth birthday the accumulated money or moneys that you ought to have paid but didn't, less the cost of the entail and conveyancing with profits on the minor scale, and if the bell don't ring you get your money back, plus my bus fare."

He took out another little book, and read several pages to me.

There was no love in it, and no plot worth mentioning. No one embraced anyone else. Not the sort of book for a Winter's evening. He read 347 pages of it to me, and to be quite honest some of it was quite exciting. For instance:

"Thus by adding the expectation of life to the square of the hypotenuse, a man aged ninety-seven by paying ten dollars a week for a hundred years will become entitled to, and may even get, an annuity of five dollars a week with profits on the other basis But if, after paying his premiums every week for seventy years, he collects should do a bunk with the bar tha it is up to the policy-holder to chase him."

He beamed; I beamed; we beamed

"It's all so simple," he said, and looked it

"Excuse me breaking in on your discourse," I said, "but do you carry all these facts, figures and fancies in your head?"

"Yes," he said, and beamed some more

"Then that accounts for its shape," I said. "It's like an egg, it's like a melon, it's like a Rugby football Put another record on, old son, and let's have some more."

"Again," he went on, having got his second wind, "suppose you agree to take on a get-out-or-get-under policy on the three years' system without medical examination, then——"

"Must you really be going?" I said "Can't you stop to tea? Or shall I throw you out?"

"Or supposing you are eighty-five and your child is seventy five?" he said

I took him by the nose

"Have you ever heard," I asked him, "have you ever been told what did to Colin Bell? No? Well, I'll show you!"

And I picked him up, trunk and all, and threw him through the window

At least, I would have done so if he hadn't scuttled for the door. Oh, I'm a very Hun when I'm roused. As Mr. Welldon says, the police'll have me before long

PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN FOR INDIGESTION OR AN UPSET STOMACH

Instant Relief from Pain, Sourness, Gases, Acidity, Heartburn and Dyspepsia—No Waiting!

Wonder what upset your stomach [illegible] A little [illegible] which portion of the food did the [illegible] regulated and you can eat their favorite damage do you? Well, don't foods without fear bother. If your stomach is in a revolt, if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps, head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food, breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in a few moments you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liver you'll most rebellious; if your food don't digest as it should remember the quickest, surest, and most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Try it—Advertisement

PILES DON'T BE CUT Until You Try This Wonderful Treatment. If you have piles in any form write for a FREE sample of PAXTINE PILE TABLETS and a trial box the day that you read this. Write today.
Infallible Tablet Co., Dept. 200, Marshall, Michigan.

RUB OUT RHEUMATISM WITH "ST. JACOBS OIL"

Get a Small Trial Bottle—Rub Pain, Soreness, Stiffness Right Out of Joints and Muscles—Instant Relief! Best Liniment, Doesn't Blister

Rheumatism is [illegible] only" Not [illegible] pain [illegible] internal [illegible] Stop [illegible] Limber up! Quit complaining. Get a small trial bottle of oil, honest [illegible] "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store [illegible] and in a moment you'll be free [illegible] aching, [illegible] pain, soreness [illegible] and swelling. Don't suffer! Rub away pain. "St. Jacobs Oil" has [illegible] millions of rheumatism sufferers in the last half century, and is just as good for sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache, sprains—Advertisement.

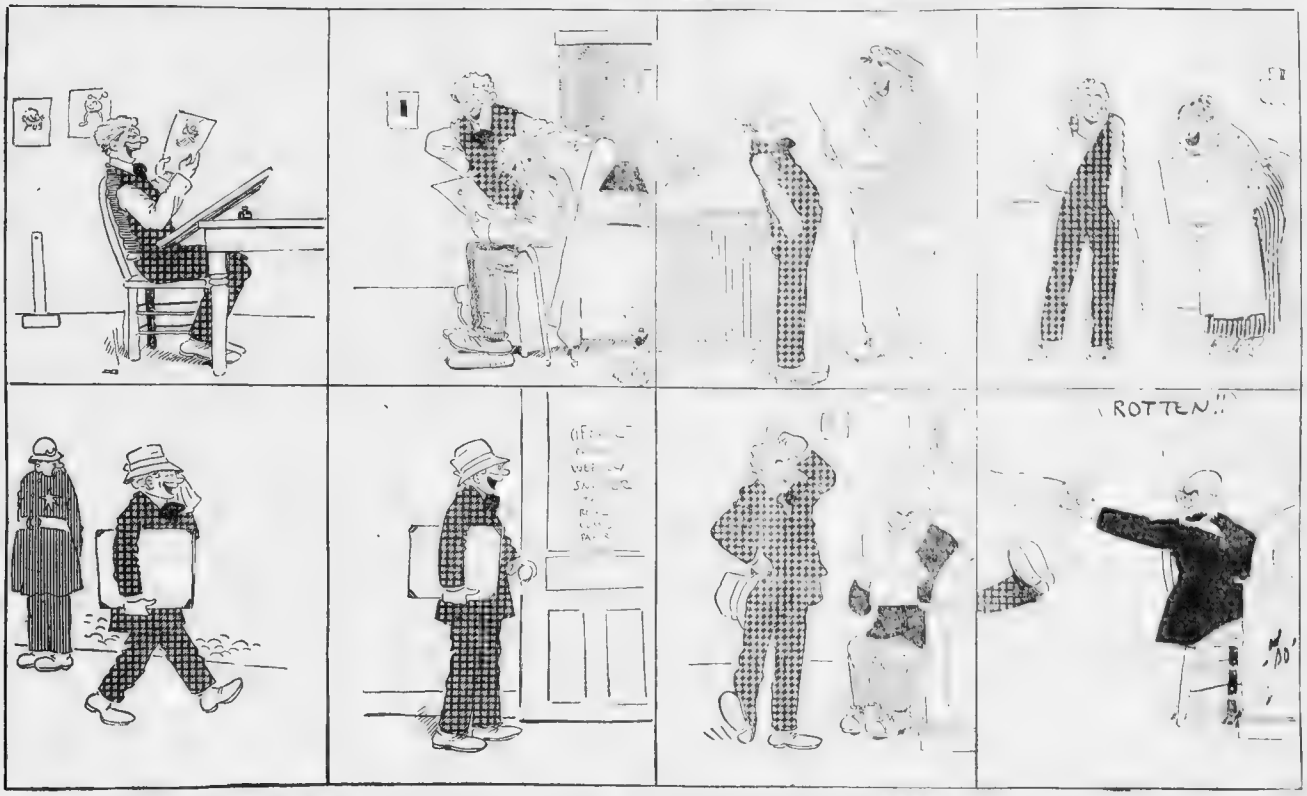
MOTHER! LOOK AT YOUR CHILD'S TONGUE

Give "California Syrup of Figs" If Cross, feverish, Sick, Bilious, Constipated—They love it

Watch Children! Guard Against Colds, Grippe, Sore Throat and Sickness by Keeping Liver and Bowels Free from Poisons

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, won't force a regular habit with [illegible] Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your child needs a thorough cleansing at once. A tablespoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" today and by tomorrow all the foul, constipated waste, liver gets sluggish; stomach sour

A Picture Story with Just One Word By Tad



With the College Wits

Ye Towne Gossip

THERE WAS a fire.
OR SOMETHING.
DOWN TOWN.
THE OTHER night.
AND EVERY one.
WAS HURRYING home.
FOR SUPPER.
OR DINNER.
OR WHATEVER they eat.
AT 7 o'clock.
AND I was hurrying.
TO MY office.
TO EARN mine.
BEFORE I could eat it.
AND THE bells rang.
AND THE cars stopped.
AND A fire auto.
SKIDDED.
AROUND THE corner.
AND DROVE up.
TO AN office building.
OR SOME place.
AND PEOPLE stopped.
AND THE engine came.
AND THE hose cart.
AND HOOK and ladder.
AND POLICEMEN.
AND EVERYTHING.
AND FIREMEN.
RUSHED ABOUT.
AND MORE people stopped.
AND LOOKED around.
AND ASKED where it was.
AND I didn't know.
AND A copper.
DROVE BACK the crowd.

AND DID it again.
AND I asked a fireman.
WHERE it was.
AND HE didn't know.
AND SOMEBODY.
ASKED ME.
AND I didn't know.
AND THE firemen looked.
IN THE cellar.
AND IN the street.
AND EVERYWHERE.
AND COULDN'T find it.
AND PUT up ladders.
AND BROKE a window.
AND COULDN'T find it.
AND THE crowd grew.
AND DINNERS got cold.
WHILE FATHERS lingered.
AND BABIES cried.
WHEN MOTHERS scolded.
BECAUSE HUSBANDS were late.
AND THE crowd grew.
AND THE firemen hunted.
AND SAID kind words.
AND OTHERS.
ABOUT THE fire.
THEY COULDN'T find.
OR ANYTHING.
AND I thought
I HAD a story.
BUT THEY all went home.
AND WHAT can you do.
WHEN THE fires.
DON'T RUN to form?
I THANK you.

Spring Will Be Here Eventually.

THE MORNING SMILE

WEX JONES Editor

Vol. V. BOSTON, SUNDAY, MARCH 26, 1916. No. 11.

Have You Written Us Yet?

Automatic Dots

New Machine Saves Endless Worry in Writing.

Letters i and j Never Without Their Distinctive Marks When Smile Device Is Used.

EVERYBODY who writes knows what a nuisance it is to dot all the i's and j's Frequently these letters are left undotted, which looks extremely untidy

A word like jiujitsu, for instance, looks very lonely if the four dots are omitted With the Smile's "I" Dotter all four dots are put on in one operation.

Buy one of these machines—see accompanying illustration—and be assured that your letters will be dotted until they make a coach dog look like an unused piece of blotting paper.

Did You Know That—

Turpentine is more obnoxious than turpitude to most people?

Shellfish might be called shell game, but not by us?

A pundit may be unable to make a pun?

A man named George always feels sorry for persons named William or Henry?

Robins waste a lot of time traveling?

If robins and other birds would stick to one place all the time they would have a greater stake in the community?

A flounder may have a lot of money and still be flat?

Flat as it is, a flounder may be a rounder?

A rat-trap is for catching rats while a pigeon trap is for releasing pigeons?

THE SMILE'S AUTOMATIC DOTTER.

In the Smile's Letter Box

UMBRELLAS.

TO THE EDITOR—I bought a new umbrella last week and I have experienced a lot of difficulty in keeping it from getting wet. Can not your staff of scientists help me out in this, and tell me how to keep a costly umbrella spoiled

AMELIA AUSTERLITZ

[There are several simple ways of keeping an umbrella dry. If you are in the habit of taking the umbrella out in threatening weather, you should always carry a small rubber tent, under which you can remain [illegible] not the [illegible] stops. A [illegible] Advertisement, to [illegible] the umbrella only in the [illegible]

AGAINST THE LAW

TO THE ED[illegible] me how [illegible] keeping sticks.

WILLIAM WILLIS.

STOPS

TO THE ED[illegible] train always [illegible] stop? Is a full stop any different from a plain, ordinary stop, and if so, why? REA MCVINS.

Danvers.

[So many queries must be brought to a full stop.—Ed.]

Timelock Foams, the Great Detective

The Adventure of the Missing Letters.

I [illegible]

[illegible] Poet on?" he asked. "I was expecting an important letter and it hasn't come."

"[illegible]," said I, "I was [illegible] and the [illegible]

[illegible] I [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Putting the Baby to Sleep

IN the matter of sleep babies are inclined to be contrary. You must first learn the late-comer's habit or "set" for the day with him. Care must be taken not to walk on a log by pelting hard wow... pen t... scratc... face ... or a ... wher... direc... pleasu... crossed ... of pe... your ... baby ... ties of ... If you ... and n... tion ... drive ... on th... house ... the ... round ... kept ... go to ...

Bringing Up Father — — — — — By George McManus

Quotations from Shakespeare

As He Would Have Written Them Today

"S... a ... [illegible]"

"Some are born great, and others become moving ... [illegible]"
— Much Night

"The Miserable have no other medicine, but only hope"
— Measure for Measure

"... [illegible]"

"It is a wise father that knows his own child."
— Merchant of Venice

"I ... [illegible] ... a pupil ..."
— Merchant of Venice

"I ... [illegible]"
— King Henry

"A horse! a horse! my kingdom for a horse!"
— King Richard III

"One touch of nature makes the whole world kin."
— Troilus and Cressida

"Let me have no men about me that are fatheads."
— Julius Caesar

"... [illegible] ... ill, one hardly is."
— Much Ado About Nothing

"As ... [illegible] ... mion stale the infinite variety."
— Antony and Cleopatra

"How sharper than a serpent's tooth it is to have to pay alimony!"
— King Lear

"He jests at scars who never used an old-fashioned razor."
— Romeo and Juliet

"... [illegible] ... thing is rotten in the State of New York."
— Hamlet

"Frailty, thy name is a real girl of woman."
— Hamlet

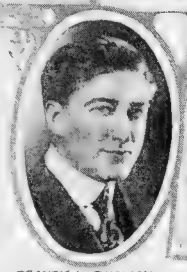
"... [illegible] ... he had not a ... more in ... [illegible] ... scarce to ... [illegible] ... [illegible] ... [illegible]

Moving Pictures

JEANNE IVER, IN "ONE DAY" AT THE BOSTON

GENEVIEVE HAMPER AT THE MODERN THEATRE.



FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN IN "A MAN AND HIS SOUL" AT THE PARK.

MABEL TALIAFERRO IN "HER PRICE" AT LOEW'S ORPHEUM

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS AND BESSIE LOVE IN "THE GOOD BAD MAN" AT TRIANGLE RELEASE.

BOSTON THEATRE

[illegible] Six Dancing Girls, in a dancing act with various periods of Ancient history. [illegible] with a company of [illegible] dogs. Sir Harry and Hazel Abbe Model Trio, or Mr. Stein and Phillips in skits, and Lonzo Cox, in an [illegible] vaudeville act.

PARK THEATRE

Manager Thomas Dobson has arranged a program for this week which he thinks the best ever [illegible] Pauline Frederick [illegible] the Eighth Power [illegible] taken from Mary Johnson's famous book. In the supporting company [illegible] Fox Film Corporation, as [illegible] Chesebro, who was [illegible] and Jack Dillon, who was [illegible] and others.

MODERN THEATRE

[illegible] will be seen for the last time [illegible] Hart [illegible] in one of the Kay-Bee productions [illegible] Aristocracy." A print [illegible] Cabinet Will Do Stuff." It is a story replete with plot and [illegible] the battle in Paris, and concerns a young artist [illegible] who design [illegible] engaged privately by false [illegible] to be the heirs. The heroine [illegible] of wealth and [illegible] are shown [illegible] Jones [illegible] Drama [illegible] this [illegible] to be [illegible]

UNION STREET THEATRE.

[illegible] Mack will be shown in the five part comedy drama "The [illegible] Mr. Mack [illegible] Bobbie [illegible] Mary [illegible] Grace [illegible] Mr. Mack [illegible] Mr. Mack [illegible] Mr. Mack

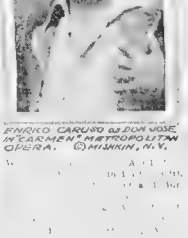
Opera and Concert

ALICE NIELSEN, METROPOLITAN OPERA, AT TREMONT TEMPLE CONCERT, APRIL 6th.

GERALDINE FARRAR AS BUTTERFLY, METROPOLITAN OPERA.

Seat Sale for Opera Opens Tomorrow

THIS a[nnounce]ment [ma]de for the [...]



MARIA BARRIENTOS, METROPOLITAN OPERA SOPRANO, WHO WILL SING AT SYMPHONY CONCERT, APRIL 8th.

ENRICO CARUSO AS DON JOSE, IN "CARMEN," METROPOLITAN OPERA. COPYRIGHT, N.Y.

All [...] will be sent [...] Mail Department [...] Theatre [...] All work must be sent [...] Tuesday [...] will be [...] Thursday [...] will be [...] Friday [...] will be [...] Saturday [...] will be [...] Sunday [...] will be [...] Monday [...] will be [...] Tuesday [...] will be [...] Wedn

Amusements. Amusements. Amusements. Amusements. Amusements. Amusements. Amusements.

SHUBERT THEATRE

Eves at 8.15 Wed. and Sat. Mats. at 2.15

Roy Atwell, Marguerite Namara, Harry Conor, John Charles Thomas, Beth Lydy, Mabel Weeks, Letty Yorke

BRIGHTEST CONSTELLATION OF LIGHT OPERA STARS BOSTON HAS EVER SEEN

THE UNANIMOUS VERDICT OF THE BOSTON PRESS WAS AS FOLLOWS: "THE MESSRS. SHUBERTS' PERFECT PRODUCTION OF

ALONE AT LAST

Has Charm, Melody and Distinction.

"It is sure to be enjoyed by all who appreciate good music well sung."

"The voices of the wonderful cast are far superior to any heard in recent years."

Ask any Shubert Theatre patron and you will also be told that Franz Lehar has now surpassed his famous "Merry Widow."

ye WILBUR Theatre

PEL. OX. 4520

Evenings At 8.15 Mats. Wed. and Sat. At 2.15

3rd Joyous Week Begins Tomorrow Night

"The Funniest Comedy on the Stage Today."

MESSRS. SHUBERT PRESENT

HOBSON'S CHOICE

Prices, Eves. & Sat. Mat., Bal. 75c, $1.00, $1.50 & $2.00

Wednesday Matinee Best Seats..... Only $1.00

MAJESTIC

7th Week. Why? THE PUBLIC ADVERTISES

WM. HODGE

In a Comedy of New York Life

FIXING SISTER

Evgs. $1.50 Wed. & Sat. Mats. 2.15

B. F. KEITH'S

"THE AMUSEMENT CENTRE OF BOSTON"

THE ANNUAL MILLION DOLLAR

SPRING FASHION SHOW

The Latest Spring Style Creations

VALERIE BERGERE

AND HER COMPANY OF

RAE ELEANOR BALL | DOOLEY & RUGEL | STAN STANLEY

LUCY GILLETT | WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH RUTH | KUBREY RICHE | HARRIS MANION

SUNDAY CONCERT

MACK & WALKER

NEXT WEEK — LILLIAN RUSSELL

CASTLE SQ.

"A Theatre of Constant Surprises"

LAST WEEK OF

The Great Dramatic Sensation

UNDER COVER

THE PLAY THAT BROKE ALL RECORDS

Matinees Daily at 2:10. Evenings at 8:10

Prices, 15c, 25c, 50c, 75c. Telephone Oxford 5300

Branch Ticket Office, 15 Winter Street (Vorenberg's)

Next Week—"Little Lord Fauntleroy"

PARK SQ.

PHONE OX. 5060

EVES. 8:15 WED. & SAT. 2:15

"The House of Hits." Direction Selwyn & Co. Fred E. Wright, Mgr.

FAREWELL WEEK

LAST 8 TIMES

GOOD-BYE PERFORMANCES OF THE CLEANEST, SPEEDIEST AND FUNNIEST FARCE IN YEARS.

SELWYN & CO. OFFER THE LAUGH FESTIVAL

TWIN BEDS

By Margaret Mayo and Salisbury Field

With a Cast of Notable Funmakers.

TO MISS SEEING "TWIN BEDS" IS THE REGRET OF A LIFETIME.

LAST 8 TIMES

BEGINNING MONDAY, APR. 3. Seats Tuesday. Mail Orders Now

MARGARET ILLINGTON

"A great actress in a great play."—N. Y. Herald

IN "THE LIE" By HENRY ARTHUR JONES

PLYMOUTH

"The home of fashionable players."—Post.

FINAL 8 TIMES — LAST WEEK — FINAL 8 TIMES

JOHN GALSWORTHY'S MASTERPIECE

JUSTICE

WITH

JOHN BARRYMORE

PRICES 50c to $2.00

O. P. HEGGIE, CATHLEEN NESBITT, HENRY STEPHENSON, LESTER LONERGAN, and other notable players

SPECIAL ATTENTION TO MAIL ORDERS

THURSDAY MAT. 25c to $1.50

NEXT ATTRACTION — BEGINNING Apr. 3

MAY IRWIN

IN HER GREATEST LAUGHING SUCCESS

33 WASHINGTON SQUARE

SEATS TUESDAY

HOLLIS ST. THEATRE

TWO WEEKS ONLY — COMMENCING MONDAY EVENING, MARCH 27

TOMORROW NIGHT

The Distinguished English Actor

MR. CYRIL MAUDE

In His International Triumph

GRUMPY

THERE WILL BE THE FINAL "GRUMPY" PERFORMANCES TO BE GIVEN IN BOSTON

MR MAUDE'S TOUR DOES NOT INCLUDE ANY OTHER N. E. CITY

THE BIG BEN OF AMUSEMENTS — PARK THEATRE — THIS WEEK

PARAMOUNT Presents THE DRAMATIC STAR PAULINE FREDERICK IN THE CELEBRATED PLAY AUDREY In Five Acts. NEAR ALESSANDRO ALBERINI AND ETHEL COSTELLO

METRO Presents Its Two Greatest Stars in Films FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN And BEVERLY BAYNE IN The Man And His Soul In Five Acts. GERMAN TORPEDO DESTROYER CAUGHT in a STORM

Musical Marvel A. KRAUTH Boy Pianist

SUNDAY CONCERT 7-10.30 P.M. MARGUERITE CLARK IN STILL WATERS 5 Acts

COLONIAL

Direct Friedman and Wm. Harris, Lessees & Mgrs.

Tomorrow Night Mats. Wed. and S.

DIRECT FROM ITS SEASON'S RUN AT THE GLOBE THEATRE NEW YORK

GABY DESLYS

WITH HARRY PILCER

IN CHARLES DILLINGHAM'S NEWEST AND BIGGEST MUSICAL COMEDY PRODUCTION

STOP! LOOK! LISTEN!

MUSIC BY IRVING BERLIN STAGED BY P. H. BURNSIDE

JOSEPH SANTLEY, HARRY FOX, FRANK LALOR, DOYLE AND DIXON, FLORENCE MORRISON, JUSTINE JOHNSON AND 100 MORE

BOSTON THEATRE

CONTINUOUS DAILY FROM 9 A.M. TO 11 P.M.

MONDAY—TUESDAY—WEDNESDAY

First Time in Boston FIVE-CT DRAMA

THE SUPREME TEMPTATION

Story of a Surgeon's Great Test, with ANTONIO MORENO & DOROTHY KNIGHT

CLARE & DUVAL COMEDY SINGING ACT

BERNIVICI BROS. MUSICAL NOVELTY

JONES & JOHNSON TWO LIVELY ENTERTAINERS

BERTIE FORD THE WIRE WIZARD

BIG MUSICAL COMEDY

GIRLS OF KOKOMO

NINE PRETTY GIRLS AND FOUR CLEVER PICTURES

THURSDAY—FRIDAY—SATURDAY FIRST TIME IN BOSTON

ELINOR GLYNN'S SENSATIONAL LOVE STORY

ONE DAY

FIVE FASCINATING PARTS

SIX DANCERS De LUXE HISTORICAL DANCE REVUE

STODDARD & HINES "ABSENT-MINDED DOUBLE-DOSERS"

HUDLER, STEIN & PHILLIPS IN HEIGHTS OF HARMONY

LONZO COX ORIGINAL TINY MARY SCHRUS

TRAINED ELEPHANT PONY AND DOGS BRING THE CHILDREN

AND FOUR OTHER ACTS

BIG 3½ Hour CONCERT SUNDAY No Repeats

LOEW'S ORPHEUM

Most Beautiful Theatre in America

MON., TUES., WED. The Legitimate Star EDWARD ABELES (HIMSELF)

And Clever Company in Geo. Broadhurst's Dramatic Playlet

"SELF DEFENSE"

7 OTHER VAUDEVILLE FEATURES

The Charming Actress MABEL TALIAFERO IN A Sensational Photo Play

"HER GREAT PRICE"

CONTINUOUS FROM 9:30 Mornings 10-15 Matinees 10-15-25 Evenings 15-25-35

BOX SEATS RESERVED NIGHTS

Tonight—Concert 7 to 10:30 JIM AND BONNIE THORNTON

FRANKLIN PARK THEATRE

2 and 8 P. M. Phone Dor. 10

Mats., Tues. and Wed.

NANCE O'NEIL, in "Souls in Bondage"

Selected Vaudeville

"The Best Show," News Weekly

EXTRA ATTRACTIONS THURSDAY

Tonight at 8 O'Clock

Vivian Martin, in "The Little Dutch Girl"

Big Vaudeville Program

GAIETY THEATRE

WASHINGTON ST. NEAR ... STREET

JACOBS & JERMON (Inc.) Present

THE GREATEST LAUGHING SHOW IN BURLESQUE

THE GOLDEN CROOK

EXTRAVAGANZA CO.

WITH

BILLY ARLINGTON

AND A BIG COMPANY OF 50 PEOPLE

EXTRA—The Ballet of the Seasons

TWICE DAILY AT 2.15 AND 8 P. M.

TELEPHONE OXFORD 38 FOR SEAT RESERVATIONS

MODERN

BOTH BILLS AT EACH SHOW ALL WEEK

William Fox Presents ROBERT B. MANTELL and GENEVIEVE HAMPER In the FIRST Showing of "A Wife's Sacrifices"

Paramount Pictures Offer HAZEL DAWN for the FIRST TIME in "THE SALESLADY"

TONIGHT MARY PICKFORD IN COMING OTHER FILMS VAUDEVILLE MUSIC 10:30 No Repeats

TREMONT TEMPLE, THURS. EVE., APRIL 6

ALICE NIELSEN

ARTHUR HACKETT, Tenor HILDEGARD NASH, Violin 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00 NOW AT $1.50

HEAR My Old Kentucky Home Bonnie Sweet Bessie Annie Laurie Many Other Favorite Songs

TREMONT TEMPLE, THIS WEEK ONLY

THE CHRISTIAN

A VIVID, GRIPPING MASTERPIECE, IN EIGHT PARTS, BY HALL CAINE

DAILY AT 1, 3, 5, 7, 9 P. M. PRICES 25, 15, 10c

SATURDAY — BIG DOUBLE PROGRAM

Necessitating Change of Time Schedule

LOEW'S GLOBE

MON., TUES. AND WED. Little Caruso & Co. "A Night in Venice"

Clark & McCullough, Arthur Havel & Co., Crumby & Cross, Two Kanes, Charles Bradley.

OTHER VAUDEVILLE FEATURES. Latest Photo Plays and News. TONIGHT—CONCERT 7 TO 10:30

EXETER STREET THEATRE

Near Copley Square

2 & 8 P.M. 5 cts 8 P.M.

THIS (SUNDAY) EVENING

Andrew Mack in "The Ragged Earl" Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Mae Murray in "He Have and He Hold," Miss Olga Petrova in "The Heart of a Painted Woman" Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Dustin Farnum in "Cameo Kirby." Ethel Barrymore in "The Final Judgment." Double bill. No advance in prices. Paramount and Metro Pictures.

OLD SOUTH THEATRE

329 Washington St. (Opp. Milk)

Paramount Pictures

Mon., Tues., Wed. Stanley Krahmer Presents MARY PICKFORD Poor Little Peppina

Thurs., Fri., Sat. The Beautiful MAE MURRAY "To Have and to Hold"

SUNDAY CONCERT Continuous from 9:30 A. M. till 10:30 P. M.

BOWDOIN SQ. 10 CENTS

Program Changed Mon., Thurs. & Sat. to ANN MUSICAL COMEDY REVUE and Army Films showing Stars and Stripes in Mexico, 4-reel realistic story of Mexican situation. Every Mon., Tues. and Wed. Pearl White in "The Iron Claw" Every Wed. Night Girls' Amateur Diving and Swimming Contest. Start Tonight at 7. Admission 10c.

LOEW'S ST. JAMES

Mon., Tues. and Wed. Matts. Broiles Presents MISS HAMLET Shakespearian Travesty

OTHER VAUDEVILLE FEATURES Charles Cherry in "Passers By." TONIGHT—CONCERT 7 TO 10:30

PASSION PLAY

AT

BOSTON COLLEGE

THIS WEEK—Monday Evening, March 27, and Thursday Evening, March 30.

MATINEE SATURDAY, APRIL 1, AT 2.00 P. M.

Boston College Hall

JAMES STREET

PRICES - - 50c and 75c

TICKET SALE TOMORROW, MAR. 27

METROPOLITAN OPERA CO. OF N.Y.

BOSTON OPERA HOUSE

BEGINNING MONDAY, APRIL 3

ALL PRINCIPAL SINGERS

COMPLETE CHORUS—BALLET—ORCHESTRA

FIRST WEEK, APR. 3-8—Mon. Tues. Wed. Thurs. Fri. Sat. Mat. Wed. Sat.

SECOND WEEK, APR. 10-15—Mon. Tues. Wed. Thurs. Fri. Sat. Mat. Wed. Sat.

THIRD WEEK, APR. 17-22—Mon. Tues. Wed. Thurs. Fri. Sat. Mat. Wed. Sat.

EXTRA—Friday Afternoon, April 21—PARSIFAL

Tickets, $1, $1.50, $2, $3, $4, $5. Boxes, $60. At Box Office, Opera House, and Steinert's, 162 Boylston St. Direction C. A. ELLIS.

D. M.

By F. J. McISAAC

ALICE SEYMOUR IN "HOBSON'S CHOICE" AT YE WILBUR.

GLADYS CARR, EVELYN DORN, AND EMILY McLEAN, WITH WILLIAM HODGE IN "FIXING SISTER" AT THE MAJESTIC.

LILLIAN HORN, MARIAM FOLGER, AND OLGA BRITTON IN "ALONE AT LAST" AT THE SHUBERT.

GABY DESLYS IN "STOP! LOOK! LISTEN!" AT THE COLONIAL

HENRIETTA THOMAS MARTHA LUNDERMAN AND AUGUSTA LUHRING IN "THE FASHION SHOW" AT B. F. KEITH'S.

ELSIE MACKAY IN "CRUMPY" AT THE HOLLIS.

ELEANOR COCHRAN WITH "THE GOLDEN CROOK CO." AT THE GAIETY.

DOROTHY DICKINSON AT THE CASTLE SQ.

JANE SEYMOUR IN "TWIN BEDS" AT THE PARK SQ.

A [illegible] in Boston [illegible] Colonial Theatre [illegible] row night, "Stop—[illegible]

The sudden rise of [illegible] from the rank of ordinary producers to be the wonder man of the theatrical profession has caused excitement wherever actors [illegible] you hear the word "luck" [illegible] connection with him.

The proper word should be "nerve."

Dillingham's formula is an ancient one. It usually works well, but it is tremendously expensive, and if, by chance, things should go wrong [illegible]

Instead of putting out a musical show [illegible] a dozen stars, paid them their prices, and turned them loose. Then he sought the most popular composer, put him to work, spend a jag of money on scenery and costumes, and he had a show.

It was a pretty sure thing that the public would rush to such an entertainment, and that's what Dillingham did. It wasn't a sure thing, and that's why other managers didn't do it, for in case of failure—bankruptcy. So it was nerve and not luck which enabled Dillingham to [illegible] interest in his fate.

[illegible] courtroom in "Justice" [illegible] from any other trial [illegible] remember. The [illegible] the [illegible] body connected with [illegible] room and cool were [illegible] musicians and the jury, lawyers and spectators betray the most frenzied

JOHN BARRYMORE IN "JUSTICE" AT THE PLYMOUTH.

"Justice" is more realistic. Here a snivelling clerk caught forging [illegible] employer's name. He is the least [illegible] in the room. The [illegible] attorneys, the court officers, the jury all occupy the places that belong to them. They are trying a case which has no personal [illegible] for them. You get the impression of the relentlessness and [illegible] of the law. The government lawyer is no villain, there [illegible] woman to spring a scene [illegible] and, only a pale, [illegible] little person who only gets [illegible] paper into the rolls by [illegible] there is no unwritten [illegible] of any kind, only [illegible] mercy which the judge [illegible]

[illegible] no time in building [illegible] and they call [illegible] this hundred-[illegible] set the same, is a tribute [illegible] stage management, and a [illegible] monial to fine acting.

[illegible] opened to be in the Colonial [illegible] Wednesday night when [illegible] and I said [illegible] body connected with [illegible] room and cool were [illegible] musicians and the people on the stage that the audience did not take alarm, and accidentally betrayed reluctance about going. The women [illegible] time to put on their rubbers and don their wraps, and then everybody strolled out in the most leisurely manner.

When you read about theatre panics with ghastly results, you may safely bet that the panic started because those in charge of the theatre were not big enough for their jobs.

Any modern theatre can be completely emptied in [illegible] minutes without haste [illegible] No fire travels so rapidly [illegible] to endanger an audience in that short space of time. So what's the use of being afraid of fire in a playhouse.

Lothian and Harrison [illegible] theatrical history when they [illegible] out into the street after the [illegible] ed audience and invited it to [illegible] back again to see the rest of the play. I don't think that has ever been done before.

* * * *

It is now the season of all-star revivals. Joseph Brooks is first in the field with "The Great Pursuit," which is a revival of C. Haddon Chamber's once popular play.

[illegible] are Phyllis [illegible] [illegible] Charles Waldron [illegible] William Brown Meiford, Cynthia Brooke, Montague Love and other well known players. It was given its premier at the Shubert in New York last week.

"Alone at Last" carries a witticism in its title. The young lovers have to climb one of the most refractory of the Alps to attain that situation, and the scene on the summit of the Jungfrau during a storm is the pinnacle of the piece. Speaking of "Alone at Last," I remember a picture which was a great favorite a quarter of a century ago. It exhibited a gentleman with long whiskers embracing a lady in bridal gown, with a bustle, in the privacy of their wedding apartment, and carried the caption, "Alone at Last." Lehar, the composer, probably saw it too.

This operetta, by the way, required much attention before it was ready for the American stage. It contained no chorus originally. Imagine a musical show without a chorus in this country. Merola, the conductor, took several attractive themes from the score and worked them into chorus parts, and a chorus was squeezed into the piece. It is a tight squeeze, though, even now [illegible] its peculiar title, the Viennese operetta has tickled the fancy of Bostonians, and the attendance last week both surprised and delighted the management.

If the Monkeys Had Had Matches

MONKEYS lived, fought, died by thousands of millions for ages before men appeared on earth.

They hurt each other, but they did no harm to the general scheme of things, BECAUSE THEIR KNOWLEDGE WAS LIMITED.

If knowledge of fire had been given to the monkey tribes—from the tiny marmoset, as small as a rat, to the red-haired gorilla eight feet high—there would be nothing on the planet now to keep men alive or make life possible.

Scientists tell you that if the monkeys had had matches—that is to say, if they had been able to create and preserve fire they would have destroyed the forests, the grasses, the great meadows. They would have wiped out animal life and vegetable life, and through their own stupidity would ultimately have destroyed themselves.

But the Wisdom that directs this planet and all that live on it, from monkeys up to men and from monkeys down to microbes, rules through limitations.

The Power that keeps the ocean within bounds keeps the knowledge of imperfect beings within bounds and limits their power for harm. A great Frenchman expresses it, "Celui qui met un frein a la fureur des flots, sait aussi des mechants arreter les complots."

* * *

For several hundred thousand years men on the planet have been masters of fire.

By fire primitive man's life was made possible in the cold climate.

With it he protected himself from savage animals in the tropics.

He owed to it his first weapons, hardening in the fire the pointed stick he used as a dagger or spear.

Religions, from the earliest to the most recent, give to fire an important part.

The flame that burns in the pagan temple night and day, the candles that burn in Christian churches, represent dim remembrances of the day when the greatest calamity that could happen to a people was to HAVE THE FIRE GO OUT.

Imagine the ancient wandering tribes, before they had learned to cultivate the soil, before domesticated animals made permanent homes possible—when their only hope was in moving from place to place for new food, and when their greatest friend was FIRE.

Fire went with them on the march, carefully preserved. Women, especially chosen, were to see to it that the embers carried to light the fresh fire should never go out.

In the days of Rome's greatness, the women most honored were the Vestal Virgins. They must take an interest in no man, their whole lives must be devoted to that sacred fire never to be extinguished.

If one of them preferred a man to the fire, the penalty was death—she was locked up and made to die of starvation.

* * *

No calamity could have been greater to early man than to have the fire go out in cold Winter or in the rainy season. Religion, reflecting man's needs, made fire sacred.

On the other hand, there could have been no greater calamity than to have given knowledge of fire and the power to create it to the monkey-shaped creatures that preceded the first feebly thinking man.

The Wisdom that directs the universe is shown equally in the strict limit that it sets to the knowledge of the unfit brain, and in the passionate earnestness with which the brain more highly developed devotes itself to the acquisition of knowledge, and preservation of knowledge once attained.

During thousands of centuries monkeys in the forests have seen fires start and die out.

They watched the savage man of a half a million years ago and the African explorer of to-day light his fire, warm himself by it and move on.

When man controlling fire moved away, the monkeys came down, sat around the fire, warmed themselves as they had seen the men do. But they watched the fire die—not one ever thought of adding a stick to it; not one REASONED. The possession of fire was kept from them.

* * *

Monkeys would have ruined the earth, destroyed the forests, wiped out vegetation if they had been able to control fire, because no monkey cares how much harm he does.

Mischievous, vicious, reckless fighting beasts, one monkey tribe would have destroyed the other monkey tribe, each would have set fire to the forest of his neighbor—soon there would have been no tree for any monkey to live in—no vegetation left for men to find later.

Let us not forget, as we look up to the wisdom that kept knowledge of fire from the monkeys, that the same wisdom has kept and is still keeping KNOWLEDGE FROM US.

The war in Europe makes it unnecessary to draw any comparison between the mischievousness and brutality of monkeys and the worse brutality of men.

It might almost be thought that eternal wisdom in the case of man had allowed knowledge to come too soon.

But if you look at the history of the human race, the past and the present, you find that the power directing us, while permitting us to do many brutal and horrible things, has in the long run withheld knowledge from us sufficiently to keep us alive on the planet.

For instance:

Consider war in the ancient days and to-day

Suppose the ancients had possessed the weapons that we have now—there would be no human being left on the earth.

We understand the use of dynamite, of poisonous gases, of liquid fire, of rapidfire guns, submarines, aeroplanes.

We commit on a gigantic scale every horrible murder that can be conceived.

But in one way we have changed for the better, and that fact alone makes it possible for us to possess these weapons and for the human race nevertheless to go on.

WE NO LONGER MURDER THE WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

We no longer murder in war every man we meet, armed or unarmed.

It was not so in the old days.

Then the men conquered were butchered mercilessly.

A tribe or nation victorious killed all the men and most of the women and children conquered.

That conquering tribe, conquered in its turn, was treated in the same way.

Had the ancients possessed our weapons the earth would long since have been stripped of its inhabitants.

It was not mentioned as unusual when a conqueror killed everybody, but it was mentioned, as proof of a kind heart, when some were spared. And they were spared usually because the killers were tired of killing and wanted a rest.

If Alexander, or Lucullus after him, had taken rapid fire guns into Asia, Asia would have been depopulated.

If the Germanic tribes, the Goths, Vandals, [illegible] de-
[illegible] been wiped [illegible]
For [illegible] us
[illegible]
For [illegible] to
[illegible] that
[illegible]
Now [illegible] deadly
[illegible] human
[illegible] and
[illegible] children [illegible] tors survived [illegible] have been fatal [illegible]

* * *

We possess the power of wholesale murder, but we exercise that power only upon other killers whose uniforms advertise them as men in the killing business.

We do not murder the non combatant workers, kill their beasts, destroy their property merely for the sake of destruction. And excepting for accidental, unintentional deaths, modern warfare spares the lives of women and children, whereas ancient warfare spared nothing.

The world will survive this war, because the women will be left and enough of the men to repopulate the earth and replace in time the young men murdered.

It may become necessary if war continues long for governments to permit polygamy, pretending not to see it after the war ends—as was done after some of the old, long wars, when the church to save the race wisely ignored plural marriage.

* * *

We perceive the wisdom of all seeing Providence in not giving matches to the monkeys, and that same wisdom in keeping modern weapons away from primitive, savage man.

We see the same wisdom in the limitations set upon man's intellectual questionings.

Human beings have constantly asked themselves questions that they could not hope to answer, questions as to the why and wherefore of things in general.

Desperate has been the rebellion of intelligent men against the hopelessness of their ignorance.

The greatest minds born on the planet have struggled against fate, which said to them at every turn:

You shall not know.

We can GUESS, we can find refuge in faith that saves the trouble of thinking, we can and do invent religions which answer every question satisfactorily.

But we cannot really KNOW ANYTHING FINAL. All we know is that we are put here, WOUND UP, bound to struggle, wiggle and move until the machine runs down and we stop our struggling.

It seems to us unjust. We wonder that we should have the power to ask questions, and absolute lack of power to answer them.

Generations to come, thousands of centuries from now, will look back and discuss our ignorance of final causes and eternal purposes good naturedly, as we discuss the monkeys' ignorance of fire, or the savages' ignorance of dynamite.

We know it was wise to keep monkeys from fire, and Attila's hordes from use of the machine gun.

Generations unborn will know that it was wise to keep us from any real final knowledge, to confine us to our little experimenting.

If the monkeys had had matches they would have destroyed the world, made it uninhabitable.

If the savages had had machine guns and dynamite they would have destroyed the human race.

If we knew what real life is to be here on earth and hereafter, we might refuse to endure life as it is and thus interfere with the plan that controls us and wants us to stay here.

* * *

We are prisoners on the earth, we must stay and stand the imprisonment in a harsh civilization. While we remain ignorant of what is outside, of what real freedom would mean, we are content with our prison and struggle to remain in it, as the poor idiot in the asylum is satisfied with his cell, thinking himself the king and his cell a palace.

It is fortunate for the idiot that he does not know the truth, fortunate for us locked up here that we lack the knowledge that would make such life as ours unbearable and drive us all to flee from it.

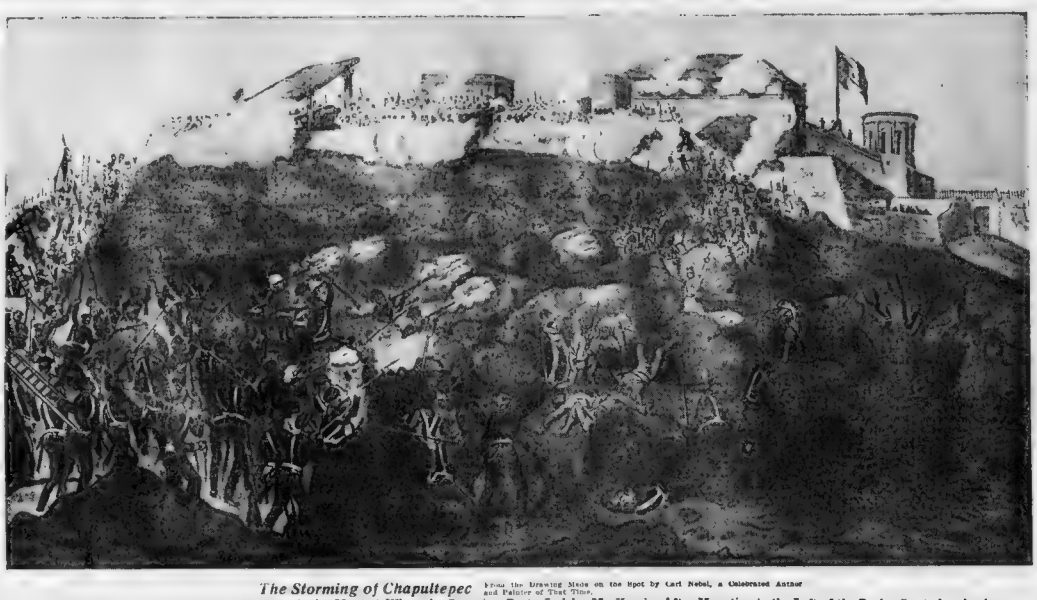
It Is Good For ALL Creatures, Monkeys and Men, Not To Know TOO MUCH.

If Monkeys Had Understood Fire, They Would Have Burned The Forests and Made the Earth Uninhabitable Before Man Arrived.

Lucky For Men That Monkeys Were Limited In Their Knowledge.

Lucky For Real Civilization Of The Future That We Modern Barbarians Are Limited In Knowledge Also.

How We Captured the Capitol of Mexico in 1847



The Storming of Chapultepec From the Drawing Made on the Spot by Carl Nebel, a Celebrated Author and Painter of That Time.

The Artist Chose as the Subject for His Sketch the Moment When the Storming Party Led by MacKenzie, After Mounting to the Left of the Rocky Crest, Are Applying Their Ladders to the Walls of the Castle, and When the Last of the Mexican Skirmishers Are Being Driven from the Cover of the Rocks to the Shelter of the Ramparts. The Heavy Guns of the Castle Are Playing, Not Upon the Stormers but Upon American Forces Near the Northern Corner of the Wall.

IN the war with [illegible] Mexico [illegible] of General Scott's force of seven thousand not more than six thousand were available for the assault on Chapultepec. The recent battle of El Molino del Rey (the king's Mill, Mexico's principal ordnance and munition factory) had been so costly in wounded that these and the hospital force represented an unavailable thousand

The redeeming features of the situation were an ample supply of guns and munitions gained in the series of victories which had marked the Americans' progress after the capture of Vera Cruz, and the supreme confidence of every soldier in the American ranks. The men had made themselves familiar with the similar enterprise of the great Spanish conquistadore and were determined that Santa Anna—in a more civilized way—should meet the fate of Montezuma.

In Cortez's day Montezuma's capital was an island city, near the mouth of a lake, and was reached by narrow causeways. During succeeding centuries the waters of this lake had subsided, leaving considerable areas of marshy ground, which were now traversed by broad permanent roads. On the approach of the American army the Mexicans had flooded much of the territory between the roads, and this prevented General Scott from approaching the capital city except at its most strongly defended point—the Castle of Chapultepec. This situation having been discovered, the Americans immediately prepared to storm the rocky height and capture the fortress.

Their approach was from the south. Directly above the guns of Chapultepec lay the village of Tacubaya. The larger village of Mixcoac, two miles further south, was selected for the main depot for the hospitals and the military stores. For two days Mexicans had been seen strengthening their works on the rocky crest. Through secret agents General Scott had learned that the only side from which he could approach the walls of the fortress had been mined. Here was an occasion for strategy. General Quitman was ordered to deceive the enemy by moving his division in an easterly direction to La Piedad, while heavy detachments were at the same time put in motion for Tacubaya, their common point of rendezvous being also La Piedad.

All these movements were in plain view of Santa Anna and his principal officers, occupying the higher roofs within the city. During this afternoon—September 11, 1847—Santa Anna personally accompanied a strong body of Mexican cavalry in a sortie upon the causeway nearly abreast of La Piedad. This force was [illegible] sent back in disorder by a rapid fire from Magruder's guns concealed behind a hedge.

During that night the Americans noiselessly placed their batteries close under the guns of Chapultepec, and soon after midnight the real attack was commanded by General Pillow. The batteries of Steptoe and Taylor were placed on La Piedad for Quitman's attack on the enemy by moving his division in an easterly direction to La Piedad, while heavy detachments were at the same time put in motion for Tacubaya, their common point of rendezvous being also La Piedad.

From 5:30 until nearly 8 o'clock on the morning of September 13 the cannonade from all the American batteries against the fortress was incessant. The Mexicans replied with spirit, though many of their guns were being silenced.

While this furious cannonading was going on, the great surprise for the Chapultepec garrison was in preparation. At a preconcerted signal the divisions of Pillow and Quitman were to dash simultaneously at the hazardous task of storming the enemy's works. Storming parties of two hundred and fifty men each were drawn from the old and oft-tried divisions of Twiggs and Worth, led, respectively, by Lieut. Gen. Pillow, of the Second Infantry, and Mackenzie, of the Second Artillery. Scaling ladders, crowbars and pickaxes were the main implements of warfare placed in the hands of these daring soldiers, who were not only to meet the enemy in hand-to-hand combat, but first had to scale the fortress walls under fire.

During the general assault by the heavy batteries the different divisions under Pillow and Quitman were gradually so disposed that, upon a given signal, they could join protecting the storming parties. At 8 o'clock the signal was given. The play of the heavy batteries ceased, Pillow began the attack on the western side of Chapultepec by directing Reno to send a flight of shells into the temporary field works which the enemy had constructed in the marshy ground near the walls. Magruder at the same time throwing a shower of grape and can ister into the dark cover afforded by a grove of heavy timber.

Reno had brought two of his light mountain pieces up, and as the advance cleared the lower redoubts of the enemy's skirmishers he took a position from whence he seriously annoyed the garrison within the ramparts of the castle above. The Mexicans had clung to their works along the foot of the mound, but so steady was the advance of the Americans, and so close their fire, that they were finally forced back with loss either within the main works or else under the shelter of the rocky ledges.

While leading his men through the grove at a brisk pace Pillow was wounded, and the command devolved upon Cadwalader.

The storming party now well up, and everything in readiness for the final assault, the hazardous ascent was begun. Among the foremost were the battalion of volunteers under Andrews and Caldwell, who, spreading as they clambered up the rocky precipice, kept up a rattling fire with their rifles. Immediately upon their rear were the Ninth and Fifteenth Infantry in close support of Mackenzie's stormers; also portions of the Fifth, Sixth and Eighth Regiments under Clarke.

No order could be preserved on such steep, rocky and broken ground. The more strong and resolute of the different detachments forced their way to the front and poured in their fire, the enemy returning it with spirit from the works constructed at the base of the castle, as well as from the windows and loopholes which had been prepared for musketry.

Bearing to the left and toward the northwestern angle of the castle, Mackenzie led his stormers under a continuous stream of missiles pouring from the outer works and windows. The high and wide aim of the infantry aiming the walls alone seemed to save the artillery from utter annihilation.

In the midst of a deluge of hand grenades and musket balls the ladders were hoisted to the walls. Several times they were pushed back. Renewing their attempts, and aided by the close and galling fire poured upon the front by the volunteers and other regiments, the stormers at length effected a lodgment.

Up the ladders scrambled the stormers. Once [illegible] the interior works, the bayonet soon settled the contest at this angle of the castle, the ramparts.

The Mexicans could not withstand the American impetuosity. In the midst of a confusion, increased by the eager impatience of the assailants, the entire western face of the work was entered and taken.

To silence the pestering fire of the Mexicans in the southern front, and on the eastern face of the castle, Reno had continued—until severely wounded—to ply them with two of his mountain howitzers. Johnstone, now bearing to the right of the crest with his battalion of voltigeurs, soon reached and entered the southern gate. Here joining the stormers who had scaled the walls on the west, in a resistless throng the Americans poured into the main body of the imposing building.

Amid loud shouts, one after another of the regimental flags were now seen floating from the ramparts. Barnard, of the voltigeurs, although wounded, was the first to plant the banner of his regiment upon the walls, while the Mexican flag, flying from the top of the castle, was torn down by Seymour, who had taken command of the Ninth Infantry after the fall of Ransom.

The commander of Chapultepec, Bravo, one of the oldest and bravest generals in the enemy's service, was brought to the front by Brower, a young officer of the New York Volunteers, and surrendered his sword to Cadwalader.

The main Mexican force, driven from the walls and ramparts, fled to the interior of the immense castle, panic-stricken. They dreaded horrible reprisals by the Americans, many of whose comrades had been massacred at the Molino. Numbers, in their terror, leaped to death from the precipice; the main body surrendered.

The victory was complete in every respect, for not only was the strong castle in the hands of the Americans, with all its heavy armament, but the possession of the batteries on the north and virtual entrance to the capital itself.

The losses of the enemy in killed and wounded, although fearful, were not at all great in proportion as those of their adversaries, the Mexicans being protected at almost every point by breastwork, barricades or thick walls. The entire list of casualties in the ranks of General Scott's army during the assault upon Chapultepec and the after advance upon the city numbered scarcely nine hundred, including eighty officers.

But entrance to the capital was assured, lacking only that enemy's army and the official capitulation of the enemy the Mexican war was won.

Peculiar Conditions Our Army Would Face in Invading Mexico

By COLONEL WILLIAM G. SILLS

(A Captain of "Moseby's Men" in the Civil War and for Forty Years a Resident of Mexico.)

THIS [illegible] at least ten years of [illegible] a mail town, not [illegible] will be safe from [illegible] have been exterminated [illegible] General Alvaro [illegible] Mexico [illegible] General [illegible] will [illegible] Mexico [illegible] Mexico [illegible] Mexico

The Vindication of a Microbe

By Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree

Surprising Facts Revealed by a Conversation with a Badly Misunderstood Germ

"Yes," Continued the Microbe, "I Live by Destroying Evil My Digestion Requires This Stimulus."

WE live in the age of Wonder. To-day infant Science, groping and stumbling toward the light, leads Truth by the hand. In front of them dances a will-o'-the-wisp—it is Imagination, blind seer in the dark, weaving in his passage gossamer bridges of fancy across the morasses of Ignorance, and lighting up the mysteries of the Unseen World. Beyond, as in a transformation-scene of phantasmagoric post-impressionism, we dimly discern the minarets of the spaceless Temple of Nature—in whose republic all is equality, whose tiniest atom is as important as her highest development.

Flesh itself, the superstructure of the bones of boastful man, is builded of minute organisms which in turn hold rank with the cataclysms of Nature, where order is but the spawn of chaos, and reason itself but the accidental offspring of madness fatigued.

But let us descend from the realms of transcendental blague to the brass tacks of my modest tale. My tale is of a microbe, and his name is Jim.

It was thus I made his acquaintance:

I have for a friend a surgeon, one who glories in medical research, who in his leisure moments—and they are few—is good enough to discuss with me the mysteries of the unseen world, as revealed by science. Such is his grasp of his subject that my friend Pipp (for that is a name) speaks in terms of familiarity of the countless myriads of inhabitants which reside in and govern each of our bodies. It is to the elucidation of the secret which has hitherto impenetrably shrouded this unknown world that science to-day is bending its efforts. Soon the microbe will be recognized as the actual ruler of the universe—through me to-day it is for the first time allowed articulate utterance.

If good and evil govern the world, it is because the opposing forces of beneficent and malignant microbes are constantly at war in the human body. On the beneficent microbe is dependent not only the health, the resistive strength of our bodies but it will be seen by the revelations which I am privileged to make that our very mental state is determined by these denizens of the blood, to-day (thanks to me) no longer the dumb slaves of darkness and ignorance.

The dawn of the rule of the beneficent microbe is at hand—it is the triumph of health over disease. With a proper understanding of this great question we shall be enabled to control the evil germs that have afflicted mankind from its inception, and thus allow free play to the energies of the true friends of man. It may even be that we are on the threshold of discoveries which may reveal to us the yet deeper mysteries of the soul world.

In making public the facts which placed me at one bound in intimate communication with the occult world, I do not as a mere layman ask credence at the hands of a sceptical community, bounded, as it has hitherto been, by the precise revelations of a material science. I am aware that it may even be argued that my discoveries are traceable to an abnormal physical condition, in which the mind is subject to hallucinations. I do not dogmatise: I merely record what happened.

In a busy life such as mine, it is impossible to follow up the clues which momentary exaltation may reveal—impressions which we may not be able to recapture in the rush through space. I will now describe what happened in the plainest words.

My revelations came through the simple agency of a microscope.

My scientific friend motioned me to his armchair and pressed the microscope into my hand.

"Look at that little fellow," he said in his matter-of-fact manner. "That is the warrior who does battle for mankind: he is in us all, fighting the forces of death which are constantly besetting us. He is the most important factor with which modern surgery has to deal. His full Latin name is Streptococcus erysipulus, but, I call him 'Jim' for short. Just you turn your eye on him."

I looked at Jim through the microscope and he seemed to squirm as though resenting the gaze of man. So powerful is the unique microscope possessed by my friend Pipp that I could actually see the expression in the face of the microscopic microbe. While its body resembled that of the ordinary tadpole, the face of this world-weary aristocrat of the blood was strangely fascinating—not to say haunting. By its side the countenance of Mr Arthur Balfour would appear plebian. It seem to be that a kind of sympathy was at once established between our two organisms. Many a time I had looked upon the malignant microbes whose faces resembled those of evil men I had met in life. The complacent grin of the sweater of labor, the leer of the blackmailer, the perennial smile of the man who is perpetually denying charity—all these were familiar to me. What a contrast was here!

As I gazed at this curious mite, I became conscious that I was undergoing a strange mental transformation—a sensation that I had only experienced in an operation under ether. The eyes of the bacillus appeared to grow larger and larger, until they seemed to draw me through their sockets into the inner recesses of the magic world. I half realized that I was under hypnotic influence. In my right hand I held a pencil, a piece of foolscap paper was by my side; and in this condition I wrote down what Jim (for I had suddenly become perfectly familiar with the subject of my tale) imparted to me in my trance.

Though it would be ridiculous to suppose that our intercourse was conducted through the medium of the English language, yet it was thus on waking that I found the conversation recorded on the sheets of foolscap at my side. It is obvious that the confidences made to me could only have been through the means of telepathy which it would now appear can be set up between every kind of vital organism.

Thus the record begins:

You must not ask me about what is before us: only what is past can be vouchsafed. I am a part of it—I am the sprawn from me. I am the primeval germ from which mankind was evolved. I know all that has gone since the beginning, for my memory is not like man's, confined to his own life; I remember [illegible] ancestry. No, there is no beginning, as there is no end. It is thus"——

If the tadpole-like organism swallowed its tail and described a circle. I understood.

The record continues:

It is idle to suppose that life is contained only in man, in animals and vegetables. Life is everywhere. At this moment your body is surrounded by an encircling army of microbes, constantly fighting for you against the onslaughts of inimical microbes, the emissaries of death. Yes, within a radius of some miles I see your surrounding retinue now. It is through this army of satellites that man influences and magnetizes his fellows.

You cannot account for your likes and dislikes. You cannot control the affections. Love itself is but the sympathetic mating of these microbes. You are unconscious why you influence or are influenced by another human: the power of will itself, the exercise of one mentality over another, or over tens of thousands of other human beings, is dependent on the force of the microbes that attend you. Men call this force personality. My advice to mankind is: 'Tend your microbes with care for on them depends your well being.'

No, death has no terror for me, for as my life in my body departs it takes new [illegible] my next state I shall glow [illegible] of a miasmic vapor. See, as I [illegible] birth to a million progeny! [illegible] me on your tongue. I am battling [illegible] body against my eternal enemy. [illegible] I am he and he is I—four [illegible] body of Julius Caesar. [illegible] Caesar was afflicted with [illegible] was in progress at a place [illegible] nes had the Roman general [illegible] hich attacked his position [illegible] bers; for three nights Caesar [illegible] own army of beneficent microbes [illegible] faces which inhabited his brain had become [illegible] and weaker while the malignant forces (the Greentails) were gaining strength: so much so, indeed, that Caesar's body began to [illegible]. Night had fallen around him stood his generals, [illegible] instructions, for the decisive moment of the great battle was at hand. In the hour of victory Caesar had fallen into a trance. To him up to victory meant the saving of Rome [illegible] depended on one man, [illegible] at one moment in turn dependent on the [illegible] of the Pink forces to overcome the Green [illegible] swarmed in overwhelming numbers in the [illegible]

[illegible] The world's best [illegible] on my power to direct the [illegible] fought [illegible] arteries of the great [illegible] assert itself over the [illegible] The malarial germs of Caesar [illegible] and poison-[illegible] Caesar meant a night [illegible] consideration to [illegible] than I had [illegible] would he give to his [illegible]

[illegible] south part of a [illegible] born hope would [illegible] of the man, turn the fortunes of [illegible] Rome.

"The coup demanded [illegible] sixteen days. I [illegible] but [illegible] veins. If [illegible] should be [illegible] not to [illegible] added that between [illegible] I knew they must be [illegible] myriad o' Greentails [illegible] ugly we made entry [illegible] behind which I [illegible] of packed bacilli. [illegible] to battle, knowing their [illegible] I could well [illegible] as food for [illegible] The Pinks [illegible] as one [illegible] that [illegible] sanitant" [illegible]

It was a [illegible] the Greentails were [illegible] one of the most [illegible] command from [illegible] ers and fell upon the [illegible] were asleep. With [illegible]

[illegible] seemed to wake [illegible] their dream. My eyes were [illegible] the face at the other end of [illegible]

[illegible] perfection.

[illegible] I am at the [illegible]

[illegible] began.

[illegible] replied. "Once [illegible] Beautiful [illegible] beautiful song [illegible] rising higher [illegible] could spend [illegible] gently fall into [illegible]

To perish of perfection [illegible] the ultimate goal of humanity. My face was [illegible] with this ideal. Then I underwent [illegible] wherein it seemed to me that I was in the threshold of a great discovery—[illegible] kind. A kind of pat[illegible] puzzled brain [illegible] ation of evil [illegible] as the great [illegible] of sleep it is diffe[illegible] being from the realities of [illegible]

I often wondered [illegible] Lord, why they [illegible] skulls. In my [illegible] arrived at the [illegible] channel one could [illegible] microbes [illegible] which go to make [illegible] states.

A new conception of [illegible] What [illegible] The prepo[illegible] greatest [illegible] press me [illegible] The most [illegible] appointed [illegible] Pankhurst [illegible] of the Peris[illegible]

[illegible] myriad o' Greentails [illegible] ugly we made entry [illegible] behind which I [illegible] of packed bacilli. [illegible] to battle, knowing their [illegible] I could well [illegible] as food for [illegible] The Pinks [illegible] as one [illegible] that [illegible] sanitant" [illegible]

[illegible] through the [illegible] one of the most [illegible] command from [illegible] ers and fell upon the [illegible] were asleep. With [illegible]

[illegible] I replied. "Once [illegible] Beautiful [illegible] beautiful song [illegible] rising higher [illegible] could spend [illegible] gently fall into [illegible]

To perish of perfection [illegible] the ultimate goal of humanity. My face was [illegible] with this ideal. Then I underwent [illegible] wherein it seemed to me that I was in the threshold of a great discovery—[illegible] kind. A kind of pat[illegible] puzzled brain [illegible] ation of evil [illegible] as the great [illegible] of sleep it is diffe[illegible] being from the realities of [illegible]

I often wondered [illegible] Lord, why they [illegible] skulls. In my [illegible] arrived at the [illegible] channel one could [illegible] microbes [illegible] which go to make [illegible] states.

A new conception of [illegible] What [illegible] The prepo[illegible] greatest [illegible] press me [illegible] The most [illegible] appointed [illegible] Pankhurst [illegible] of the Peris[illegible]

[illegible] seemed to wake [illegible] their dream. My eyes were [illegible] the face at the other end of [illegible]

[illegible] perfection.

[illegible] I am at the [illegible]

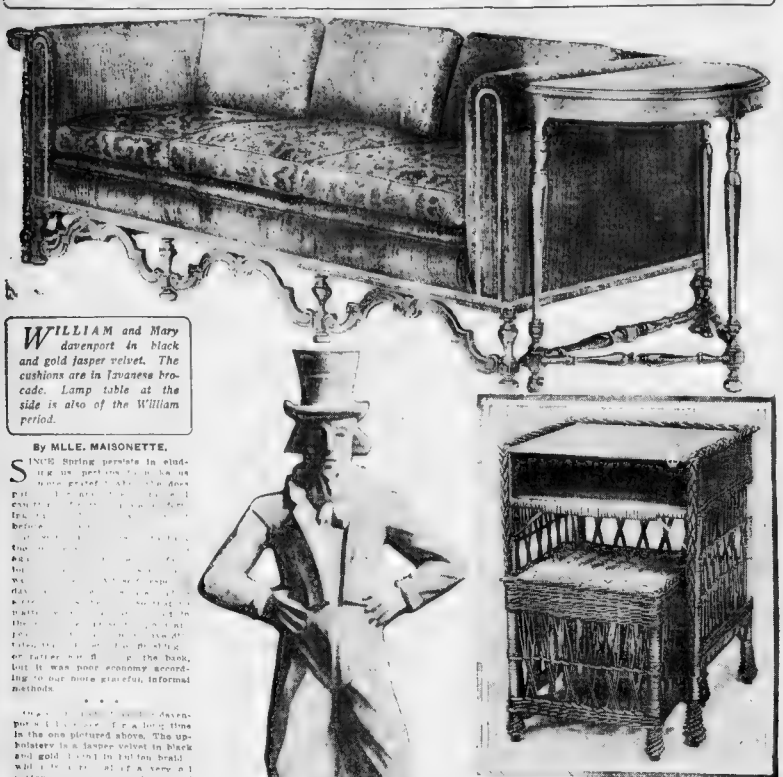
[illegible] began.

[illegible]

Household Suggestions--Ideas for the Home--Cooking Recipes

HOW TO BEAUTIFY YOUR HOME

A New Davenport, Pretty Willowware and a Novel Door-Stop



WILLIAM and Mary davenport in black and gold jasper velvet. The cushions are in Javanese brocade. Lamp table at the side is also of the William period.

By MLLE. MAISONETTE.

SINCE Spring persists in eluding us pretty much as usual, [illegible] the davenport in the pictured above. The upholstery is a jasper velvet in black and gold. Used in button bradi[illegible] of a very old [illegible] instead of being [illegible] the back, but it was poor economy according to our more grateful, informal methods.

[illegible] davenport for a long time in the one pictured above. The upholstery is a jasper velvet in black and gold. Used in button brad[illegible] of a very old [illegible] instead of being [illegible] the back, but it was poor economy according to our more grateful, informal methods.

A TELEPHONE stand and stool of imported willow.

An Uncle Sam door-stop in bronze

For the Open Door

who isn't?—I come across a quaint little door stop the other day modeled after Uncle Sam. There is a very serious look on [illegible] face as if he realized that [illegible] nature is sometimes imposed upon and was making up his mind not to permit it any more. However, there is a saving twinkle in his eyes, and as he is decorated with the national colors he makes a very gay picture in the [illegible] The figure is [illegible] with [illegible] color, [illegible] bronze or copper, [illegible] stands [illegible] feet high, [illegible] with the rest of [illegible]

Household Economy

How to Have the Best Cough Remedy and Save $2 by Making It at Home

[illegible]

Superfluous Hair Disappears Quickly

[illegible]

VOGUE

"I know of none better." Genuine suggestions of the highest character endorsed with the Miracle. Beware of unveiled endorsements of bogus magazines which are used to exploit the sale of questionable depilatories

Discoveries of Value to the Women

HOME-MADE CORK CLEANER—When cleaning steel knives I have found that a cork is much better than a cloth for rubbing on the soap or scouring-powder. It cleans the knives quickly, and at the same time polishes them. A cork from an olive bottle is the best.

A SAFETY-DEPOSIT PLACE—Instead of putting her rings down anywhere when about to wash her hands, or the dishes, a girl I know always slips the rings on a hairpin and puts the pin securely back into her hair until she is ready to wear her jewelry again.

AN INGENIOUS FEEDING-DISH—If you have puppies or other small animals to feed, get one of the round cake tins with a tube in the centre. Drive a pointed stick through the tube into the ground and you will have a feeding-dish that will not tip over.

RICE AND LYONNAISE POTATOES—Add a cupful of boiled rice to Lyonnaise potatoes just before you take them from the fire; they will go farther, and the rice-kernels will add a distinctly pleasing flavor.

PUNGENT PEPPER—If you realized the snappiness of freshly ground pepper you would invest in a mill and buy peppercorns. I put a set on the table. A friend of mine, hearing me speak of having found a mill, asked me where I had got them. I was able to tell her how delicious pepper [illegible]

PREVENTING CAKES FROM STICKING—In baking cakes, gems and muffins, which are very apt to stick to the bottom of the [illegible] rub the bottom of the [illegible] with a little [illegible] before putting [illegible] in the oven. Then [illegible] with a cloth wrung out of hot water. This does not fail to bring out the cake in perfect condition.

TO FORCE GARDEN SEEDS—Don't worry if Spring is tardy or if you are late in sowing your seeds, for here is a way to force them to grow quickly. Sow as usual, then cover with a single sheet of newspaper, held firm by stones at each corner. Wet the paper thoroughly three or four times a day while the sun is shining. Remove the paper after three days or sooner if any seed sprouts show.

BREADING CHOPS—I have found that breaded chops in spite of careful cooking were either undone or burned until I adopted this mode of cooking them. As soon as the chops are delivered put them on the stove in a steamer over boiling water and let them steam for an hour or so; then proceed in the usual way, dipping them in egg and milk and crumbs and frying in hot fat just long enough to brown them on both sides. Add a can of peas to the saucepan and thicken with the egg and milk left from the dipping season well and add pepper and pour over the tender chops.

NOVELTIES IN THE SHOPS

Noted by Olivette

WHITE ENAMEL BREAKFAST TRAY

Useful and roomy, with collapsible legs—just the thing an invalid, or anyone caring for breakfast in bed—would appreciate. Adding beauty to its use, is the beautiful service of Old Chelsea; warm, with its gorgeously colored peacocks, and vivid borders. Breakfast Set, $19. Tray, $4.

[illegible] band, gold-edged with roses printed in delicate pink and violet. Limoges china consomme cups in shape which recalls old French ware. Cups and saucers, $6½ dozen. Plates, $18 dozen.

An open-work orange bowl of white Wedgewood. Price, $16.

SOMEBODY once said that it was the little things in life that made it worth while. I have always thought that this could be applied aptly to the decoration of the home. With so many bright and attractive novelties in the shops—and many of them inexpensive—it is hard to understand how anyone can keep from making each room cheerful and inviting.

It is thought rather than money which is necessary to make one's home artistic. One should not have many odd pieces in the scheme of decoration, but they should be carefully selected and well placed.

It is well to survey your rooms from the doorway to make sure of their artistic effect. What is the first impression you receive? Is it a confusion of colors and objects? Or is there a note of color, vivid against a background of harmonious and well chosen furnishings?

Sometimes it is a vase which gives this effect, or a picture perhaps. But more often an odd bowl or a small set of chinaware gives warmth and life to the room.

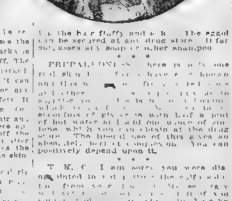
Irish Stew Made by an Expert

"In my household," says a housewife, "Irish stew is regarded as something quite out of the ordinary, something to serve on those very special occasions when a much-honored guest is invited to take 'pot luck' with us.

"I buy a pound and a half of mutton or lamb from the neck and have [illegible] pounds [illegible] bones. A little of the [illegible] from the meat, or two tablespoonfuls of butter are melted in a frying-pan, and two large onions sliced and fried a bright brown. They are then removed to a deep kettle, and the meat is floured and dropped into the fat to brown nicely on all [illegible] seared, [illegible] with [illegible] onions, then two large carrots, [illegible] quarters lengthwise [illegible] cut, [illegible] pieces of [illegible] smaller size, and two parsnips are treated in the same way.

"All of the vegetables are added to the meat, and three pints of hot water are poured into the kettle, which is placed on a hot part of the range and brought quickly to the boiling point. Then the heat is lowered until the stew merely simmers. The [illegible] is good to remember. After the simmering has continued for an hour, a teaspoonful of salt is added, a saltspoonful of pepper, and a pinch of celery-seed or celery-salt."

Superfluous Hairs Just Dissolve Away



Famous Beauty Secrets that Have Made the Theatrical Star, Valeska Suratt, America's Greatest Self-Made Beauty.

BY VALESKA SURATT

NEVER are a woman with superfluous hair on her face or body that it does not respond [illegible] a few rare cases, it [illegible] easily and thoroughly [illegible] kept it becomes so [illegible] the feminine which never [illegible] hairs from the hair and [illegible] and [illegible] the skin to [illegible] and [illegible] the skin [illegible] the hand and [illegible] to the skin.

[illegible] OLD—I am particularly [illegible] of the [illegible] skin [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

BOSTONIANS Hasten Their Return from Southern Resorts to Participate in the Mi-careme Gayeties Which Will Serve to Enliven the Last of March. Pre-eminent Event of the Week Will Be the Charity Costume Ball at the Copley Plaza, on Friday Evening, in Aid of the Free Hospital in Brookline for Women; Followed by Higginson Ball Saturday

Society

PHOTOGRAPH BY CHAMPLAIN STUDIOS.

PHOTOGRAPH BY FRANK PLACE STUDIO.

PHOTO AT LEFT, MISS DOROTHY SCUDDER.
ABOVE, MISS SUSAN PARSONS.
AT RIGHT, MRS. HENRY CLAY.

By MRS. C. H. WASHBURN

MI-CAREME gayeties, to which society has looked forward since Lent came in, will serve to enliven the last March week opening today. For the pre-eminent event [illegible] charity costume ball at which [illegible] Plaza, on Friday evening, a number of prominent [illegible] are cutting short their stay in the South [illegible] may be back in time for that [illegible] tion. It doubtless will be something [illegible] ber, surpassing similar balls of the [illegible] ous years, with its artistic and [illegible] ing panorama of motion and [illegible] background of Mrs. Fear [illegible]

For Mrs. Higginson [illegible] losing her [illegible] ball at the Copley Plaza [illegible] both a supper and supper [illegible] toilette parade will be carried out. Some of the guests coming from a distance will make up the week-end house party.

The comparative lenten [illegible] brides opportunity for making [illegible] for the Easter and even June [illegible] April has more of a show [illegible] usual this year. Prominent among [illegible] brides will stand out the Misses [illegible] ningham, Charlotte Winslow, Edith [illegible] Margot Cushing and Margaret [illegible]

War relief work and [illegible] have been the keynote of [illegible] work will again [illegible] and [illegible] bandages, wash [illegible] some other way identifying herself practically in Red Cross work, is not in touch with the fashionable world, for more and more society is putting its shoulder to the wheel of work.

After the post-lenten season, society, members of it who can enjoy the privilege, will again take up the trail of travel. Now [illegible] Europe is impossible, the tendency seems to point to the Far East. Globe-trotters who [illegible] love the time are planning trips to Japan. Last year the trend was to the Pacific coast. This [illegible] will extend across the Pacific, and [illegible] promises to be unusually large.

MISS DOROTHY SCUDDER, a Wellesley graduate of last year, and Miss Susan Parsons, a debutante of recent year [illegible] so has taken prominent parts in the Vanderbilt show, have appeared prominently in Boston society this winter.

Miss Scudder is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Scudder of Hingham; Miss Parsons lives at No. 223 Beacon street.

Mrs. Henry Clay, who was Mercie Tazewell, daughter of Edmund Lathrell, the artist, is one of the attractive early season brides [illegible] and is now on [illegible]

PATRONESSES FOR GARDEN LECTURES

MRS. JAMES GORDON ABBOT, Edward D [illegible] Mrs. Arthur Lothrop, Dudley [illegible] Peabody, Philip Dexter [illegible] Mrs. Lothrop, Dudley [illegible] Peabody, Francis Peabody, Jr., Mrs. Peabody, Mrs. Frederick Pickman, Philip Saltonstall, Mrs. [illegible] Sargent, Winthrop Sargent, Phillips Stevenson, Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer, Stephen M. Weld, William Endicott Weld and Edwin S. Webster are the patronesses for the two lectures on Gardens, "Through the Year" Miss Marion Cruger [illegible] of New York is to give at the Chilton Club [illegible] outlook for the benefit of the Sunshine Day Nursery on Hancock street. The first lecture will be on "Spring and Early Summer Gardens" and for the second on Thursday, the subject will be "Midsummer and Autumn Gardens."

[illegible] committee in charge are Mrs. Frederick Gray Cabot, Mrs. C. H. Lyman, Mrs. [illegible] Leland Hall, Mrs. James Parmelee King, who is in charge of the sale of tickets, which may also be had at the door.

MISS CUNNINGHAM LATE APRIL BRIDE.

LEADING among the brides of Easter week will be Miss Susannah Cunningham, whose marriage to John Templeman Coolidge, Jr., will take place on Tuesday, April 25. It will be at the home of her father, Mr. and Mrs. Harriett Cunningham and Dr. Horace Binney were married last September. Following the ceremony the [illegible] home of Mr. [illegible] Cunningham on Ivy street. [illegible] announced early in February. Miss Constance Cunningham is a sister and Mr. Lawrence and Frederic Cunningham [illegible] Cunningham has [illegible] sister has taken part [illegible] Mr. Coolidge graduated [illegible] Yale and is also Mr. [illegible] father, Mr. J. T. [illegible] street. Francis Peabody [illegible] is a grandfather.

BRIEF NOTES ABOUT PEOPLE

MRS. FRANCIS CROWNINSHIELD is due at her Marlborough street home today after a month's visit with her father, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, at Palm Beach. During her stay Mrs. Crowninshield was entertained at a dance in her honor and [illegible] after her arrival.

Mrs. George [illegible] Edmund [illegible] Beacon street [illegible] guest of [illegible] New York, returned [illegible] on Wednesday.

Miss Elizabeth [illegible] bee is expected back the last of this week [illegible] on a trip South.

Dr. [illegible] by Mr. and Mrs. Archibald [illegible] arrived [illegible] son, Mr. [illegible] Yale [illegible]

[illegible] riage to Miss Edith Elliott is to be at Emmanuel Church on April 29. Mr. Rogers' sister, Mrs. J. Griswold Webb [illegible] handsomest girl [illegible] Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Mr. Lathrop [illegible] Miss Mary [illegible] Aiken [illegible] award [illegible] ordain [illegible]

BOSTON PARTY AT THE SPRINGS

J. BROOKS [illegible] and Miss [illegible] Fenno's daughter [illegible] Rowley for [illegible] ton Beal and Miss [illegible] The party [illegible] The next day [illegible] Greenbrier were [illegible] Mrs. Richard [illegible] Katherine Storey [illegible] J. Peabody [illegible]

BOSTON COLONY IN THE SOUTH

[illegible]

NOTES.

[illegible]

[illegible] Brough his wife and family, all have [illegible]

Continued on Next Page.

News of Interest to Boston Society---By Mrs. C. H. Washburn

Boston Folks Fre... Winter Resorts for Sun...

Continued from Preceding Page

Other patrons ...
Miss Hope Ellen ...
Mrs. John L. ...
Charles S. Sargent ...
Miss Mestayer ...
Richard D. Sears ...
ton, Eugene Van Lennep ...
Thayer, George F. Burgess, John S. ...
Coolidge, Fred ...
Howell ...
Mr. and Mrs. ...
Mrs. Lawrence ...
Thayer, ...
Samuel Hooper Stephenson.

• • •

SOUTHERN AND OTHER NOTES

MR. AND MRS. PHILIP STARS ... of April at The ... the Beach ... the Misses Margaret ... the latter of ... prolonged ... season at ... and Mr. ... New Haven ... Boston guests at ... Jones dinner ... Club Monday night. Mr. Hawthorn is shortly due home, as he is one of the managers of the ...

Mr. and Mrs. Ostrom ... Beach on Tuesday ... Houseboat, returning from a cruise through the Florida Keys. They were to remain a week there and then sail north by easy stages.

Mr. and Mrs. Barkley Berry of Philadelphia, the latter a sister of Mrs. T. Adamowski, ... board ... Palm Beach ... are to be ... Mrs. ... Winter ... Mr. and Mrs. Horace ... Cambridge ... of the ... Mrs. ... Spain ... Mr. and Mrs. ... Mrs. ... New York ... Atlantic City ... Mrs. ... Mrs. ...

DANCE GIVEN BY SIGNET SOCIETY

One of the interesting events of the week ... was given by the Signet Society of ... Harvard at the clubhouse in Cam... Among ... Mrs. ... Mrs. George ... Mrs. ... Mrs. ... Mrs. ... were among ... Others in the ... addition to ... Miss ... Chester ... Frances ... Batchelder were the ... Agassiz, ... Wendell ... Kalbfleisch, ... Thayer, ... sauvage and ... William Hess. ... was the chairman of the ... in charge of the dance and ... with him were Messrs. Graham Burt Blaine of Taunton, Hunt Wentworth of Chicago and Edward Allen Wheelwright of Roxbury. ... juniors.

• • •

PARAGRAPHS OF PEOPLE AND EVENTS

MR. HORATIO APPLETON LAMB ... and Miss Aimee Lamb were of ... Willard in ... Mrs. ... Mrs. ... Mrs.

BOSTON'S ATHLETIC SOCIETY GIRLS SPEND HAPPY DAYS IN THE SUNNY SOUTH

Miss Ethel Shields, who enjoys the surf at Palm Beach. Virginia Slayton, daughter of H. E. Slayton of Manchester, N. H., on her horse at Pinehurst. Eleonora Sears in one of her unusual poses, playing golf at Coronado Beach. Chan Tufts playing a strenuous game of tennis on the courts at Pinehurst.

© PHOTOGRAPHS BY UNDERWOOD & UNDERWOOD, N.Y.

Mrs. Daffin to Give Pageant Outlines

MRS. CYRUS DALLIN will be guest of honor and speaker at the business meeting of the Dorchester Woman's Club, today afternoon and will give a short address on the pageant which is being arranged for Dorchester Day.

The program will be in charge of Miss Elizabeth F. Merrill, chairman of the department of art, and Miss Ribey Priscilla Potter, former member of the club, will read "As You Like It."

On Tuesday afternoon, April 4, comes the annual "Children's Day." There will be an entertainment by Anne Varner Baker, followed by dancing. Mrs. Mary E. Kelly, chairman of social entertainment, is in charge.

IF BACK HURTS TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Says Backache is sure sign you have been eating too much meat.

Uric Acid in meat clogs Kidneys and irritates the bladder.

Many folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive, makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which every body should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble. Advertisement.

Mrs. Gilman on 'Feminism' at Ford Hall

Mrs. Charlotte Perkins Gilman, well known feminist writer and lecturer, will speak at Ford Hall tonight on "What Feminism Is—and Isn't"

The music will be rendered by Mrs. Charlotte Foxcroft Chilipe, soprano; Mrs. Viola Shaw Bordat violinist; Mrs. Mary E. Hoyt and Mrs. Ethel Clifford Bryant, pianists. Miss C. Elizabeth Cook will give a reading of Adelaide Procter's poem, "The Legend of Bregenz."

MRS. WOOLMAN TO TALK ON SHOPPING ETHICS

Mrs. Mary Schenck Woolman will discuss "The Ethics of Shopping" when the Boston City Federation meets tomorrow by invitation of the Boston Ruskin Club. The affair will take place in the Boston Public Library at Copley Square, and the meeting is open to all who are interested. Mrs. Arthur Henry Merrill, vice president of the City Federation, will preside.

WHIST PARTY TO AID THE NEEDY

A whist party in aid of the needy families of East Boston will be given by the Morgan Club in Walcott Hall, Central Square, East Boston, Thursday evening. Richard C. Kirby is chairman of the whist committee, assisted by Rodney Hanrahan, John Harrington and William Muldoon.

CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES.

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrhal Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh, cut out this formula and hand it to them and 5 to 8 will have been the means of saving some poor soul from perhaps total deafness, and needless suffering and heartache. A noted throat specialist who has had many years' experience in treating catarrh and catarrhal deafness, and its usually resultant head noises, has written out and perfected a simple home treatment which he has given to many of his patients with the most gratifying results. The ingredients can be obtained from any druggist and are said to be very inexpensive. Secure a dram of Parmint (Double strength), take this home and add to it a pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar, stir until dissolved. Take a tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should begin to open, breathing will become easier and the mucous dropping into the throat will be relieved. Even after a few doses some of the worst cases of catarrhal deafness have been relieved. The ingredients are said to make enough to last a family for a long time, and every person who has catarrh should give this treatment a trial.—Advertisement.

To Lecture at Women's City Club

CHARLOTTE PERKINS GILMAN, first author of the Women's City Club, will be the speaker before the Women's City Club Thursday afternoon, April 6, at 2:30 o'clock in Pierce Hall. Her subject will be "How Shall Women Help Make World Citizens."

Mrs. Gilman is a pioneer in the field of social progress and reform, and her writings on economic and evolutionary problems have attracted attention throughout the reading world. Her publication of Women and Economics in 1898 gave her a position as one of the foremost sociological thinkers of her time.

Mrs. Gilman was born at the International Congress of Women at The Hague, and there in 1915 she presented upon the platform a resolution which the Congress unanimously adopted. Her writings on social philosophy have won a unique place. Member only are to be admitted at the meeting on presentation of membership cards.

On Tuesday at 2:30 o'clock in Pilgrim Hall, the first of the series of three opportunity talks and familiar open will be given. The topic will be "How's the Boy?" Mrs. Horace Lamont of the Boston City Hospital, Miss Ruth Kenney Gilbert, who will represent the Girls' Council in the sports, and Horace W. Smith, who will include the "Boys of the City Stores" Members will be admitted on their course tickets. Such tickets can be obtained through the club office.

A "Single Tax" dinner will be given Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Quincy. Mrs. Lucy Barnes of Philadelphia will speak on "Why Quincy Is a City" and Charles Noel will present the Single Tax Problem in England. Ticket reservations may be secured on application to the club office.

At the Tuesday tea from 4 to 7 o'clock Miss Alice Levitt, soprano, will sing, accompanied by Miss Alice M. Mills. The hostesses will be Mrs. E. M. Greene, Mrs. Frederick S. Dabney and Miss M. L. Noyes.

The next to the last talk on "Parliamentary Law" will be given by Mrs. G. W. Pfeiffer of Wollaston at Pilgrim Hall on Friday, April 7. On the same hall Mrs. May Alden Ward will speak before club members on "Current Events." Tickets may be secured at the club office.

Tomorrow members of the civics course will be given opportunity to meet Albert J. Sargent probation officer, who will explain the probation system. Visits will then be made to the Women's session of the Criminal Court, the Juvenile Court.

"BLIZZARDS in Boston? How perfectly droll! It's lovely at Palm Beach."

Or at Pinehurst

Or on the warm Pacific Coast

Boston society maids of any of these comfortable Winter resorts not worried about shoveling snow squalls in the Back Bay not by several hundred miles

Why worry when one can bathe or play golf or quartly [illegible] ride or enjoy horseback riding the way that members of the [illegible] set are now doing in the South or in California.

From Pinehurst, N. C., comes cheerful chatter about [illegible] Ellen Tufts of Boston [illegible]

Trailed in her wake [illegible] and Blouse, [illegible] Tuft [illegible] Pinehurst, [illegible] Miss Tufts [illegible] Pinehurst, playing a speedy game

New Hampshire is even more windy than Boston [illegible] doesn't trouble Miss Virginia Slayton, daughter of Mr. H. Slayton of Manchester, N. H., [illegible] Pinehurst. Down the roads of Pinehurst [illegible] on her horse, no matter how cold the wind that blows from the [illegible] of old New Hampshire. You wouldn't know it to see her.

Miss Ethel Shields continues at Palm Beach in Miss [illegible] She comes regularly out on the beach [illegible] for a dip in the waves. The Palm Beach [illegible] is also [illegible] Miss Adelaide Ladd, who [illegible] Miss Ethel Shields.

Some [illegible] and say "Let the good [illegible]

Eleonora Sears [illegible] any colds [illegible] on hilly [illegible] Pinehurst, instead, at Coronado Beach where [illegible] Both [illegible] caught" by the camera, too, which [illegible]

[illegible] costume, of course [illegible] original. For [illegible] costume, which [illegible] Miss Sears will wear [illegible] Miss Tufts [illegible] Miss Sears [illegible] Miss Tufts [illegible] Miss Sears [illegible] Miss Tufts [illegible] Miss Sears

Hold Catholic Federation Meetings

FOUR public meetings [illegible]

WHIST PARTY FOR ST. ANN'S FUND

[illegible]

ABARET WHIST PARTY IN WINTHROP

Elaborate preparations are [illegible]

MRS. TIBBETTS TO GIVE READING

[illegible]

TO WORK FOR ST. CLEMENT'S HOUSE

A meeting will be held [illegible]

LENTEN SERMONS IN BEACHMONT

[illegible]

Advertisement.

How to Prevent Acid Stomachs And Food Fermentation

I may complain of stomach trouble [illegible]

HARVARD BOYS ARE DOLLED UP AS LADIES OF THE GAY BALLET

FEAST OF SONG AND LILTING DANCE FOR HASTY PUDDING PLAY

H. Webster Bo ay [illegible] role of Phyne Talk Sin King of Kona

[illegible] Specimens of American manhood

New Guild Is to Give Easter Bazaar

M[illegible]

St. Peter's Cadets, Dorchester, Move for Preparedness

Mi-Careme Lunch to Be Given at the Elks Home Tuesday

CHARITY WHIST FOR ORPHAN ASYLUM

A [illegible] Westminster Hotel [illegible] Misses Alice L. Brancaccio and Winifred [illegible] Cavanaugh, assisted by Misses Gertrud [illegible] Kelley [illegible]

COURT LA RARIDA TO HAVE MAY PARTY

[illegible]

The following [illegible] Lyric Business Bathers': Willis Blatchford [illegible] M. Boyden '09, stage manager H. Amory, '16, assistant manager H. B. Carrier '17, [illegible] Hefty manager, W. H. [illegible]

[illegible]

On [illegible] the weddings will be that of Miss Penelope Jordan [illegible] Kirby.

RECOLLECTION DAYS AT BRIGHTON CONVENT

[illegible]

Engagements

Mr and Mrs G. A. Stedman of Dorchester announce the engagement of their daughter, Alfhild M to Carleton B. White of Jamaica Plain.

o o o

[illegible]

o o o

Rehearsal for Mock Trial in Dorchester

T[illegible]

COSTUME PARTY BY COLUMBUS CLUB

[illegible]

DISCUSS MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP IN FORUM

Principles of the Boston Municipal Ball, Meeting House Hill, Dorchester [illegible] St. Peter's Parish Civic Forum will discuss "Shall the Boston Elevated Railroad Co. [illegible] the property of the citizens of Boston?" A [illegible]

MRS. BUCKLEY HOSTESS FOR WHIST CLUB

The hostess for the Tuesday Whist Club this week will be Mrs. Joseph C. Buckley [illegible] as well entertain the [illegible] luncheon [illegible] Mrs. John Dacey [illegible]

ST. PAUL'S CATHOLIC CLUB BALL APRIL 24

[illegible]

First Production of "The White Elephant" to Be Given in Cambridge on April 3.

[illegible]

Daly Industrial Aid Club Sacred Concert Tonight

[illegible]

Catholic Alumnae Meet to Organize Bay State Chapter

[illegible]

LARGE PARTY AT CHARITY WHIST

[illegible]

BEACHMONT CLUB IN MINSTREL SHOW

[illegible]

State Council K. of C. Dinner on April 27

S[illegible]

LOYOLA SOCIETY TO PRESENT "REDEMPTION"

[illegible]

EAST BOSTON GIRL SISTER OF CHARITY

Sister Agnes [illegible] made her [illegible] years as a Sister of Charity of [illegible] mother was in [illegible] Sister Agnes [illegible] was Annie A. [illegible] of Mrs. Deborah [illegible] Boston. She joined [illegible]

"Green" Parties By Branches of L.C.B.A.

T[illegible]

Safety First

Indigestion, constipation, biliousness and many ailments of the digestive organs are often the source of serious illness. At the first sign of disordered conditions take the reliable family remedy that is always dependable—

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Largest Sale of Any Medicine in the World. Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You can Bring Back Color and Lustre with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur no one can tell, because it's done so naturally so evenly. Preparing this mixture, should, at home, is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeths Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and not a medicine. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement

Copyright, 1916, by the Star Company
Great Britain Rights Reserved

A Sermon by Bakst

His Great Allegorical Painting, "Terror Antiquus," Interpreted by Rev. Dr. Young

By Rev. Dr. S. Edward Young
Pastor of the Bedford Presbyterian Church, Brooklyn

BE introduced to Leon Bakst, the preacher. What? Bakst preaching? We know him as the Russian colorist who set indigo and emerald and vermilion and orange and the whole riot of hues clamoring for a look from us, each richest, strangest till we get the combined effect and find them all blending in a harmony too rare and exquisite ever to leave us.

But Bakst sermonizing? Yes, and his theme is "The Ancient Terror" "Terror Antiquus." And who are his congregation? People who find things going wrong—everything going wrong. The earth rocks and splits and upheaves.

Worse still, mortals are murdering mortals and glorying in it. Soldiers revel in the going forth to kill. Upon men is that spell of war that exalts or degrades itself above or below each emotion in the whole gamut of consciousness.

What will Bakst preach to people when they see all things awry? That human instinct turns them to a higher power. Mark how they besiege the temples, how they pray! Behold the statues of the gods, Greek gods of the older day, before whom the supplicants bow down! Is there anything farther within your soul, asks Bakst, than the impulse to seek something stronger and wiser than man in the hour of utterest woe?

Can we think the innermost and noblest, most essential and most enduring of our longings is a mere Tantalus, never to be greeted by what it longs for? If there were no God, or if God heard no prayer, then truly might we adopt the suggestion of some disciples of Schopenhauer and appoint a day on which the entire sixteen hundred millions of mankind are to commit suicide.

No! No! God does hear. Who dares say He did not hear those old Greeks who, according to their best light, besought such gods as they had been told about to save them from their dire distress? Narrow and callous must be the human who can view coldly the heartfelt devotions of worshippers of the—to us—most impossible faith.

What has Bakst to preach with regard to prayer's answer? Have you discovered a dove in the picture? Blue he painted it, and poised on careful thumb and fingers. You adjudge those fingers too long and precise to be sincere? So did I at first. Remember, however, that Bakst's fingers are almost always exaggerated as to length, that this is far nearer the normal hand than it is his wont to portray. Receive it for a genuine dove of true intent.

He is prophesying—he painted "Terror Antiquus" in 1910—that after trouble, after calamity, after battle comes peace. Want and woe and war are interruptions. Earthquake and tempest and thunder and the lightning shaft will soon be past, and sweet peace here again. Disturbance of the divine order is only temporary. Has it not ever been so? Sanguinary struggles are written large in history because they are the news—the unusual of bygone days. The majority of the days were sunlit hours of industry and neighborliness. They shall be such increasingly.

What does Bakst say about the restoring of the loss by catastrophe and sword? Aphrodite was the goddess of love and fruitfulness. He thanks Aphrodite in the foreground — Aphrodite brought from Asia, glorified in Greece and adopted in Rome. Aphrodite prompted the mating among animals and birds, gave harvests and vintage. Aphrodite first whispers the wooing note into the young man's courtship and the assenting note into the young woman's response. Aphrodite mothers the human blood.

Bakst is asserting that after the disaster come love and replenishing. Hearts will beat louder than drums. Lovers will wed again. Children will laugh away the mouths of misery. God rehabilitates His world. Aphrodite's smile might be sarcastic. Her eyes are open and sad and hopeful. It all seems brutal burlesque until we fix our gaze upon the dove and the eyes.

You were wise, Preacher Bakst, to keep us guessing to the last. You are a prophet of the happier dawn. To move on and up is the genius of humanity, God leading.

Will those who take in Bakst's sermon take a hint or two? Since he, the sometimes fantastic artist, found a means of proclaiming a serious and tremendous message, why not try something of the sort yourself? You have something worth preaching. Choose your own way, as he did.

America needs one hundred million preachers.

Each calling, each kind of life, could be utilized in proclamation of important truth. Proclaim a truth and live it also and you become the most worth-while of mortals.

The Ancient Terror ("Terror Antiquus"), the Great Symbolical Painting by Bakst, the Russian Painter

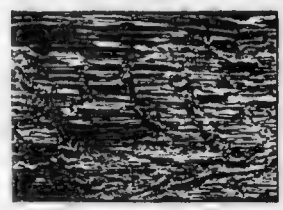
NEW DISCOVERIES ALL OVER THE EARTH

Be Prepared To Wage WAR On the Destructive WHITE ANTS

How To Prevent This NEW INSECT PEST from Ruining Our CROPS, BOOKS and Even Our HOUSES

A Greatly Enlarged View of a Queen Termite or White Ant Which Produces 60,000 Eggs a Day.

A White Ants' Nest, Such as Is often Found in Tropical Forests. As the Photograph Shows, It Is Taller Than a Man



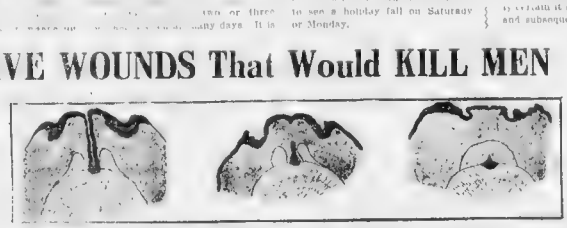
How a Piece of Seasoned Red Oak Timber Looks After Being Riddled by White Ants. They Eat Out All the Inner Substance of the Wood, Leaving Only an Empty Shell Which Is Liable to Collapse Into Dust at the Slightest Touch

Libraries Have No More Dangerous Enemies Than the Destructive White Ants. This Photograph Gives a Good Idea of the Ruin They Make of a Book.

GAY SATURDAY NIGHTS Cause of a NEW DISEASE

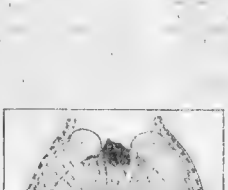
Our MUSCLES Full of ELECTRICITY

How TREES SURVIVE WOUNDS That Would KILL MEN



Cross section of a wounded tree, showing, from left to right, three stages in the swift process that is being made in the repair of the damage.

A cross section of a tree wound. The large circle is a duct within which the droplets which the tree uses to stop its bleeding are forming.



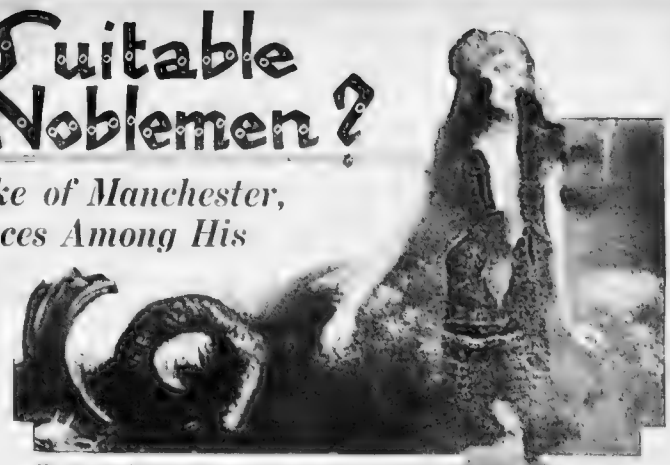
How a tree, wounded by a bullet, heals around the wound so that finally the outside is completely covered. On either side of the wound the branch is swelling and the shaded portions below indicate the "wound gum" which the tree produces for healing purposes.

Veils DON'T Make Us See SPOTS

Do Actresses Make Suitable Wives for Noblemen?

His Grace the Duke of Manchester, Recalling Instances Among His Acquaintances in the British Peerage, Is Sure That Stage Marriages Are Successful

Miss May Etheridge, who later became Lady Edward Fitzgerald, in an attractive stage costume.



The Countess Poulett as Lily Lind, when she was Sylvia Storey, before her marriage, she was a charming stage mermaid.

The Countess Poulett with the two children that have blessed her entrance into nobility.

By His Grace the Duke of Manchester

Written Especially for This Newspaper

WHEN I first read this conundrum that the clever [illegible] had put me I knew at once that it was a [illegible] attempt to revive the foolish question ever [illegible] ranks with and after the question, "Do married women make the best wives?"

However, if he really wants to know my opinion he is welcome to it at the price.

Mind you, if you take the question seriously, it really comes down to the question whether there is such a thing as a suitable wife for a nobleman, and the still more abstruse question whether there is such a thing as a suitable nobleman for a wife.

And then you've got to go into the question of what suitability is.

To add to all these difficulties you have to decide what is an actress within the meaning of the act. Let us start at the end and work backward in order to make it more complicated.

What is an actress can only be decided by each individual from his own point of view, but I suppose we all think of the great artists on the stage—Sarah Bernhardt, Rejane in France, for instance; Irene Vanbrugh, Marie Tempest, in England; Maude Adams, Julia Marlowe, Nazimova, in America.

Best Actresses Don't Marry Noblemen.

Please note, I cite these as types and do not mean that is a complete list of this type of actress in those countries; still, the number is small, and while I do not say they would not make suitable wives for noblemen if the noblemen were so lucky as to be allowed to marry them I do say that I know few noblemen who would be suitable husbands for them either by upbringing, instinct or taste. But this class is more fruitful than even they themselves think. The following, if not Verdi's "Chanson Bohemien Trovatore," as they say in opera.

Johnny Toole, the great English comedian, was a great friend of Henry Irving, and they used always to be chaffing each other. One night at supper Toole said:

"Henry, I dreamed a curious dream last night; I dreamt I died and went up to heaven, and St. Peter asked me my name; I gave it. 'What, Johnny Toole, the actor?' I'm sorry, you can't come in,' and he pointed to a notice which said, 'No actors admitted.'

"Sorrowfully turning away, I took one backward glance into Paradise and caught sight of you, Henry.

"'I beg your pardon,' said I to St. Peter. 'How do you make that out? There's my friend Irving inside.'

"'Yes, but that's different,' St. Peter replied. 'We all know Toole, he's a real actor. Irving only thinks he is.'"

The next spreading of the net catches the ordinary [illegible]

Greatly Improved by His Actress Wife.

[illegible] I think the prejudice against a nobleman marrying an actress from the point of view of the women of the aristocracy is, first, the "trades union" or "protection of home industry" instinct, and, secondly, the discredit brought on the word "actress" by the application of the term to people who have no claim to the honor who belong to an old but discreditable profession.

The last sweep of all takes in every woman in the world, I think, for all women are actresses whether they perform behind the footlights or display their talents on the home stage to the bewilderment of their men folk. Why, some women even laugh at their husband's jokes.

To sum up, the only suitable wife for a nobleman—as for every man—is the wife who loves him and whom he suits. They have mutual respect and aspirations and tastes in common.

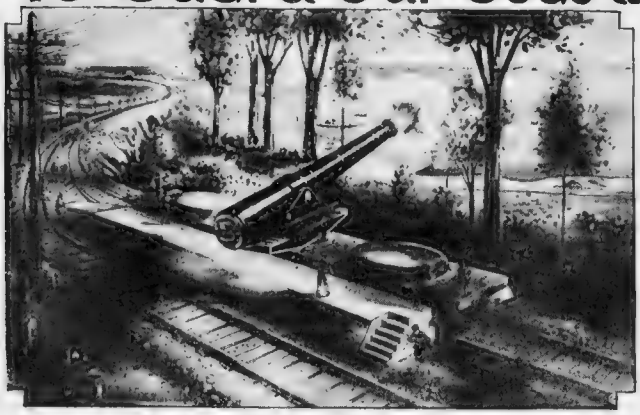
As in every walk of life there are good and bad noblemen and good and bad actresses, there are good and bad princesses and good and bad shop girls, and, at best, I think they are bad newspaper men. And nobody in this world can be certain how his or her marriage is going to turn out till they have tried it and found out how the apparent good qualities stand the test of absolute intimacy.

And, as such intimacy before marriage is not [illegible] Aryan countries, there must, inevitably, be unsuited marriages. But the fact that of the two high contracting parties one is an actress and the other a nobleman does not, ipso facto, mean an unsuitable marriage by any means.

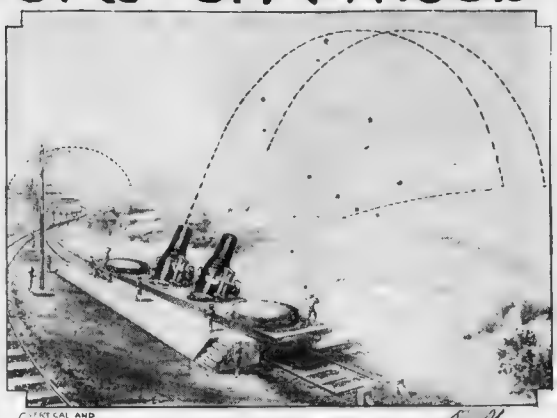
Next Sunday the Duke of Manchester will write an entertaining article on "Are Dukes and Lords of Any Value to a Country?"

Copyright [illegible] by Star [illegible] Reserved.

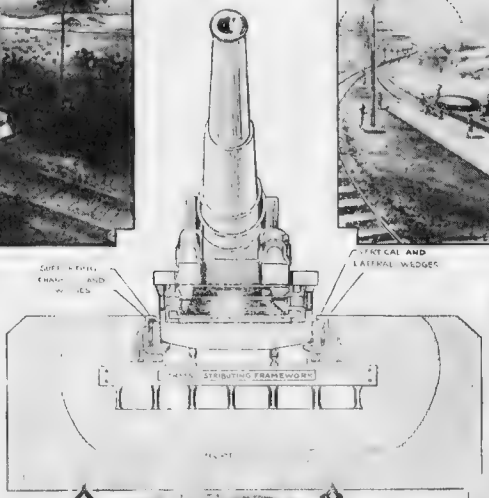
To Guard Our Coasts with Forts on Wheels



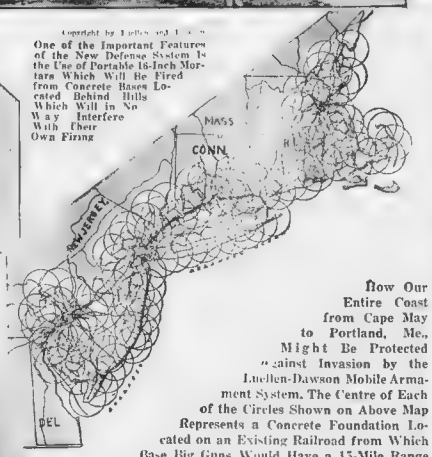
One of the 14-Inch Guns Permanently Mounted on a Railway Car and Locked in a Concrete Firing Site. Copyright by Luellen and Dawson.



Front View of One of the 14-Inch Guns and Cross Section of the Concrete Base to Which It Would Be Locked Before Being Brought Into Action.



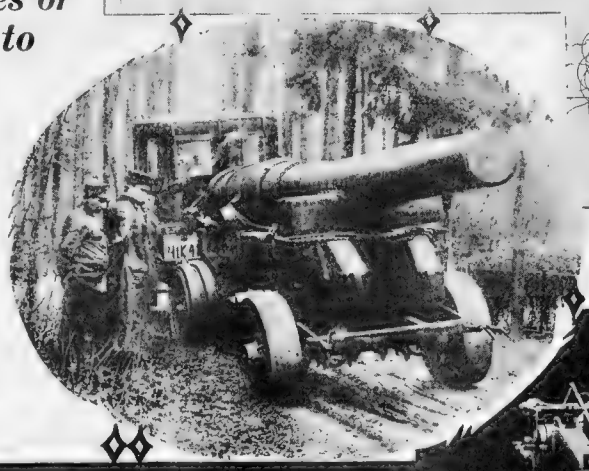
How Big Guns and Mortars Mounted on Specially Constructed Railroad Cars Might Be Used in Connection with a Series of Concrete Firing Sites to Ward Off Invaders



Copyright by Luellen and Dawson

One of the Important Features of the New Defense System Is the Use of Portable 16-Inch Mortars Which Will Be Fired from Concrete Bases Located Behind Hills Which Will in No Way Interfere With Their Own Firing

How Our Entire Coast from Cape May to Portland, Me., Might Be Protected Against Invasion by the Luellen-Dawson Mobile Armament System. The Centre of Each of the Circles Shown on Above Map Represents a Concrete Foundation Located on an Existing Railroad from Which Base Big Guns Would Have a 15-Mile Range in Every Direction. 150 of These Bases Would Be All That Would Be Required to Protect 900 Miles of the Coast Line and to Prevent a Hostile Fleet from Coming Within Fifteen Miles of the Shore. The Cost of This Installation, Including 60 Cars, 10 14-Inch and 50 16-Inch Mortars Would Be About the Cost of a Single First Class Battleship —$10,000,000.



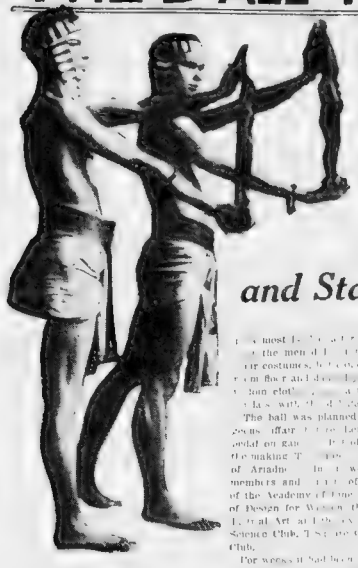
Big Guns Are Now Transported Permanently By Tractors, but Transportation By Rail Possesses Many Evident Advantages.

How the Forts on Wheels Would Be Put Into Action.

The Above Photograph Shows the Difficulties Experienced in Transporting Big Guns by Means of the Caterpillar Tractors Now in Use in Europe.

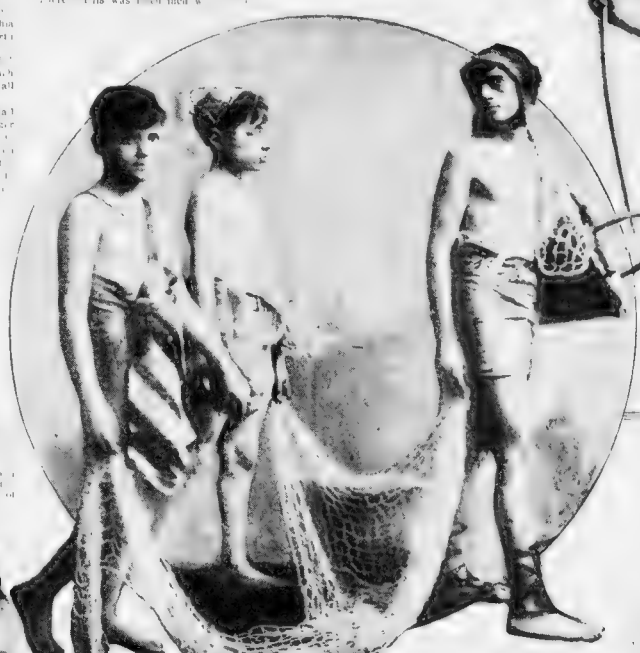
THE BALL THAT SHOCKED PHILADELPHIA

It Was What the MEN Selected for Costumes and Not the Women's Decolette That Disgusted Miss Richards and Started All the Discussion



Two of the Lightly Dressed Idol Bearers, in the Costumes Miss Richards Objected to for Ballroom Use.

A Procession of Chair Bearers in the Pageant That Preceded the Ball. A Type of the Scanty Costumes That So Shocked Philadelphia When Their Wearers Danced Later on Without Adding Any More to Them



A Gladiator and His Attendants. Costumes Which Miss Richards Thinks Were All Right in the Tableaux but Not Proper Dress for the Ballroom

A Phoenician Bowman at the Ball. Another Type of Lightly Clad Dancer

A Group of Fashionable Participants in the Ball.

THE average citizen has grown more or less accustomed to curtailment in the dress of women at evening affairs. Is it possible that the whole army of readjustment of old-fashioned ideas of modesty to modern notions will have to be repeated in the case of men? Heretofore men's sober, unimaginative evening dress has been a pillar of support to those whose minds need strengthening when they look at the ever-changing panorama of up-to-the-minute fashions. This pillar has not yet fallen, but it has been very much undermined by the Philadelphia Ball that took place [illegible]. And if they [illegible] to be different from the [illegible]

[illegible] legitimately raised [illegible] ballroom [illegible] for [illegible] organizations of that city. It was Philadelphia that [illegible] Philadelphia society and Philadelphia's Academy of Fine Arts. The latter was shocked at that time by the nudity displayed. This ball was to be nothing so bold for [illegible] from the staid and modest [illegible] so, its ranging unlike that of the Liberty Bell, has been greeted by a shocked chorus from the majority and applause from the very small minority indeed.

Miss Janet E. Richards, a distinguished American lecturer, was the first score to be heard in public protest after the ball. She protested in Philadelphia, and she later protested when she went back to her home in Washington. Her views of the matter will be found a little later on.

What adds to the "morning after" discomfort of Philadelphia is the fact that those who participated were not mere art models, who might be expected, through more or less unfamiliarity with clothes to think nothing of any garb. They were the very best of Philadelphia society.

In the city which loves to set itself up as an example to the rest of the world, these were the very people who might be expected to set an example to their own city. The objection, too, is not against the girls, who were dressed with unusual modesty, but against the men, who wore very little dress of any kind. And, finally, the objection is not at all to these costumes, or lack of them, so far as their use in the tableaux and [illegible] which proceeded the ball, is concerned. What has shocked Philadelphia most [illegible] the men did [illegible] their costumes, [illegible] from the [illegible] were [illegible] Fashion clothes [illegible] a few [illegible] Bacchanal [illegible] of Ariadne.

The ball was planned as [illegible] Persons [illegible] Left [illegible] medal on [illegible] the making [illegible] of Ariadne. [illegible] were [illegible] members and [illegible] of the Fine Arts of the Academy of Fine Arts [illegible] of Design for Women, the Spring [illegible] Industrial Art at Drexel Institute, Art Club, Science Club, Plastic Club and [illegible] Club.

For weeks it had been known [illegible] Philadelphia that here at last Philadelphia was going to have something "worth while."

"Pagan rites!" the [illegible] society whispered to each other. "This is going to have them all driven to a corner."

Therefore on the [illegible] Philadelphia society was [illegible] articulation. Those [illegible] take part in the actual [illegible] clothes that they [illegible] subject. Then everybody went to the Cultural Hall, the [illegible] gives enough room [illegible]

Ariadne, it will be remembered, was [illegible] Theseus [illegible] Crete. There [illegible] Minotaur. The Minotaur was a monster [illegible] man, to which [illegible] to send [illegible] young men [illegible] Minotaur lived [illegible] which no one [illegible] his way. At the [illegible] ball of the [illegible] Crete [illegible] labyrinth [illegible] Minotaur [illegible] to be Minos [illegible] all he had to do was to follow it [illegible] token of [illegible] Ariadne eloped [illegible] Ariadne.

Heroes however are ever fickle, [illegible] Theseus deserted poor Ariadne on the island of Naxos. Naxos was one of [illegible] sides began to [illegible] the actors of the masque.

"Why, see, Shadyside, [illegible] to tell the truth and put their [illegible] matron. And look at that said another. There [illegible] with fans. And [illegible] wearing [illegible] over the ballet. [illegible] were [illegible] trotting in the [illegible] Greens, Satyrs and [illegible] leaped [illegible]

[illegible] Bacchanal [illegible] after. Lecturing [illegible] last day [illegible] why she had been [illegible] by what [illegible] seen.

Amplifying [illegible] Miss Richards said:

"I am called [illegible] position to regard [illegible] young men [illegible] ballroom consist [illegible] rudery then I must plead guilty.

"The question however, seems really to turn upon whether or not the costume or lack of [illegible] corresponded to my description. [illegible] suggested.

"I think that I may definitely [illegible] this point by [illegible] a verbatim quotation from the description of the ball printed in the Philadelphia Bulletin on the day after it took place. This, you will see, was before I had spoken one word on the subject in public. The Bulletin report said:

[illegible] Ariadne [illegible] Island of Ariadne [illegible] proceeded to [illegible] dance [illegible] There were [illegible] nothing but [illegible] and a kind [illegible] of the Bacchantes and [illegible] elements. A clinging [illegible] it revealed one [illegible] were all [illegible] were [illegible] added, who have [illegible] restrain a shudder [illegible] naked feet and masses [illegible] on the dancing floor [illegible] do you think of it?

I am accused of [illegible] but not the art. Very [illegible] does not seem to [illegible] so far as the stage [illegible] concerned. I saw a group [illegible] and nothing to criticise. It was a [illegible] full perfection and thoroughness [illegible] A group of perhaps fifteen young men did the [illegible] dance and Spring dances in semi-barbaric costumes. They were naked to the waist, except for strips of animals' skins about their necks. Less were trunks and their legs were bare. Their bodies were painted.

"It was all right on the stage. But [illegible] should [illegible] Together [illegible] average person under [illegible] the kind to mind about [illegible] Openly to express disapprobation of [illegible] which [illegible] disapproval of the majority demand more courage than most men or women possess.

Of course, the excuse was that it was a [illegible] Pierrot [illegible] a very long [illegible] bare feet. It [illegible] And so nobody need fear the fashion will stick."

Copyright, 1916, by the Star Company. Great Britain Rights Reserved.

Rev. Dr. Campbell

Will Husbands and Wives Be Reunited? Will Our Same Circle of Family and Friends, Attachments and Affinities Continue in the World Beyond the Grave?

By Rev. R. J. Campbell

The Most Popular Preacher in England

SMILE, we rejoin and ou[t]
[e]ded us through the gates of death.

One sees but little of it in the papers, but that is [o]ne because the things we talk about in the papers [a]re mostly those on which we feel most dou[b]t, [a]nd the reticent in its references to it. And [y]et it spells end again, and it is clear that [t]he instincts of the race prescribe that [t]he natural thing is to make it [t]he occasion of the most [s]olemn rejoicing. We need [n]ot go into the reasons for all [t]his, for they are obvious enough, [a]nd we long [f]or a real

[M]illions of parents, wives, sisters and lovers [a]mong the world today are hungering wistfully [f]or some real message of comfort in this regard. Whether they can get it is another matter.

Does life go on or does it finish with the shock of death? Assuredly it goes on, but how

That is the point. Nothing ever dies except as that particular thing, it only changes its form its mode of being. This is a simple fact beyond dispute. Our interest is not in immortality, but in whether it can be predicated of the fellowship of soul with soul.

Maurice Maeterlinck has a striking passage in his book "Our Eternity," which states the issue forcibly when he points out that what we are really afraid of in the thought of death is the destruction of our identity.

"It is utterly indifferent to us that, throughout eternity, our body or its substance should know every joy and every glory, undergo the most splendid and delightful transformations, become flower, perfume, beauty, light, air, star, and it is certain that it does so become and that we must look for our dead not in our grass[y] yards but in space and light and life. It is like[wise] indifferent to us that our intelligence should [ex]pand until it takes part in the life of the [wo]rlds until it understands and governs it.

We are persuaded that all this will not affect us will give us no pleasure will not happen to ourselves unless that memory of a few almost always insignificant facts now[a]ways us and w[e]ness those unimaginable Joys."

You quite true, we do not f[e]l that an imm[o]rtality which fails to carry with it the conti[n]uity of individual se[l]f-consciousness is of [n]o value. The [c]ontinuity [o]f memory [o]f a moment were it [e]xcep[t]ion a thousand years ago and will be forgotten [i]n a thousand years hence, some of the [m]ost far more elaborate and wonderful organisms than I have ever been, but they will not be me. (Forgive the colloquialism; it is badly wanted, but will be good English some day.)

And what would it matter to me if the mysterious life that is mine now were to be withdrawn into the universal life out of which it came, and my pin point of consciousness [m]erged in the infinite consciousness it all the [g]lory [o]f all the collection of myself [a]s I have known myself [t]o be? [A]s it [i]s [n]ot [e]ven as much as [t]he [g]rass [o]f the grass.

Man Not Satisfied With an Impersonal Survival

And moreover all that to our experience at present makes life livable is bound up with this. If it is not spiritual, it is worthless. As human beings we truly live in our relations with each other, and all the words that to us contain great beautiful and inspiring ideals are words that assume these relations. What mean the would honor fidelity tenderness, sacrifice have apart from these? And where would be our humanity without them? It would not be humanity at all. So [r]eality [c]onsists in this that when we talk of the [i]nner [s]elf with its memories, loves and fellowships, we [d]o not [m]erely going on. Still less do we mean [t]hat [s]ome [s]hadowy [g]host [o]f [t]he [d]ead [m]ay [b]e [h]aunting [t]he [p]laces [a]nd [t]he [s]cenes [w]here [w]e [l]ived [a]nd [l]oved [o]f [o]ld. We [k]now [t]hat [t]he [d]ead [a]re [n]ot [t]here. [T]hey [a]re [n]ot [h]aunting [a]nything. [T]heir [s]piritual [l]ives [a]re [c]onstituted [i]n [m]utual [a]ssociations and affinities that are the stuff out of which all our highest hopes and dearest and noblest memories are constituted.

Satan.—From an Old Cut

And if we [d]ivid[e] [o]urselves [f]rom [t]hose [w]ho [h]ave [g]one, do we take up the thread of [o]ur [s]piritual [r]elation[s]hip anew in the [s]pirit[s] beyond death, whatever it may be, or is death the finish of all that? Shall we know and love again in some brighter world the people we have known and loved here?

I repeat that this is the only sort of immortality that is really worth anything. And I re-emphasize the point that all that is best and noblest in us looks to this kind of immortality or to none. We have no other sort of experience that makes our prospect of an immortality denuded of these things at the least attractive. It does not follow, of course, [t]hat the fact of [d]eath the shock of death [t]akes [i]mmediately. We may [n]ot wake up on the other side of death and [k]now for a while and then flicker out. It may be [t]hat [u]nthinkable. But the presumption [i]s that we [s]hall [k]now we can survive physical dissolution at all we shall continue to survive for ever.

The [p]ractical [q]uestion on which we want to be con[c]erned is the [q]uestion of the body is not the death of the [s]oul.

Where [t]here are great changes, immense changes [i]n the quality of the consciousness that survives. It may [b]e on changing and changing for ages. But if we could really be assured that as the Bishop of London once said, a man is much the same person five minutes after death that he was five minutes before, we might fairly take for granted that he will continue to know himself the same person for ever after, even if he grows to be a wiser god.

It would be no comfort to anybody to be told that the [p]erson or [p]ersons he or she loved best in all the world were still living after death had claimed them, but that they no longer had any knowledge or recollection of those who mourned their loss on earth, or indeed of anything that had to do with earth. They might just as well be extinct. If the old friendships are dead they are dead too. If memory is gone they are gone. They are as completely new beings as if they had never existed before.

[N]othing said all this I want to add as clearly as I can that we have the best possible ground for [h]ope that the immortality I have been describing, [w]hich [i]s desirable is a fact, and therefore that reunion after death is a fact, too—an indefeasible fact, [a]s much a fact as that I who write and those who read these words exist now.

War in Heaven.—By Albrecht Durer

And there was war in heaven: Michael and his angels fought against the dragon; and the dragon fought and his angels."—Revelation, xii., 7.

We Feel That Our Life Can Never Stop

We shall never stop, and our interrelations with other beings will never stop. Let no one ask me how I know this. I do know it, and that is all I can say. No one can ever absolutely reproduce for others the reasons that satisfies himself on the deepest things.

But I hold that the fact of survival after death has been proved up to the hilt over and over again, and is being demonstrated still to thousands of bereaved ones, despite the prepossessions of this materialistic age of ours. And I am not thinking of the cult of spiritualism or necromancy when I say this. It is a practice attended with grave dangers, as the Church has long ago recognized.

But that communication between the living and the so-called dead has frequently been made and is still being made is, to my mind, beyond all doubt. Whether it is well that it should be habitual is another thing.

I should question it on the ground that it is surely undesirable to drag our emancipated dear ones back into earthly conditions. Far better speed them onward by our loving thoughts and prayers, and yield ourselves to the good influence of theirs for us.

There is such a thing as spiritual communion as the Church has always taught. It is one of the tenets of our faith. Why, even between beings still in the flesh there is often much sympathy from one to another across great intervening distances. One senses what is happening to the other, so to speak, or is aware when the other is specially thinking of him or her and pouring warm, loyal, benevolent wishes upon him or her.

How the knowledge of it often helps and sustains us through difficult and trying circumstances! Many a soldier at the front to-day is not only the better for what he knows is reaching him hourly from the heart of [h]is [w]ife, but owes to it [s]ome [g]reat [p]art of [h]is [p]reservation [f]rom [d]eath, for he gets killed." Assuredly not. But [h]e [k]nows that he is more easily then, for there is no [n]ecessity [d]eath barrier to the spiritual tide.

As I [a]m a few short years at most we shall all have entered upon that higher side of life and be learning lots of new things. It is probable, for instance, that we shall learn to transcend all imprisoning affections. [O]thers know what I mean?

Love is the greatest thing in life, to be sure. [T]he [c]ontinued life desirable as it [m]ay already shown—but our earthly love is a poor, [s]tunted thing compared with what love might be. [T]he [c]onditions of existence. We are only able at present [t]o [l]ove [p]eople intensely, though we may [w]ish [t]o [l]ove as to feel kind to [a]ll. If we cannot actually love every [o]ne we [k]now we nearest and dearest it not both imaginable and desirable [t]hat we should [c]ease to love those we [l]ove [t]oo [l]ittle in time to [g]et [o]ver [f]rom [o]ur [s]o much vaster and [b]etter [w]ay we [s]hould love a myriad souls or more with the [s]ame devotion that we now give to one or two? In other words, would it not be a glorious thing to be able to love as we have always been told that Christ loves, as if every soul were the only one in the universe, so strong would be our regard for that soul and so discriminating but with an all inclusive scope and range, none omitted, none forgotten, none rejected or [n]eglected?

Natural Affection Will Continue to Exist

That would be heaven indeed, a state of universal good will, and therefore a joy beyond all our present powers of mind to conceive. Perhaps that is why St. Paul speaks of it as "to know the love of Christ which passeth knowledge"—that is, passeth knowledge now, but not always, the day will come when we shall get up to it in the life [t]o [c]ome.

What is called natural affection may therefore have to become purified in a [m]uch higher, but without [b]eing either dimmed or destroyed. I cannot doubt it myself. It will never become indifference. It will only cease to be exclusive. And I believe, too, that that rather sad fact, sad from one point of view, which none of us can help observing, that the dead are soon forgotten, is more or less an illusion. It is a merciful thing that time does take the raw edge off grief, does heal the deepest wounds of the heart in most cases. But it is not quite what it seems.

It is the mortal part of us that does the forgetting. The immortal part, the true imperishable self, holds on to its own and reasserts its claim, but on newer and higher levels, when the body is laid aside. What would you say if you met one you loved with the whole force of your nature forty years ago were to walk into your room? You might be overcome with delight, or you may have grown so far away from that early stage of experience as to be utterly unmoved.

But wait till death comes, and you will see that what was truly spiritual in that relationship will instantly leap back to its place in your soul and all [t]hat [a]ppear with the warmest garment of the flesh. And, oh, how many there are who are simply waiting for this great change to take place, with whom a beautiful love of early life is as fresh today as it ever was, and who are looking forward with patient eagerness to the everlasting morning.

O, thou soul of my soul, I shall clasp thee again.
And with God be the rest.

Memories may fade, sorrow and heart-break die down, familiar faces recede with the passing of the years, but all the precious fellowships of old will come back on a securer plane of possession, an attitude where there are no rival claims to be adjusted, no jealousies and littlenesses to be feared.

To many people it is a puzzle how we can fit into heaven with our earthly imperfections. The other night a soldier thus addressed me publicly: "Sir, somebody has been saying in England that a man who dies for his country goes straight to heaven, whatever his life may have been beforehand. Do you thing it is true that if a chap has been a bit rackety, and yet gives his life in this way, he will be all right on the other side, or will he have to go to hell?"

Do not smile, reader, at the naive simplicity of the question. I thought I detected a certain wistfulness behind it, and it will evidently been widely discussed among the men who heard it put.

I replied: "Probably the issue is not quite so sharp as you make it. Few of us are fit either for highest heaven or deepest hell. But what would you do if you were God?"

I think I should give a fellow a chance," was the instant response.

Could any one answer the question better than this rough-and-ready soldier?

There is a difficulty in imagining life in heaven. Will it be less, or those we love, in our friends and kindred [w]ho [h]ave [p]assed [o]n with the physical organism that [w]e [k]now? we are inclined to identify them? We long at [t]imes for the familiar associations.

For the touch of a vanished hand
And the sound of a voice that is still.

But in a world where there is no eating and drinking, and marrying and giving in marriage, intercourse must be different. Speech is a clumsy instrument at the best for the conveyance of ideas; and shall we never get closer to one another than tongue and embrace can take us? Yes, verily; we do it even now in the hours when silence gives the "sweetest communion—a foreglimpse of what is to be when the physical clog is gone.

And the most familiar face and form are changing before our eyes hour by hour. There is nothing permanent, nothing of eternal worth, in the purely physical. It is but as the sacrament of spirit that it has value, though that is much. But the essence of what we love is always invisible. No man has ever yet seen a soul. And it is that invisible that cannot die.

WHAT IS OUR LIF[E]

The Judgment Day—The End of the

"And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seal, and, lo, there was a great earthquake; and the su[n]

Will the Forces of Evil Still Co[n]

THE Rev. Dr. Campbell, as expressed in his impressive article printed elsewhere on this page, is fully warranted by Scriptural authority in believing that there is a life eternal beyond the grave, and that we do retain our own personality in the future world. Perhaps it ought to be sufficient comfort to us to realize this with out undertaking to penetrate the veil of mystery and seek to inquire just what will be our life in the next world.

While many are content to go no further than the revelations so sparingly made in the Bible, yet others cannot escape from the conflicting thoughts which the subject irresistibly forces upon them.

The misery and suffering and injustice and all the manifold forces for evil which everywhere surround us on this earth have complicated the problem of life in the next world. Both the Old Testament and the New Testament distinctly and repeatedly emphasize the forces for evil which perpetually exist. Satan and his evil powers exist not merely on this planet, but are, according to the Bible, a tremendous and perpetual force existing apart from and beyond our own little world.

If, then, evil exists endlessly in the great sphere of existence outside our own little earth, how will it influence us and our affairs and our life in the world beyond the grave? If Satan and his wicked machinations or any other powers of evil have always existed, always will exist, are these influences limited to us while we inhabit our earthly bodies during our life on this planet? Will we escape them in the next world?

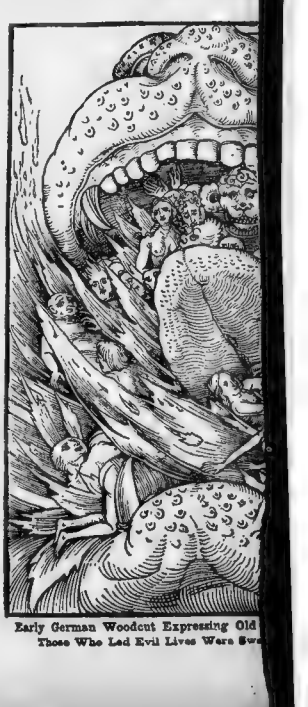
The Bible answers this by showing that even in heaven the struggle between good and evil goes on. The references to the fallen angels who were expelled from heaven seem to very definitely show that the forces of evil will still pursue us even in heaven.

Endless complications present themselves to the human mind when it attempts to contemplate the future life. Love, as the Rev. Dr. Campbell truly says, is our great compelling emotion. How will the love of a mother for her erring son or daughter be satisfied in the world to come if all her children are at her side save the one black sheep whose misdeeds on earth have banished him from the reunited family circle in heaven?

And if an untimely death robs a man of his devoted wife, and he marries again—are both wives to be his in the world to come? A thousand such perplexities arise.

How far the forces of evil will still continue effective in the next world it may be possible for science some day to discover. From the earliest times mankind has recognized evil influences, and has sought to control them for his own wicked purposes or for his protection.

The churches generally teach us that the devil, or Satan, is a real person, not an abstract power of evil, and that he is assisted by a vast horde of inferior devils or demons. Satan and his demons continually perrade the universe about us, constantly seeking to take possession of our



Early German Woodcut Expressing Old
Those Who Led Evil Lives Were Sw[ept]

E AFTER DEATH?

World.—By Francis Danby

n became black as sackcloth of hair, and the moon became as blood."—Revelation, vi, 12.

ntinue in the Next World?

is when we show any inclination to d to sin. Thousands of comrcte illus- tions are given by historians to show direct interference by Satan and his stants in the affairs of men. Martin her, for instance, tells us that he was ctly tempted by Satan to renounce his tions. Satan, he says, stood behind him continually whispering specious arguments to him and interfering with his thoughts and work. The noted reformer drove the devil away by hurling a heavy inkstand at him. Luther unquestionably was convinced that Satan appeared to him in tangible bodily form.

Satan is a Hebrew word meaning the enemy or the accuser. He is the same person as Lucifer, the name used in several places in the Bible. According to several passages in the Bible and the interpreta- tion theologians have given them, Lucifer was a prince of very high rank in the hierarchy of angels, who rebelled against the Almighty before the creation of the world. There is a famous reference to this rebellion in the Psalms: "How art thou fallen from heaven, O Lucifer, who didst rise in the morning? How art thou fallen to the earth, that didst wound the nations!"

In the book of Revelation there is a re- markable description of the war begun by Lucifer: "And there was a great battle in heaven, Michael and his angels fought with the dragon, and the dragon fought Michael and his angels: and they prevailed not, neither was their place found any more in heaven. And that great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, who is called the devil and Satan, who seduceth the whole world; and he was cast unto the earth, and his angels were thrown down with him."

There are many passages in the Bible that indicate the high rank of Satan. He is re- peatedly referred to in the Gospels as "the Prince of this world." St. Paul so speaks of him as "the Prince of the power of the air." Some authorities hold Lucifer was the prin- cipal angel who before his rebellion had been appointed to rule over the earth.

The demons ruled by Satan not only hover around us, tempting us to commit sin, but actually enter into our bodies and take possession of them when they find a weak spirit. This is illustrated by the incident of the man "with an unclean spirit," that is, one possessed by a devil, that was miracu- lously driven out of him, as related in the gospel of St. Mark.

So strong has the power of Satan become we are told that devil worship has pre- vailed at many times and among widely dif- ferent races of mankind. A recent French author, J. K. Huysmans, astonished the world by revealing in a remarkable series of novels how the worship of Satan pre- vailed in French society. He showed that the devil was worshipped with a systema- tic ritual, a parody of that used in church, and that he was supposed to be present in person at these remarkable gatherings.

In the end, it seems reasonable to believe, Satan and his demons will be finally over- thrown and Heaven will be perfect. "The blessed can no longer commit even the slightest venial sin," says a high authority.

ception of the Inferno, Where ed Up in Eternal Suffering

Are We Even Now in Communication With Departed Friends? Has Science Already Found a Way to Get News and Messages from Our Eternal Home?

Maeterlinck

MAURICE MAETERLINCK [illegible] Belgian Shakespeare, [illegible] one of the foremost living [illegible] devoted long study to the subject of [illegible] and occult phenomena.

In the earlier works which [illegible] "Pelleas and Melisan[illegible]" and [illegible] plays and in his "Life of the [illegible] a strong bent toward the [illegible] In his later works, "Wisdom and Destiny," "The Buried Temple" and especially in his recent book entitled "Death," M. Maeterlinck has taken up the subject of psychic phenomena more directly.

M. Maeterlinck is convinced by the evidence pre- sented by such men as F. W. H. Myers, Richard Hodg- son, Sir Oliver Lodge and William James that cer- tain persons perceive facts and receive communica- tions from discarnate spirits.

"It appears," he says, "to be as well established as a fact can be that a spiritual or nervous shape, an image, a belated reflection of life, is capable of sub- sisting for some time, of releasing itself from the body, of surviving it, of traversing enormous distances in the twinkling of an eye, of manifesting itself to the living, and sometimes communicating with them."

M. Maeterlinck is particularly im- pressed with certain collected evi- dence concerning the transmigration of souls. He thinks there is credible evidence that the soul of a person in a state of hypnotism may be induced to relate its own history back to childhood, and then before it was born, and then in one or more pre- vious existences. He describes the remarkable researches into this sub- ject by Colonel de Rochas, one of the leading French psychical research experts.

In the first place, M. Maeterlinck declares that Colonel de Rochas is a scientist who seeks nothing but truth and does so with a scientific strictness that has never been ques- tioned.

Tracing a Soul to Its Previous Lives.

This scientist puts certain excep- tional subjects into a hypnotic sleep, and by means of downward passes makes them trace back the whole course, not only of their present ex- istence, but of previous existences. He takes them back successively to their youth and down to the extreme limit of their infancy. At each of these stages the subject assumes the consciousness, the character and state of mind which he possessed at that stage of his life. He goes over the same events with their joys and sorrows. If he has been ill he passes through his illness, his convalescence and his recovery. If the subject has been a mother she goes through the anxieties and sufferings of that period. After that she goes back to an age when she was learning to write, and her writings, when compared with the copy- books she used at school, show the same kind of writing.

M. Maeterlinck then relates the details of one of these astonishing cases of transmigration of souls recorded by Colonel de Rochas. The subject is a girl of eighteen called Josephine. She lives at Voiron, in the department of the Isere. By means of down- ward passes Colonel de Rochas gradually brings her back to the condition of a baby at her mother's breast. The passes continue, and the wonder- tale runs its course. Josephine can no longer speak, and we have the great silence of infancy, which seems to be fol- lowed by a silence more mysterious still. Josephine no longer answers except by signs. The explanation is that she is not yet born. The signs persist, the sleep becomes heavier; and suddenly from the depths of that sleep rises the voice of another being—a voice unexpected and unknown, the voice of a churlish, dis- trustful and discontented old man. The old man is the previous incarnation of Josephine.

They question him. At first he refuses to answer, saying that "of course he is there, as he is speaking"; that "he sees nothing"; and that "he's in the dark." Colonel de Rochas increases the number of passes and gradually gains his confidence. His name is Jean- Claude Bourdon; he is an old man, he has long been ailing and bedridden. He tells the story of his life. He was born at Champvent, in the parish of Poliat, in 1812. He went to school until he was eighteen, and served his time in the army with the Seventh Artil- lery at Besancon. He describes his gay time there, while the sleeping girl makes the gesture of curling an imaginary mustache. He goes back to his native place but leads a solitary and miserable bachelor life, and dies at the age of seventy after a long illness.

The old man then describes his own death. He feels himself growing out of his body, but he remains attached to it for a fairly long time. His fluidic body, which is at first diffused, takes a more con- centrated form. He lives in darkness, which he finds disagreeable; but he does not suffer. At last the night in which he has plunged is streaked with a few flashes of light. The idea comes to him to reincarnate himself, and he draws nearer to her who is to be his mother, that is to say, the mother of Josephine. Then he is born as Josephine. Until the seventh year her body appears surrounded by a sort of floating mist, in which he used to see many things which he has not seen since.

Then the process is carried back to the previous incarnation of the old man. A mesmerization, lasting nearly three quarters of an hour, without lingering at any intermediary stage, brings the old man back to babyhood, to a fresh silence, a new limbo; and then suddenly another voice and a very different person is heard.

This time it is an old woman who has been very wicked. She is dead at the moment the subject is speaking, for in this inverted world lives go back- ward and begin at the end. She is in deep darkness, surrounded with evil spirits. She speaks in a faint little girl who died in infancy. Previous to that, she was a man who had committed murder, and it was to explain this crime that she endured much suffering in the darkness, even after her life as a little girl when she had had no time to do wrong. I did not think it necessary to carry the hypnosis further, be- cause the subject appeared exhausted and her pa- roxysms were painful to [illegible].

"But on the other hand, I noticed one thing which would tend to show that the revelations of these mediums rest on an objective reality. At Voiron one of the regular attendants at my demonstration is a young girl, Louise [illegible]. She possesses a very sedate and thoughtful cast of mind, not at all open to hypnotic suggestion, and she has in a very high degree the capacity, which is comparatively common in a lesser degree, of perceiving the magnetic effluvia of human beings and, consequently, the fluidic body. When Josephine revives the memory of her past a luminous aura is observed around her, and is per- ceived by Louise. Now to the eyes of Louise this aura becomes dark [illegible] separating two existe[illegible] a strong reaction in Josephine when I touch points where Louise tells me that she perceives the aura, whether it be dark or light."

Mme. Maeterlinck and the Crystal Globe in Which She and M. Maeterlinck Study Psychic Mysteries

Maeterlinck Describes His Psychical Experiments

Maeterlinck is strongly impressed with the evidence concerning the transmigration of souls and believes it to be a reasonable and ennobling theory.

He has also observed many psychical phenomena himself which point to the operations of discarnate spirits or the exercise of super physical powers by living human beings.

"The faculty is possessed by certain persons of pla- cing themselves in relation, either spontaneously or, for the most part, through the intermediary of some object, with unknown and often very distant [illegible] and people," says M. Maeterlinck. "The existence of this faculty is no longer seriously denied, and it is easy for anyone who cares to do so to verify it for himself, for the mediums who possess it are not ex- tremely rare nor are they inaccessible."

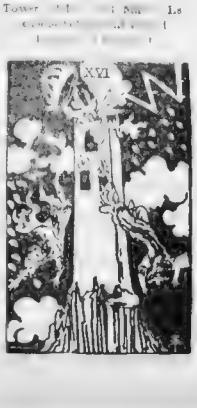
The famous writer then gives instances of this which he has experienced himself.

"I received from England a request for my auto- graph," he says. "Unlike most of those which assail an author of any celebrity, it was charming and un- affected, but it told me nothing about its writer. Without even noticing from what town it was sent to me, after showing it to my wife, I replaced it in its envelope and took it to Mme. M——. She began by describing us, my wife and myself, who both of us had touched the paper and consequently impregnated it with our respective 'fluids.' I asked her to pass beyond us and come to the writer of the note.

"She then saw a girl of fifteen or sixteen, almost a child, who had been in rather indifferent health but

Reasons Why Life Will Continue

[illegible] Tower [illegible] Nos. 1, 2



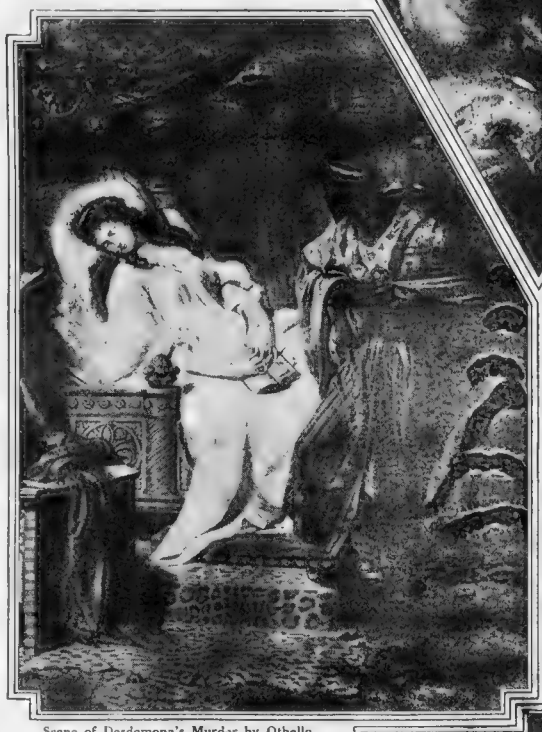
Shakespeare's Humanity

Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree

"His Heroes Have Their Weaknesses, His Weak Men Their Heroisms"—Writes Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree, Whose Revival of "Henry VIII" Will Be a Feature of New York's Shakespeare Festival

Beerbohm Tree as Hamlet

He does not scruple to afflict the beautiful nature of Hamlet with unnecessary



Scene of Desdemona's Murder by Othello.

Shylock Demanding His Pound of Flesh in "The Merchant of Venice."

"Most people appear to think that Shylock must either be a demon or a saviour. He is in truth a mixture of both—the man—the Jew."

Falstaff, "the Fat Knight" in "Henry IV."

"This boulting hutch of beastliness. He (Shakespeare) even appears to regard with a feeling akin to affection the concave character of Falstaff."

By Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree

From His Book, "Thoughts and Afterthoughts"

IMAGINATION

Falstaff-Hamlet Views of Honor.

Shakespeare the Altruist.

"He does not hesitate to afflict the noble character of the Moor with a foolish and unreasoning jealousy

Copyright, 1916, by the Star Company. Great Britain Rights Reserved

Why I Would Rather Not "Be a Beauty"

Lillian Russell Explains the Hardships of Being a Professional Beauty and Why She So Seldom Can Possess Either True Love or Brains

The Ill-Fated Lantelme, the "French Queen of Beauty," Whose Loveliness Brought Her Only Unhappiness Through Life and Caused at Last Her Tragic Death.

Lillian Russell, the Most Conspicuous American Beauty, Who Tells Why Beauty Is Such an Unpleasant and Unprofitable Gift.

Rosa Bonheur, the Greatest Woman Painter, Whose Career Miss Russell So Envies and Which Was Made Possible, She Thinks, Because Rosa Bonheur Was Never a Beauty.

By Lillian Russell

IF the privilege of being born again were granted me I should choose to be a plain woman.

My life would be a more comfortable one, I believe I should be happier. I have shared a thousand pleasures which the woman who is said to be a beauty must experience. I would not care to spend one-tenth of the money I have been forced to in "living up to my reputation."

The woman who has a reputation to beauty lives in the wake of a brass band. She does not own herself. The public decorates her. It maintains its ownership as long as she lives and even her funeral becomes a public function. From infancy to death she lives as though in a glass house where all may see. She lives in the atmosphere of publicity. The quiet joys of a modest existence are not for her.

Next in rank in the sorrows of a beauty's life is the fact that she may be as wise as Minerva, but she is to outwit the world with the reputation as brainless. In fact, the world expects her to be. It doesn't like to have its attention distracted from her appearance. Men who are ordinarily facetious will say during a conversation with her, "I had no idea you were so clever," and they will look at her as they do at a precocious child or a freak.

Having Beauty She Does Not Need to Develop Her Brains.

This is trying to the temper, yet I am enough of a philosopher to understand it and to grant that there is good reason for it. The brain of a beauty is more than likely to be stultified because she is not called upon to use it in her youth. If she is beautiful her faults are forgiven her. She soon discovers that she need not study as hard as the other girls in school. "Teacher" will excuse her. She does not need to apply herself so diligently to learning the art of housekeeping for "Mother won't mind." She doesn't have to work as hard as plain girls do to be attractive. Her looks pass for good conduct marks.

The result is that she is ill-equipped to gather in the prizes of life. Her brain, that may have been good at the beginning, becomes atrophied because it does not have to exercise. Therefore beauties earn the reputation of being stupid, and many of them deserve it.

Does it surprise you to learn that beauty is not as much beloved as the plain woman? It is true. Again there is a good reason. There are several reasons. First, consider that grade of love which is called friendship. The beauty does not inspire such deep friendships in women because the friendship is based on envy. A broad natured, big hearted woman who is plain may have a feeling of envy because she does not live up to the physical standard of beauty that she feels a shade of regret toward the beautiful one for not being as much as she feels it to be sentiment something is subtracted from friendship.

The beauty may not know this of her own accord, but some one of her friends or family will be sure to tell her. If she is sensitive she will be deeply hurt. If combative the knowledge will make her angry. If as a callous person, indeed, who can rejoice in the envy she has inspired. Envy is too nearly allied to hatred and hatred, every one knows, is a mental and character poison.

The beauty is no more fortunate in the love she awakens in men that in the friendship she inspires in women. The [illegible] and attract [illegible] best kind of men. Sole youths or [illegible] walking the park [illegible] notice they say hair is not [illegible] was when she saw me at the opera and will say: "That's Lillian Russell. She's not at all beautiful when you are close to her. I cannot put on a ratty day skirt only for that walk in the [illegible]. Some one will look me over, up and down and around, and say: "She has a beautiful. I like her nose. But wouldn't you think she would keep herself smarter?"

It costs money to be beautiful. The art of looking your best [illegible]. You cannot wear your [illegible] and your new ones must be [illegible]. And [illegible] as well. [illegible] beauty is so lucky as to land a man worth having she is by no means sure of holding him.

I grant that beauty is a bait. But it is no fortress of the affections. A page of any newspaper might be filled with the names of the beauties who have lost their husbands to some one not so obviously attractive.

It is hard work to be a beauty. Life is a long struggle to [illegible] loveliest photographs, probably by some kindly artist. Others [illegible] he will note the differences [illegible] space its criticisms.

The beauty may not be sure of good grooming. There must be extra touches in her toilet. She must live up to the standard she established yesterday. I cannot twist my hair up [illegible] sister [illegible] and start with the [illegible] walk among the park [illegible] notice they say hair is not [illegible] was when she saw me at the opera and will say: "That's Lillian Russell. She's not at all beautiful when you are close to her. I cannot put on a ratty day skirt only for that walk in the [illegible]. Some one will look me over, up and down and around, and say: "She has a beautiful. I like her nose. But wouldn't you think she would keep herself smarter?"

It costs money to be beautiful. The art of looking your best [illegible]. You cannot wear your [illegible] and your new ones must be [illegible]. And [illegible] as well. [illegible] beauty is so lucky as to land a man worth having she is by no means sure of holding him.

I grant that beauty is a bait. But it is no fortress of the affections. A page of any newspaper might be filled with the Copyright, 1910.

[illegible] seem to think you are deaf and blind. They stand in front of [illegible] and stare at you. They will [illegible] in your face [illegible] Dress Parade [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[

Did the Captain of the "King Stephen" Do Right—or Wrong?

The Tragic Meeting of the British Trawler and the Sinking Zeppelin no traces could be found, and so it was concluded that the Zeppelin had ...

...ers, having suffered from [illegible] ...sibly refuse to share any of [illegible] ...ew of the L 19. The [illegible] ...debate strikes the opinion of [illegible] ...and deserves says:

"...succumbed, probably [illegible] ...succumbed by virtue of [illegible] ...ed on, but as to [illegible] ...ce of a measure of [illegible] ...ds can blame the British sailors [illegible] ...taken. Everybody else would [illegible] ...same sporting spirit [illegible] ...ers can not [illegible] ...right to benefit of [illegible] ...nations [illegible] ...to deliver from the risers [illegible] ...was the Germans themselves [illegible] ...it so and therefore they have [illegible] ...reason to complain or invoke the [illegible] ...of God when they are victims of [illegible] ...own special barbarity.

"Dailies papers agree in describing the skipper of the King Stephen as a very sensible man and as generally taking the attitude that the Germans themselves [illegible] ...to blame if their prize crews are not capable of their [illegible] ...Thus the London Times Review remarks:

"...ge...an of the King Stephen had taken aboard the crew of the destroyed Zeppelin L 19 he would have played the part not so much of a brave man as of a fool. Once securely aboard the crew of the Zeppelin, in all likelihood [illegible] ...would have 'strafed' the unarmed [illegible] ...men of the British trawler, and [illegible] ...ed for—Germany! As a result we should never have known for sure of the wreck of the Zeppelin, which was very good and cheering news; while the whole world would have been cumbered with some thirty ruffians it can very well spare. There is no need to mince one's words over an incident such as this."

The more restrained and dignified London Spectator is in substantial agreement when it says:

"It is utterly repugnant to British seamen not to help persons in distress, even though those persons have outraged every decent man's feelings by acting as the instruments of criminal warfare. But we can not escape the conclusion that the fate of the Zeppelin's crew was the Nemesis which must often overtake criminals. The British seamen simply could not take the Germans' word. They could not trust them. That being so, Englishmen know exactly where to lay the blame when they read in German newspapers that English seamen are 'illegraed forever.'"

Was the picture which rose to his ... ity that at that mo... ute ones and his ... skipper of an infant in monster?

This little scene on February 2 on the bosom of the North Sea when Captain Martin met the commander of the British Zeppelin L 19, is one of the most ... some episodes of the war. Here are some of the different points of view that have been expressed by various newspapers in Germany, France and England, as collected in the columns of Literary Digest.

Commenting on Captain Martin's report and conclusions, the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger writes:

"This fresh infamous action provides yet another of those disclosures which the present war has furnished us, of the brutality of the British character, of which we 'barbarians' were so little aware that it took us a long time to realize its possibilities."

The Berlin Kreuzzeitung compares this episode with the Baralong incident, and considers that—

"The attitude of the King Stephen was more cruel than that of the Baralong crew, who made short work of the 'hated enemy.' If the crew of the King Stephen feared an attack from our shipwrecked Germans they could have disarmed them; but who believes in such a fear, which would have been simply and solely proof of base cowardice?"

Why no speedy attempt was made to rescue the shipwrecked airmen is a mystery to the Hamburger Nachrichten, which says:

"When the trawler King Stephen and her cowardly crew reached Grimsby and made a report, why were not adequately armed and manned ships sent out immediately to search for the shipwrecked men, and perhaps even to bring in the Zeppelin? It seems that a great deal of time was wasted. Was it due to fear of the German heroes? Two vessels went out later to search the North Sea area and returned with the cheerful news that

What the Stars Predict for April—Lucky and Unlucky Days

A Satisfactory Solution of the Mexican Problem Foreshadowed

By Prof. Sothnos Letillier.
The Famous Astrologer.

THE April lunation occurs in the Government angle, conjunction [illegible] ...gete support of Mars. The Government policies will be attended by justice and discretion, combined with an aggressive peril that will make itself felt in Mexico and other quarters. Venus dignified in the legislative quarter promotes harmony in the nation's councils and brings cohesion to the various schemes of preparedness.

The luminaries approaching a good aspect of Uranus in the eighth house is an earnest of activity in the Naval Advisory Board. The lunation period of this body is passed, and the time for real accomplishment is arrived. There will be one disturbance however in the press ... [illegible] ...ations, for the planetary conditions ... [illegible] ...ach that an afternoon or evening ... [illegible] ...ensational character than a startling child's.

Whatever day of the month your birthday falls on you will find the prediction given for the good fortune, or otherwise, which will come to you during the next twelve months, in babes are given the prospects for babies born in April.

APRIL, 1916.

1—1st—Thou hast a fortunate birthday, and will meet with many friends. Thy business will prosper. The young will court or marry and enter upon new ... Females will have offers of marriage.

A child born on this day will be successful in its ... and fortunate in business. It will meet with many powerful friends. If a female, a successful widow.

2nd to 5th—Keep thy health in order. In thy business thou mayest expect an active and successful year.

A child born on this day will be fortunate in its undertakings generous in disposition and will travel ...

6th to 11th—Expect serious worry in thy business and ... [illegible] ...ave, or change. On the whole the year will be a favorable one.

A child born on this day will be restless and an ... [illegible] ...food of travelling and changing. In business it will be rather patronage.

12th to 14th—With care thou will have a successful year, but do not venture or go to law.

A child born on this day will be quick and bitter in temper, but on the whole, rather fortunate in business.

15th to 20th—Thou wilt travel, or change and experience much trouble and worry. Keep thyself quiet

A child born on this day will travel much In business it will meet with many reverses.

21st to 24th—Disappointment or sickness threatens thee in the domestic circle. In thy business thou will be rather fortunate. The young will court or marry.

A child born on this day will be well conditioned, ... [illegible] ...ents of your anxiety. Mars, Saturn and Neptune are adverse, the Luminaries and much discontent will be aroused there either through malad... stration or the indifference of the home Government to the local demands.

Rainy temperatures with the usual April showers will mark the month.

Warm and clear aspects in the opening days. Cool rains around the 6th 7th, with northwesterly winds predominating in the second week, and a clearer atmosphere. The chief storm centre embraces the third week, and the New England States will suffer not a little damage. After the 23d a period of quick changes

Copyright, 1916, by the Star Company. Great Britain Rights Reserved

The 7th—Thy birthday is a fortunate one, and thy money and business will increase. Those in employ will also prosper.

A child born on this day will be clever but quick in temper. In business it will meet with much success. If a female, she will marry very young and happily.

The 8th—Thy birthday is rather a quiet one, but do not quarrel or dispute. Thy business will proceed as usual.

A child born on this day will be clever and persevering. Will possess an excellent judgment and ... [illegible] ...ccessful in ... [illegible] ... career in politics.

The 9th—Thou will meet with many good friends from whom thou will benefit, but do not lend money or speculate, and take care of thy health. Females must be careful of the opposite sex.

A child born on this day will be quick and clever and will hold important positions; but will be careless with its money and sometimes in difficulties.

The 10th—Thy birthday is not a fortunate one. Do not speculate. Thy business will cause thee great anxiety. Those in employ lose their positions.

A child born on this day will be careless and unfruitful and generally in sore trouble.

The 11th.—Thou wilt have some worry in thy business, but on the whole the year will be a favorable one. The young will court or marry.

A child born on this day will be generally successful and will rise in life.

The 12th.—Beware of quarrelling. Do not travel or remove Attend to thy business and it will go well.

A child born on this day will be headstrong, rash ... [illegible] ...In business it will be rather fortunate, very clever and will rise in life.

The 13th—Run no risks with the money. Attend to thy business and thou will have an active and successful year Those in employ will be promoted.

A child born on this day will be generally successful in its undertakings, particularly if in employ. If a female, she will marry young.

The 14th—Many troubles will occur both in thy business and domestic affairs. Keep thyself quiet and avoid pleasure and company. Those in employ must be careful.

A child born on this day will be untidy and careless, fond of company and will have to work hard for his living.

The 15th.—Thy birthday is a quiet one, and thy business will proceed as usual.

A child born on this day will have a quiet career ... the home of its birth will be an important one.

The 16th—Attend to the health and that of the family. Avoid law, quarrelling and change.

A child born on this day will meet with many troubles in life and will be often in serious difficulties. If a female she must be careful of her conduct.

The 17th. Do not speculate or risk thy money. Thou art threatened with losses Thy business will increase. The young will court or marry.

A child born on this day will be free and generous to excess, and will spend its money on pleasure and company. It will succeed best in employ.

The 18th—Thou hast a very unfavorable birthday, and thy business and domestic affairs will cause thee great anxiety. Those in employ must be very careful.

A child born on this day will be unlucky in its undertakings and a failure in business. It will be untruthful careless and unsettled.

The 19th—Avoid law and quarrelling. Do not travel or remove and keep from pleasure and companies.

A child born on this day will be unsettled and headstrong, fond of change, unfortunate in business and will have to work hard for its living.

The 20th—Avoid worry threatens thee in thy business and losses and disappointments. Keep thyself very quiet. Females must be careful of the opposite sex.

A child born on this day will be unsuccessful in business and will have a hard struggle to make two ends meet. If a female, trouble in wedlock.

The 21st—Thou art born an active, ... [illegible] ...year for thy business, but in thy domestic affairs sickness or disappointment will occur Let those ... [illegible]

A child born on this day will be extravagant and careless in its habits, but in business it will be generally fortunate.

The 22nd—Avoid quarrelling and changes. With care thy business will prosper. Those in employ will benefit.

A child born on this day will succeed best in employment. It should not attempt any business on its own account.

The 23rd.—Heavy losses and disappointments threaten thee in thy business, and thou will have a very troublesome year. Do not speculate and keep thy health in order.

A child born on this day will be quick and clever, but careless over money, and will be often in serious difficulties.

The 24th.—Thy business will go wrong and sickness and worry threaten thee. Those in employ must be very careful. Be careful of thy conduct with ... [illegible] ...ex.

A child born on this day will be clever and accomplished, but in business it will be very unfortunate.

The 25th.—Thou will quarrel or go to law. Attend to thy business and do not travel or remove.

A child born on this day will be very quick to temper and a great tormentor to its fellow beings In business it will be only partially successful.

The 26th.—Be careful of letters and writings, and avoid disputes. Thou will travel, or change. The young will court or marry.

A child born on this day will be much respected and a favorite with the opposite sex. In business it will meet many troubles and reverses

The 27th.—Thou hast a fortunate birthday, and thy money and business will increase. Those in employ will likewise be benefit.

A child born on this day will be generally successful, particularly if in employ. If a female, she will marry an elderly person who will be fond of drink.

The 28th.—Some grief or disappointment will occur in thy family affairs, but in thy business thou will have an active and successful year

A child born on this day will be untidy and careless, but in business it will be rather successful. If a female, she must be careful of her conduct

The 29th.—Attend to thy health Avoid law quarreling, and keep thy business well in hand.

A child born on this day will not be fortunate in business, and will meet with many serious troubles. If a female, unfortunate in her relations with the opposite sex.

The 30th.—Thou hast a fortunate birthday, and thy money and business will increase. Thou wilt also travel, or change, and with success. The young will court or marry.

A child born on this day will be quick and persevering, fortunate in business, and will rise in life. If a female, she will marry an elderly person or widower, but he will be very poor.

Happy Mortals on Whom Jupiter Will Smile During April

continues to the close of the month. The general weather conditions greatly favor the seed time, and wheat prospects show a decided improvement

Specific incidents to be looked for in or near the following dates per...

April 1-4—Financial and speculative interests greatly benefited. Defense plans materially advanced under a Sun Mars-Jupiter combination. An important development in Mexico.

April 6-7—Activity among malcontents, with secret plots against the Government Obstacles in a diplomatic transaction. Poison cases numerous at this time

April 9-14—A propitious period generally, beginning with a very popular executive action and including a bullish market tone, and unusual activity in newspaper and literary fields. A State paper elicits favorable comment. New issues will add interest to the political situation.

April 17-20—Destructive storms mark these days. Social unrest, with ominous utterances in street assemblies that lead to arrests. The stock market in settled through surprising Mexico developments

April 21-24—Important happenings in the music, art and social worlds.

April 25-26—A critical diplomatic problem causes grave concern. Earthquakes in various sections

In this month Jupiter felicitates the affairs and surrounds with a spirit of amity those born in the first week of February, April, June, or between the 3d and 11th of August or December of any year. These promises are accentuated if the day of birth was in the Spring of Fall of 1836, Winters of 1851 or 1852, Spring of 1855, Winter of 1859, in 1861 or 1862, Winter of 1867, Summer of 1868, Winters of 1872 or 1875, Summers of 1879 or 1880, Winter or Spring of 1883, or Summer of 1884

Saturn's malignity in the wake of this oracle, loss or ill health besets those born around the close of March or December, or opening of July or October of any year; or if in the Fall of 1842, Summer of 1845, Winters of 1850 or 1857, Fall of 1863, Summer of 1867, Winters of 1868 or 1869, Fall of 1873, Winter of 1879, Spring of 1886, Summer of 1887, or Spring or Summer of 1893

Erratic changes, bad investments, and misdirected effort for those born around the 8th-10th of February, May, or the 11th of August or November of any year For them there is also danger of accident or broken limbs.

New Things Every Woman Ought to Know

When the Beauty Should "Lock Up" Her Face

By Mme. Lina Cavalieri, the Most Famous Living Beauty

One evening after the opera I went upon a friend to beg a cup of tea. I had [illegible] her boudoir and she [illegible] was tired. [illegible] impossible to go with her to the Ritz tonight. "My beauty is locked up."

I was amazed. She had, [illegible] appearance of one who was [illegible] out of the world from behind [illegible] bars. There were bars across her forehead, bars above her upper lip and beneath her lower [illegible]. There were longitudinal bars [illegible] corner of her right eye and curved ones at the corner of her [illegible].

"Marvelous," I exclaimed. "Have you a toothache?" For about her face and fastened at the top of her head was a tight band of muslin, two inches wide.

"No," she answered. Her eyes smiled. "No other portion of her face suffered because it couldn't be [illegible] immovable locked. "I am simply locking up my face so that it will not grow old during the night."

Then she unfolded to me a plan so clever that every woman should follow it now and then, if she is over thirty.

"The chin that locked the face in its prison and inescapably, because the jaw has a wretched habit of drooping, and the muscles that are no longer youthful of sinking during sleep.

"By locking in the face she held the muscles steady and kept the jaw in place—both most desirable [illegible]. For if the jaw drops the mouth opens, and thus the gates are let down to an invading host of germs; the throat grows dry and inexorably the voice becomes husky, and the nose, with its admirable [illegible] process for fanning the fresh air into the lungs and catching all the superfluous particles of dust and evil germs and holding them in the prison of [illegible] that line the [illegible] merely ornamental [illegible] tain peak, as it were, of the face.

How the Chin That Wrinkles When You Talk Is Locked Up.

"Locking up the [illegible] muslin bandage [illegible] does proper work of supplying to the lungs, free [illegible] and [illegible] for the purpose instead of being filled with all its burden of impurities directly into the lungs and thence into the blood.

"Moreover it locks in the cell of muslin the muscles of the chin and lower cheek that would otherwise droop, in a fleshy face—and my friend's is of the round type—forming the disheartening and ageing "jowls," so dreaded by the woman who would preserve youth or, at least, its semblance.

"Many persons frown in their sleep. My friend put the muscles of her forehead in prison in punishment for that bad habit. Stretching [illegible] bandage [illegible] below [illegible] by a pressure of [illegible] and drawing [illegible] just three bars upon the [illegible]. The three bars were [illegible] strips of court plaster [illegible] across the forehead and held [illegible] well in place. That effectual [illegible] wrinkles any frown during the night.

"The habit that is considered [illegible] for a third of the twenty-four hours will make no serious inroads during the rest of the time when the intelligence mounts guard [illegible] at the cell of beauty. At night this jailer, having to be [illegible] well to lock in his prisoners for the hours of his absence.

"Holding the skin taut again with the thumb and first finger, where it crosses so readily beneath the nose, the strips of court plaster are pasted over that bad habit region of the face. So with the continuation of these lines below the lips.

"The crow's feet, those lines that form at the outer corners of the eyes [illegible] landline in a double boiler [illegible]

YOU MIGHT TRY---

Olive Oil for Clocks

T [illegible]

O [illegible] Walnut [illegible]

F [illegible]

T [illegible] Prevent Mumps [illegible]

W [illegible]

Making Your Own Stove Blacking:

A [illegible]

When C [illegible] Meat

I [illegible]

Rose water [illegible]
Elder flower water [illegible]
Tannic acid [illegible]
Simple tincture [illegible]

Sweet almond [illegible]
Sulphate of zinc [illegible]
Tincture of [illegible]

Lanolin [illegible]
Oil of sweet almonds [illegible]
Tannin [illegible]

Learn to PLAN If You Want to SAVE TIME AND MONEY

By Josephine Story

"IF I plan anything I am sure to be disappointed."

Haven't you heard that declaration times without number? Don't believe it. It's a false and pernicious doctrine, which, if followed, will play havoc with your will power. On the contrary, form the habit of planning. It is a marvelous [illegible] in its results as [illegible] the famous lamp of Aladdin. [illegible]

Suppose you have always longed to take a certain journey; retreat to the solitude of your own room and in the quiet look down along the months of the coming year select the time which seems the most propitious for your journey, [illegible] put your finger on the date and proclaim with [illegible] ness "I'll go [illegible] once you will find [illegible] termination in [illegible]

SUNDAY AMERICAN EXAMINER PATTERNS

Twelve Serviceable Garment Models Especially Designed for the Home Dressmaker—10 CENTS EACH.

No. 1653.
Ladies' House Dress.

The pattern [illegible] 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. It requires [illegible] yards of 44-inch material for a 36-inch size.

No. 1641.
A Dainty Dress for Mother's Girl.

The pattern [illegible] 2, 4, 6 and 8 years. It requires [illegible] yards of 44-inch material for a 4-year size.

No. 1654.
Costume for Misses and Small Women.

The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: 16, 18 and 20 years. It requires 6¾ yards of 44-inch material for an 18-year size.

No. 1655.
Junior Dress with or Without Basque.

The pattern [illegible] 12, 14 and 16 years. It requires [illegible] yard [illegible] 4 year size. The dress without basque will require [illegible]

No. 1649.
Cut a One Piece Dress.

The pattern is cut in four sizes: 4, 6, 8 and 10 years. Size 4 requires 2⅞ yard of 44-inch material for dress. Contrasting portions and 4¾ yards with yoke sections.

No. 1431.
Ladies' Apron with Princess Front.

The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: small, medium and large. It requires 4¾ yards of 27-inch material for a medium size.

No. 1637.
A New Shirt Waist Style.

The pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. It requires 2½ yards of 44-inch material for a 36-inch size.

No. 1653.
Girls' Dress.

The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 2, 4, 6 and 8 years. It requires 2¼ yards of 44-inch material for a 4-year size.

No. 1654.
Costume for Misses and Small Women.

The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: 16, 18 and 20 years. It requires 6¾ yards of 44-inch material for an 18-year size.

No. [illegible]
Ladies' Waist, With Vest.

The pattern is cut in [illegible] sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. It requires [illegible] yards of [illegible] material for a 36-inch size.

No. 1658.
Ladies' S[illegible]

The pattern [illegible] 34, 36, 38, 40 and [illegible] measure. It requires 4 [illegible] yards of 44-inch material for a 38-inch size.

No. 1425.
A Boy's Comfortable [illegible]

The pattern [illegible] 4, 6 and 8 years. It requires [illegible] yards of 44-inch material for a 6-year size.

IMPORTANT—Be sure to fill in Name, Address and Size—IMPORTANT

SUNDAY AMERICAN EXAMINER PATTERNS

10c EACH

No. 1642—Size [illegible] Bust
No. 1261—Size [illegible] Years
No. 1655—Size [illegible] Years
No. 1649—Size [illegible] Years
No. 1431—Size [illegible] Years
No. 1637—Size [illegible] Bust

No. [illegible] Size [illegible] Year
No. 1653 Size [illegible] Year
No. [illegible] Size [illegible] Bust
No. [illegible] Size [illegible] Waist
No. [illegible] Size [illegible] Years
No. [illegible] Size [illegible] Waist

Name

Street and Number

City and State

[illegible] Copyright, 1910 [illegible] All rights reserved.

Shipped FREE!

Write for free catalog. The new 1910 Arrow all ready to go to you at our risk without a penny down. If you are not delighted send it back. If you keep the Arrow pay the 30 day reduced price, a small amount each month while you ride. New 1910 features—motorcycle type all sizes—boys, girls, women. Write Today with the new Arrow offer, factory-to-rider prices and $100.00 Cash Offer. Dept. 31-B Arrow Cycle Co. Arrow Park, Chicago

Pay as You Ride

Electric Light

NO JOKE TO BE DEAF—Every Deaf Person Knows That. Those who are, can hear as well as anyone after using the Actophone. Entirely different from all others. Invisible, comfortable. Anyone can adjust it. Write for booklet and testimonials. Actophone Co., 1482 Broadway, Detroit, Mich.

BIG ENTERTAINER

[illegible] 10c, 25c, 50c Postpaid. Address [illegible] Desk 34 Dearborne St. Dept. [illegible] Chicago, Ill.

150 Parodies Latest Songs 10c

[illegible] Dept. 34 Dearborne St. Dept. [illegible] Chicago, Ill.

[illegible] your broken glasses, prescription [illegible] glasses which fit you [illegible] new $2.50 pair of [illegible] crystal lenses in any frame desired [illegible] Correspondence please [illegible] by the law by the OCULIST [illegible] 208 B'way, New York

Mrs. [illegible]
P. O. Box 66, New York City, N. Y.

FRECKLES

Watch Worst Month for This [illegible] Master [illegible] Lastly [illegible] to disappear [illegible]

Don't Wear a Truss

[illegible] BROOKS APPLIANCE [illegible]

C. E. BROOKS, 1841B, State St., Marshall, Mich.

500 SONGS Jokes, Toasts, 10c
LOVE, WAR SENTIMENTAL

[illegible] BOOK

The National Market Place

Patent Attorneys

Wanted, Ideas—Send for List of [illegible] Wanted. Also [illegible] Send rough sketch or model for free [illegible] report as to patentability. Our fees reasonable. Payable when patent secured. Patent and Trade Mark Obtained. Book free. Highest references. Best results. Promptness assured. Letters strictly confidential. Address, E. G. Siggers, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

Patentable Ideas Wanted—Manufacturers are writing for patents we procure through us. Send sketch for free search and report. Our three books sent free. Richard B. Owen, Patent Lawyer, 38 Owen Building, Washington, D. C.

Protective Patents, Trade marks [illegible] Book free. Highest references. Best results. Promptness assured. Letters strictly confidential. Address, E. G. Siggers, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

Business Opportunities

Free for Six Months—My special [illegible] interesting for you. If you own $10 a copy to any one who [illegible] getting a start in the publishing business. Small capital required. Send for particulars. Address, Publisher, 1106 Manhattan Building, Chicago.

In renting for Profit [illegible] Real Estate Journal published [illegible] Sample copy free. Write now [illegible] Real Estate Journal, Dept. [illegible] 1170 Broadway, New York.

Big Money [illegible] Write for particulars. Address, Box [illegible] Chicago.

Real Estate

Roosevelt Dam to Salt River Valley, Arizona, waters a fertile soil that will make money for you enough. Low prices and easy terms. Write for free books. C. L. Seaglers, Gen'l Colonization Agt. AT&SF Ry. 1001 F. [illegible] Chicago.

Agents

Be a Live Wire—Sell an absolutely [illegible] household specialty guaranteed by $200,000 corporation; easy sales, big profits and an unusual following. Wm. Hebert, Mgr. Dept. 67, 26 West Lake St., Chicago, Ill.

Agents—$300 profit; free sunshine [illegible] Write quick. [illegible]

Remedies

Are Gray Hairs but Tired Eyes make us look older than we are? Keep Feeling young and you will look young. After 10 Movies always Murine Your Eyes. Don't tell your age. Murine Eye Remedy Co., Chicago. Ready Book of the Eye, on request.

Asthma remedy sent by express to any sufferer. If satisfied send me $1.00, if not, [illegible] giving express office. W. E. STERLING, 827 [illegible] Ave., Sidney, O.

Of Interest to Women

A perfect developed bust—"Grow-dine" gives a model results, no failures, otherwise money refunded. $1 a box. Full treatment, $5. MME. KOPPEL'S PARISIAN SECRET, 185 A West 34th st., New York.

Typewriters

Typewriter Prices Smashed. "Spot Cash," agents will save you money. L. D. Smith Typewriter Co., Rochester, N. Y. [illegible] Visible [illegible] at $45 to $55. Guaranteed [illegible] Catalog free. [illegible] Typewriter Co., [illegible] Chicago.

The New Spring Skirts

Wider Still Spread the Petticoats of This Evening Dress, and More Clinging Are the Street Gowns, Says Lady Duff-Gordon

LADY DUFF-GORDON, the famous "Lucile" of London, and foremost creator of fashions in the world, writes each week the fashion article for this newspaper, presenting all that is newest and best in styles for well dressed women.

Lady Duff-Gordon's Paris establishment brings her into close touch with the centre of fashion.

Lady Duff-Gordon's American establishments are at Nos. 37 and 39 West Fifty-seventh street, New York, and No. 1400 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago.

By Lady Duff-Gordon
("LUCILE")

Have you seen an example of my new Spring models?

Perhaps you will exclaim, "Why, the skirts are wider than ever!"

And so they are.

This season the wide skirt will reach its greatest vogue.

And in some fortunate cases, I am sure, the skirt will not leave us at all. The big woman and the woman who is not quite big enough to be stout will never let them go. But even if, as I hope, there is nothing that the big woman and the stout woman look better in than one of these wide skirts—

And let me put into your hand for standing at rest demonstrations—I can hear people say, "Why, I would not dare to wear a skirt like that on the street." My dear lady, whatever you are, these skirts are not intended for street wear. If they were you would have to widen your lines, and immediately. The effects are ideal for evening dress. As a matter of fact, the street clothes, the walking dress and so on are going to be more slender and even more restrained than ever.

I have said that the wide skirt is some manifestation, or other will not disappear because the big woman and the stout woman will not let it.

Let us first take the case of the big woman—I mean the wonderful creature who might have stepped from some old Norse saga.

She is so big and strong and overfilling that in average dress she seems awkward and out of place. We think regretfully of how splendid she would look in the old full Greek draperies of the heroic age or the mail and armor of knightly heroic age.

In the same style of clothes that are charming on her slender sister she reminds us irresistibly of a knight in a boy's knickerbockers. She is of heroic mold and there is no reason why she should not wear a dress which would interpret all her large grace and beauty.

Simplex simplicitatum. The cures like.

There she we would expect to see such a woman fearlessly with the life around us. If she were draped in clothes that would reveal all her wonderful length of line and fullness. And this is just what happens when she dresses this way. Not only that but she becomes actually graceful. Dignity and largeness of frame are perfectly interpreted by the dignity and largeness of line of her clothes. She does not appear ridiculous—she is only beautifully impressive.

It is the same way with the stout woman. The two large hips are instantly thrown into a proper perspective by the wide and billowing skirts. They seem small by comparison. And at the same time the low full bosom seems no larger than it ought to be. What has happened is that, as the architects would say, she has dressed to scale.

In the smaller picture at the bottom we see another like this, which you can study at your leisure. The larger picture shows two views of one of the new spring dresses which happened in this case to have been created for a Junoesque but for the small woman. The skirt adaptation, however, is not easy to make it harmonize with the bodice figure.

The large picture on this page shows one of the new Spring skirts. It is even more "bouffant," wider than ever. Its effect is nevertheless charming, I think. It is of white tulle over a pink silk under dress. Hand-made roses embellish it. The smaller picture at the top gives another view of the same dress from another angle.

Please look now at the remaining picture. Here you can see exactly what I mean about the reduction of the hips through the lines of the skirt. There is real dignity here, and yet there is also given an effect of grace and lightness. This dress is of white embroidered filet over black satin. The garniture of red roses is arranged in long lines.

The large picture above is one of the new skirts of Spring—larger, wider than ever. It is of white tulle over a pink silk under dress. Hand-made roses embellish it. The smaller picture at the top gives another view of the same dress.

At the lower left is a "stately" dress for either the Junoesque type of woman or the stout one. It is of white embroidered filet over black satin.

("Lucile" Models)

COMIC SECTION
OF THE
BOSTON AMERICAN
March 26, 1916

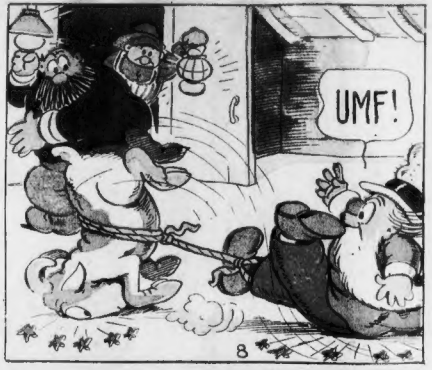
Copyright, 1916, by Star Company. Great Britain Rights Reserved

The Original Katzenjammer Kids

Registered U. S. Patent Office

I JEST HAD TU COME OVER TU HISS THEM TWO LIL' ANGELS O' YOURN GOOD BYE AFORE YOU ALL GOES TU PANAMA
SH-SH-SH! COME MIT ME, MAS CHONES. I SHOW YOU VARE DEY ISS PEACE FULLY SLEEPING!
THUH DARLIN' LIL' INNOCENTS!
INNOCENTS? WHO KNOWS IT?
1

COME QVICH UND GIF ALOOK, MEESTER CAPTANE! IN BARN BANE BEEG COMMOTION!
OH, AINT THEY JEST THUH SWEETEST LIL' SUGAR PLUMS!
ALVAYS VEN DEY ISS ASLEEP DEY ISS LIKE DOT!
2



ACH DER DARLING LITTLE SUGAR-PLUMS! DER SVEET LITTLE ANCHELS! HUH? CHASS! DEY GOT A INNOCENCE LIKE A PACK OF DOD-GASTED HYENAS!
12

The Whole Blooming Family

Pa Blooming Has Been Married Just 20 Years, and, Gosh! He's Happy!

Copyright, 1916, by Star Company. Great Britain Rights Reserved.

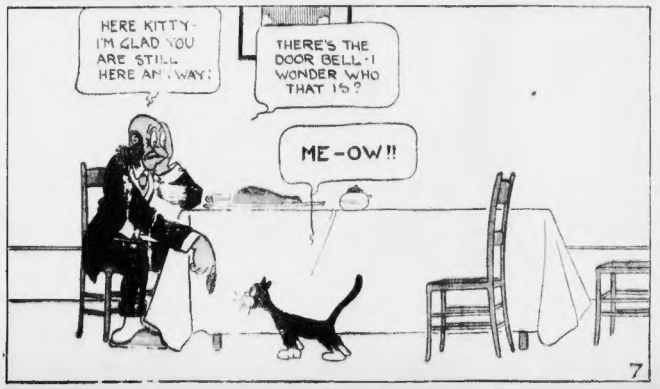
YOU'RE GOING HOME - LOOKING VERY HAPPY - OLD TOP - WHAT'S THE BIG IDEA?
MY BOY - I'VE BEEN MARRIED TWENTY YEARS TODAY - I WANT TO TELL YOU IT'S FINE TO GET HOME AND SIT AROUND THE TABLE AND SEE ALL YOUR FAMILY THERE!
1

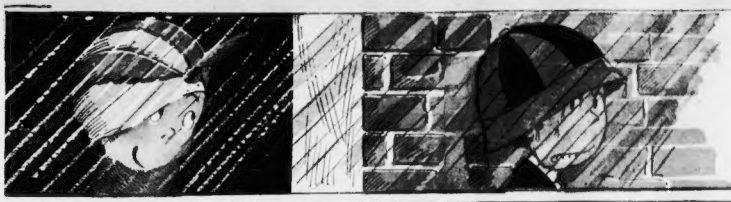
WELL - FOLKS JUST THINK - TWENTY —
MISSY - YOUR BEAU AM OUTSIDE AN' HE DONE WANT TO TAKE YOU OUT TO DINNER:
EXCUSE ME - POP - I'M GOING OUT TO DINNER -
DID YOU BRING HOME ANY CANDY?
I WANTA COOKIE!
AW! GIT THE FOOD!
3

NOW WHAT?
I'VE GOT A COOKIE -
YOU CAN'T HAVE ANY - THEY'RE NOT GOOD FOR YOU:
I WANT A COOKIE!
THAT REMINDS ME - I'VE GOT A DATE AT THE CLUB:
GEE! I'LL BE GLAD WHEN I'M BIG SO I KIN GIT OUT:
4

AS I WAS SAYING -
HE ALWAYS WANTS WHAT I GET:
I WANT A COOKIE.
YOU COME RIGHT UP STAIRS - I'M GOING TO PUT YOU TO BED!
I WONDER IF WE GOT PIE TONIGHT
5

WHERE'S MY WIFE?
SHE DONE TOLD ME TO TELL YOU TO SERVE YOURSELF - SHE WANTS ME TO HELP HER DRESS FOR TO GO TO THE MOVIES -
POP - I'M NOT HUNGRY - I'M GOIN' OUT AND PLAY!
GEE! YOU GOT LAMB AGIN TONIGHT - I DON'T LIKE IT - I'M GOIN' OUT!
6

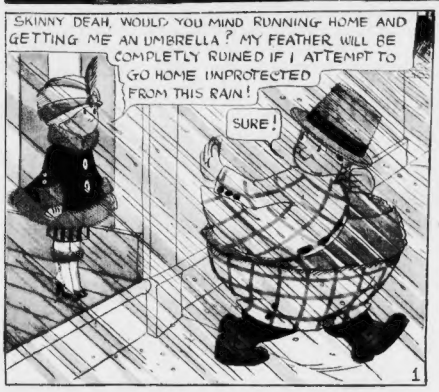




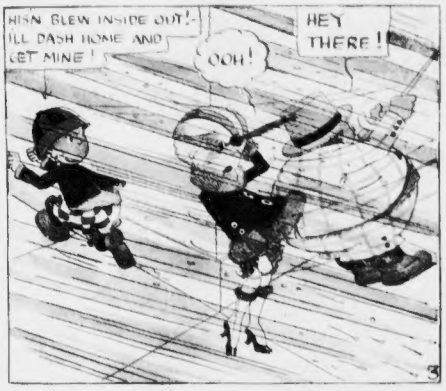
On Our Block

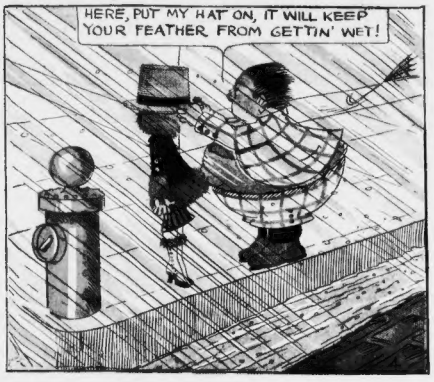
It Only Goes to Show That the Harder You Try to Please a Lady, the——Oh, What's the Use!

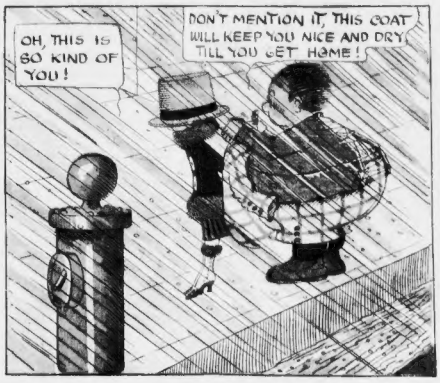
Copyright, 1916, by Star Company. (Inc.) Rights Reserved. Registered U. S. Patent Office.



SKINNY DEAH, WOULD YOU MIND RUNNING HOME AND GETTING ME AN UMBRELLA? MY FEATHER WILL BE COMPLETLY RUINED IF I ATTEMPT TO GO HOME UNPROTECTED FROM THIS RAIN!
SURE!
1

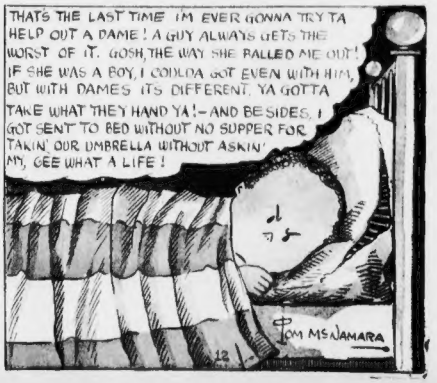






THANK YOU EVER SO MUCH FOR ESCORTING ME HOME SHRIMPIE DEAH, IT WAS JUST DARLING OF YOU! - I'LL SEE HOW MY FEATHER IS NOW!
OH, THAT'S ALL RIGHT, I'M A HANDY MAN AROUND THE LADIES!
10

YOU BASE VILLAIN, YOU IN-HUMAN BRUTE, YOU UN-MERCIFUL WRETCH, YOU NO ACCOUNT, GOOD FOR NOTHING! MY FEATHER'S RUINED! - YOU KNEW THERE WAS A HOLE IN THAT UMBRELLA ALL THE TIME, YOU IMP!
11



THAT'S THE LAST TIME I'M EVER GONNA TRY TA HELP OUT A DAME! A GUY ALWAYS GETS THE WORST OF IT. GOSH, THE WAY SHE PALLED ME OUT! IF SHE WAS A BOY, I COULDA GOT EVEN WITH HIM, BUT WITH DAMES IT'S DIFFERENT, YA GOTTA TAKE WHAT THEY HAND YA! - AND BESIDES, I GOT SENT TO BED WITHOUT NO SUPPER FOR TAKIN' OUR UMBRELLA WITHOUT ASKIN' MY, GEE WHAT A LIFE!
TOM McNAMARA
12

MY MA SAYS "THERE AINT NO USE OF CONSIDERING OTHER PEOPLE AT ALL- SHE SAYS TO GO AHEAD AN DO WHAT YOU PLEASE TILL SOME ONE STOPS YOU - IF HE CAN', SHE SAYS 'GET YOURN FIRST- LET OTHERS GET THEIR'N AFTER; IF THEY CAN. DONT HELP 'EM.'
"SMITHY"
HE'S THE NEW NEIGHBOR'S BOY
Billy Black
Dear Billy
We've got a new neighbor - Come and give him the once over. The Greens have turned White with fright and the Whites have turned green with rage. The Browns are blue with the prospect of having this Red headed around They must be nice folks - they have already begun borrowing our food and Clothes.
Pa offered our house for Sale this morning Pa says if our new neighbors are musical he'll set fire to our house and move out to Glacier National Park

Here's Smithy. Maybe He's Bashful!

Copyright, 1916, by Newspaper Feature Service. Great Britain Rights Reserved

ARE YOU A GOOD BOY?
MA, THIS IS THE BOY OF THE NEW NEIGHBORS WHO JUST MOVED IN NEXT DOOR.
I'M A PEACH, I AM. I'M TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE
1
YOU'RE A BIG HIT WITH YOUR SELF ARE N'T YOU SMITHY
D'YE WANNA SEE ME DO SOME TRICKS? I'M A DANDY ON TRICKS
ONE OF THOSE MODEST LITTLE BOYS
2
LOOK OUT- YOU'LL UPSET THE GOLD FISH
LOOK OUT SMITHY
SEE, I CAN STAND ON ME HANDS
3
QUICK BUSTER, GET A PAN OF WATER AND SAVE THE FISH. NO MORE TRICKS SMITHY
GOSH! I DIDN'T KNOW THAT FISH BOWL WAS THERE. THATS A JOKE ON ME
4
I'LL TAKE YOUR WORD FOR IT
I CAN SING; AWFUL LOUD TOO. I KNOW A SONG WITH FORTY NINE VERSES
I WONDER IF HIS WHOLE FAMILY IS LIKE HIM
I SAVED THE FISH ALL RIGHT NORA
5
COLUMBIA THE GEM OF THE OCEAN
HEY
THAT WILL DO SMITHY WE DONT CARE FOR MUSIC
6
HOLD HIM NORA
MY COUNTRY TIS OF THEE
SHUT UP
HERES A ROPE
7
ITS A LONG WAY TO TIPPERARY
ITS NOT FAR TO YOUR HOME
NOW THROW HIM OUT
I'D HURT MY TEETH IF I BIT HIM - HE'S TOO TOUGH FOR ME
SHUT UP
8
YOU'RE NOT A BIT DISCOURAGED OVER YOURSELF ARE YOU?
I'M BACK AGAIN - MA SAID I COULD STAY AWHILE LONGER
9
YOU GO HOME
HERE'S YOUR HAT SMITHY GO HOME
I DONT WANT TO GO HOME
10
SMITHY COME OVER AGAIN SOME TIME IN A FEW YEARS FROM NOW.
THANKS, ME MOTHER SAID I COULD COME OVER TO MORROW. I'M GOIN TO KICK YOUR DOG TOO.
YOU'LL BE LAME TO MORROW
ONE OF BUSTER'S HENCHMEN
11
SO WE'VE GOT A NEW NEIGHBOR
RESOLVED THAT IF YOU THINK YOU ARE TRULY GOOD - THE ONLY WAY TO FIND HOW GOOD YOU ARE IS TO PRACTICE IT. IF YOU WANT TO PRACTICE THE REAL KIND OF CHRISTIANITY OR CHARITY BEGIN AT HOME, WITH YOUR NEIGHBORS. IT WILL GIVE YOU THE REAL PRACTICE WHEN THEY SEND OVER SOME STORMY NIGHT AND BORROW YOUR FRONT DOOR. OH DEAR - MOST PEOPLE HAVE NEIGHBORS WHO CAN SING OR WHO HAVE A PHONOGRAPH AND SOME CHEAP RECORDS. OH MY - SOME NEIGHBORS' PIANOS ARE ALWAYS OUT OF TUNE OR ONE KID IS LEARNING TO PLAY THE VIOLIN. THIS NEW BOY IS NOT A PART OF MY HEAVEN, YET PERHAPS HE WILL IMPROVE IF I HAVE PATIENCE - BUT WHY HAVE PATIENCE? SHALL I CAST MY PEARLS BEFORE SWINE? ALL I CAN DO IS TO BE KIND AND SET HIM A GOOD EXAMPLE THEN PASTE HIM IN THE JAW.
R. F. Outcault
12